LORD, MAKE ME

BE AN INSTRUMENT OF THY PEACE!

where there is hatred let me sow love;

where there is injury, pardon;

where there is doubt, faith;

where there is despair, hope;

where there is darkness, light, and where there is sadness, joy.

NOT SO MUCH BY HIS WRITINGS as by the example of his Christ-like life did St. Francis of Assisi form the image of Christ in his fellowmen. For future generations he was more concerned with putting his teachings on the hearts of his followers rather than on parchment. And so it is in the lives of his friars more than in his writings that the Seraphic Saint leads the hearts of men to God.

The sons and followers of the Saint of Assisi conduct St. Bonaventure College. They are members of one of the religious orders he was encouraged to found by the Church for continuing his spirit and ideals. They belong to the Order of Friars Minor.

The friars appreciate the importance which academic learning holds in preparing students to take their rightful place in scientific and professional fields and insist on high standards. Moreover, they remain true to their seraphic vocation, for while frequently putting the ideals and spirit of their holy founder into print, they endeavor more by their Franciscan lives to put the image of Christ in the hearts of their students.

Saint Bonaventure New York

"Upon this rock I will build My church . . ."

And upon him St. Bonaventure College has arisen from obscurity and has evolved as the leading Franciscan College in America.

He has lived, loved, and governed it with all the tenderness of Peter, and it now looms as a living memorial in his honor.

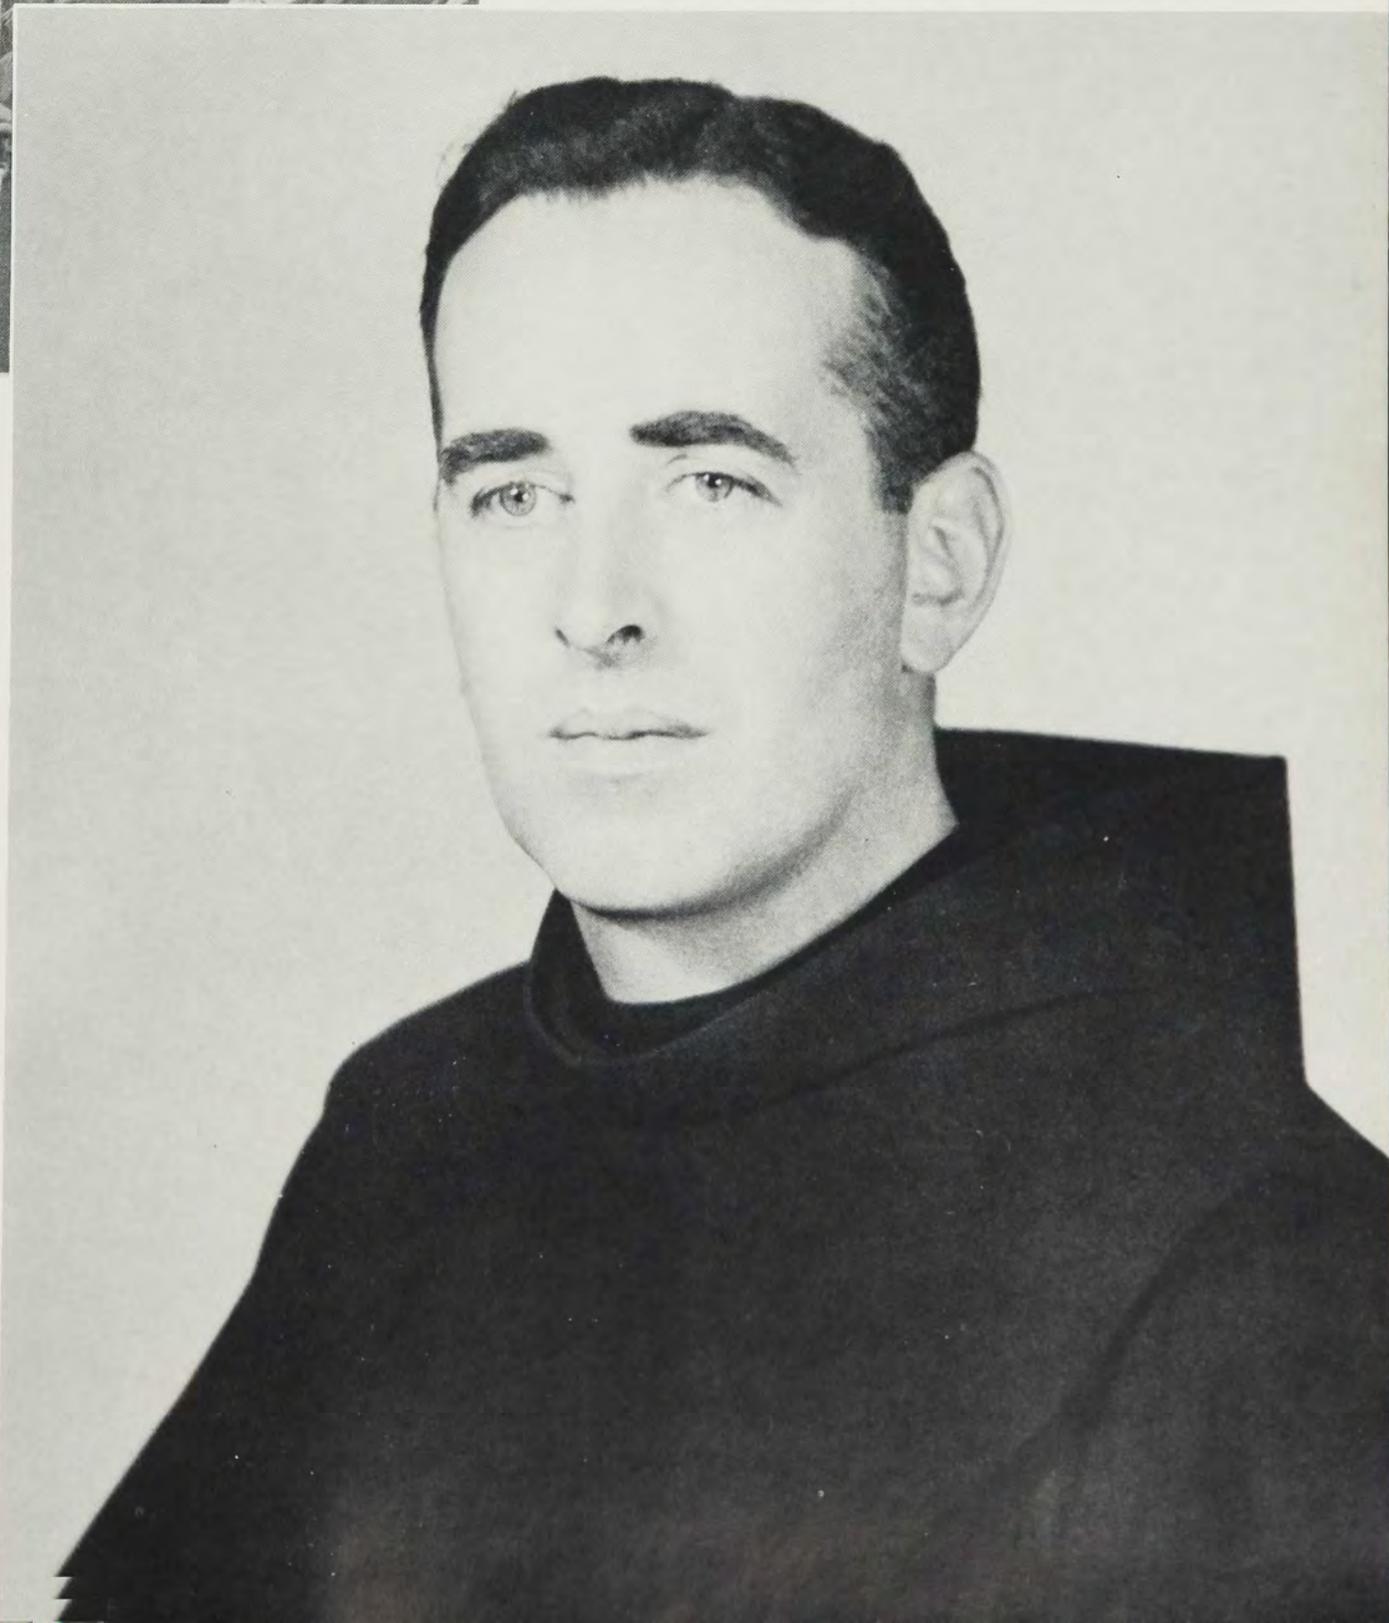

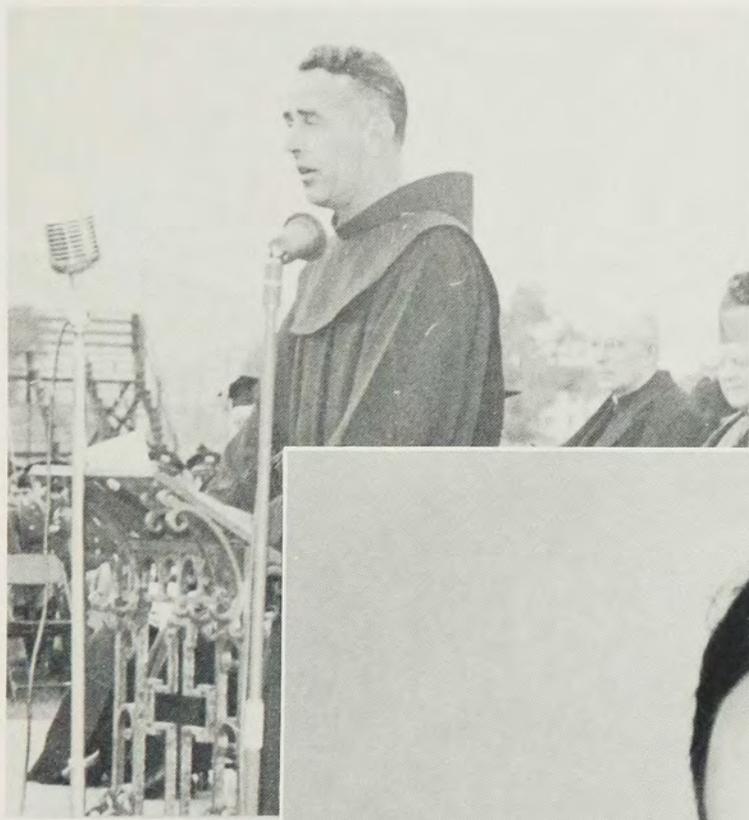

Piety, wisdom, understanding, humility — the requisites of a true Bonaventure man—Fr. Tom has bequeathed to us.

S OF 1950 DEDICATES

"... and the gates of Hell shall not prevail against it."

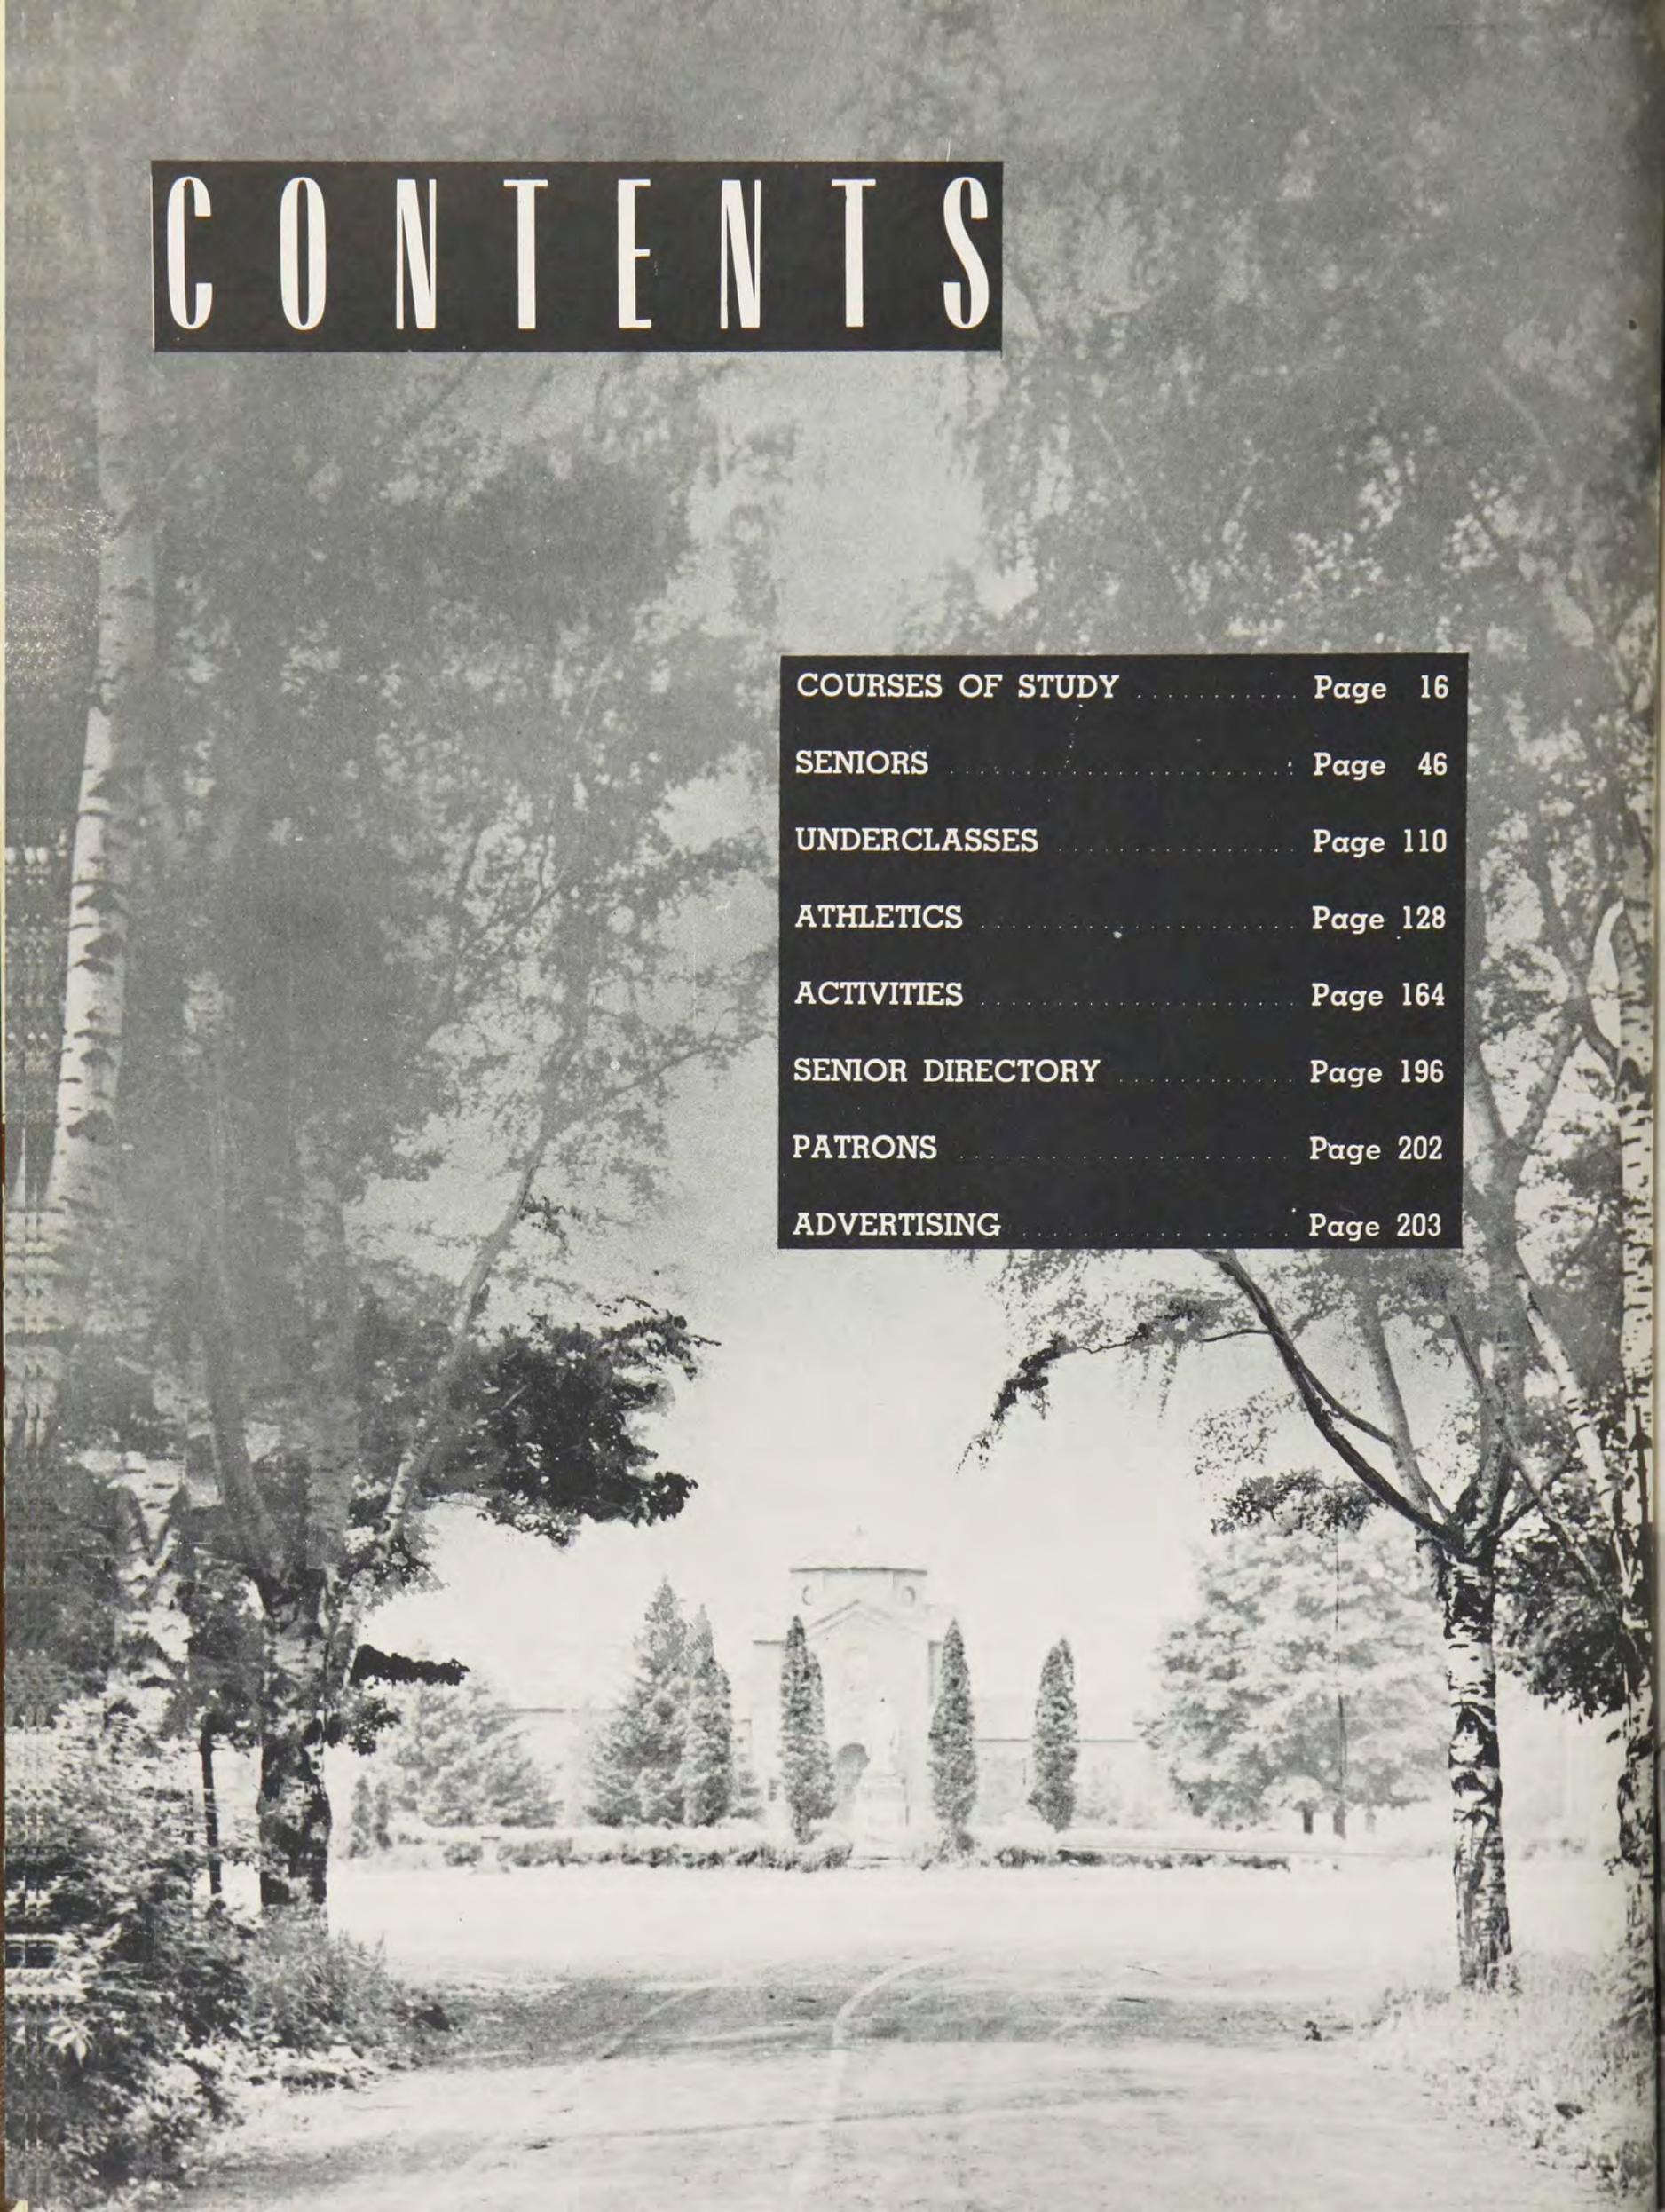

Nor will the modern philosophies and alien ways of life infiltrate our campus or our spiritual and intellectual teachings as Father Juvenal guards these with the zealously of a modern Paul.

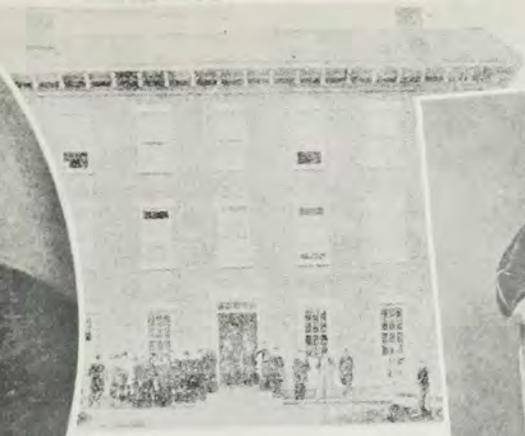

To him falls the responsibility of advancing the Christian teachings and ideals of St. Bonaventure College in a pagan world.

1854...A VISION

Here we see the first school building of St. Bonaventure College. It had just been built through the benevolence of Nicholas Devereux. Bishop Timon, D.D., laid the first cornerstone.

St. Bonaventure College began as a vision in the mind of Nicholas Devereux, a pioneer landowner in this section of New York State. His was a two-fold dream: To supply the necessary priests for this area, and to found the university which he desired to be built as the integral part of a European-fashioned University City.

Traveling to Rome, he placed his request for aid before His Holiness Pope Pius IX, who directed him to the superior of the Franciscan Order. His agreement was soon forthcoming and a band of four pioneers led by the first superior, Father Pamphilus of Magliano, left for the wilderness of Western New York.

Bona's main classroom building, De La Roche Hall, was named for Father De La Roche, O.F.M., the first North American to behold oil. Twice swept by fires in 1908 and 1933, it is presently fully fireproofed.

Alumni Hall was constructed in 1887, giving it seniority among the campus buildings. Classrooms and the band and orchestra rooms occupy the first floor, while the College Print Shop takes up the basement.

1859... 15 STUDENTS

Perhaps the most versatile edifice of the college grounds is the gymnasium, given in memory of Bonaventure's eighth president, Father Joseph Butler, O.F.M. Equipped for a great variety of college sports, it serves also as a backdrop for the traditional Campus Clock.

Devereux Hall was erected in 1927. It is the main residence hall on campus and was dedicated to Nicholas and Mary Devereux. Their gifts enabled officials to establish the College in 1859.

Together with Nicholas Devereux of Utica, N. Y., Father Pamphilus is credited as being the driving force behind the establishment of St. Bonaventure College in 1859. He brought a band of Franciscan friars from their first settlement at Ellicottville, N. Y., with him to the "little school in the Cattaraugus Hills."

