

ANY OIL FIELD.
 are Produced Great Colgrove Operating
 at of the Rochester Chronicle says that in wells completed in the field with a total new
 of 539 barrels. Six
 seven are gas wells.
 its 33 wells drilling and
 y. A drop in cordage raised interest in new
 a two-cent raise in Balances points to a Pennsylvania oil.
 grove of Salamanca,
 me in the Chipmunk
 us county, has organ
 and is developing a fine
 ivar. Four good wells
 d, and the entire 179
 the company owns in over. It is known as itory; the wells are of el size, pay out in a nd produce oil from a ductive for at least 30
 s drilled on the lease
 d was on 20 years ago
 and were pulled out
 was drained much.
 was on a well was not
 much that did not flow
 day.
 llegal county farms
 eat fortunes. For in
 on farm of less than
 lentown, has produced
 a dollars worth of oil
 is still yielding a few
 worth of oil a year.
 of 300 acres has pro
 worth of oil since 1881,
 dig at the rate of $13.
 Richardson farm and
 arms near Richburg,
 d the million dollar
 of three of the original ns were wise enough to
 the majority sold for re, believing that the
 pay out.
 son of Allentown was
 he kept his farm and
 loyalty, which has 600 without the invest ed he still owns the
 land the staying qual
 in the Bradford and
 are long been the won
 out of the practical oil

THEY WANT OUR CHEESE
AN INCREASING DEMAND FROM PENNSYLVANIA.
 The Ohio Cheese Production Falling Off—New York Cheese Will Take Its Place.
 The action of the Western Pennsylvania merchants in seeking to purchase cheese in New York state instead of Ohio, as has been their custom, is said by the Rome Sentinel to be principally because of an increased market for Ohio milk in other forms. Ohio dairyman for a score of years have been sending much cheese to Pittsburg. Recently these Ohio producers have found more money in selling their milk to creameries and elsewhere. The milk demand of such cities as Cleveland and Pittsburg is said to have doubled and made a better market for the Ohio fluid than the cheese factory afforded. Consequently the Ohio dairymen are not able to supply the Western Pennsylvania merchants with more than about one half the usual quota of cheese. This situation resulted in a meeting of Pittsburg's commission men, which in turn ended by sending eight representatives through Western New York to make contracts for cheese to be sent to Pennsylvania. Each of these commission merchants took with him a buyer for a Pittsburg house. They are traveling over the western counties of this state as far east as Rochester, and it is their intentions to establish a regular trade between New York dairymen and Pittsburg.
 In this concerted movement there is an element of dissatisfaction on the part of the Pennsylvanians with the way the Ohio cheese men have treated them. They regard it as ill treatment for the Ohio producers to leave them in the lurch, after all the patronage they had got, merely because of a chance to secure a little more money by selling their milk. Therefore, the Pennsylvania men say they are going to drop Ohio cheese entirely provided they can get the New York product on comparatively favorable terms. It is this movement by Pittsburg cheese buyers that the Five States Milk Producers' association is seeking to further in order to give the dairymen of this state a better market. The net effect of this new business from Pennsylvania upon the dairy interests of the whole state of New York must be to some degree beneficial.
 Attention, Ninth New York Cavalry!
 The annual regimental reunion will be held at Celoron on Chautauqua, Friday, Aug. 17, 1900, same time and place as the annual reunion of the Chautauqua County Veteran Union.
 Saturday Aug. 18 will be Grand

DEATH OF PATRICK H. JONES.
 He Was a Gallant Soldier in the Civil War.
 Gen. Patrick H. Jones died a few days since. Gen. Jones was born in Cattaraugus county, and was one of the first to enlist in the war for the defence of the Union. When Sumter was fired upon he was living in Ellicottville. He enlisted in what was then called Co. L, 64th N. Y. militia, organized at Allegany, this county. On the 15th of May, 1861, the company elected officers as follows: L. G. Harmon, captain; John R. McConnell, first lieutenant; Patrick H. Jones, second lieutenant, and B. A. Johnson, orderly sergeant.
 The company went to New York, and became Co. H. of the 37th N. Y. Irish Rifles.
 During the peninsular campaign, just after the battle of Fair Oaks, Lieut. Jones was promoted to adjutant of his regiment. After the seven days' fight he was promoted to major and aide camp on General Kearney's staff, and held this position when General Kearney was killed, Sept. 1, 1862, at Chantilly. Soon after he came to New York and went into the 154th New York Vols., and was soon after made colonel and general. He participated in all the battles of the army of the Potomac from first Bull Run to Chantilly with the 37th. Later he was with the 154th at Chancellorsville, where he was wounded and taken prisoner. He was exchanged in October, 1863, and with the 154th was transferred to the department of the Tennessee, where they participated in the Chattanooga and Atlanta campaigns, and in Sherman's famous march to the sea. He was a brave soldier, and a brilliant officer, and is remembered with affection by all his comrades of the 37th and 154th regiments.
 At the close of the civil war Gen. Jones returned to his law practice in Ellicottville, but was elected clerk of the court of appeals at the election in 1865, which took him to Albany for three years. When his term expired he removed to New York and opened a law office there. He was appointed postmaster of New York in 1869, which position he held during President Grant's first term.
 In 1874 he was elected register of the city and county of New York for a term of three years. He returned to his law practice at the expiration of his term, and has since continued to reside at or near New York.
 Located by Spiritualists.
 The Belmont Courier says: "Several leading Spiritualists are engaged in securing leases of land on the east side of the river road between Belmont and Scio for the purpose of drilling for oil."

"MY OWN SELF AGAIN."
 Mrs. Gates Writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Follows Her Advice and is Made Well.
 "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For nearly two and one-half years I have been in feeble health. After my little child came it seemed I could not get my strength again. I have chills and the severest pains in my limbs and top of head and an almost insensible at times. I also have a pain just to the right of breast bone. It is so severe at times that I cannot lie on my right side. Please write me what you think of my case."— MRS. CLARA GATES, Johns P. O., Miss., April 25, 1898.
 "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as advised and now send you a letter for publication. For several years I was in such wretched health that life was almost a burden. I could hardly walk across the floor, was so feeble. Several of our best physicians attended me, but failed to help. I concluded to write to you for advice. In a few days I received such a kind, motherly letter. I followed your instructions and am my 'old self' again. Was greatly benefited before I had used one bottle. May God bless you for what you are doing for suffering women."— MRS. CLARA GATES, Johns P. O., Miss., Oct. 6, 1899.
An $8.00 DICTIONARY for $1.00
 The New Werner Edition of Webster's Dictionary.....

 Newly and magnificently illustrated. We offer you the best Dictionary ever put on the market at a low price. This new edition contains many special features such as dictionary of Synonyms and Antonyms, lexicon of foreign phrases, dictionary of abbreviations, colored plates, etc., etc. Remember this is not the cheap book but a beautifully printed edition on fine paper with thousands of valuable additions of aid to students