

St. Bonaventure's Advisory Council To the President on Journalism

An Advisory Council to the President on Journalism assists the University's chief administrative officer and the Chairman of its Department of Journalism in setting high standards and providing close liaison with the professional journalism field. It includes some of America's leading editors, publishers, writers, radio and television executives and publicists. The present council consists of the 26 members (pictured here) who meet annually on the campus.

Council Members shown above are John Charles Daly, Latham Weber, Paul Swensson, Fred W. Stein, Jim Bishop, Bradley Kelly, Mrs. Charles E. Hewitt, Edward Mahar, Norris Paxton; at left, Don Carter, Hamilton B. Mizer, Assistant Chairman, Fr. Rudolf Harvey, O.F.M., Robert S. Koon; at bottom, Lyle Youngstrom, Joseph Snyder, George Measer, H. K. Williams, Cy King, Si Goldman, Joseph M. Cleary, Norris W. Vagg, Paul E. Neville; at right, Dr. A. H. Kirchofer, Chairman, A. Vernon Croop, Charles Wellner, E. Boyd Fitzpatrick.