Mr. Devereux, when he made his request, promised 200 acres of land and $5,000 for the foundation of a monastery on the site of the land at Allegany, New York. On August 23, 1854, Bishop Timon of Buffalo laid the cornerstone of St. Bonaventure College, for the monastery. Upon its completion in 1858, the friars and brothers, now numbering fourteen, moved to Allegany from their temporary home in Ellicottville, New York. The new monastery was dedicated to St. Bonaventure, the patron of Franciscan schools, and Father Pamphilus da Magliano, O.S.F., was elected its first president (pro-tem). Opened for the first time in 1859, the new college had a registration of fifteen students.

The years from 1859 to 1875, when the State of New York granted a charter to the new institution, were years of expansion. In four eventful years the student enrollment had risen to sixty and a new monastery had been erected on the campus. In 1864, the first graduation exercises were held on the campus grounds.

...PERMANENT CHARTER

REV. DIOMEDE FALCONIO, O.F.M. (1868-1869)

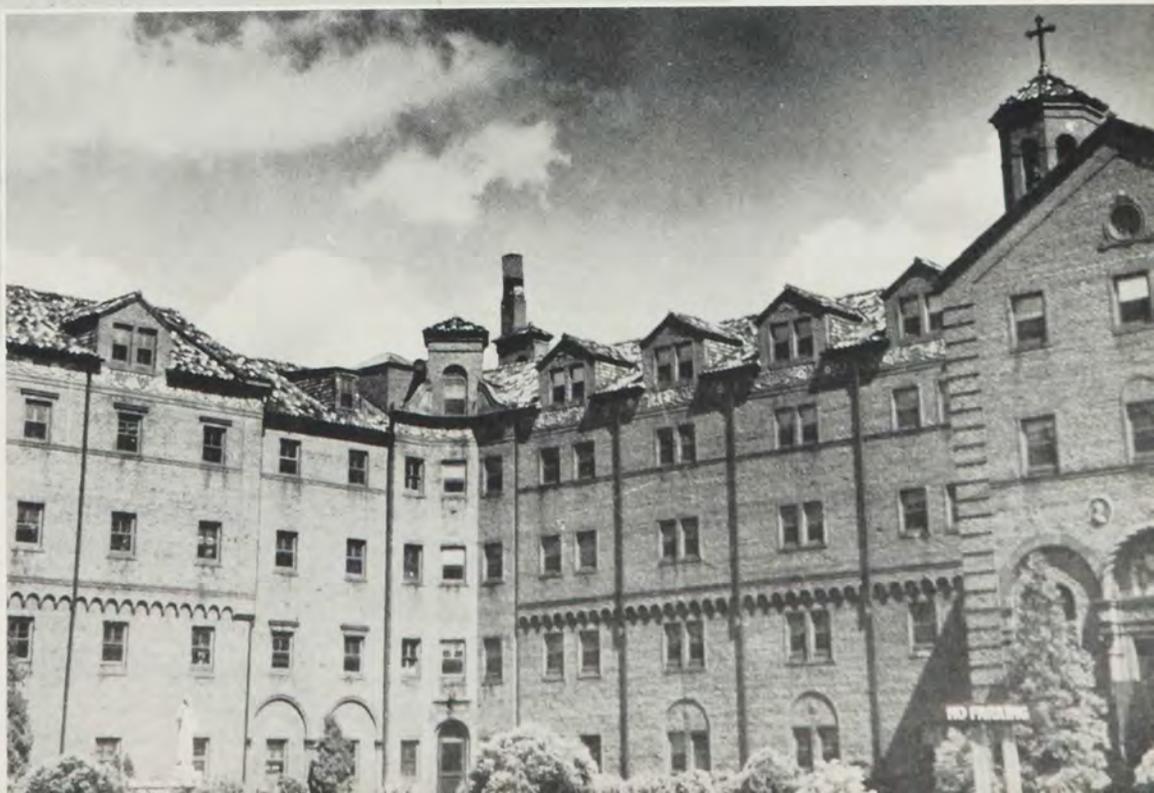

Father Diomed Falconio, O.S.F., climbed to professor of philosophy and Vice President of the College in 1868. He ascended to the Presidency in the same year, the only Bonas president to hold this office for a one-year duration. His talents were recognized at Bonas, and he proved this upon becoming a Cardinal in 1911.

A new building was erected augmenting the available college facilities in the year 1874. Another great improvement of that year was the organization of a library. 1875, when Father Charles Vissani da Nazzano, O.F.M., was president, found the student body numbering 133 and the faculty 13. That year the Regents of the State of New York granted the college a provisional charter which was made permanent under the presidency of Father Theophilus Posposilik, O.S.F., in 1883.

The twenty-four-year term of Father Joseph Butler, O.F.M. (1887-1911), was one of great expansion. It was during his administration that Alumni Hall was built in 1887; the monastery was enlarged to a great extent; a new classroom building, Lynch Hall, was constructed in 1900.

Here we view the eastern wing of Devereux Hall with the College Chapel shown at the lower right. The friars reside on the first floor; students occupy the second and third floors; and seminarians live on the fourth floor.

Generous friends and alumni made the erection of the College Dining Hall an actuality. Rev. Alexander Hickey, O.F.M., was honored by this refectory. Equipped to seat six hundred students, it also has cafeteria service, which is used primarily by non-campus students.

With a background as a chaplain for the Union Army in the Civil War, Father Leo da Saracena, O.S.F., became pastor of St. Patrick's Parish, Buffalo, N. Y. Elected to the presidency of St. Bonaventure in 1877, he served one term of three years in the position. During his term of office, two new altars of rare Italian marble were installed in the church at the College.

REV. LEO RIZZO da SARACENA, O.F.M. (1877-1880)

Father Joseph saw the new Lynch Hall gutted by flames in 1908, but directed his activities toward its renovation and succeeded in this task before his death in 1911.

Father Fidelis Reynolds, O.F.M. (1911-1916), and Father Alexander Hickey, O.F.M. (1916-1920), were the next two presidents. They brought the curriculum up to date and raised the academic standards. In 1916, the present gymnasium was erected and named for Father Joseph Butler, O.F.M., the former president.

REV. JOSEPH BUTLER, O.F.M. (1887-1911)

Saying farewell to a successful business career, Father Joseph Butler, O.F.M., entered the fold as a Franciscan teaching brother. So rapid was his rise that seven years after his ordination he became Bonas eighth president. During his term, Alumni Hall was completed and Lynch Hall (now De La Roche) added to campus construction. He is second only to Father Tom in tenure of office, holding the Presidency for twenty-four years.

1937...PERIOD OF CONSTRUCTION

The firm hand of Father Thomas Plassman, O.F.M., guided the college for the next twenty-four years. During his tenure of office disastrous fires swept the campus in 1930 and 1933. Working with tireless determination, Father Tom, aided by generous alumni and friends, built Devereux Hall with a wing for the monastery, Hickey Memorial Dining Hall, and de la Roche Hall, to replace the lost buildings. In 1937, Friedsam Memorial Library sprouted up on the campus.

The last act of Father Thomas' presidency was the starting of the construction of the new Christ the King Seminary. The huge edifice is expected to be completed this year during the term of the twelfth president of St. Bonaventure College, Father Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M.

REV. FIDELIS REYNOLDS, O.F.M. (1911-1916)

Next in line and carrying on for Father Joseph was Bonas ninth president, Father Fidelis Reynolds, O.F.M. While standardizing the Arts and Science courses, he added an accredited commercial and banking course, and a pre-medical course. Due to the energies he devoted to the scholastic advancement of St. Bonaventure College, the rise to fame of the Franciscan school was swift and constant.

REV. ALEXANDER HICKEY, O.F.M. (1916-1920)

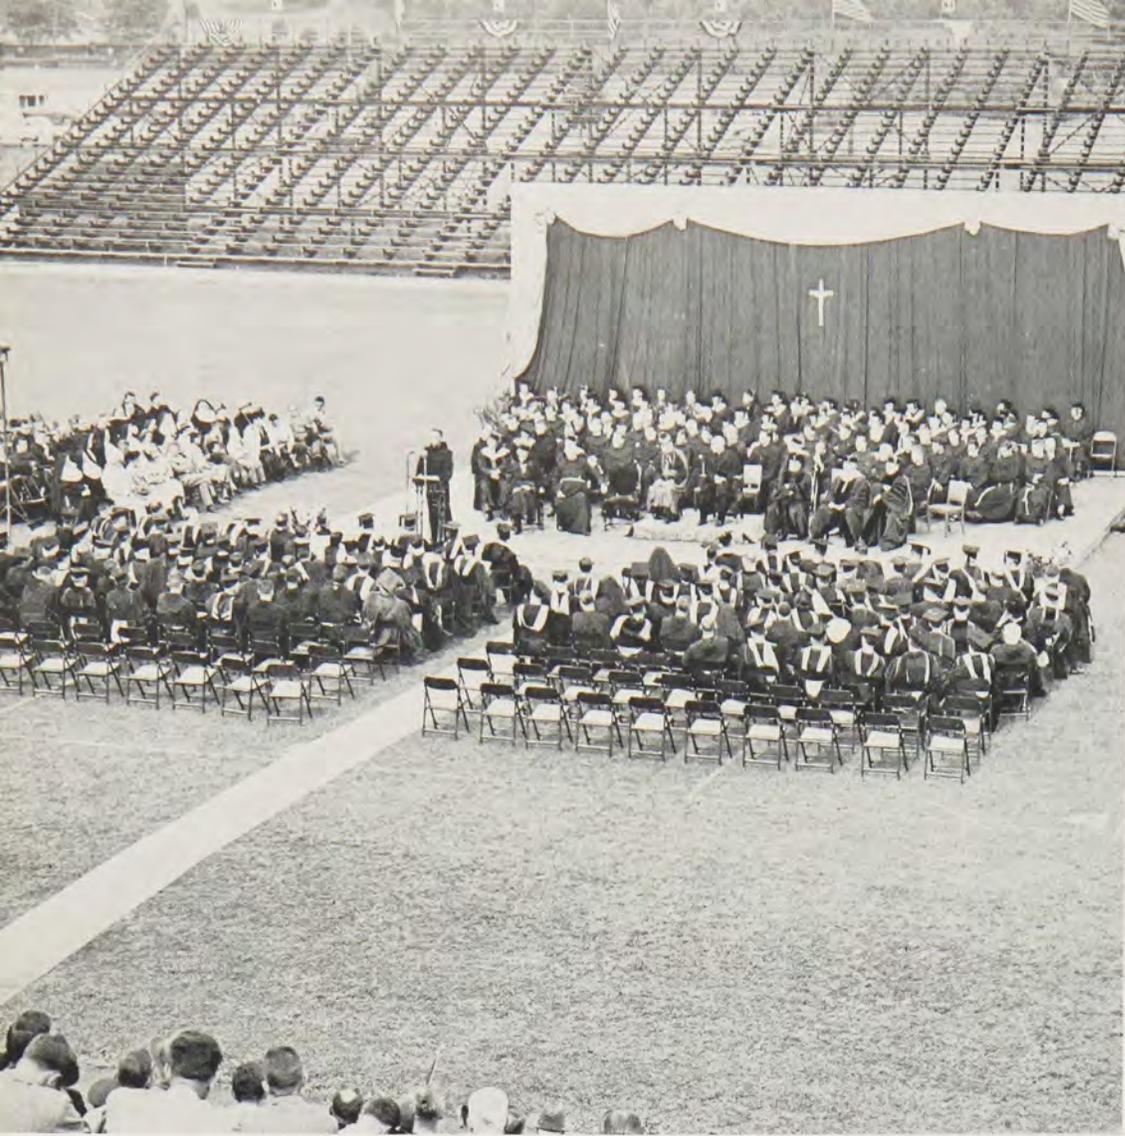

Ordained in 1890, Father Hickey succeeded Father Fidelis as the tenth president of St. Bonaventure College. He was a great poet, although many of his works never were published, because of the humility of his person. During his reign, a unit of the Student's Army Training Corps was established at the College, enabling inductees to continue their studies. As a tribute to Father Hickey the Dining Hall was named in his honor.

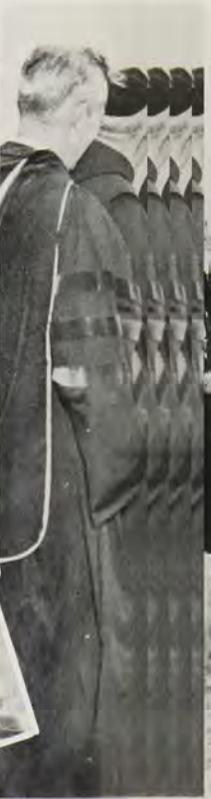

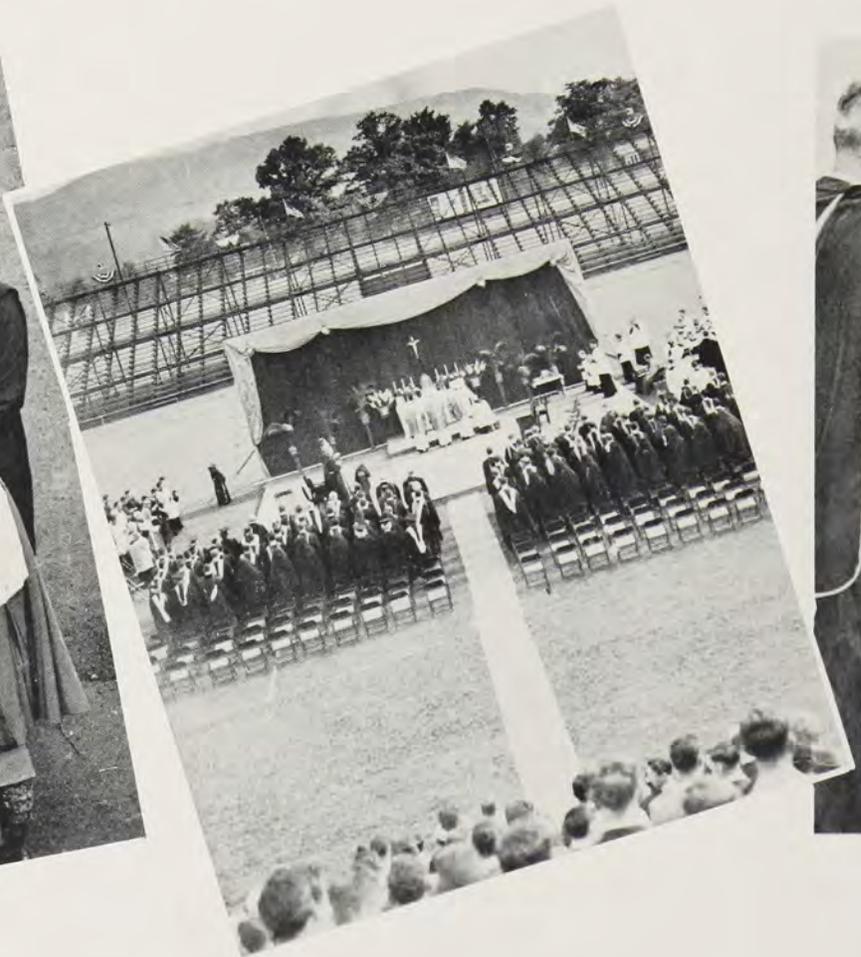

Friedsam Memorial Library might well be called "the picture window of the Bonaventure campus." There are facilities here for over one hundred thousand volumes. Father Irenaeus Herscher, O.F.M., is its caretaker in his position of College Librarian. Besides serving as a study hall for students, the Library also houses the office of the President, the Very Rev. Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M.

LEAVING THE

The Very Reverend Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., addresses the audience assembled in Forness Stadium on Thursday, September 22, 1949, the occasion of his inauguration as the twelfth president of Saint Bonaventure College. Among the honored guests, presided over by His Excellency, John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., Bishop of Buffalo, were Father Juvenal's parents.

PAST PRESIDENTS BEHIND US WE WELCOME

MY DEAR GRADUATES:

The opening words of the famous farewell of Polonius to his departing son are not altogether out of place at this time: "My blessing with thee, and these few precepts in thy memory." The time of departure is indeed a time for affectionate blessing, but an impatient Laertes can lend only a distracted ear to the repetition of paternal precepts, however earnest and urgent.

In the name of the College which you have come to love and which now views your leaving with mingled sentiments of regret, hope, confidence, and pride, I can think of nothing better than to repeat over your heads the Blessing of St. Francis: "The Lord bless thee and keep thee; may He show His face to thee and have mercy on thee; may He turn his countenance to thee and give thee peace."

As for the precepts, I remind you of the spoken and silent lessons of the past four years and borrow the words of Christ's first Vicar as he prepared the faithful for their time of testing and their responsibilities to those who had no faith: "Your life among the Gentiles must be beyond reproach; decried as malefactors, you must let them see from your honorable behavior what you are. . . . Neglect the call of evil and rather do good; let peace be all thy quest and aim. . . . If anyone ask you to give an account of the hope which you cherish, be ready at all times to answer for it."

Sincerely yours,

Juvenal Lalor, O.M.

The Department of English Language and Letters seeks not only to instill in the student the proper way to express himself in his own language, but also to present to him the best of the literature of the English-speaking countries, namely England and America, in order that he might have a greater

The Division of Arts and Letters, which undertakes to study Man from the standpoint of the manner and means by which he expresses himself, holds a place of paramount importance in the academic operations of Saint Bonaventure College. It is in this Division that students, including those from other schools in the College as well as those who have their field of concentration in the School of Arts and Sciences, can see how Man has expressed himself in the past and how the student and his contemporaries can and do express themselves today.

In order to handle to best advantage the task which confronts it, the Division of Arts and Letters has broken down its objectives into four classifications. These are the Departments. The Department of English Language and Letters undertakes the treatment of the literature of the past as well as proper expression for the present in the realm of the English language. The Department of Ancient Languages presents the best of the Ancient Greek and Roman Cultures; the Department of Modern Languages gives us the best of the tongues other than the English and the Ancient Greek and Latin. The Department of Expressive Arts covers the attempt of man to express himself through such things as music and painting, etc.

appreciation and understanding of the best that has been produced in his native tongue. In order to accomplish this, the Department offers him the opportunity to elect courses in literature and grammar as well as in imaginative and factual writing and public speaking.

ARTS AND LETTERS

The School of Arts and Sciences of Saint Bonaventure College is the most fundamental of all the schools in the College. It is the foundation for the other schools. It is the very core around which is built the education of every student who enters Saint Bonaventure. The other schools equip the student with the necessary requirements for his particular vocation in life. The School of Arts and Sciences provides him with the background and cultural advance to round out his education.

Even though modern needs and trends in education have greatly enlarged the scope of the Liberal Arts College, its academic structure still rests, and rightly so, on the "Seven Pillars of Wisdom" of ancient and medieval days, as set forth in the Hexameter: "Lingua, Tropus, Ratio, Numerous, Tonus, Angulus, Astra."

The school has developed such divisions as are deemed necessary to fulfill its range and objective. Saint Bonaventure College in its School of Arts and Sciences has taken Man as the main focus of all liberal, humanistic, and cultural studies. The College has developed its divisions as follows: Man and His Mind (Philosophy and Related Sciences); Man and Human Expression (Arts and Letters); Man and Nature (Natural Sciences and Mathematics).

Each one of the above divisions is further split up into Departments.

The Department is the more restricted and specialized unit. It is here, in the Department, that the student seeks his concentration, in addition to which he draws on the other departments outside his concentration for courses that will enable him to completely round out his education.

We have seen here the basic groundwork on which the School of Arts and Sciences of Saint Bonaventure College works. On the succeeding pages we will see how each division and department of the school seeks to attain its objective and the methods which are used to attain these objectives.

The objective of the Department of Modern Languages is to instill in the student at Saint Bonaventure College a working knowledge of any particular foreign language and a closer appreciation and correct understanding of what the peoples of that particular language group have to offer in their literature and thought. This leads to the acquisition by the student of the proper perspective existing between himself and peoples of other languages and cultures.

Ancient Languages

The Department of Ancient Languages has two objectives. The first of these is to impart to the student a knowledge of the ancient languages not merely for their own sake but for the purpose of training him to express his thoughts correctly in more than one medium. The second of these objectives is to give to the student an adequate knowledge of the culture of the ancient Greeks and Romans. This is important, for it is the Graeco-Roman culture which is the basis for our civilization, and it is necessary that the well-educated man understand this background of his way of life.

A reality in February 1949, the Department of Journalism had its beginnings in 1918 when St. Bonaventure College became one of the first three Catholic colleges in the United States to offer a journalism course.

In 1947, journalism was offered for the first time since before World War II. The number of hours given was raised to 26 in 1948. Today it stands at 40, with specialized courses in radio and television, advertising and public relations.

The Department is one of the finest in the East. St. Bonaventure College can boast of being the only college in western New York having journalism as a major field of concentration. Faculty members include Prof. Russell J. Jandoli, head; Mr. John Maloney, and Mr. Don Merriman.

PHILOSOPHY AND

REV. FRANCIS W. KEARNEY, O.F.M.
Department Head, Professor, Philosophy

Man is a religious, social, political and economic being. Thus, it is of prime importance that he have a knowledge of the world about him, of things above and below him, and of his relation to them. It is in his education under this division that he will acquire this knowledge. Philosophy is the science of all things through their Ultimate Causes by the natural light of reason. Philosophy deals with God, thus philosophy and religion are inextricably related. History is the record of Man's Actions. Man's Actions are an expression of his philosophy. The development of man's social, economic and political patterns is motivated by his philosophy. The essence of a full and certain life is a true Philosophy.

The Department requires certain courses for every student. Those in Business and Science take four, those in Arts take six. Logic, the basic course, is the science of correct reasoning. It includes a brief study of the nature and purpose of Philosophy. Epistemology proves the validity of human knowledge. The material universe is studied in Cosmology. Ontology treats the domain of being in general, going into a study of the supersensible, immaterial aspect of things. Psychology determines the nature of life in corporeal living beings. The end of man and the rectitude of his acts are determined in General Ethics. Individual Ethics includes a study of the rights and duties of man, their nature, origin, properties and classification. Theodicy is the study of God from the light of reason. For those majoring in Philosophy, seminars in the "Poetics" of Aristotle, the Dialogues of Plato and the History of Philosophy are conducted.

RELATED SUBJECTS

The first three years the student uses Wilmer's "Handbook of Christian Religion." During the freshman year he is guided in the study of Pre-Christian and Christian Religion, the institution and constitution of the Church, its Marks and Teachings.

The second year a knowledge of the Unity and Trinity of God, Creation, Redeemer and Redemption, Salvation and Grace, an explanation in the use of the Roman Missal, is taught.

The Junior may take one of two courses. The first follows the sequence in the teaching of Church Dogma. The second is an exposition of the theory and practice of Catholic Action.

The text the Senior uses is the "Five Great Encyclicals." The outstanding controversies of today are here analyzed.

History

A course in World Civilization is required for every student. Those in Arts must also take a course in American Civilization. In these survey courses, the student is acquainted with the political, economic, social and intellectual background of the world from the dawn of History up to the present day.

To those whose particular interest is History, there is a wide field of choice. Courses available in European History are Twentieth Century World, Medieval, Renaissance, and Modern European World. A knowledge of American development can be further supplemented by courses in Constitutional, Colonial Hispanic-American and Modern Hispanic-American.

Courses in History of the Church, Holy Bible, Sacred Scripture, Reformation, England, and Philosophy of History in veritably every phase, are presented.

Social Sciences

This Department is subdivided into three branches of instruction: Sociology, Economics and Political Science.

Introductory Sociology provides a broad background of fact and theory, preparing the student for courses in Social Pathology, Community Organizations, Social Legislature, Educational Sociology, Criminology, Juvenile Delinquency, Probation and Parole, Rural Sociology, The Family and Social Case Work.

A thorough knowledge of economics is acquired through courses in its General Principles, Economic History of Europe and America, Labor and Government, Labor Relations and Labor Problems.

Principles of Political Science familiarize the student with the field of politics and government. Later he is taught Ancient, Medieval and Modern Political Philosophies. Other constructive courses include Diplomatic History, International Law, International Relations, American Political Parties, American and Comparative Government.

NATURAL SCIENCES

REV. FRANCIS SULLIVAN, O.F.M.
Department Head, Professor, Physics

With the advent of new scientific theories and formulations the Departments of Natural Sciences and Math have strode almost to the pinnacle of importance in this era. They have had to enlarge their scope to match the increased specialization in modern industry. They have also had to provide the student with sufficient groundwork in fundamentals to enable him to pursue the more technical aspects of natural sciences. Besides this, they must provide the science student with enough of the liberal arts to give him a cultural background.

As a result, these Departments have struck a balance between the two fields, accentuating, of course, that of the sciences. In well-equipped laboratories students are enabled to see for themselves the startling examples of natural phenomena. As for the consequences, only human progress can testify. These Departments have provided the means to the betterment of mankind.

Physics

With the accent on generalization during the first three years, the Physics Department presents a course whose foundation is well versed in fundamentals for the student interested in this field.

