

Untrammelled by alliances it stagger the democracy inside fortifications, which is the path, and where it has always confidently believed it could not be reached. Here in Nebraska the dividing line may at once be traced. With William V. Allen on one side it will not be well for William Bryan to be on the other, and to explain to be seen that the order of things in this state is broken up. Attempted fusion there will be, but with the heads being apart combinations can only stand on a basis of a division of spoils or to overcome the individually strong. With us the real point in the situation is this, that the character of candidates will have greater weight and that there will be an increasing demand that private acts more nearly conform to public professions.

For proof that the Omaha Grain Exchange is a verity and is pushing for success the announcement vention this week and the rest is appreciated.

As a side show to the World's Fair at St. Louis, the Democratic National Convention was a success.

Is it not about time Nebraska did something to draw the crowd of pleasure seekers this way?

For home news this week most of the towns in Nebraska are reporting heavy rains.

Gard Of Thanks.

For the many individual acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to us by the public, and to the G. A. R. and W. R. C. in their official capacity for their good offices in our bereavement and loss of a beloved husband and father, we desire to express our abiding gratitude and assure them that the comfort and support they have given us, we shall ever hold in grateful remembrance.