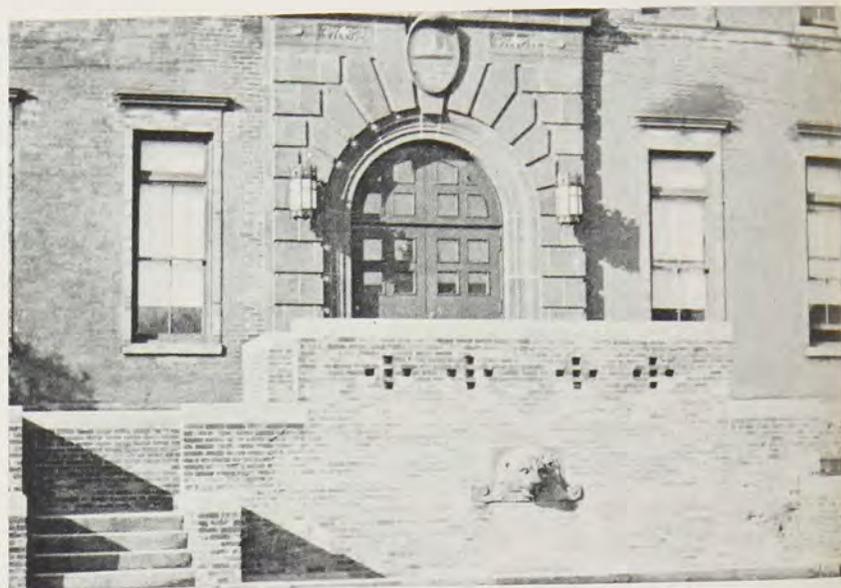

Simple, yet comprehensive, experiments are included in the first year's curricula, enabling one to grasp an understanding of the basic principles of common natural occurrences. Lab periods are tied in as closely as possible with the lecture class, presenting a unified course.

General physics, mechanics, specialized courses in light, electricity and thermodynamics constitute the essence of the course. In addition, spectrochemical analysis and "Modern Physics," a course which prepares the student with an insight to practical problems he may encounter in industry, are offered.

AND MATHEMATICS

The Department of Biology has an appreciable load on its shoulders in dealing with the large, and ever-increasing, influx of pre-medical students. Primarily, its courses must fulfill the stringent requirements of modern medical schools, and secondly, it must include the necessary requirements for a liberal education. Finally, it must supply the student with enough background to pursue other divisions of this branch of knowledge, which deals with living organisms.

Starting in with General Zoology and Botany, the course soon enters the various phases of Anatomy, Histology, Embryology, Genetics, and Bacteriology, ending with the student's obtaining a keen insight into this science of life.

With Biology's increased importance in the medically minded population of this day, the Department has taken the responsibility of providing a course which will satisfy these demands.

Chemistry

One definition of chemistry states that it is the science which treats of the composition of substances and their transformations. The Department of Chemistry seeks to cover just that by means of a comprehensive treatment of the main divisions in the chemical field.

With a course designed to meet the specifications of the American Chemical Society, general, organic, quantitative and physical chem each have a full year of work devoted to their study and applications. In addition, courses which deal with the industrial aspects of this science are given in the senior year, and talks have to be prepared on various phases of industrial chemistry. In the future more specialized courses are to be added so that the student will be able to cope with the problems of today.

An integral part and a necessary foundation for work in the Pure Sciences are the courses classified under Mathematics. This Department has to correlate the theory and practice of math with the theory and practice of the sciences, advancing the science student into the study of calculus from the freshman year.

As the student puts more and more fundamentals behind, he enters the realm of the theoretical, another step in the cultural education of today. Ability to enter discussion of popular, but highly intellectual, problems of the times is taken into consideration, and courses are offered enabling one to do just that.

With the expansion of the natural sciences the Math Department has had to cope with an increasing number of enrollees. Added to these are the students who become so interested in math that they make this their major subject, proof that this subject is being presented in a capable manner.

General Science

The Department of General Science, as its name implies, offers a generalized program of the natural sciences. It is the most balanced of all the natural science courses, and includes the fundamentals of each, adding Astronomy and Geology.

Although the student must major in general science, enough of the liberal arts are included so that a bachelor of arts degree is awarded. This course approaches the maximum in cultural background and theoretically combines the best of each department into a unified, well-varied arrangement.

REV. FIDELIS O'ROURKE, O.F.M.
Dean, Professor, Business Law

Although Franciscans are primarily interested in man's spiritual life, they have always been realistic in their dealings with the necessity of his earning a livelihood, as can be seen in several "Franciscan Firsts" elsewhere in this book.

The Franciscans still feel the necessity of aiding the businessman. St. Bonaventure offered instruction in business machine operation and clerical work as early as 1900. Business Administration and Accounting Departments were founded in 1933, a major in Secretarial Science was added in 1938, and a Finance Department in 1949.

From an enrollment of 100 in 1942, the School has grown to one-third of the College's enrollment.

Pioneer movements in business education, such as laboratory methods of instruction and the general approach to a broad education, found early origins at St. Bonaventure.

The Business Administration Department serves a dual purpose in that it trains the student in economics as well as in the auxiliary fields of management. Of all the departments in the School of Business Administration it gives the broadest background for the student of business and is especially suited to students who wish to do graduate work.

Its courses of study include classes in the fields of business management, personnel management, labor relations, advertising, marketing, transportation and economics. After completion of these varied courses the graduate is equipped to accept a position in an executive capacity which would otherwise require years of apprenticeship to attain.

All Arts and Science students who wish to take elective courses in economics do so in this department.

REV. SEBASTIAN A. McKENNA, O.F.M.
Assistant Professor, Business Administration

The aim of the Finance Department is, through four years of study of closely related financial subjects, to equip the student to deal with the financial aspects of business; to give him the knowledge of the sources of income and expense; and the ways and means of increasing income and decreasing expense. The courses point out the sources of capital, working capital, and seasonal and emergency capital.

Further, the Finance Department aims to develop business skills and attitudes in handling management positions where emphasis is placed upon planning, scheduling, and budgeting. Business leadership is its goal.

The function of the School of Education is to provide those students who contemplate entering the profession of teaching with the courses which will enable them to qualify for certification as teachers. The School is set up to provide the student with the professional requirements for certification in two different classifications. One is certification in academic fields in secondary schools. Provision is also made for those students who wish to qualify for special certificates in business fields and physical education.

Interested primarily in equipping students for teaching in New York State, the School also provides for those students who wish to obtain certificates in other states, principally Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Ohio.

In addition to offering the student the bare professional requirements for teaching, the School further aims to give the student the correct philosophy and proper attitudes which enable him to be a good teacher.

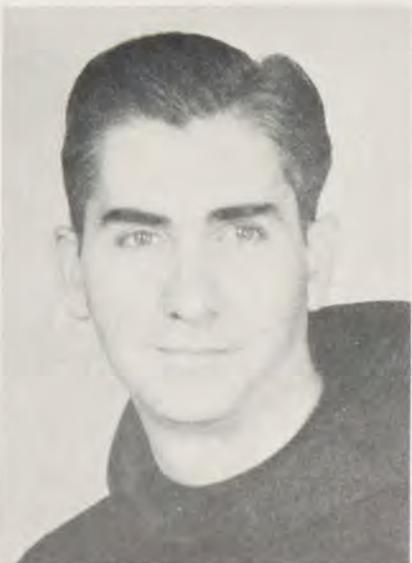

To facilitate its work the School is divided into two departments: the Department of Secondary Education and the Department of Physical Education. The Department of Secondary Education undertakes to equip all potential teachers with the necessary professional courses, and the Department of Physical Education provides special courses for those aspiring to that branch of teaching.

Instructor, Physical Education

The purpose of the Department of Physical Education is to prepare the student for teaching, coaching and administrative positions in schools or related fields. In view of the recent emphasis placed on physical education and on the physical well-being of the individual, the importance of health as one of the greatest assets of the nation, it becomes essential that there be a constant supply of well-trained leaders and teachers of physical education. It is the objective of the department to train these teachers and leaders.

COL. GEORGE A. GRAYEB
Professor, Military Science and Tactics

The St. Bonaventure unit of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps is a Senior Field Artillery Unit. It was established in the fall of 1936 and graduated its first class in June of 1939. Initially numbering ninety, the unit has grown to a strength approximating five hundred. Forty-four members of the class of 1950 will complete the course in June, at which time they will receive commissions as Second Lieutenants of Field Artillery in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

The rapid growth of the unit and the fine spirit of cooperation between the school and military administration gives proof that St. Bonaventure College believes firmly in the R.O.T.C. motto. The motto reads "Bona Pacis Ventura," and in free translation means: "Through preparedness we hope to obtain the blessing of peace."

REV. JOHN L. ROWAN, O.F.M.
Rector

St. Francis always expressed the greatest admiration for the Holy Priesthood. Today, six hundred years later, this love is still manifested by his loyal sons devoting their time and talents toward the training of future priests in the Bonaventure Seminary—"Christ the King."

Under the able guidance of the Very Reverend John Lambert Rowan, O.F.M., Rector of the Seminary, the faculty and students are anxiously waiting entrance into their monumental edifice, nearing completion on grounds adjoining Bonaventure College.

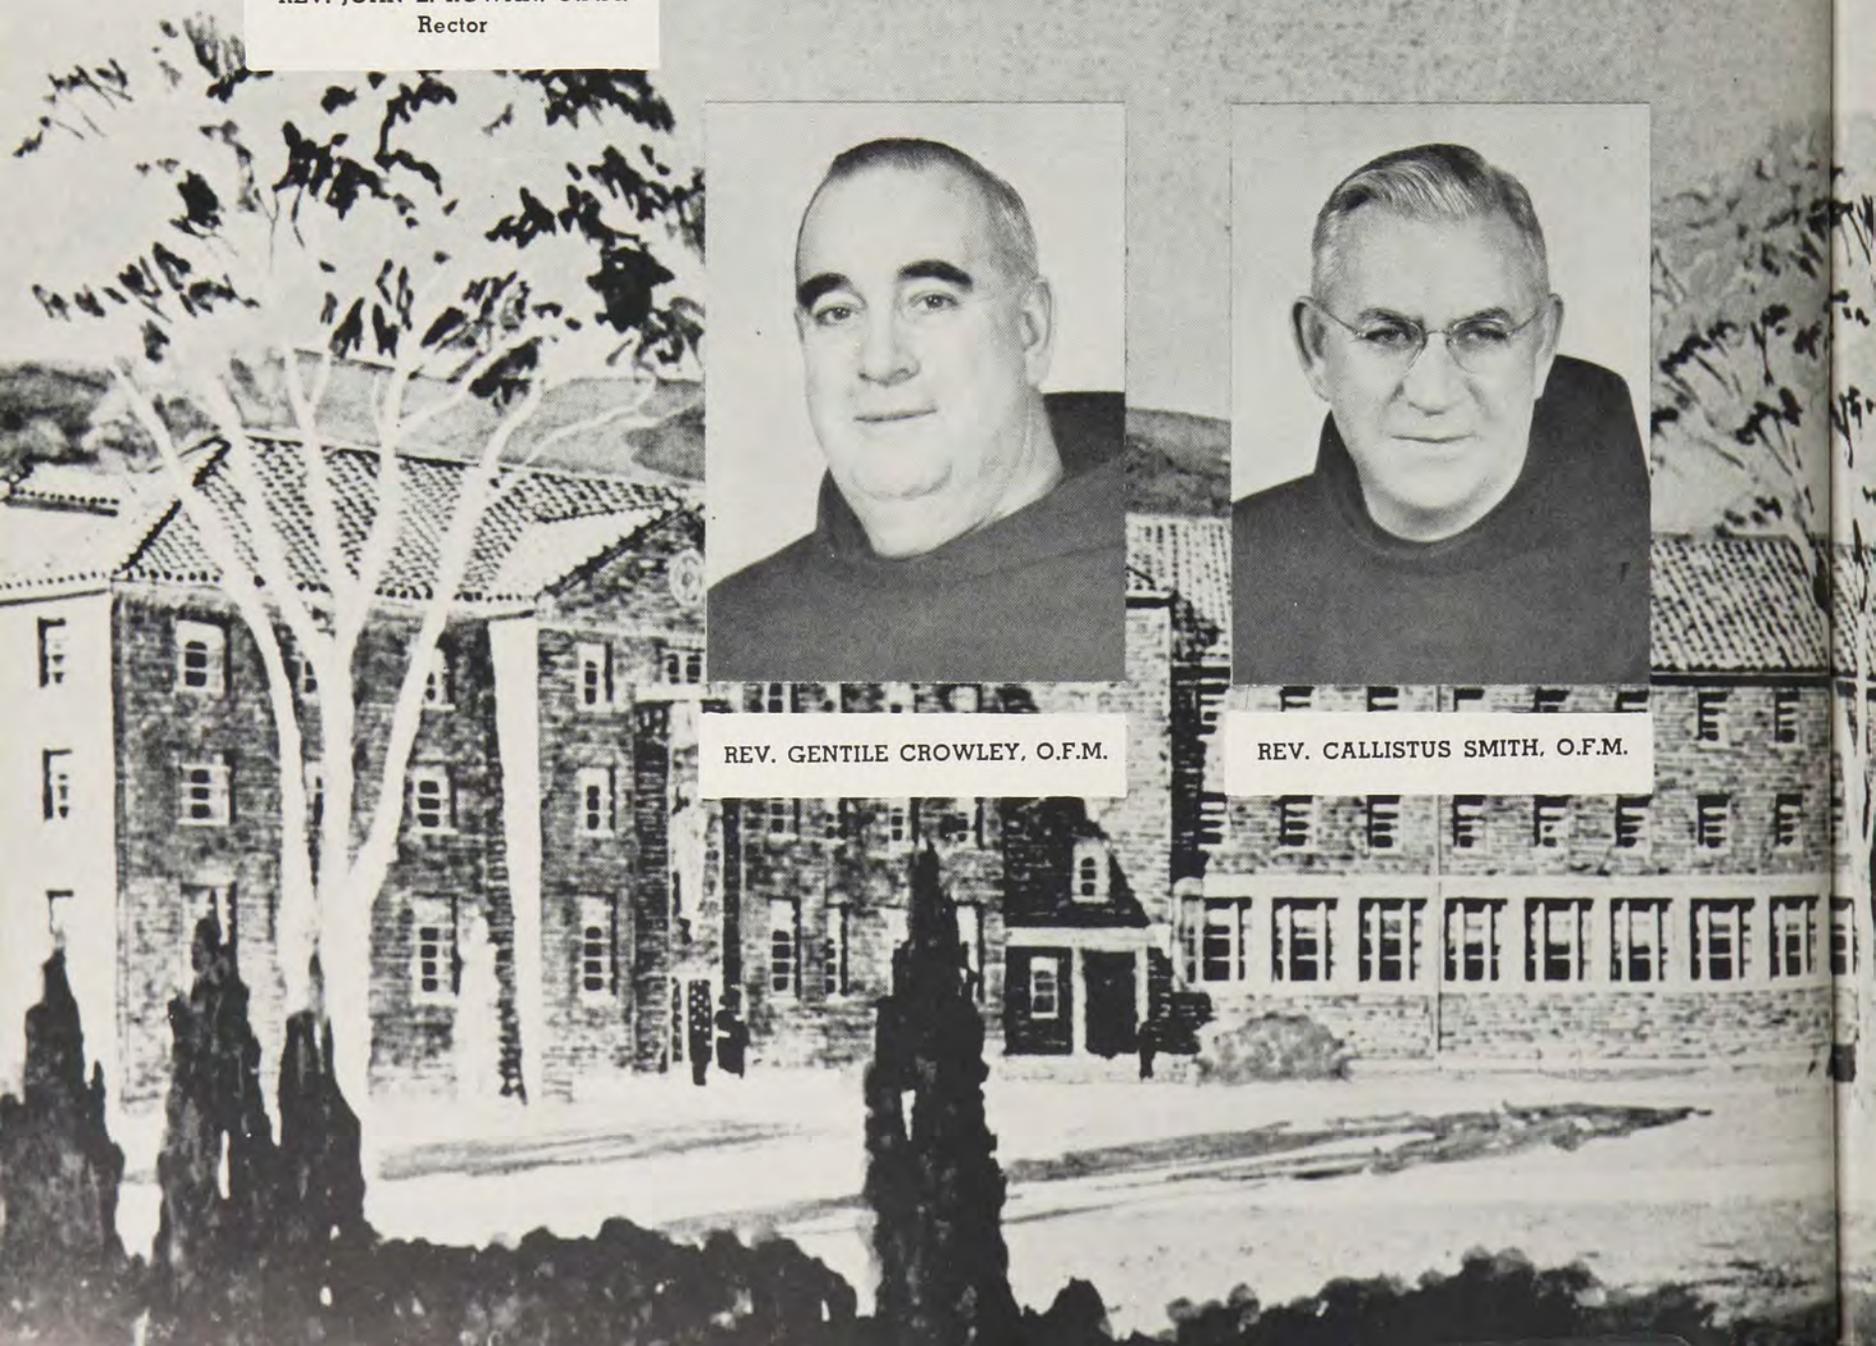

The Seminary curriculum consists of two years of Philosophy and four years of Theology. Admittance to the Philosophical course is attained after two years of College. The scholastic side, coupled with a wholesome spiritual life leavened by the joyful spirit of St. Francis, tends to prepare the future priest for a fruitful life in the "Vineyard of Our Lord."

AND BROTHERS

"Those friars to whom the Lord has given the grace of working should labor faithfully, and devoutly, so that in banishing idleness, the enemy of the soul, they do not extinguish the spirit of holy prayer and devotion, to which all temporal things should be subservient." From the Rule of St. Francis.

The Franciscan Brothers live a life of prayer, self-sacrifice and labor, without which the Franciscan family could not properly function. The community here at St. Bonaventure includes five brothers whose earnest devotion to their respective duties is in each case an exemplification of the Franciscan Way of Life.

Brother Cletus Glackin, O.F.M., fulfills the duties of Postmaster of the St. Bonaventure Post Office. Brother Ferdinand Woerle, O.F.M., the sacristan, is also the college landscaper. Brother Mathias Will, O.F.M., supervises the slaughtering and butchering of meat animals raised on the college farm. Brother Peter Butler, O.F.M., is also connected with the college farm, assisting Father Gentile Crowley in running the farm. The tailoring for the entire community of friars is done by Brother Eugene Deutsch, O.F.M.

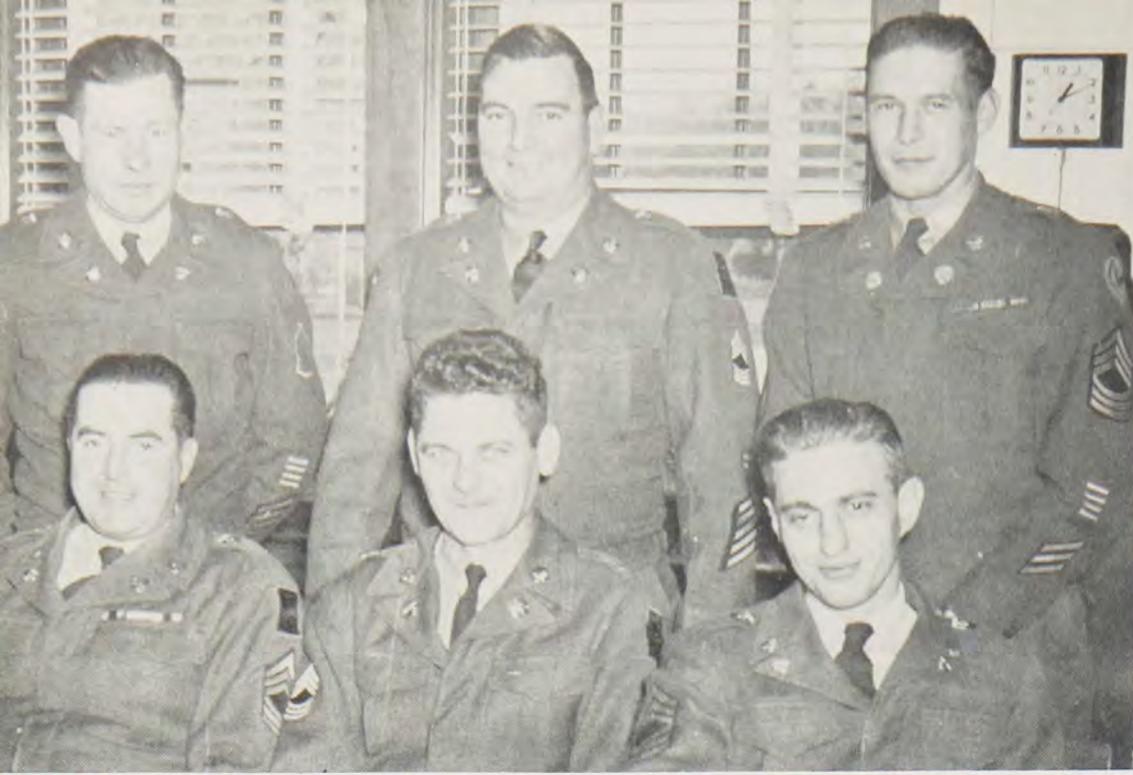

The proper and zealous attendance to these tasks is essential to the monastery and the College alike. While assisting the Fathers by their life of prayer and work, our Brothers have earned our heartfelt gratitude and sincere thanks in humble appreciation.

THE CLASS OF 1950

Humility, being a cardinal virtue which we, the Mid-Century Class of St. Bonaventure, have striven for in our years here, is now forsaken, in this hour of our supremacy. We can be proud of our days at Bonaventure, proud of being a part of a fine college, and proud of the Christian ideals acquired here. Our accomplishments, we think, have been unique and many, and, to use an old cliché, "our record shouts at you!"

We came to St. Bonaventure in the fall of 1946, 600 strong, the largest class of veterans and non-veterans ever to enroll at St. Bonaventure. About 100 of us were rushed through the maze of usual freshman terrors, wore our signs, supplied the upperclassmen with matches, took it on the chin and elsewhere, and before we knew it, we were christened "Bonaventure Men."

We witnessed the growth of the college caused by our class' heavy enrollment. The Barracks and Diaper Row took form. Our sport program grew by leaps and bounds with the coming of two great coaches, Hugh Devore and Edward Milkovich, and the building of Forness Stadium. The football team made the nation sit up and take notice. We lost only one game and accepted an invitation to inaugurate the 1946 Tobacco Bowl Game with Muhlenberg. We gathered at the Gridiron Club banquet to catch a glimpse of Frank Leahy and Ed McKeever. The Student Senate staged the annual Frosh Welcome Dance on December 13th, and we began to enjoy life. 100 new students swelled our ranks in January. In May we enjoyed the counterpart of the Senior Ball—the first Frosh-Soph Hop since the war. The first year was over, we had made the grade.

The sophomore year gave us a new-found confidence at St. Bonas. The school acquired the new Administration Building. Members of the class took over most of the positions on the football team and made up the five starters on the basketball squad.

In our Junior year we saw the construction of Christ the King Seminary begin. Our football team had one loss and downed some formidable opponents, including an upset win over William and Mary. The basketball team had a good record and participated in the National Catholic Tournament in Denver. The outstanding event of the year, of course, was our Junior Prom, the best the school has ever seen in its history. Harry James and The Music Makers provided the music and we were among the dance's dancers. More than one thousand couples attended this gala event.

The light fantastic gives way to be-bop.

"The man with the horn"

Our Prom

The Prom Committee with the Queen and her attendants.

In this our senior year, we said "Au Revoir" to the man who had led us through the years, Father Tom, and welcomed our new president, Father Juvenal, no stranger to the Mid-Century Class. We watched another successful football season, featured by our amazing reverse over Boston University, and began to realize that we should enjoy every minute—our college days were drawing to a close.

As we write this last chapter in our life at St. Bonaventure, we breathe a sigh of relief that our tedious journey is over. A tougher road lies ahead for us in the world. But we feel that the education we received here will show us the course of endeavor leading us to a full Christian life, one that follows closely the ideals of our patron, St. Francis.

To the patient Franciscan Fathers and the professors, we give our thanks and pray that God will watch over them always. To ourselves, our hope as alumni is to spread the merits of our school and the things for which it stands. "Farewell and the best in everything you undertake; we'll see you at Homecoming."

THE REV. SEBASTIAN McKENNA, O.F.M.
Moderator of the Junior Class.

From the time that the Junior Class first set foot on the St. Bonaventure campus, its accomplishments and activities have etched their imprint in the archives of the school's history. We have shown our worth in the classroom, the chapel, and on the playing field—always trying to reach the highest goal possible as Catholic gentlemen and Bonaventure men.

In our Freshman year we revived the fine practice of receiving Holy Communion as a class. Father Thomas Plassman, OFM, celebrated the Mass and spoke at the breakfast following. We well remember his stirring appeal to pattern our lives after the life of St. Francis of Assisi. His plea was emphasized by the words of Christ Himself—"Learn of Me because I am weak and humble of heart."

That same year the Frosh cagers, under the tutelage of Father Canisius Connors, OFM, boasted a 9-2 record on the basketball court. Our Frosh Frolics, featuring talent chosen from the ranks of our class, was a tremendous success.

In our Sophomore year we participated wholeheartedly in the activities of the school. The NFCCS and NSA drives for funds were conspicuously dotted with members of our class. Many went out for and participated in the various varsity sports—gaining recognition for their school and their class. We shared the limelight with the Class of 1952 in presenting the annual Frosh-Soph Dance, one of the finest ever held.

This year, on the threshold of starting the second half of our college career, we became conscious of the dwindling amount of Bonaventure days ahead of us and strove to make every day count. First off, to insure the proper guidance for the complex undertaking of plans for the Junior Prom, we set about electing our officers. The gratifying returns showed John O'Rourke as President; with Robert Equi, Vice-President; David Poore, Secretary; and Robert Garbarino, Treasurer. The confidence we placed in them, and in the Prom Committee proved fruitful beyond all our expectations. Not only was the prom a huge success, but in our estimation (we may be a little biased) it was one of the best social events the school has seen.

Next year we look forward to further activities and eventual graduation. We shall always remember our class for its splendid spirit and enthusiasm—and above all, its bond of companionship that will remain with us throughout our future lives.

It seems a lot less than two years since we, the Class of 1952, first passed under the archway, marveling at the rolling hills, and spacious acres that make up the campus of St. Bonaventure College. Time has flown fast since we first experienced the "chow line," the top bunk and registration. Yet it seems only a short space of time has elapsed from the moment that they were novel and exciting.

Let's turn back the clock for those two years and fondly review our accomplishments, our victories and our defeats.

Rules, the bane of Frosh life, began in earnest two weeks after the opening of school. We soon learned that there were more "sirs" on the Bonaventure campus than the armed forces had in their entirety. With the sting of the MASTERS' paddle to give us the necessary impetus, we were persecuted and driven into slavery. It seems that Lincoln's Proclamation to free the slaves does not apply to Freshmen at St. Bonaventure College. But in spite of all this, at the termination of rules, we realized that they had made us more the man, the Bonaventure Man. We could look back at them and laugh and talk of the poor Frosh to come next year.

Immediately following the Frosh rules we chose the men who were to lead us through our initial year as class officers. Genial Bill Laughlin won the presidency, Jack Kelly was the Veep, Frank Murphy was voted secretary and Jack Trippe was chosen as treasurer.

The Class of 1952 enthusiastically joined in college life. We participated in many activities throughout our first year. We inaugurated a monthly communion breakfast, along with the Frosh Weekend, and a gala picnic.

September 1949—Upper Classmen, at last! This trip we are the MASTERS. Revenge is certainly sweet. Happy days, football games, the fateful Buffalo weekend, those Golden Gribs again and those wonderful (?) tests. Soph election saw Paul Gallagher as top man for the year and Paddy Ryan and Jack Kelly as our Student Senate Representatives.

This year our class shared the spotlight in a big weekend. We put on the first annual "Sno Ball" in conjunction with the Ninth Annual Military Ball. Other activities were run throughout the spring.

As we, the Class of 1952, stand on the threshold of our Junior year, we ask Ole Father Time to slow down just a little, so the four happiest years of our lives can be stretched out.

THE REV. WINFRED McCARTHY, O.F.M.
Moderator of the Freshman Class.

Every year at St. Bonaventure College, Freshman traditions appear as though they were doomed to extinction. This year was no exception. But the reaction of the Class of 1953 to Freshman Rules assured everyone that tradition, the core of any College's life, had not as yet fallen in defeat.

Dinks and ties and "Howzit, Sir? Beatchamudder" was the order of the day. Woe betide any of us Frosh who were unfortunate enough to be found lacking in the proper decorum and conduct becoming a lowly Frosh. He faced a punishment, the mere mention of which was enough to blanch the face of the hardiest soul in the entire class. The Sophomores who were entrusted with the task of turning us "Green" Frosh into Bonaventure Men were most proficient in carrying out their bounden duty. They attacked their task with the zeal worthy of men who had been through it before.

That we had learned our lessons well we aptly demonstrated on the last day of November when the tables were turned and Student Senators and the Sophomores were "it". Ask any Senator or Sophomore what he thought of our recitation on that day.

Mention "mud" and "dink fight" and watch him turn a delicate green.

But one should not get the idea that all we did was to fight with the Sophomores for our entire first year. Quite the contrary. In addition to maintaining our standing in our classwork, we participated in many of the extra-curricular activities on the campus. Many members of our class played on the Frosh Basketball and Football teams. In the years to come some of these members of the class of 1953 will be the mainstay of the varsity teams in these two sports.

Other activities were planned and carried out by our capable class officers under the supervision of our excellent moderator. A communion breakfast for the entire class was held early in February and was a grand success. Our class supported and ran various other activities throughout the year.

The Class of 1953 is the class to watch. Happy to be a part of Bonaventure Life, we shall fill the years ahead of us at St. Bonaventure with many things which shall enable us to conduct ourselves in the true tradition of Bonaventure Men.

REV. SILAS ROONEY, O.F.M.
Director of Athletics

The Athletic Board is the policy-making committee in regard to intercollegiate sports competition. This year's board has been doubled in membership. Previously, three officials set the policies. Its enlargement in size is due primarily to the tasks required of the group since the College's increased athletic program.

Each of the six members on the committee represents a definite portion of the Bonaventure scene. The Very Rev. Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., sits on the board as President of St. Bonaventure. Father Vincent Devine, O.F.M., Dean of Studies, acts in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Scholastic Evaluation. Treasurer of the College, Father Celsus Wheeler, O.F.M., presides over the Board of Operations. Father Silas Rooney, O.F.M., is Director of Athletics, and Father Brian Lhota, O.F.M., is in charge of Minor Sports. Mr. Frank White serves as Comptroller of the College.

ATHLETIC BOARD

Coaches-Trainer-Managers

Assistant coach Ken Stilley has tutored the Bonaventure linemen for the past four campaigns. A native of Clairton, Pa., Stilley played left tackle for Notre Dame and earned monograms in '34 and '35. He had completed nine seasons of successful high school coaching prior to joining the Notre Dame staff.

The second part of the football board of strategy was Johnny Agnone. He came to the campus at the start of spring practice in '47. Born and raised in Youngstown, Ohio, he was a boxer, as well as a footballer, at ND.

Herbie Dintaman, assistant line coach, is a Bona product. He came here as a student in '41. After nearly four Army years, Herbie starred at guard for the Indians. His home town is Hazleton, Pa.

Also aiding in the coaching department were Bob Smith, a Bona prof; Ray Whispell and Steve Charsky.

Student manager Martin Carr was aided this year by Lou Heuschneider, Fred Eisenhard and John Masen.

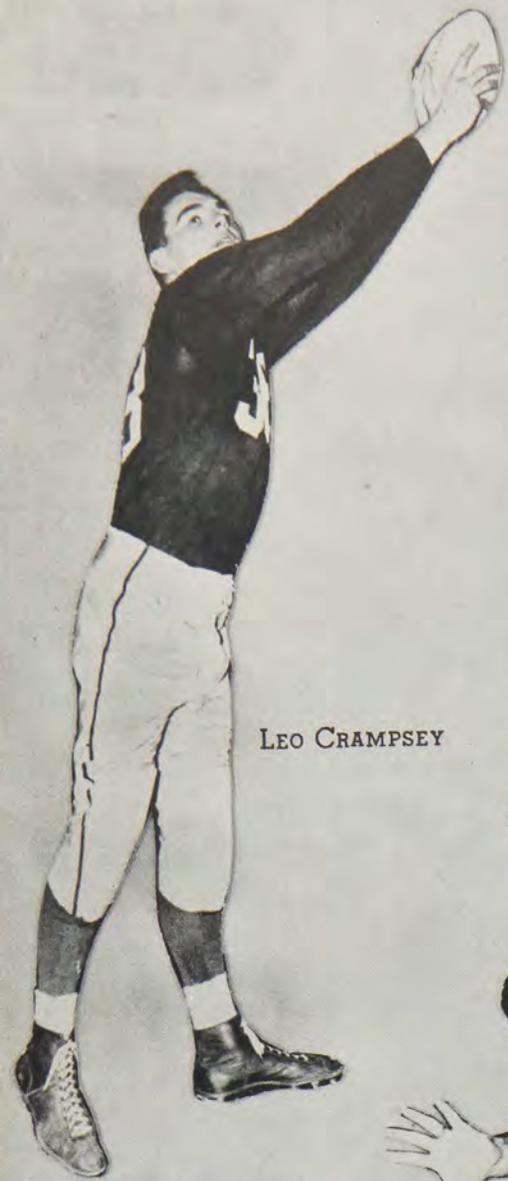

Trainer Neill Penn was assisted by Jack O'Connor.

Neil Penn, one of the few student trainers in the country, whose medical knowledge has kept our athletic teams in top shape.

FAREWELL AND HELLO

Hugh J. Devore, head football coach for the last four seasons, resigned February 1. In his formal statement, St. Bonaventure's postwar mentor said, "Conditions relative to my own family and the necessity that I be near them cause me to tender my resignation at this time with deep regret." His record was 25 wins, nine losses and one tie.

Devore's teams played squads from every section of the country. Notable among the games were the triumph over Boston University, 19-0, this season; the 7-6 victory over William and Mary in '48; the tie with Boston College in the same year; and the Tobacco Bowl tilt in '46.

He won All-American honors as right end and co-captain in 1933 at Notre Dame. Following graduation, he was Freshman coach at his alma mater. Next he worked under Jim Crowley at Fordham for three years. From 1938 to 1942, Devore was head boss at Providence College.

Moving to Holy Cross, he earned a reputation as one of the best scouts in football, while assistant coach. The next year, '43, he returned to ND and stayed three seasons, becoming head coach of the Irish in 1945, before moving to St. Bonas.

HUGH DEVORE—departing coach

JOE BACH—new mentor

Joe Bach's appointment as St. Bonaventure's new head football coach was announced March 2. Simultaneous with the announcement was the veteran coach's statement that "he was anxious to start" whipping into shape a team that has lost more than two dozen lettermen, including nine starters.

In his latter 40's, Bach has spent a quarter of a century in coaching football. After his graduation from Notre Dame in 1925, where he was a tackle for two years on the famous Seven Mules he served as line coach at Syracuse University (1925-28) and at Duquesne University (1929-33). In 1934, he was named head coach at the Pittsburgh school, leaving there the following year to be head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In 1937, Bach left the pro ranks to become head football coach at Niagara University. While there, his teams won the Little Three Title twice, in '38 and '40, and tied for the top honors in '37.

After a year of wartime coaching at Fort Knox, Ky., he joined the Detroit Lions, once again as a line coach, remaining in the Motor City until the end of the '47 season. In '48 he was line coach of the Boston Yanks and last year transferred to Ted Collins' N.Y. Bulldogs in the same capacity.

GRIDIRON CLUB

Col. Bill Davis calls out the winner of the Lustron home at half time during the Houston game. In the background is the car presented to the seller of the winning ticket.

A group of happy banqueteers at the annual Gridiron Club classic.

Since the formation of the St. Bonaventure Gridiron Club in January of 1946, this group has taken the initiative in boosting the football program. Outstanding community leaders of the Olean area united at that time, in order to further the College's progress on the gridiron. The organization is not controlled by one individual or group of individuals. These Bona backers developed a tightly-knit combine. Within the structure of the organization are the ordinary working people from business and industry. Alongside them are the executives and professional men.

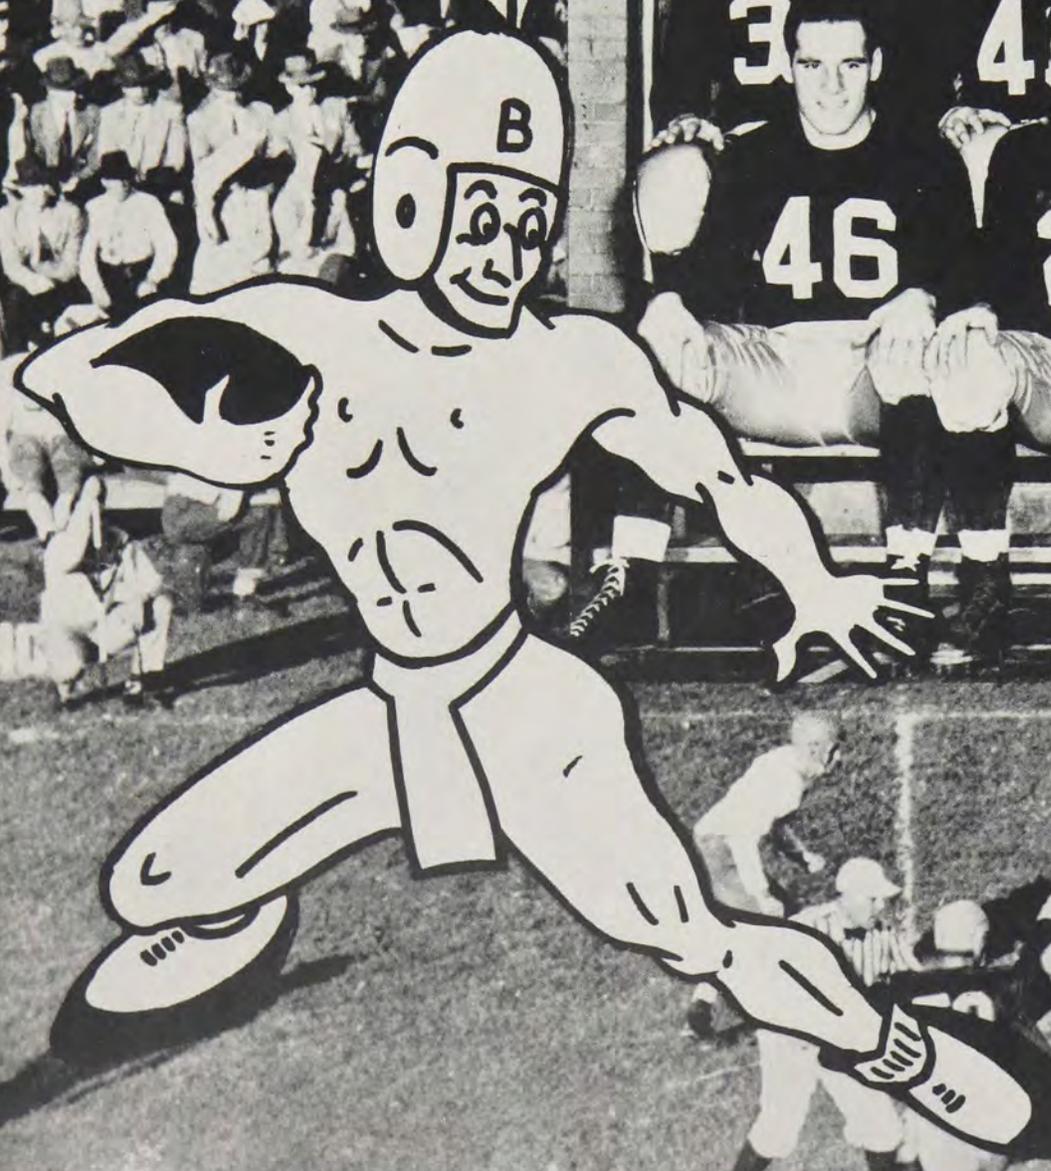

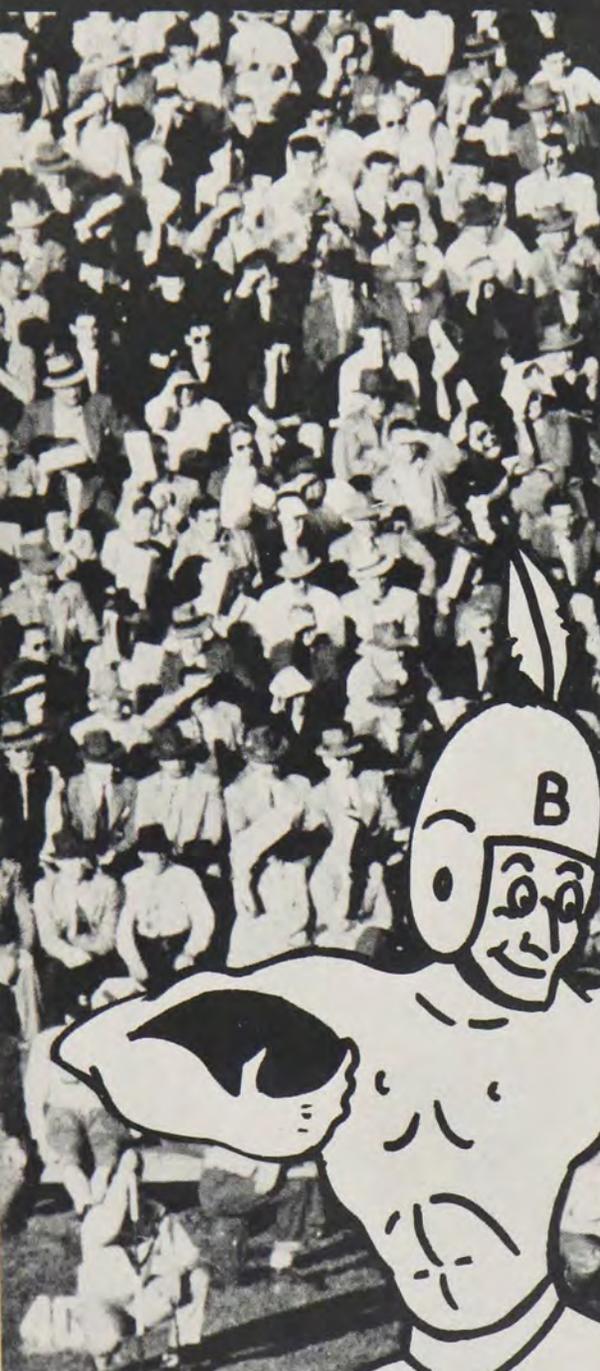

The organization is both democratic and non-denominational. Each year, a new slate of officers is elected, so that the burden will not be too great for one man or group of men. Yet they do their work well and ask little in return, save trust from their friends and co-workers.

One member has been, and will undoubtedly continue to be, prominent for his outstanding efforts in furthering the Gridiron Club's aims. He is Mr. William (Colonel Bill) Davis, Director of Activities.

This season's drawing for the $15,000 Lustron House at the Houston game was one of the many projects carried on by the club.

Stan Zajdel loses his helmet in a headlock as he is stopped after a short gain by Anthony Orsini (13) and James Sheridan (11) of Scranton. Others in the picture are Art Slowey (55), Al Lesko (50) and Chris Scaturro (33) of Bonnies. Other Scranton players are Angelo Reich (47), Stephen Knight (32), Alfred Applegate (44), and James McHale (40).

George Youriskin (42) of Scranton arrives a little too late to catch George Hays (44) of Bonas as he takes a twenty-yard pass from Chris Scaturro into end zone for Bonnies' second touchdown of the afternoon.

Raising the curtain on the 1949 football season at Forness Stadium was a gay event for the Brown Indian pigskinners as they proceeded to shut out Scranton University, 26-0. It was Quarterback Chris Scaturro's strong throwing arm that flattened the aggressive Royals. He tossed a pair of TD passes.

Bonaventure drove for their first touchdown on a pass from Scaturro to halfback Earl Smith. This play moved the home team to the Scranton 44. A pitch to Joe Pavlikowski placed the ball on the 23. On the next play, Scaturro hit end George Hays who scored standing up.

The Brown Indians scored again a minute later. Mitch Smiarowski's kick fell into the Scranton end zone and the Royals took over on the 20. Bartley's pass was deflected by end Stan Lewza who caught the falling ball and scampered the remaining few yards to pay dirt. Bonas tallied next with Scaturro passing to halfback Stan Zajdel.

Midway in the final quarter, the Brown and White struck again when Zajdel intercepted a Royal pass on the visitors' 35. The little field general then shot a spot pass to end Terry McShane for eight. Smith then slashed off tackle for 15. Scaturro passed to end Jack Butler in the end zone but the play was called back. A Scaturro-Smith aerial carried to the 3 from where the Indians scored.

Chatlos and Smiarowski each kicked a PAT.

SCRANTON

The team's Pacific Coast jaunt was spoiled by the last-quarter scoring of the San Francisco Dons. Ollie Matson, Frisco soph, broke the ball game wide open in the last stanza with a 90-yard TD run on a punt return. This score snapped a 21-21 tie. Matson also went 39 yards for another score in this period. Ten thousand fans looked on at Kezar Stadium.

The game began with a scoring punch, too. Leo Haggerty gave Bonaventure an early lead on an outstanding 80-yard sprint at the two-minute mark. Smiarowski converted. Six plays later, Brown of Frisco went over from the one and then kicked the placement. A 30-yard dash by Matson set up the score.

Halfback Glenn Haggerty intercepted a pass late in the first quarter. Quarterback Scaturro then hit on two passes—to Zajdel for 35 and George Hays for 22. Leo Haggerty plunged over from the one. Smiarowski's try was good, 14-7. G. Hays and Dan Huntoon blocked a punt on the San Francisco 35 in the second period. End Leo Crampsey took a Scaturro pass in the end zone. Smiarowski booted the last Bonaventure point, giving the Brown Indians a 21-7 lead. The Dons added four TDs, after a half-time rest, to win, 34-21.

Fullback Leo Haggerty was the leading Bona ground gainer, hitting the line for an 8.7 average in 15 tries. Chris Scaturro completed 11 of 22 passes for a total of 110 yards.

BROWN INDIANS 21—DONS 34

SAN FRANCISCO

Leaping Leo Haggerty (46) scores Bonas' second touchdown from the one-yard line. Roy Barni (17) of Frisco makes a vain attempt to stop him. Others on the ground are Dick Miller, facing camera; John Breslin (58), behind (17), and Leo Crampsey (38).

Outside Ollie Matson (33) of San Francisco about to be stopped by Mitch Smiarowski (56) as he hits off tackle. George Hays (44) is taken out by Ed Brown (15) of Frisco. Al Lesko (50) moves in behind, trying to catch the play.

DAYTON

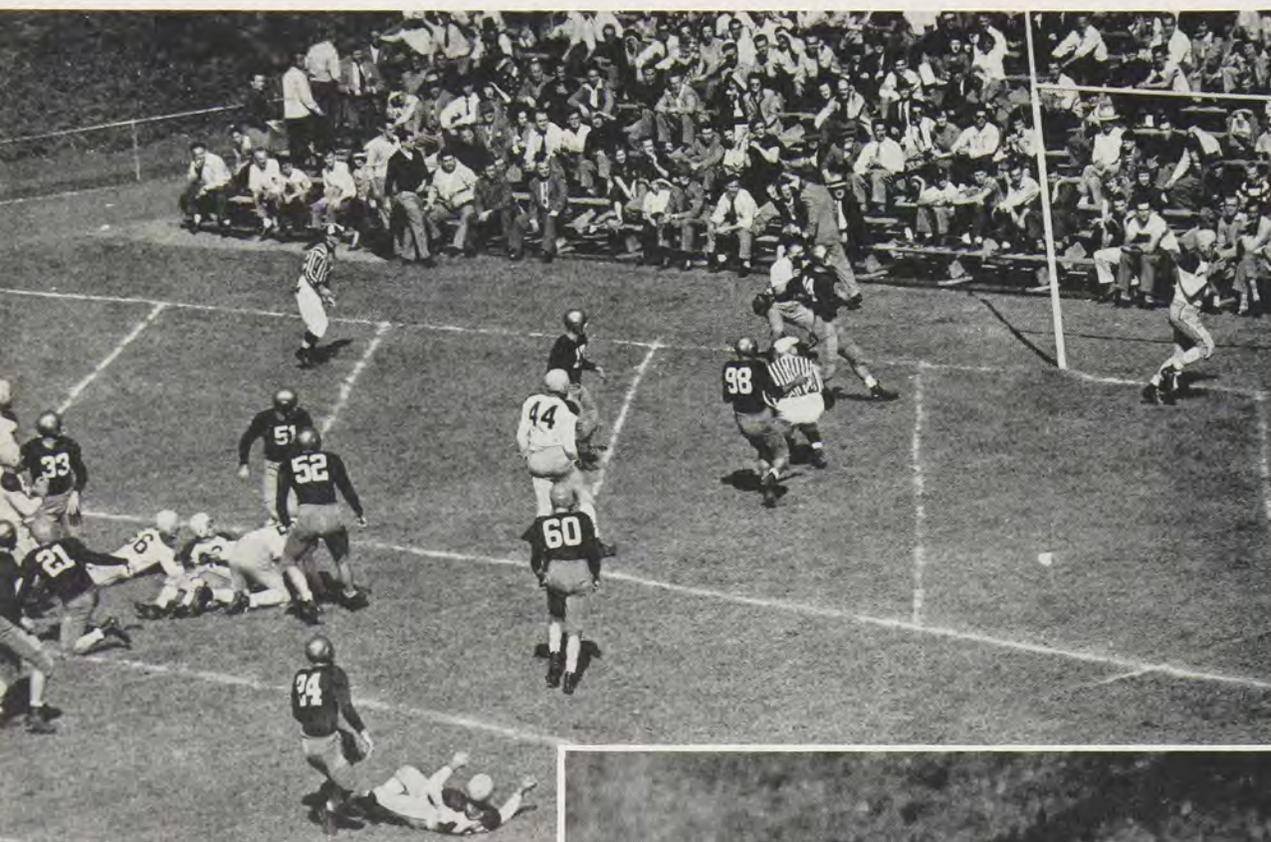

BROWN INDIANS 13—FLYERS 28

The Indians made their second consecutive air trip of the young season for the October 2 game with the Dayton Flyers. Once again the Brown and White rested at half time with a lead—this time 13-7. A strong Dayton eleven, however, came back with three tallies in the second half to take an edge in the all-time series, 2-1.

Bonaventure scored early in the fracas. A Stan Zajdel punt came to a halt on the Flyers' 2. Joe Pavlikowski pounced on a loose ball, after halfback Art Bok fumbled on the next play. Three Bona line plays failed from the 6. Chris Scaturo faded on fourth down and pitched to Leo Crampsey in the end zone. Mitch Smiarowski's placement was blocked.

The outstanding play of the day, resulting in a Bona TD, occurred a few minutes later. The Flyers drove to the Indian 7, from where quarterback Joe Zaleski tossed a forward pass. Defender Joe Pavlikowski intercepted on the 2 and dashed 98 yards to paydirt. Excellent downfield blocking helped "Pav," with tackle Joe Romanosky throwing the clincher. George Chatlos made it 13-0 with a clean conversion.

From the second quarter on, the running of Leroy Ka-ne, fleet Hawaiian halfback, hurt Bonaventure. He scored twice for Dayton and came out of the ball game averaging 13.7 yards in 10 carries. A 21-point surge by the Flyers in the fourth quarter resulted in Bonas' 28-13 loss.

Glue-fingered Leo Crampsey (38) scores Bonas' first touchdown on a pitch from Chris Scaturo in the first quarter. Others in the picture are George Hays (44), Stan Zajdel (23), Mitch Smiarowski (56), Al Lesko (50), and Dayton's Art Bok (44), Leroy Ka-ne (98), Fran Quinn (17), Dan O'Brien (60), Ray Panaszek (24), John Cleary (52), and Jerry Vander-Hoest (51).

Extra point good on a 27-yard kick as George Hays (44) and Al Lesko (50) arrive a little too late to block ball. Stan Lewza (54) is the other Bona player in the shot. Bernie Otten (94) kicked the ball with Ray Janaszek (24) holding for him. Other Dayton players are Art Bok (44), and Dale Babione (50) looking over Otten's shoulder.

Smarting from two defeats, the Devoremen returned to the win column against previously unbeaten Wayne University of Detroit. The Tartars were unable to move the brick-like Bona line for more than 55 yards rushing. Nunzio Marino scored twice in the 25-7 win.

Marino tallied late in the first period, following a 20-yard dash by Leo Haggerty. End Leo Crampsey scored the second TD on a second-quarter toss from Chris Scaturro that covered 23 yards. A few plays later, Bonaventure struck again. Halfback Lou Salley, behind sharp blocking, scampered 68 yards down the sidelines to TD land.

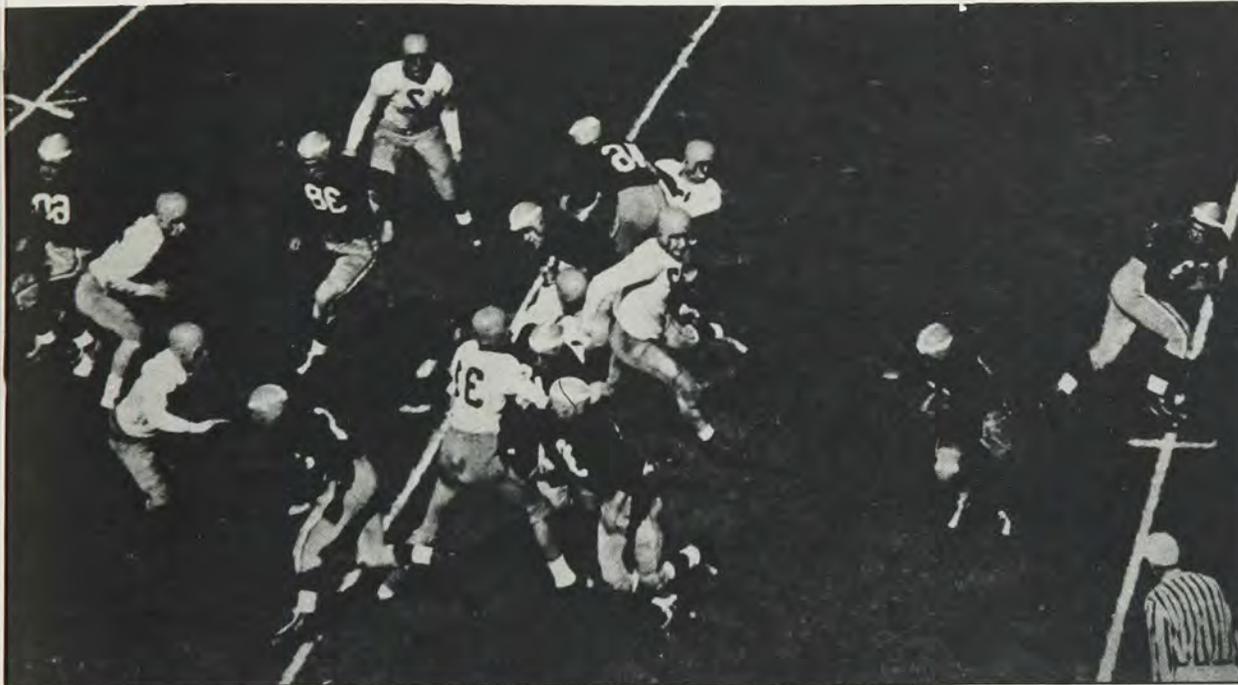

Wayne, striving desperately to stay in the game, took to the air. Gene D'Ambrosio attempted a long pass. Defender Nunzio Marino intercepted the pigskin and returned it 35 yards for the tally.

The second half lacked the action that was found in the first, as Devore rested the regulars. A penalty nullified guard Frank Palmisano's score.

In the final canto, the Tartars averted a white-washing. Wayne's Bill Morgan scored from the 12 on a line play.

Statistics showed that the Brown Indians had chalked up 339 yards on the ground and had passed for 104 yards. The Tartars showed 55 rushing and 55 via the air route.

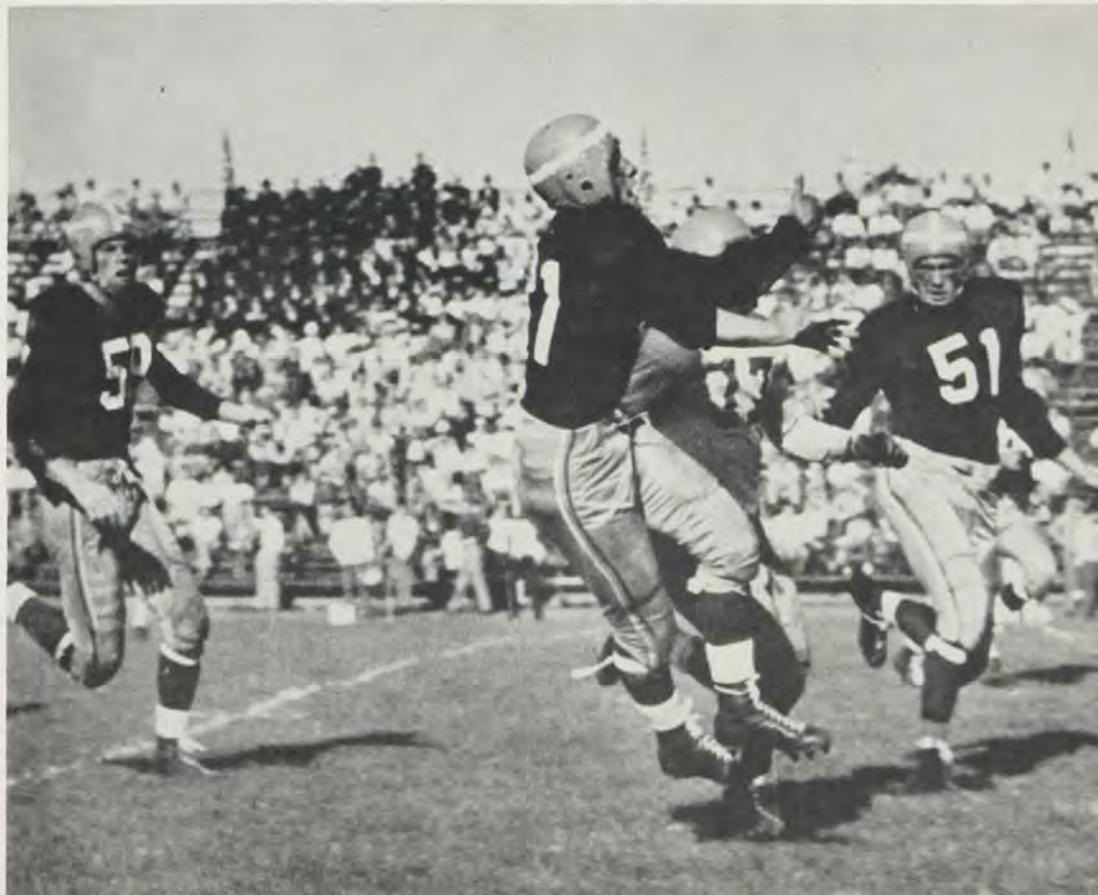

End run in the making as Lou Salley (34), on a hand off from Chris Scaturro (33), starts around right end behind perfect interference led by Earl Smith (35) and Dick Miller (30). George Nicksich (60) and Leo Crampsey (38) move downfield to block. Others in the line are Joe Romanosky (62) and Leo Haggerty (46). Wayne players are Stephen Zukowski (37), and Edward Dopkowski (31) and Bruno Marana (2).

WAYNE

Nunzio Marino (31) registers determination as he deflects a pass away from Wayne's fleet halfback, John Hazely (17). Cleo LaChapelle (51) adds protection for Bonas as he closes in. Bill Griswold (59) watches the play from the 35-yard stripe.

BROWN INDIANS 25—TARTARS 7

George Nicksich (60) about to erase Bill Minihan (70) as Scatback Nunzio Marino (31) starts around end. Jack Butler (36) is coming around to help in the play. Joe Romanosky (62) is seen on the ground.

Bonas holds that line as Jack Austin (30) tries to score from the three-yard line. Bonas players are Bill Griswold (59), Burt Hays (45), and Frank Palmisano (43). Canisius players are Punter Art Calendrelli (23), and Chet Kwasek (42).

CANISIUS

An overflow crowd of 12,000 was given a Homecoming Day treat, as a methodical Brown Indian grid machine crushed Canisius College, 46-13. Bonaventure's TD parade established a new scoring record in the annals of Little Three rivalry. The non-conference tilt marked the first Olean area appearance of the Griffins in 27 years.

Bonas forward wall was never in better form and definitely placed itself alongside any line that ever cavorted at a Little Three meeting. Three St. Bona touchdowns were the result of pass interceptions. Joe Pavlikowski started the fans howling with a sensational goal-line snatch. His 100-yard, third-quarter dash was aided by end Bill Griswold's crisp block.

The Brown and White scored late in the first quarter, following a 73-yard march, as fullback Leo Haggerty went off tackle from the 5. Early in the second quarter, the Griffins had a few moments of glory. Halfback Howie Willis, the back all spectators were waiting for, entered the fracas and sparked a then-faltering goal-line drive. He rifled an aerial to end Jack Sweeney in the end zone. Willis calmly put the Griffins ahead, 7-6, by kicking the PAT.

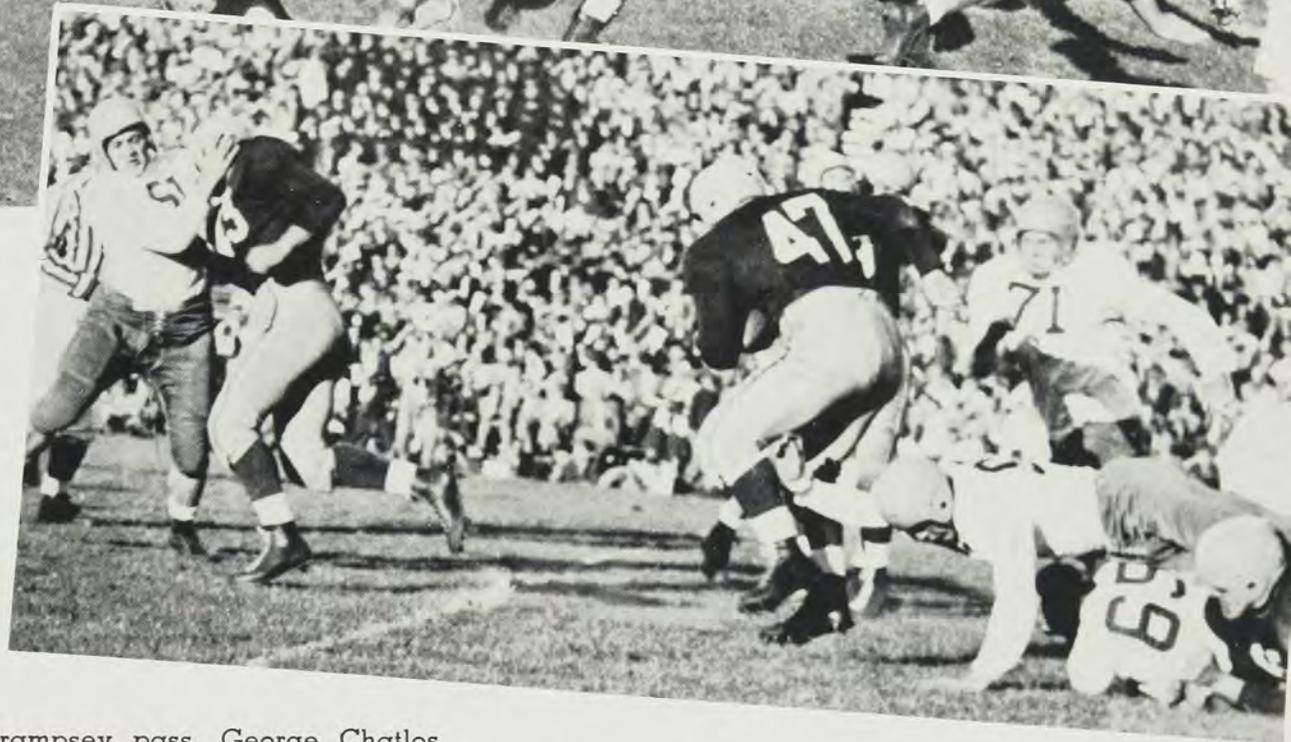

In the second stanza, Bonaventure marched 82 yards

—HOMECOMING

Stan Zajdel (23) comes out in the clear as Jack Butler (36) and Lou Salley (34) move in to take out Art Calendrelli (23). Tony Bolognese (11) is taken out by George Nick-sich (60). Dick Miller (30) and Mitch Smiarowski (56) are on the ground. Leo Crampsey (38), Joe Romanosky (62) and Leo Haggerty (46) are the other Indians in the picture. Bob Jerussi (61), Harry Greaves (84), Ray Jacobi (73) and Don Mackinnon (53) of Canisius.

Powerful George Caccamise (47) rips through Canisius line for a 10-yard gain. Al Centofanti (51) of Canisius tries to shake off Bona blocker Terry McShane (53). Al D'Arcy (71) of Canisius tries to catch Caccamise from behind.

and tallied on a Scaturo-Crampsey pass. George Chatlos converted. Nunzio Marino intercepted a Willis aerial and returned the ball to mid-field as the half ended with the Indians leading, 13-7.

Three Bona TDs in the third canto really shattered the hopes of Coach Jimmie Wilson's boys. Signal-caller Scaturo, never in better form, connected with Jack Butler for the first of these tallies and hit Leo Crampsey for the other air-route score. Chatlos booted both placements. With approximately five minutes left in the period, Pavlikowski took off on his 100-yard run. Bona led, 33-7.

Early in the fourth quarter, back Tom Ferraro climaxed a Canisius drive by going over from the one, 33-13. With less than two minutes left, Bona scored twice. Quarterback Walt Wojciechowski sneaked across from the one. Signal-caller Ed Hlasnick out-faked the eleven Griffins and boot-legged the pigskin for 10 yards around right end to paydirt. This feat proved to be the last play of the game.

Statistics showed that St. Bonaventure had gained 405 net yards against Canisius' 169. The Brown Indians also led in first downs, 23-9. Bonas pounded out 338 yards rushing, as against 85 yards for the Griffs. The passing department was about even, with Canisius tossing for 86 and the Indians garnering 77. Total offense found the visitors 'way behind—415-171. Bonaventure also boasted of 155 yards in interception returns.

After the record-shattering tussle, Coach Jimmie Wilson of Canisius said, "We met a great ball club today."

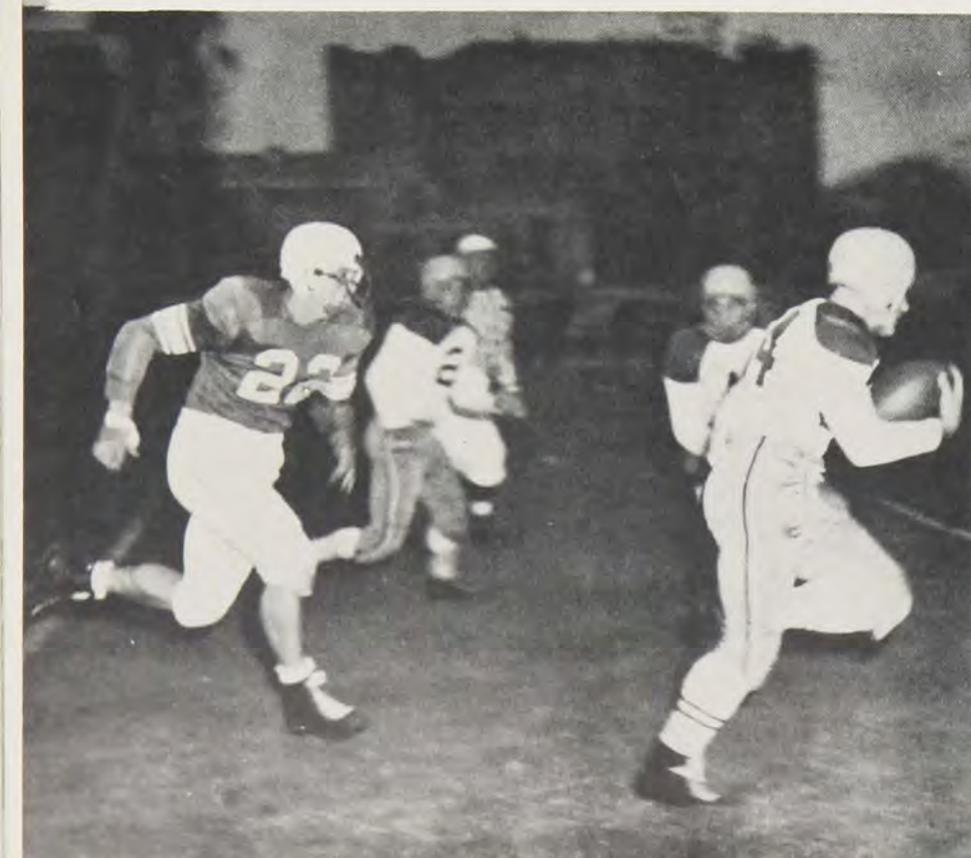

Caught from the rear by an unidentified Bona tackler is Bruno Pacini (26) of Niagara. Ernie Virok (41) is about to lend his weight to the Bonas' argument. Cornelius McMahon (16) of Niagara appears in the rear too far away to help Pacini.

BROWN INDIANS 41—PURPLE EAGLES 0

NIAGARA

Lou Salley (34) in the clear and on his way for a touchdown as Nick Petruccelli (42) moves over to take out Richard Dobmeier (22) of Niagara.

Relying mainly on a smashing ground attack, Bonaventure continued its winning way by trouncing its first Little Three Conference foe—Niagara University, 41-0.

A Niagara Homecoming Day crowd of about 6500 watched the Devoremen dominate play throughout the afternoon. It marked the Purple Eagles' fifth consecutive defeat.

The hard-hitting Indian line swept past the Eagles' forward wall time after time. Nick Petruccelli fell on a loose ball in the opening minutes and Lou Salley tallied the initial score. Harry Leichtweiss blocked a punt and Terry McShane pounced on the pigskin in the end zone.

Midway in the second period, the Bona Braves marched 70 yards with Scaturo scoring on a sneak from the one. The Eagles trailed, 20-0, at the half. Hugh Devore's forces were held to one touchdown in the third period. This score came on a 9-yard sweep by Stan Zajdel, following a drive that carried 52 yards.

Devore yanked his regulars, but the replacements continued to roll. George Caccamise scored the fifth TD, while Jerry Hanifin snaked 36 yards for the final marker.

Led by fleet Johnny McCoy, the Niagara attack clicked between the thirties, but the Eagles never were closer to paydirt than the 20. George Chatlos booted five for six in the PAT department.

"In one of the most fantastic form reversals of modern times, the Canisius' Golden Griffins ripped apart a fine St. Bonaventure team, 14-0, before 20,125 unbelieving football fans in Civic Stadium." Cy Kritzer, Buffalo sports scribe, penned these thoughts following Bona's third defeat of '49.

The Griffin one-two punch of Kwasek and Willis, supported by strong line play up front, stood out in the upset.

As the game got underway, Bona fullback Nick Petrucelli intercepted a Griffin forward on the Canisius 29. It looked like shades of the 46-13 rout at Forness Stadium, as the Brown Indians moved to the 4 on seven plays. At this point, the picture began to discolor. After running four plays, Bonaventure showed a loss of two yards and lost possession of the ball.

Canisius scored its first TD midway in the second canto, after guard Joe Bajak recovered an Indian fumble on the Bona 21. Howie Willis wiggled over from the 5 and then converted. Canisius led, 7-0. Bonas came back with a threat as sophomore Jerry Hanifin played the role of workhorse. A Scaturto-Butler pass, complete to the Griffin 4, was nullified by a penalty. Bonaventure couldn't move and the foe took over.

Stan Zajdel (23) grimaces as he is about to be thrown for a loss by Jack Austin (30) of Canisius. Others in the picture are Jack Butler (36) of Bonas and for the Griffins Bob Schaus (81), Leo Swistak (10) and Jack Sweeney (82). A few of the 20,000 fans can be seen in the background.

Mitch Smiarowski (56) and Harry Leichtweis (52) are all set to stop Back Chet Kwasek (42) hidden behind Steve O'Neil (79). Ernie Virok and Nick Petrucelli (42) move in toward the ball carrier. Don Mackinnon (53) and Dick Measer led interference for the Griffins. Other players are Stan Lewza (54) and George Hays (44). George Yavicoli (65) watches the play.

BROWN INDIANS 0—GOLDEN GRIFFS 14

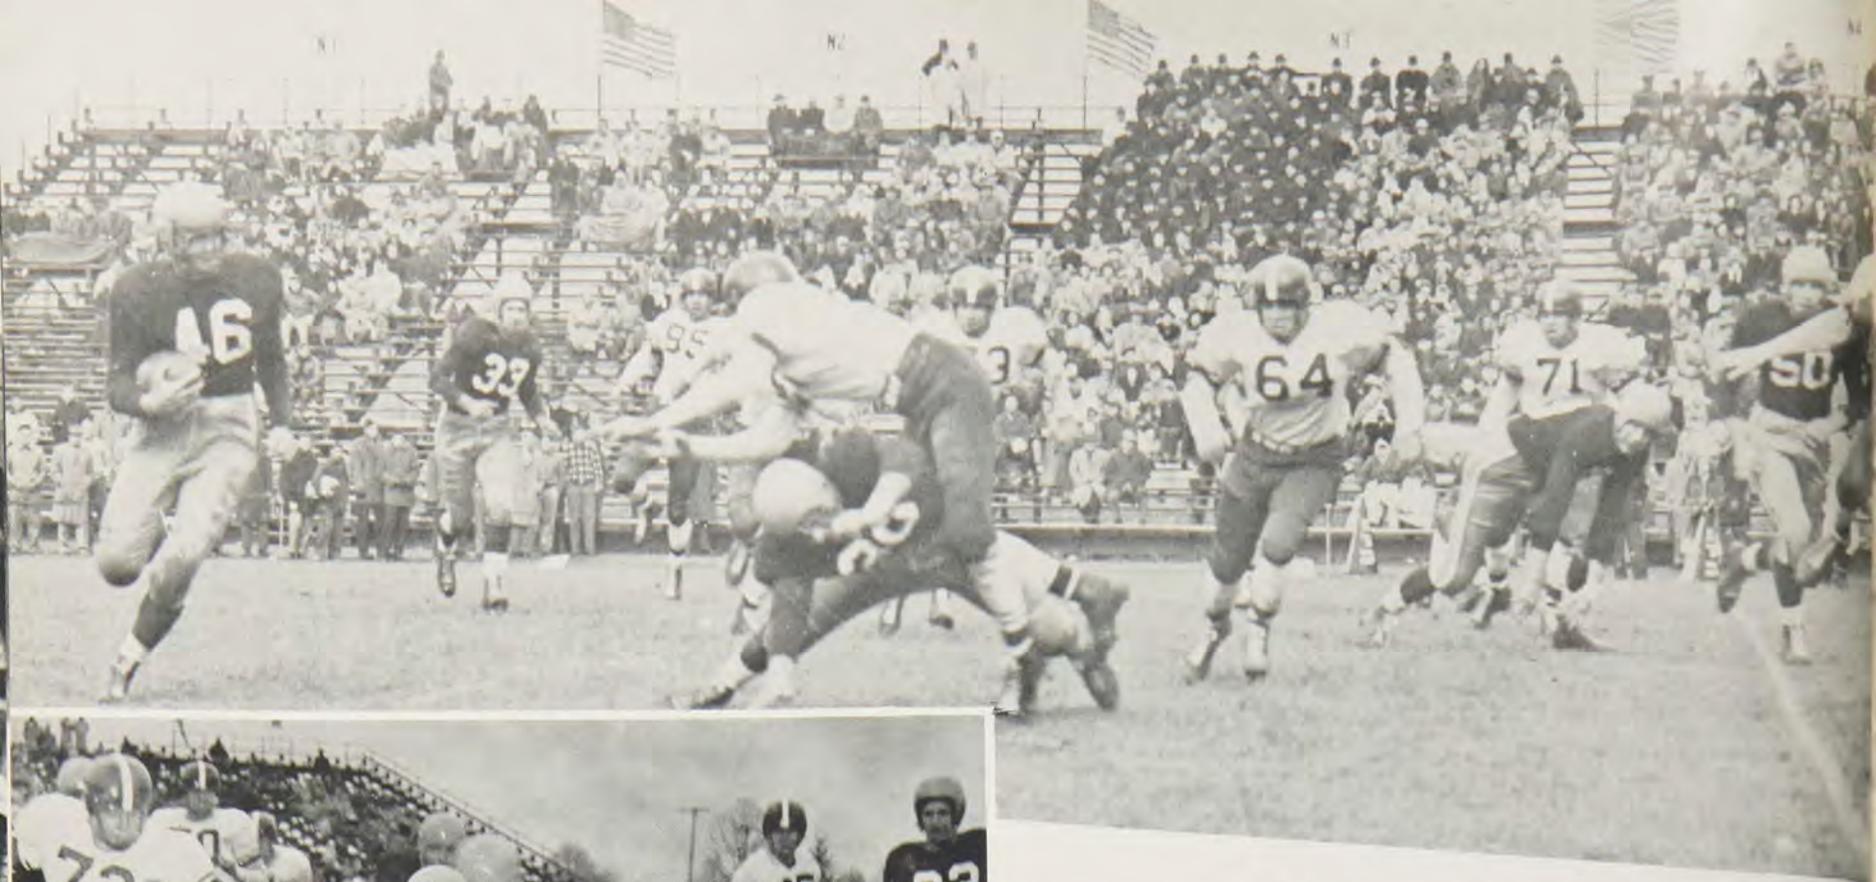

In the third stanza, Chet Kwasek scampered 48 yards on a wide end sweep for the final marker. Willis placement made it 14-0.

All during the second half, the Bona offense tried to shift into high gear, but to no avail. A Hugh Devore coached Bona eleven failed to score for the first time.

CANISIUS

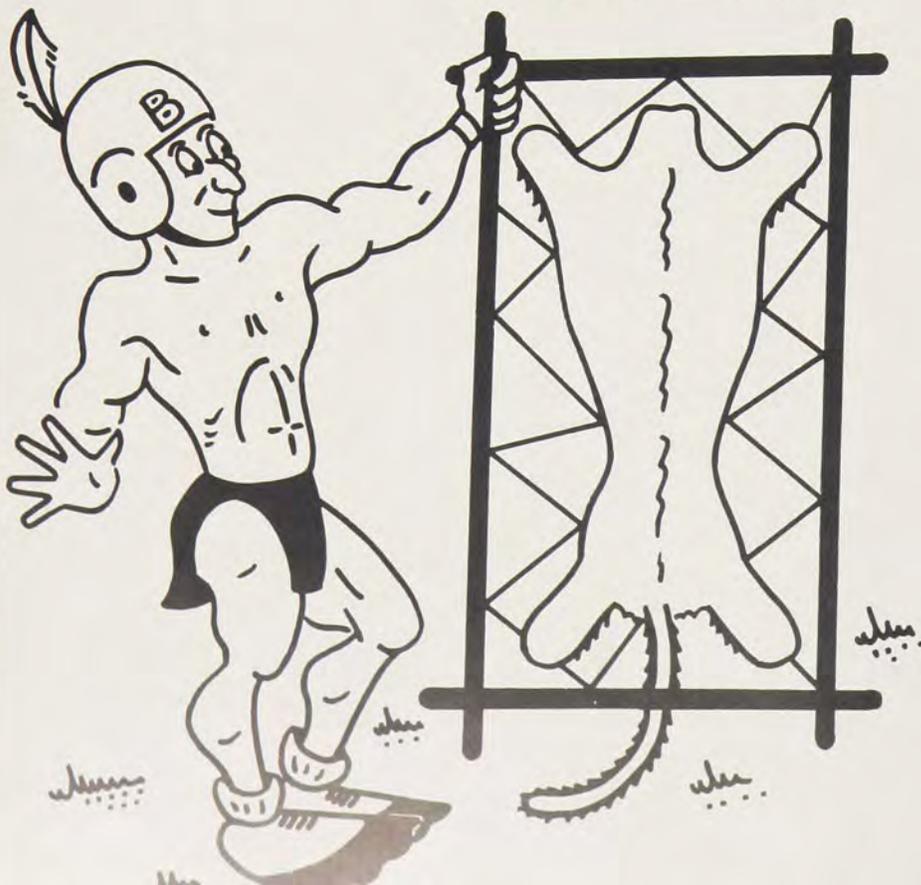

Dick Miller's block springs Leo Haggerty (46) around right end for a 15-yard gain. Coming up for Houston is Lloyd Holloway (64), while Stanford Carr (71) is detained by Frank Palmisano (43). Others in the picture are Al Lesko (50) and Chris Scaturo (33) of Bonas, with Carroll Selby (85) and Frank Rody (83) of Houston.

A fumble in the Bonas' backfield is scooped up by Nunzio Marino (31) as Al Lesko (50) of Bonas and Cecil Towns (75) of Houston pile on. Houston players who can be seen are, L. Z. Bryan (73), Bill Butler (70), and Carroll Selby (85), while Chris Scaturo (33), George Nicksich (60), and Earl Smith (35) of Bonas look on.

HOUSTON

BROWN INDIANS 20—COUGARS 14

The last home game was played on the coldest, bleakest afternoon of the season. Despite the finger-freezing weather, the Brown and White bested a big, rough Houston University eleven, 20-14. This triumph gave St. Bonaventure a proud record of 15 straight victories in Forness Stadium.

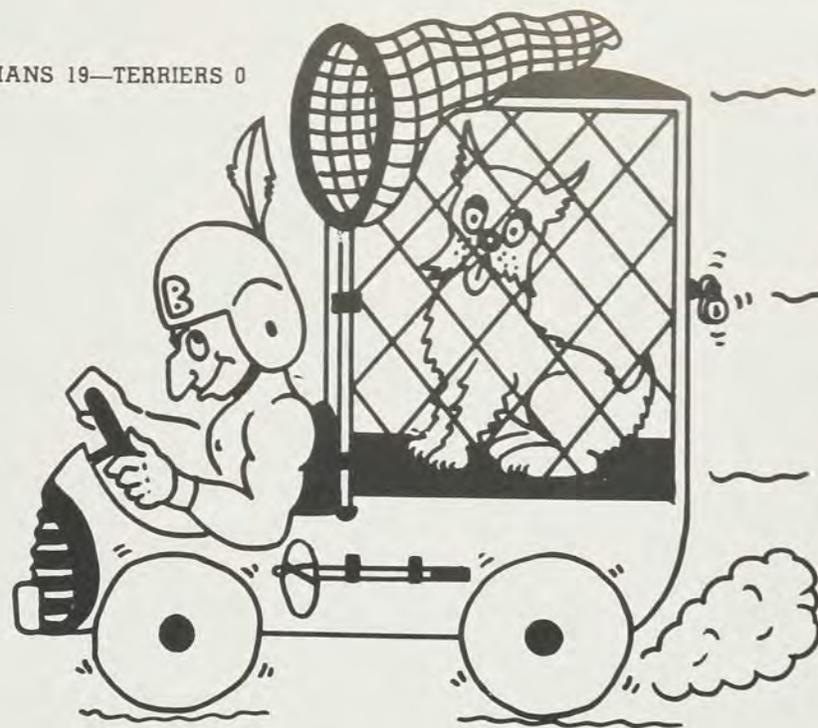

Bonaventure dominated play during the first half. The team drove toward the Cougars' goal continually, but could score only once. A 76-yard march paid off with three minutes remaining in the first half. Scaturo scored from the one and Chatlos converted.

The teams engaged in a scoring duel in the third stanza. Bona's Lou Salley scored on a deceptive end sweep of 21 yards. Quarterback Allan Neveux kept the game wide open with his passing. He tossed for one TD and carried for the other, plus kicking the two conversions. One of these aerials went for 34 yards, while the other covered 50.

With time running out, the Indians began a march down the field. Halfback Stan Zajdel was the spark-plug. He moved the ball from the Houston 46 to the 25. Scaturo then threw spot passes until the ball reached the eight. Terry McShane caught Scaturo's shot in the right corner of the end zone.

Zajdel's effective punting and elusive running stood out, while the line met the biggest "beeftrust" on the schedule.

Bona gridders let off steam after Buff Donelli said "Hughie's boys ran us right out of the park." In the usual order are Butler, Popson, Mahaney, Hays, Smiarowski, Devore, Salley, Romanosky, Lesko, Huntoon, Nicksich, Miller, Breslin, Chatlos, and Caccamise.

Extra point blocked by Boston College linemen after Bonas' first score. John Knight (72) and an unidentified Boston player are about to block the kick of George Chatlos (39) with Chris Scaturo (33) holding. Glen Haggerty can be seen blocking Walter Anderson (83) of Boston. Other Bona players are George Hays (44), Al Lesko (50), and George Nick-sich (60).

BOSTON U.

The Brown Indians closed the 1949 grid campaign in a blaze of glory with a 19-0 victory over a highly regarded Boston University squad before 16,657 fans in Fenway Park. A one-point loss to Maryland may have been the only blemish on the Boston record, but Bonaventure kept the Terriers bottled deep in their own territory for the most part. Chris Scaturo hit end Leo Crampsey twice for tallies. Scaturo skirted right end for the third score.

A 45-yard Agganis aerial to the Bona 5 was the only real Boston threat. Two interceptions—one by Nunzio Marino and the other by guard Nick Trunzo—led to Bonaventure scores.

The Indians rushed the opening kickoff to the BU 3. The Terriers took over here, but Whelan's feeble punt went out on the 30. Scaturo then opened the aerial show by hitting G. Hays on the 10. The next pass was to Crampsey who made an over-the-shoulder catch in the end zone. This "bang bang" score set BU back on its heels, and the Terriers were helpless until Lavery caught Agganis' 45-yard heave. He was nailed by Marino from behind as the half ended.

Early in the third session, Marino grabbed an Agganis toss and traveled 25 yards to the Terriers' 37. At this point, Scaturo connected with Crampsey for six more points.

Nick Trunzo made a timely snare, following the kickoff, to halt a BU march. A penalty on the next play put the ball on the Bona 40. Jerry Hanifin then dashed 43 yards deep into Boston territory, as he eluded tackler after tackler. Hanifin next "hula-hipped" to the 3. Scaturo slipped around end four plays later. The scoring was finished for another year.

Twenty-three high school bands, plus the BU aggregation, paraded at half time, while thousands of high school students sat in the stands as guests.

FIRST ROW: F. Henderson, G. Smith, J. Voss, J. Hotis, G. Mallett, J. Holes. SECOND ROW: J. Reister, T. Marchibrodia, F. DeAngelo, P. Borgogone, E. Minahan. THIRD ROW: J. Cunningham, J. Riley, J. Dwyer, G. Enright, G. Dente, J. Romangoli. FOURTH ROW: S. Karlovich, J. Deignen, G. Meramble, M. Bailey, A. Caprio. FIFTH ROW: K. Vogtell, J. Verra, Godlewski.

FROSH TEAM

Freshmen gridiron aspirants at St. Bonaventure were under the capable hands of Steve Charsky and Robert Kay. Both were former varsity players well versed in the style of play used at Bonas. They had the task of moulding a group of men, who learned their football under many different systems, into the one system used at Bonaventure.

Many long hours were spent on the practice field conditioning the players and teaching them the fundamentals of the system. After the squad had learned their assigned tasks they were sent over to the varsity field to act as the defensive unit for the varsity in scrimmage. This was to be their most difficult task as no formal frosh schedule is played by the Bonaventure team.

Many fine future varsity players get their first feel of college football in these scrimmages. This system allows the head coach to keep a watchful eye on their progress and gives him a line on players he can use on the varsity the following year. The frosh get their first taste of offensive football the following spring as they play in the annual Brown and White intrasquad game.

ON TO FRISCO!

Typical of their comic antics and tumbling ability is the above shot of the Bonas cheerleaders. Spurred on by boundless enthusiasm and pep, the group drew many a cheer for the teams and themselves with many such stunts. Totem pole from low man to high man: Bill Laughlin, Paddy Ryan, George McPhillips. Upside down, left: Hugh Donlon; right: Captain Hugh Erb.

Cheerful Paddy Ryan waves farewell from "The Rocket to the Moon" as "Inventor" Jack Hickey defiantly prepares to seal the "Doomed Lad" in. The ill-fated expedition occurred during half-time at the Houston-Bonnie game.

CHEERLEADERS

The current cheerleaders representing St. Bonaventure are the best ever to cavort for Brown Indian teams.

No professionals, they have had to work hard and long to acquire polish, poise, and above all, a large repertoire of stunts and tricks.

Five of the six regulars have been at it since their freshmen days. All except one had no experience previous to entering college. They were as green as the grass stains on their pants. However, they soon overcame that and were an established and experienced group when sophomore Hugh Erb became captain.

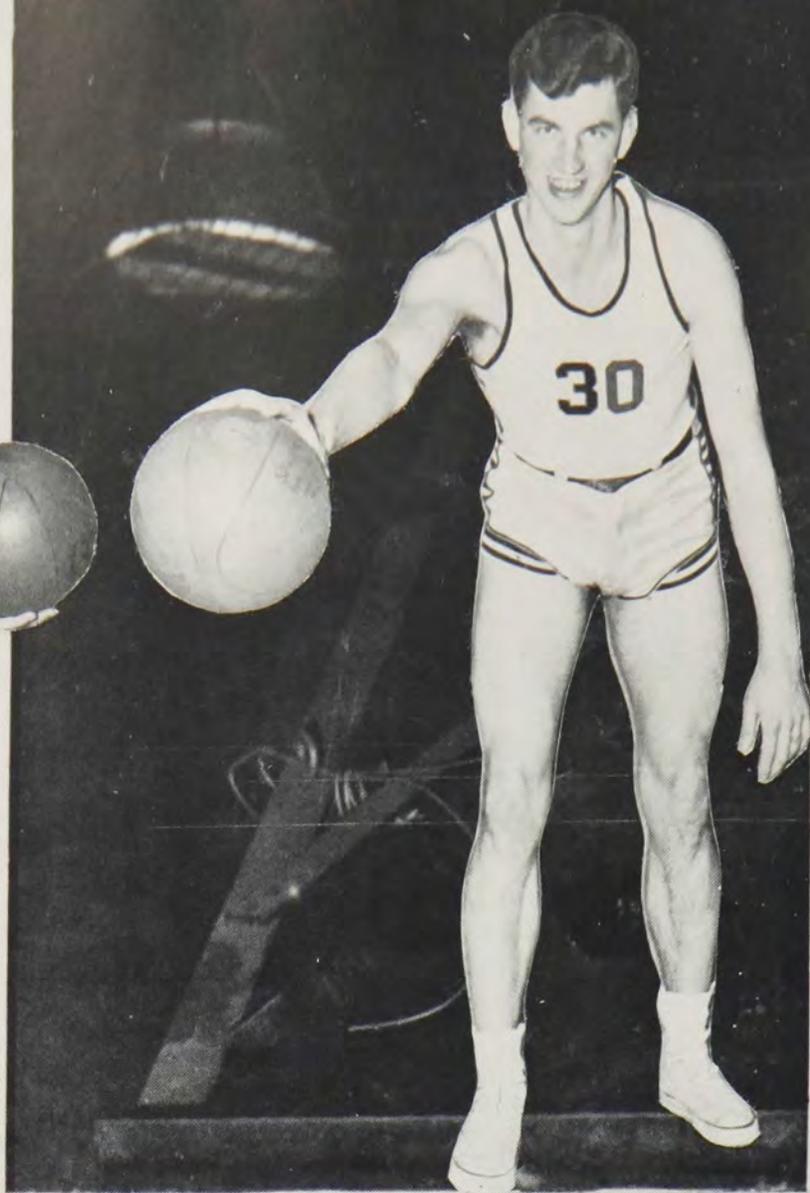

Since then the group has scored an impressive number of "firsts": tumbling was added to cheerleading; a freshmen cheering section was organized; card displays were used by students to spell out words and cheers; half-time stunts, such as the "rocket to the moon" were tops; finally, they drafted and trained five frosh to make their number an unheard-of eleven.

Theirs has been an active and colorful part in games, pep-rallies and parades. Most outstanding in the group is Paddy Ryan, a born comedian who has made himself famous wherever the Bonas cheerleaders have performed.

The Brown Indians opened the '49-'50 season with a 66 to 48 win over Scranton. Frank Ready was leading scorer for Bona's with 15 points. Ken Murray and sophomore Don Solinsky were next with 13 points each. Jack Leighton had 15 for Royals. The Indians started slow but hit their stride in the second half under Murray's direction.

Bona's won their second game on the Armory floor as they beat Ithaca, 64 to 54. Fred Diute was high man for the home team with 17 points. Bud Smith of Ithaca took top honors with a 20-point total. Bona was outscored from the field by one goal but made 22 out of 33 foul shots to win.

Victory number three for the Brown Indians was a very close 50-48 win over a lightly regarded LeMoyne College team. Ken Murray was high for the Indians with a 13-point total. Dave Lozo paced the Dolphins with 15 points. Bona's scored only 7 points in the last quarter while LeMoyne almost caught them by making 13.

Bona's first appearance in Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium proved highly successful as they upset favored Brown University, 54 to 51. The Indians, playing one of their best games, took command in the early stages of the second half. Hitting very well on set shots from the outside they soon held a 13-point lead. Brown used a full court press and with Maloney hitting for 10 points narrowed the lead to 3 points.

Eddie Milkovich has three years to his credit as head basketball coach. The popular coach brought his stylings to the college for the '47-'48 season. In his first season (12-10), it was definitely evident that he was building with his possession-type ball. The following year, his team chalked-up an 18-8 record. They also played in the National Catholic Intercollegiate Tourney.

A member of the famous "Iron Dukes" of Duquesne, who won 87 out of 95 tilts, Eddie participated in the '39-'40 Invitation and National Collegiate tournaments. He was chosen on the Madison Square Garden All-American team that season.

Milkovich was likewise a member of the original New York Celtics.

Brown Indians won their fifth straight, defeating St. Thomas of Minnesota by a 53 to 42 score. Bona's ability to convert freethrows was major factor in the victory. The team made good on 25 out of 35 shots attempted. Ed Krause made 6 for 6 and Sam Urzetta 5 for 5 to lead in that department. Ken Murray again led the scoring with a 20-point total.

The Brown and White hit the nets for their greatest output this season by defeating Regis College of Denver, 73 to 57. With Ken Murray and Fred Diute both having an "on" night Bona's held a 25-point half-time lead. Sam Urzetta ran his consecutive foul-shooting skein to 18 straight. Murray hit for 22 and Diute had 16 points.

Bonnies invaded Scranton to battle Royals for second time this year. Seventh win was recorded as they defeated Royals by a 46 to 35 margin. Ken Murray hit for 12 points followed by Ready and Martone with 10. Medvecky paced Scranton with 12. A fine ball-handling exhibition in fourth quarter by Indians drew favorable comment from rabid Scranton fans.

Playing their second game on their first road trip of season the Indians staged a great second-half rally to defeat LeMoyne College Dolphins by a 51 to 44 score. Trailing by 9 points at the half, and with Ken Murray bothered by a sprained ankle, the Indians limited LeMoyne to a pair of field goals in the second half. Fred Diute, hitting on hook shots from the pivot, scored 19 points to lead Bona to victory number eight.

Siena of Albany, a small college cagepower, fell before Bona's terrific second-half drive by a 52 to 47 score. With Fred Diute and Ken Murray connecting at vital moments in the third quarter Bona's overcame a 9-point deficit and rang up their ninth straight victory. Diute scored 14 and Murray 12. Ed Kolakowski, Siena's reserve center, was high scorer of the night with a 19-point total.

Twenty-six hundred fans screamed approval as Indians won their first Little Three game, 52 to 48, against the Purple Eagles of Niagara University. With Ken Murray being bottled up by the Eagles' defense, it was Ed Krause and Mike Martone who supplied needed punch to trim the Purple Eagles. Krause scored 12 and Martone 10 while Moran led Niagara with 12.

Bona's extend winning streak to eleven straight as they defeat Texas Wesleyan 65 to 59. Wesleyan started slow but after finding the range put on a brilliant display of passing and shooting to force Bona's to the limit. It wasn't until the fourth quarter that Bona's led by Ken Murray with 20 points went ahead to stay.

Twelve thousand fans look on as Bona's lose first game of the year to Canisius Golden Griffins by a 49 to 42 score. The Indians' inability to capture rebounds in the third quarter and to make set shots proves too great a barrier to overcome. Ken Murray played his usual hard driving game to emerge with 18 points for the night.

The Brown Indians regained their winning form as they scored a very impressive victory over Loyola of Chicago by a 55 to 51 score. Ken Murray enjoyed the greatest night of his collegiate career as he poured 27 points through the hoop against Loyola. Sam Urzetta was next in scoring with an 11-point total. Frank Ready did a terrific rebounding job.

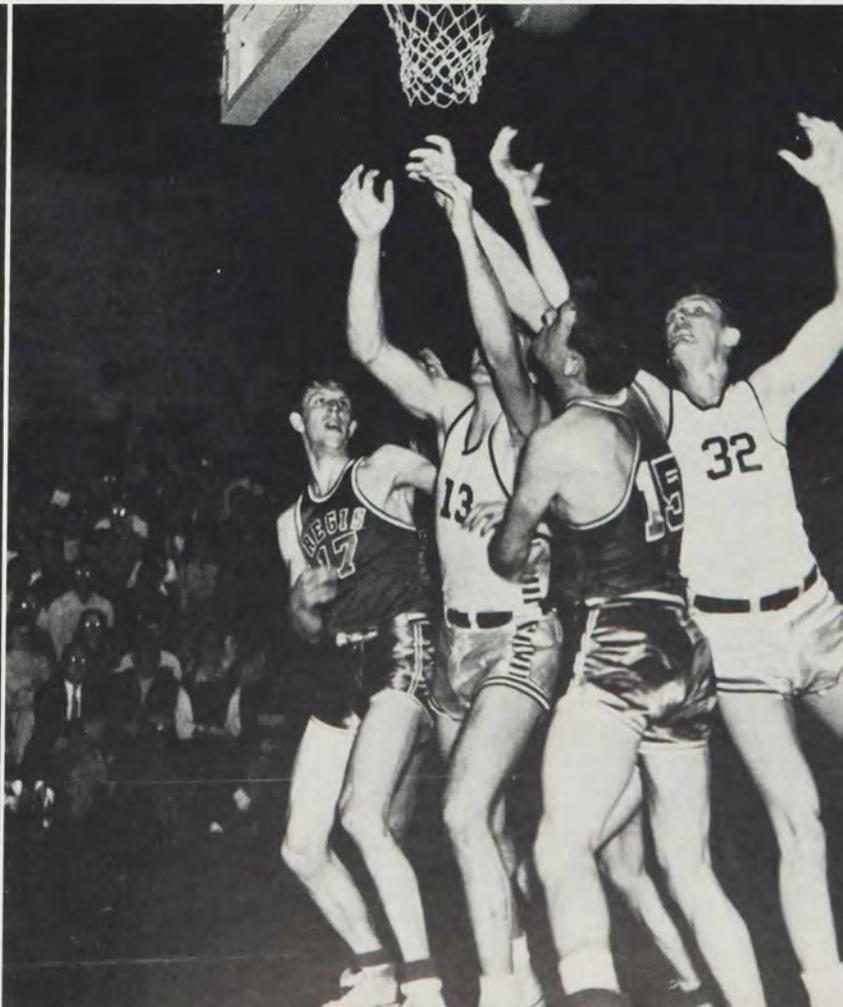

Bona's Brown Indians post their highest score of the season as they defeat Gannon College 76 to 49 on the Armory boards. Ken Murray became the first player in Bonaventure cage history to score 1,000 points in his collegiate playing career. Murray hitting for 22 points ran his four-year total to 1,005, scoring 225 points in 14 games this season.

DEPARTING BRAVES

The four "Brown Indians" who have been largely responsible for St. Bonas' rise to basketball fame. Coming toward you are Frank Ready, Sam Urzetta, Ken Murray and Ed Krause.

FRANK READY, another West Orange, New Jersey, boy, has completed four years as a varsity player at Bonas. Frank has been a great team player and his terrific work under the boards and on defense has been a major factor in Bonas record these past four years. Frank scored 214 points in his first year and his overall total is 496.

KEN MURRAY of West Orange, New Jersey, has set a new record at Bonas' by being the first player in the cage history of the school to score over 1,000 points. Ken has been a great player in his four years as he is a great shot and plays well on defense. He is a possible winner of Player of Year honor in Buffalo Memorial Aud.

SAM URZETTA of East Rochester, New York, another four-year player who will leave future players a mark to shoot at. In the 1947-48 season Sam converted 59 out of 64 foul attempts to lead the players of the entire nation in this department. Sam has scored 509 points over this period as well as being an exceptionally fine guard.

EDWARD KRAUSE, a Reading, Pa., boy, has played three years at Bonas. Ed possesses a good one-handed shot and this year he has been used as a clutch player. He is sent in to score a few quick points when the team is cold to get them under way again. Ed has scored a total of 391 points.

Ken Murray receives basketball from Fr. Silas, O.F.M., with which he had just scored his one thousandth point. Others in the picture are No. 10, Mike Martone; No. 22, Frank Ready; No. 14, Ed. Krause, and Fred Diute.

FRESH BASKETBALL

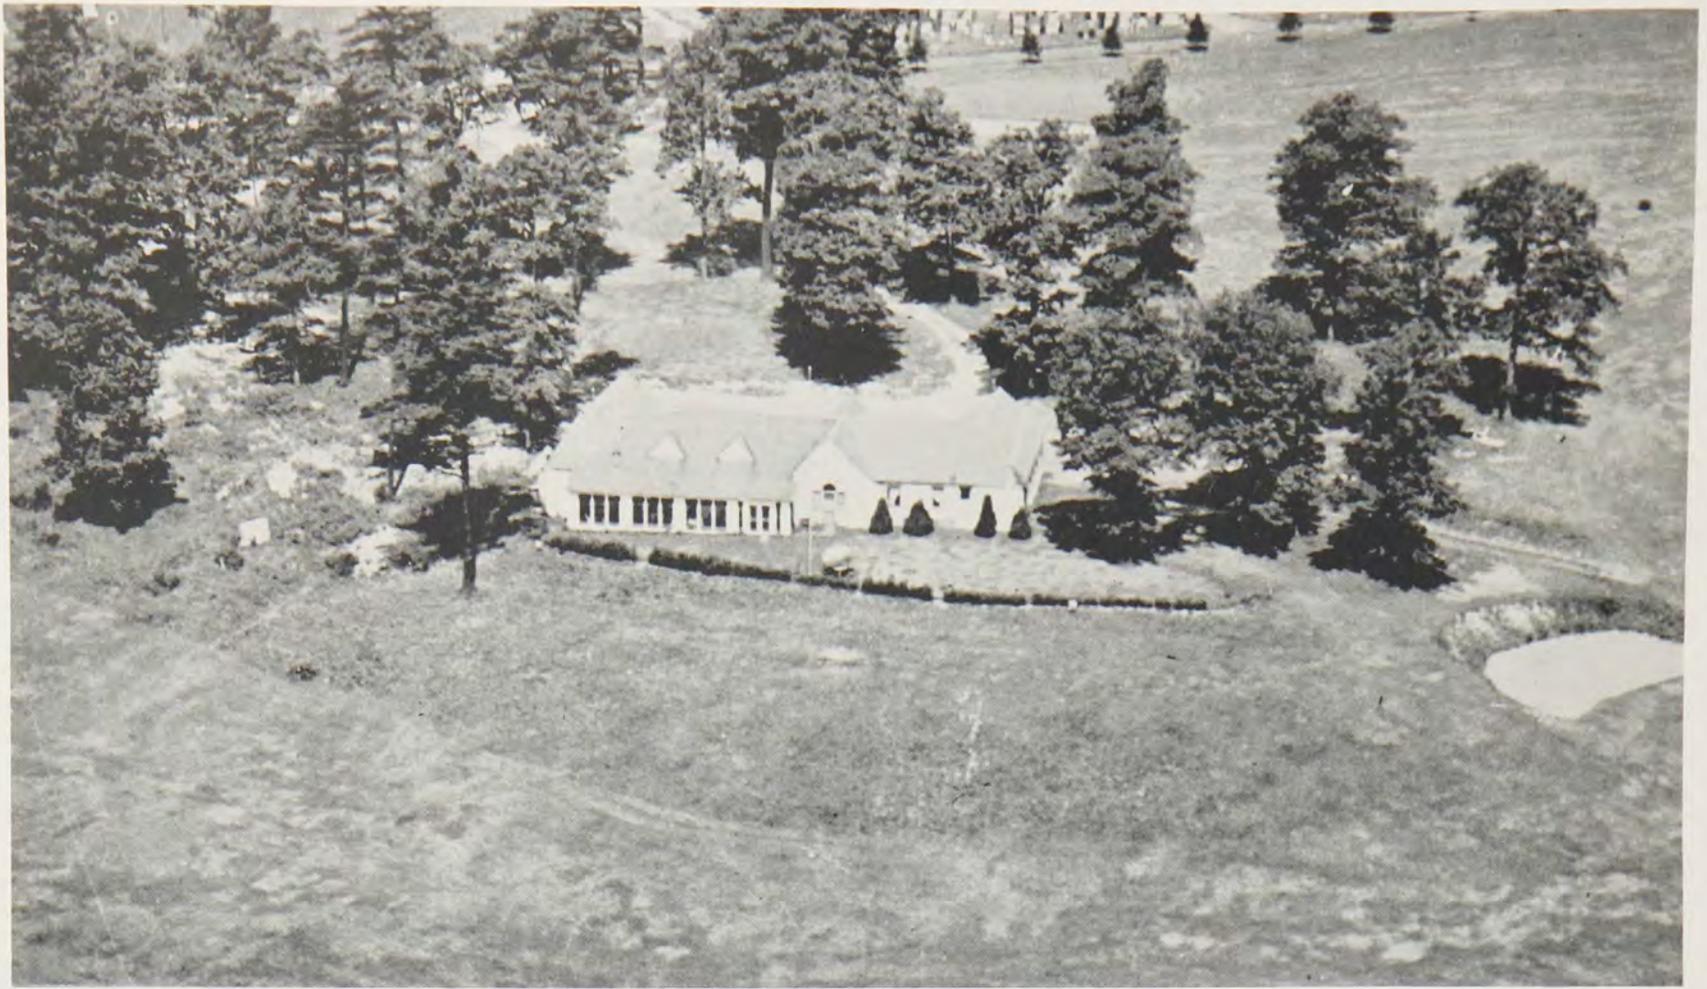

KNEELING: R. Griffin, W. Kenville, Ed. Donovan (Coach), R. Sassone.
STANDING: H. McEnroe, R. Davies, B. Edwards, M. Bednar.

The freshmen basketball at St. Bonaventure as in other colleges is used as a proving ground for future varsity players. The freshmen squad this year is coached by Edward Donovan, a former varsity player. Eddie has the task of teaching Ed Milkovich's system to the team.

Members of the frosh squad are McEnroe, Davies, Edwards, Bednar, Griffin, Kenville and Sassone. These players have gone thru a 9-game schedule without suffering a defeat. Their most impressive wins have been registered over the frosh teams of Niagara and Canisius. They defeated the Niagara frosh very handily and against Canisius frosh after deadlocking the score at the final gun they went on to score 8 points in the overtime period to win, 57 to 53.

TENNIS

The Brown Indians will field a strong Tennis Team again this year. Four veterans from last year's squad are expected to carry most of the burden this season. Mario Cerroni, Ed. Nickoletta, Jack Daly and Bob Blake are the hold-overs who are expected to give Bonas a winning season. Fr. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., Bona's tennis coach, will fill the two vacancies from this spring's practice sessions.

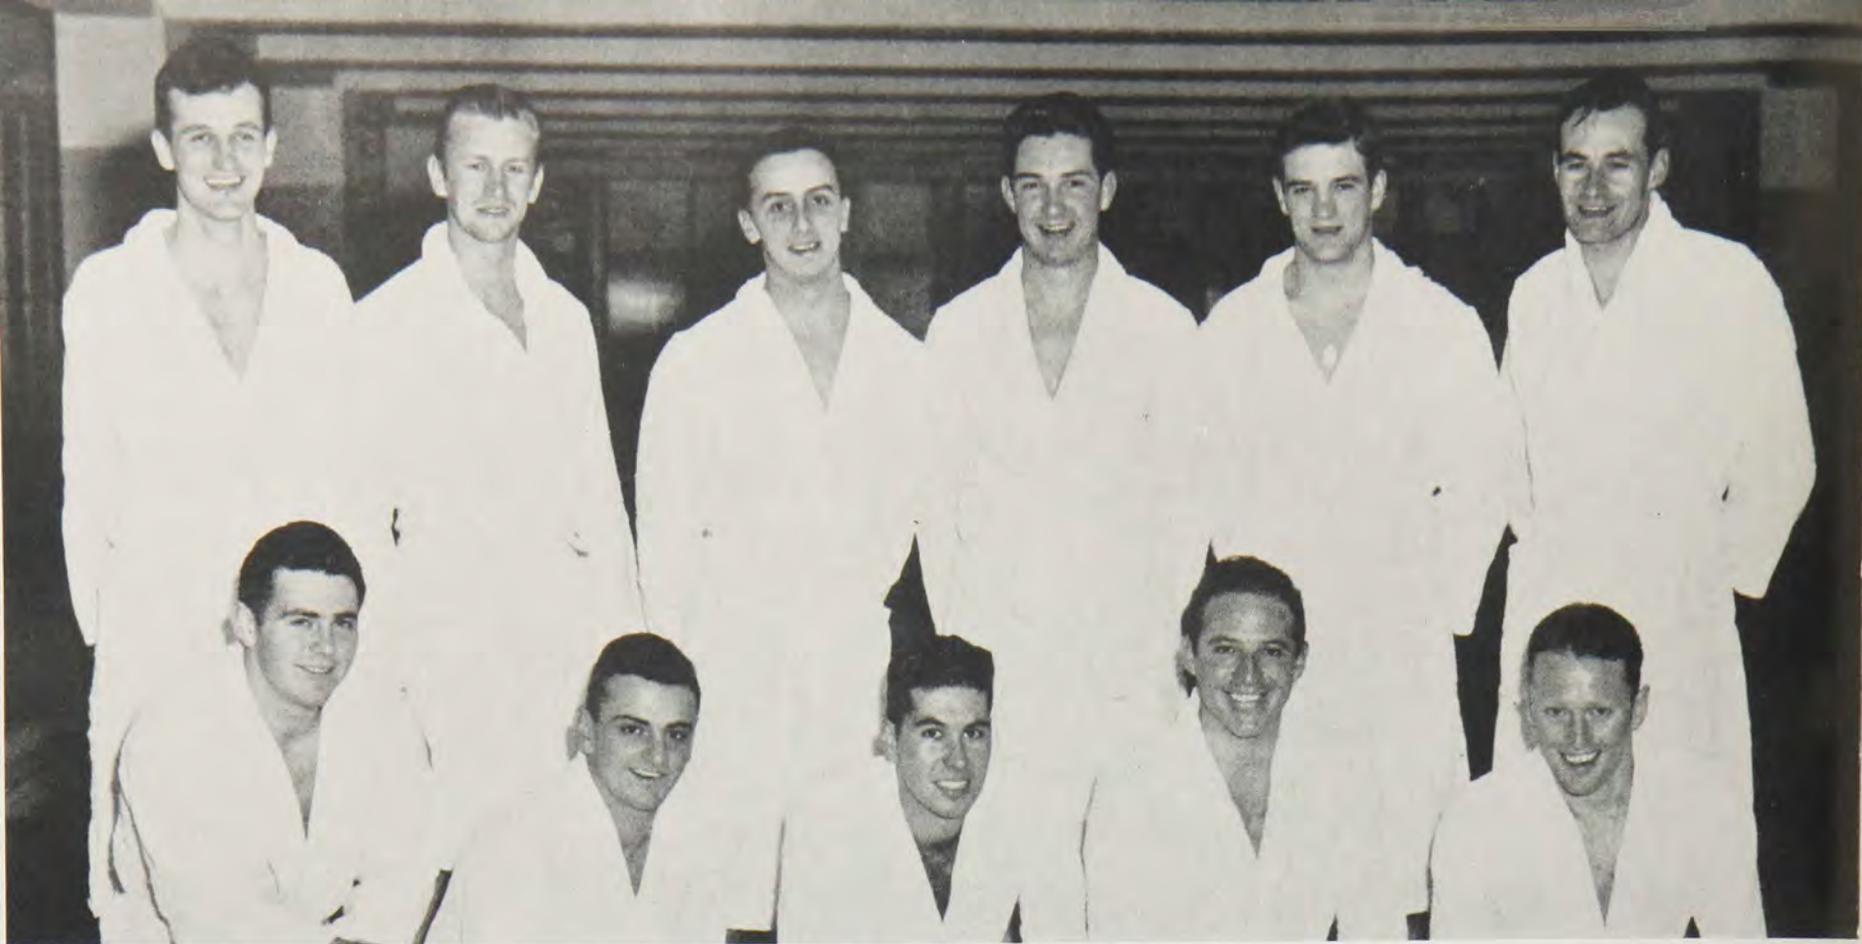

All home matches will be played on the campus this year as the result of the construction of three new tennis courts this past fall. These new courts will also afford an opportunity for more student participation and in the future should result in more tennis stars. Matches scheduled for this season will include six singles and three doubles matches with each opponent. A home and home arrangement was made with the following teams: Niagara, Canisius, Gannon, Brockport and Ithaca.

SWIMMING

The Swimming Team made its first start of the season in the annual Buffalo Athletic Club Invitational Meet. This meet pitted St. Bonas, Niagara, Canisius, Buffalo State and the University of Buffalo against each other. John Murphy who won two firsts last year will be counted on to repeat. Although Dick Rand is hampered by lack of diving board in our pool he dove in the B.A.C. meet. Other swimmers for Bonas are R. Kline, J. Coyle, J. Devlin, B. Krause, N. Sweeney, R. Baisley, J. Wolfteich, J. Betzig and H. Erb. Other positions will be filled from a group of freshmen who have given strong indication that Bonas will have a powerful swimming team in the future.

The Intramural Council which draws up the schedules and arranges for referees is shown here during one of their meetings. From left to right: J. O'Hara, W. Lutzel, T. Kenville, J. Spencer, J. Haggerty, K. Coyle.

Basketball, the most extensive of the Intramural Sports program, enjoyed one of its better seasons during this school year. Because it is the best means for a non-Varsity man to "let off steam" it includes more students than any other intramural sport. As a result competition is keen and play is hard in the games between teams sponsored by various clubs and other campus organizations. Behind the scenes, is "Czar" Tom Kenville and his Intramural Council who put in many hours on the job of keeping the "ball moving."

A "skin" is seen here in the process of launching ball towards basket despite the protests of the "shirts" surrounding him.

"Shirts" seem to be outreaching "skins" in this shot of under-the-basket action in an intramural game.

Another action shot centering around the fight for the ball that was typical of the type of game played this year in intramural basketball.

SPORTS

BOWLING

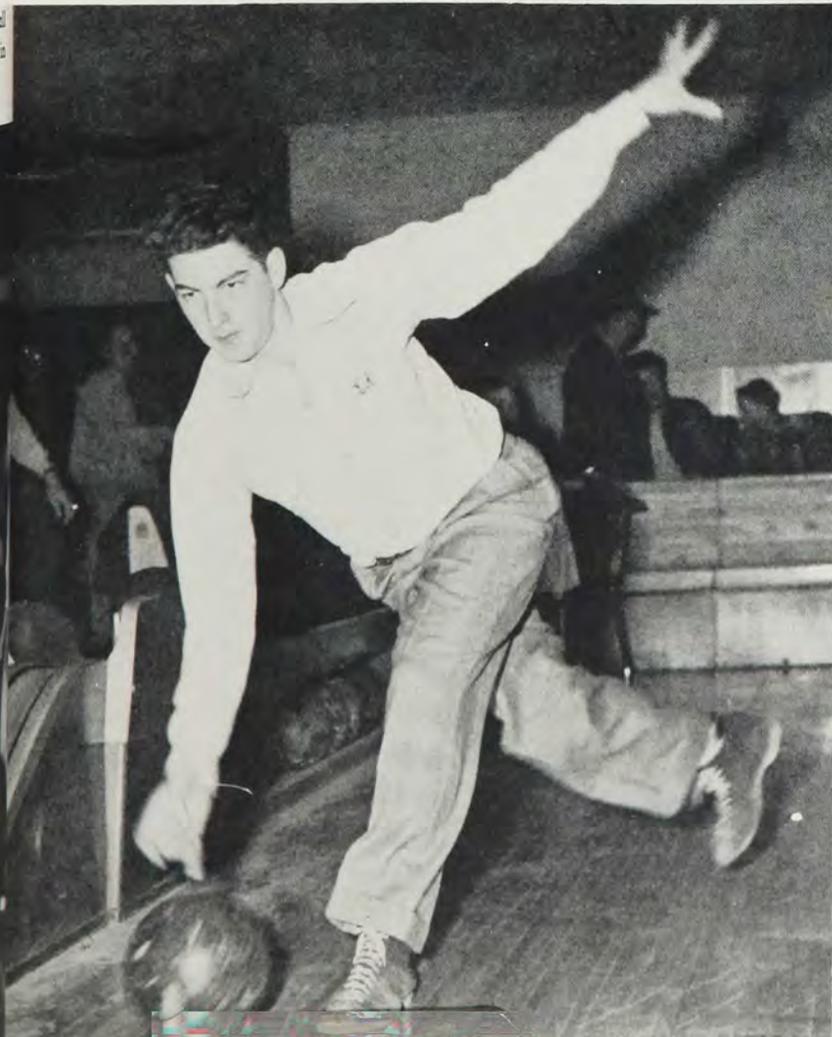

The Top Bowling Team: B. Camelio, J. Harsh, R. Caffoe, E. Nicoletta.

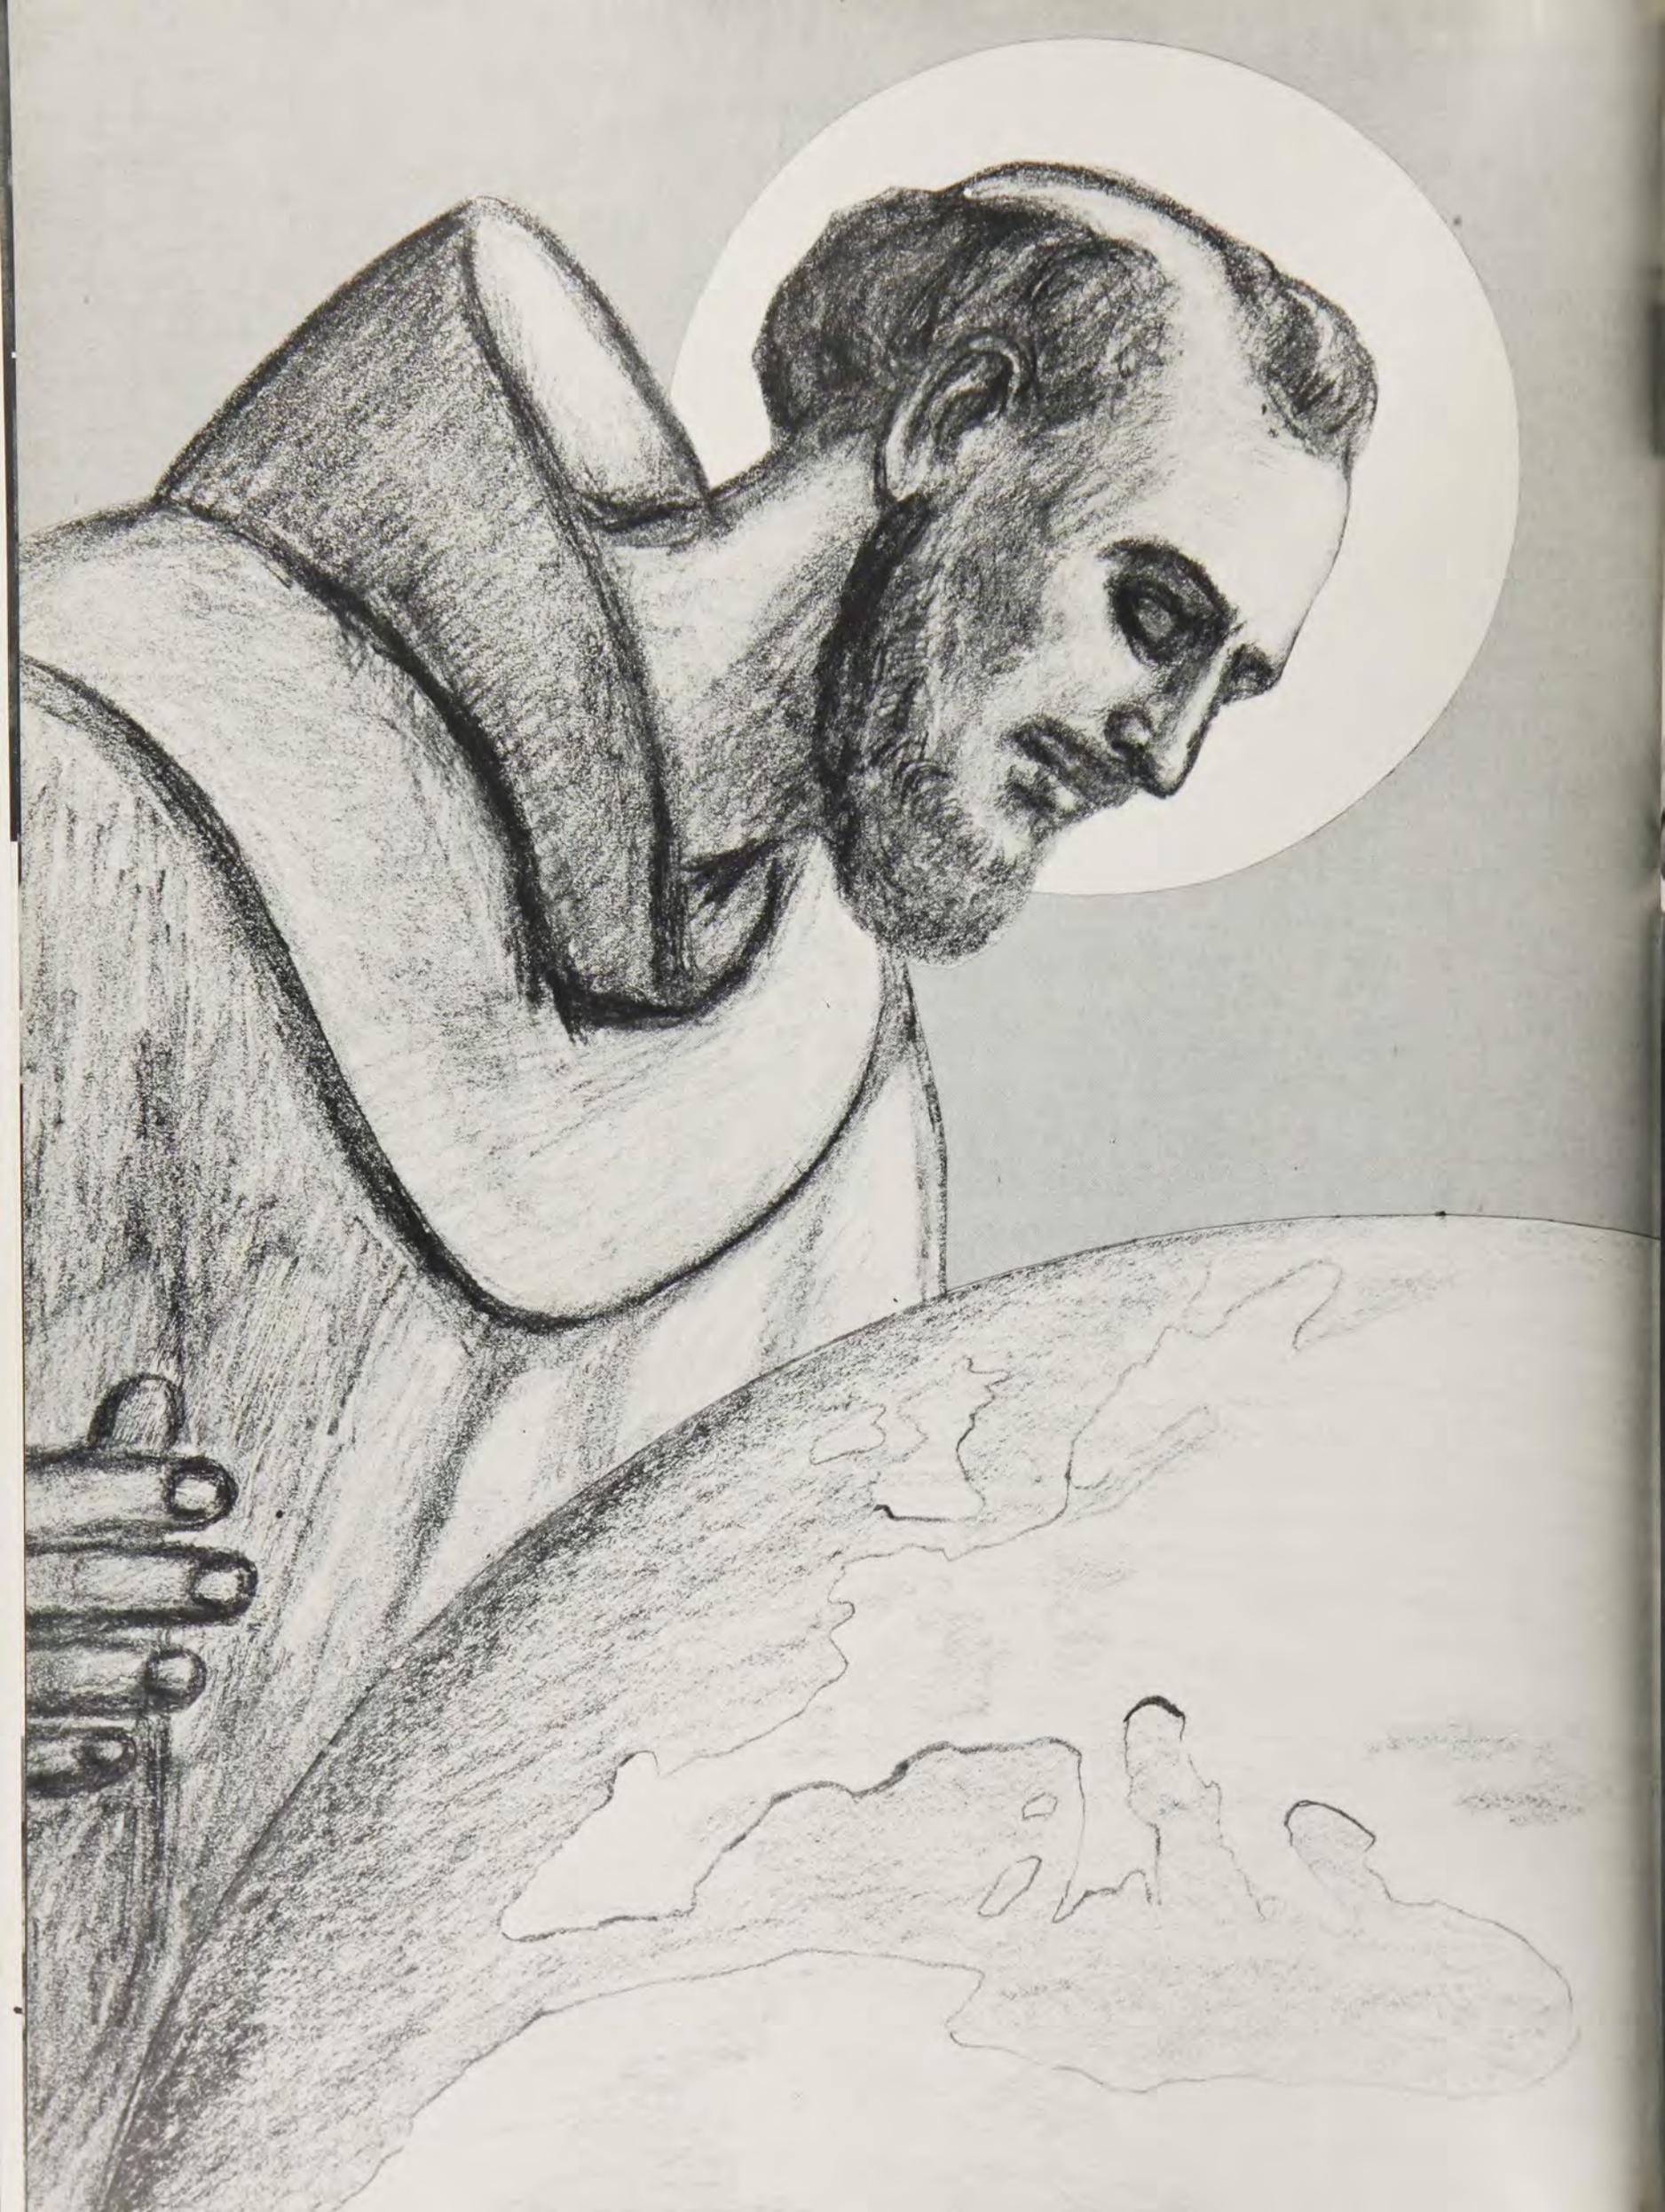

Bowling is the other intramural sport which is active the year round. To satisfy the wants of campus keglers, the Bonas Bowling League "rolled along" in grand manner this year. A round-robin schedule was made up by league officers and on Tuesdays each team played an opponent in an elimination contest to determine the top team. Playoffs were held in the spring to determine the top league team pictured here. Simultaneously, a contest was held among the leading individual scorers for high man honors. We look for some future "Ned Days" from the Bonaventure pin men.

H. Smith sends one on the way.

R. Caffoe is seen here approaching the line.

E. Nicoletta, high man this year in the league, demonstrates the form that made him so.

PRAYER AND DEVOTION

"Altissimo, omnipotente bon signore, Tue so le laude, la gloria, el honore et omne benedictione."

St. Francis, Sun Song

One of the favorite expressions of St. Francis at the beginning of each day was "Now I begin." Life on our campus begins each day with the celebration of over sixty Masses in Devereux Chapel, the heart of our educational system. Ample opportunity is given to each Bonaventure man to co-operate with the "Bon Signore" in the formation of his character; daily Mass, Communion, The Rosary and Confession; the weekly Holy Hour and frequent Benedictions; the annual Retreat—so many manifestations of the love of the Almighty Father that even the obdurate of heart would find it difficult to ignore Him. We point with deserved pride to the Daily Sacrifice as the source of the cheerfulness which so characterizes our campus.

3RD ORDER OF ST. FRANCIS

Gene Bailey, Prefect of the 3rd Order for three years.

The Third Order here at St. Bonaventure is the same as it is the world over, that is, a society of all those who in their secular life wish to follow more earnestly their Catholic faith through cleaving to the rule as set down by St. Francis of Assisi. The Society is one for the personal sanctification of its members through monthly meetings, the wearing of the habit, and the recitation of the daily office. The main purpose of our chapter is not just geared to college life, but it is to act as a guide for its members throughout their lives. On campus the Third Order is a prominent organ for student religious activities. During the past year our fraternity has collected clothes for the European members in need, fostered devotion to and recitation of the Rosary, especially during May, and has sponsored communion breakfasts.

Moderator

The National Federation of Catholic College Students is an organization of American Catholic College Students, with the avowed purpose of helping these students to train themselves to be leaders in the Lay Apostolate after leaving college. To aid in this purpose, the Federation at St. Bonaventure is divided into separate clubs. The Mariology Club stresses devotion to Mary through Our Lady of Perpetual Help and Our Lady of Fatima. The Press Club, led by Jack Clavin, prints the "Lake Erie Breeze," the official paper of the NFCCS in the Lake Erie Region. News is gathered from the ten schools in the Lake Erie Region and sent out to all schools by way of the "Breeze." The Catholic Action Club is also an active group, led by Anthony Yanelli. They have made progress in Freshman orientation, welcoming visiting athletic teams. This plan originated at the 1949 Houston football game. We look forward to a large membership next year in order to accomplish much on the campus, and extend the Federation benefits to as many students as possible.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate is certainly the most cross-sectional group on the campus, being composed of representatives from each of the upper classes. Its far-reaching effects are felt by every student through its functions of co-ordinating student activities and fostering the interests of the student body. Ten elected students are the components of this governmental group: four seniors, three juniors, and three sophomores.

The duties of the Senate are many, but at the beginning of each year the Senate president appoints every one of the members to specific positions in order that the tasks of the organization may be carried out most efficiently. Each problem and request that is submitted is studied by the Senate and placed in a category which is under the supervision of one of its members. In this way if further investigation is necessary, one man is responsible, thereby leaving the remaining members available for other tasks.

At the start of each school year the Senate is flooded with many obligations, such as getting student activities rolling along favorable lines, the extensive work of developing and producing pep-rallies, and most of all, the planning and executing of Frosh Rules. Probably the most remembered accomplishment of this year's Senate is the extended Thanksgiving vacation which made it possible for many of the students to see that wonderful Boston University-Bonaventure game.

Regardless of all its achievements the Senate has its greatest satisfaction when it has brought about the readmittance of a student. For it is the student who has placed the Senators in such a responsible position, and when it is possible to help a student individually, it is the Senate's way of thanking him directly for his trust and confidence.

STUDENT ACTIVITY COUNCIL

The Student Activity Council, gathering its members from the various clubs and fraternities, has as its major task the job of initiating activity on the campus. In addition it is the right hand of the Student Senate. The many subcommittees investigate student problems and submit reports to the governing body for action. It might be called the "pulse of the student body."

During the current year it has completed plans for an active campus dance program and initiated the organizing of an intramural boxing schedule, and it has done much as a liaison between the Senate and the college student organizations.

This organization is a comparatively new one in the setup of government at the college. But it evolved through the wish of some farsighted students to have a greater coverage of representation in the affairs of campus life. No other organization has such pin-point membership, no other organization is able to voice the opinion of the smaller interests so well.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council is composed of co-ed students of St. Bonaventure College. It is within this framework that most of the functions of the co-eds as a social group are planned and carried out. Many women graduate students also belong to the organization.

After the election of officers in September, the Council enjoyed its initial party, held at the Rathskeller in the Burton Hotel. Throughout the year various other parties were held, usually at one of the member's homes. Following a raffle, the Council staged their Third Annual Pigskin Shuffle.

In addition to their regular annual dinner, the Council members also held a dinner party in conjunction with other Junior Prom festivities.

N. S. A.

The United States National Student Association (NSA) is an organization of college student bodies, represented through their student governments. Created to serve the long-existing need for a representative inter-collegiate organization, it was designed to promote the interests and welfare of students of the United States.

BETA DELTA SIGMA

The Beta Delta Sigma Sorority was organized under the direction of Father Malcolm Fisher, O.F.M., in 1945. Members of the Sorority consist of students enrolled in the Science Department. The Sorority aims to stimulate sound scholarship and endorse investigation in the natural sciences; it endeavors to promote a higher and more enduring interest in scientific subjects and a closer unity among its members. Current scientific topics are discussed at each meeting. An annual banquet is held at the end of each scholastic year.

ALPHA KAPPA MU

The Alpha Kappa Mu Science Fraternity, originated in 1915, has as its aim the stressing of the scholastic rather than the social side of college. Originally a mathematics society, in 1920 it was changed in scope to include all the sciences and was opened to students pursuing any scientific course.

An offshoot of the fraternity, the Societas Præ Medicas, made up solely of pre-medical students, arose. The Alpha Kappa Mu membership decreased greatly while the pre-medical society flourished, so it was decided to merge. The resulting society was known as the Alpha Kappa Mu Pre-Medical Society.

Due to the wartime decline in registration, the Society deemed it wise to make all certified college students eligible for membership. Thus it was that during World War II, the A.K.M. was the only active club of the college to function.

The Alpha Kappa Mu later evolved into a science fraternity, to include members from the four sciences: Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics.

BETA BETA CHI

Beta Beta Chi Fraternity is an honorary society of the School of Business Administration. Although it is the youngest fraternity at St. Bonaventure, it is the largest and one of the most active. Its objects are to assist the individual members in solution of any problems, to promote the general welfare of the College, and to foster interest in the School of Business Administration.

Under the guidance of Father Fidelis O'Rourke, O.F.M., the officers and members completed the most successful year in the Fraternity's history. Its predominant achievement of the year was the

“105” CLUB

In order to stimulate interest in the Advanced Course of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps here at St. Bonaventure College, the "105" Club was founded in October of 1949. The organization is endeavoring to maintain a high degree of esprit de corps within the cadet body and to effect the intellectual, moral, physical and social development of the cadets.

To the layman, the name of the Club will require some explanation. The term "105" is derived from the bore measurement of the standard light artillery piece employed by the United States Army both during World War II and at the present time.

This year's officers are: President, Richard Gavin; Vice-President, David Hayes; Secretary, William Farley; Treasurer, Thomas Hayes; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Robert Zecker. Chaplain is Rev. Peter A. Carr, O.F.M., and Moderator is Major James G. Kalergis.

The principal activities of the year were the Inaugural Banquet held at the Capitol Hill Restaurant, and the promotion of the Ninth Annual Military Ball.

The Metropolitan Club, boasting a membership of well over two hundred students, includes the New Jersey, Connecticut, and Long Island areas, as well as the immediate metropolitan area of New York. The purpose of the Club is to form a fraternal affinity between the students from this area and the College, and to encourage a lasting affiliation with St. Bonaventure and friendships made on its campus. This has been accomplished by means of various social functions and meetings among the group. The annual Christmas and Easter dances, held in the Hotel Biltmore, have been the stellar attractions to the Club's social achievements. They have also provided an excellent opportunity for alumni to renew past friendships.

The Club has been most active on the college campus and has been one of the consistent leaders in school spirit and campus activity. Its membership has mushroomed from comparatively few to its present size in only two years, and it is by far the largest student organization on the campus.

The Metropolitan Club will continue in its advancement for the benefit of its members and the school and does so with the hope that the friendships and bonds made in her ranks will be carried on throughout the years.

CHAUTAUQUA CLUB

Among campus organizations, a newcomer, the Chautauqua County Club, undertook an ambitious social schedule for its second year. Comprising about forty members from the Dunkirk, Jamestown and Mayville areas, the Club planned and sponsored numerous activities.

High-lighting the list of social events was the "Christmas Holiday Dance," held in Dunkirk. Invitations were sent to alumni of the county, and the large gathering proved that a prime interest, St. Bonaventure College, exists among former collegians and present students.

BUFFALO CLUB

The Buffalo Club binds in common bond the students from Buffalo and its suburban area to inculcate in them a spirit of fraternalism and common purpose. This is done to promote the welfare of the college and to maintain a unified relationship between the students and the Buffalo Alumni Association.

Activities of its seventy-five members during the memorable year of '50 included Communion breakfasts; a Rally and Dance in Buffalo preceding the Canisius-Bonnie Game; the Top Social event of the year, the Club's Annual Dinner-Dance at the Buffalo Trap and Field; an After-Prom Party in the Bonas Clubhouse; and many enjoyable evenings in the Burton Rathskeller.

MIDWEST CLUB

The object of the Midwest Club is to promote closer relations between the students living in the Midwestern States. It binds them in a spirit of fraternalism and common purpose. This is done to promote Catholic Action and the welfare of the College.

It is the newest of the "district" clubs, being formed in January, 1950. Among its twenty members, the states of Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Indiana are represented. Included in the activities of the club were Communion Breakfasts and the "Midwest Club Sport Dance."

TRIPLE CITIES CLUB

The Triple Cities Club had its most active year since its organization in 1946.

Several smokers were held both at school and in Binghamton. The second annual clambake sponsored with the alumni association was a success and well attended.

The third annual Christmas dance was attended by over 200 couples and was considered the finest dance the Club has ever had.

BAY STATE CLUB

The '49-'50 season of the Bay State Club brought about the most successful year the Club has experienced. The highlights of the year were the Victory Dance held at the Hotel Sheridan in Boston and the Bonas-Boston University football game and the informal dances held during the Christmas and Easter holidays.

The Beantowners commenced activities this year with a banquet in early October. During the second semester the annual Communion Breakfast and a St. Patrick's Day party were held.

LACKAWANNA CLUB

The Lackawanna Club had its inception some two years ago when a group of students from that steel-producing area near Buffalo decided that they would rather be independently organized than to be associated with groups who are in proximity to their city.

The club has had as its immediate purpose the retention of the common bonds of friendship, fraternity and neighborliness that will naturally be found among students having a similar geographic place of origination.

The members, themselves, have furnished the important function of disseminating St. Bonaventure news to the many score of alumni emanating from the same area.

SKI CLUB

The ski club of St. Bonaventure College was founded in November of 1946. At that time an enthusiastic group of students interested in skiing got together and formed a club of students for the express purpose of making available to the student a means of learning to ski, of being able to participate in this phase of winter sport while at St. Bonaventure College, and of enjoying social gatherings given by this organization.

It is the club's purpose also, for skiers to get acquainted and to take advantage of the numerous ski slopes in the surrounding territories of Olean, Allegheny State Park, Bradford, Salamanca, and Ellicottville, to mention a few.

Membership in the Niagara Frontier Ski Council was awarded to the club in 1946, which constitutes a federation of ski clubs of western New York State.

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club of St. Bonaventure College was formed early this semester by journalism seniors. The purpose of the newest campus club is to stimulate and sustain student interest and participation in journalism.

The club will endeavor to raise the standards of college publications; to recognize outstanding talent in journalism and other related fields; and to demonstrate the progress of St. Bonaventure in journalism.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debating Society was reorganized in the Spring of 1949 by the National Student Association on campus. Further changes were instituted in the Fall of 1949. Twenty members comprise the Society. Debates with Canisius and Niagara were held in February and March, 1950, while Hamilton was contacted on tentative debates. The Society was invited to a national tournament held in Philadelphia in April, 1950.

GLEE CLUB

The youngest organization on our campus, but certainly one not lacking in accomplishments, is the Glee Club. Under the direction of Mr. Edward Sadvary, this group has built up a repertoire of many favorite and difficult choral renditions, including the responses to Holy Mass in the Gregorian Chant. The Glee Club made its debut in the campus production, "Harmony Hall." Reverend Joseph A. Ruther, O.F.M., is the Club moderator.

ORCHESTRA

PROFESSOR NORMAN J. KELLY
Director of the St. Bonaventure
Community Symphony Orchestra

Since its organization in the Fall of 1940, under the auspices of Fr. Thomas Plassman, the St. Bonaventure Community Symphony Orchestra has proved itself to be one of the most ambitious and successful groups on campus as well as an invaluable asset to the community. Under the able direction of its permanent conductor, Professor Norman J. Kelly, the orchestra has set and consistently maintained the highest standards of artistic achievement.

The orchestra is composed largely of local music students, teachers, and college students, and is supplemented for each concert by professional musicians from Buffalo, Erie, and Rochester. Rehearsals are held weekly in Alumni Hall with a few of the fifty-five members coming from as far as Salamanca and Bradford. The financial support of the orchestra is provided by the College and the majority of its regular members are unpaid.

The general policies of the orchestra over the past few years have been the use of local amateurs as soloists on numerous occasions, the presentation of one "pop" concert each season, and the importation of an outstanding soloist for at least one of the three or four regular concerts.

The current school year marks the orchestra's third postwar season and the seventh since its establishment.

BAND

U. S. Baton Twirling Champion, Ed. Dombrowski, a regular feature at all band performances, displays his skill at an informal gathering.

The St. Bonaventure Band, directed by Professor Norman J. Kelly, is an integral part of our school system. Representing our institution, the band has performed both on the campus and in many out-of-town engagements. Here at home the band is most active on the home gridiron, Forness Stadium, and at Civic Stadium in Buffalo during the football season. Much time and effort is spent preparing for performances staged during the half period. For this function much credit is due to John Achille for his ideas and direction.

Off-campus performances include concerts in such places as Emporium, Little Valley, Port Alleghey, and Buffalo. Parades and dedications are also included in the scope of activity

It would be unjust to omit Ed Dombrowski, baton-twirler extraordinary and a great asset to the Band. Ed, who is the national twirling champ, has played a leading part in the organization's role as a marching band.

The Band is justly proud that it was chosen as the official band at the Eucharistic Congress at Buffalo in 1947.

Within the college band lies the nucleus of the R.O.T.C. Band which affords military music for the R.O.T.C. parades.

St. Bonaventure Concert Band is pictured here between numbers at one of its frequent dress rehearsals.

A tender moment from RICHARD II: King Richard, portrayed by Richard Miller, and Queen Isabella, played by Clare Armstrong.

Duel of Bolinbroke and Mowbroy: William Jackson, left, as Mowbroy and Vincent Macguire as Bolinbroke vie for the upper hand in this tense dueling scene.

Death Scene of John of Gaunt: John Burke as Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster with James Wheeler and Richard Hurley as Monks attending his demise.

An eye-catching chorus from HARMONY HALL: Sheila, Bruce, Ruth, Gerry and Mary.

DRAMATIC PRODUCTIONS

Fr. Regis, O.F.M., Moderator, who has provided the guiding hand in all dramatic and musical productions at St. Bonaventure.

It can be said that within the past year the St. Bonaventure Dramatics Club, combining and utilizing its skills from the mount of musical comedy to the spires of Shakespeare, has reached new heights in its theatrical achievements. With an abundance of talent practically infesting the campus grounds and with the fine direction of Fr. Regis, the entertainment has been of the highest calibre.

In the Spring of 1949, "Richard II" was produced. This was the first time in a little less than fifty years that a Shakespearean play had been attempted by the students of St. Bonaventure. The huge success with which it met was more than surprising, since many of the players were inexperienced at this type of play, but at the same time it was richly deserved. Two factors contributed to the play's being a hit: the diligence of the whole cast in the work done with their roles and the collaboration of Fr. Alcuin and Fr. Regis. Fr. Alcuin worked out the finer points of the play from the original and Fr. Regis solved the intricate problems of stage setting and direction.

With the advent of the Bard once more on the campus, future productions are eagerly awaited.

In October of the last year, the troupe, out to show its versatility in the entertainment field, came up with its own original musical, "Harmony House." The show was literally a howl, tearful eyeglasses and missing dentures being the resultant penalty of those who couldn't hold in their laughter.

A new era has started at Bonas in Dramatics. Working its way up slowly, Bonaventure's Dramatics Club is gradually reaching the top—a spot where it will rest quite assuredly for many seasons to come.

The Cast of Harmony Hall makes a colorful picture as they gather together to receive the applause of an appreciative and enthusiastic audience. And no wonder! The humor, music, dancing and gaiety enjoyed by all added up to a memorable evening.

Fr. Brian, O.F.M., Moderator

BONADIEU

How does a BONADIEU evolve from an idea to the book you hold in your hands? Our answer is simple—only by the planning, co-operation and achievement of the various groups on these pages. Pictured here are the sundry skills that are the ingredients of a yearbook arranged into staffs under the leadership so necessary to insure completion of such a diversified venture.

How did these staffs proceed? Drafting of the theme and layout, followed by the lining up of our sales and advertising campaigns, demanded our time during the early days of school. Campus, sports and club pictures were shot during the following weeks, and while the students "sat and stood" for their portraits, features and club descriptions were assigned. In the meantime, the sales force and advertising teams swung into action on their respective drives. Actual construction of the book and meeting of deadlines were accomplished by the "faithful four" between semesters in lengthy, tedious, but satisfying, hours when the BONADIEU took form under our startled eyes.

The main hurdle safely passed, we turned our attention to the final phase of our work. Galley proofs came in to be corrected, we collected what was due us from our subscribers, and finally approved the proofs. Thus Your Yearbook was constructed—the culminating experience in Our Bonaventure Life was concluded.

THE BONA VENTURE

Sam D'Onofrio, standing, first semester editor relinquishes this important post to Jerome Hogan.

"To Promote the Interests and Ideals of St. Bonaventure College" . . . that's the task of THE BONA VENTURE. Every Friday the college paper rolls off the press with items and pictures of interest to all connected with Bonaventure.

THE BONA VENTURE was established in 1928 and has progressed rapidly since that date. Today it is rated among the foremost college weeklies in the nation. As evidence of this high position, the BV has received top awards from its press associations. The Catholic School Press Association bestowed its prize designation—All-Catholic. A rating of Excellent, First Class, was received from the Associated Collegiate Press.

The paper's neat makeup and snappy style is due largely to the persevering efforts of the editors and staff members. With the increased expansion of the Department of Journalism, THE BONA VENTURE has attained a professional touch, while still remaining in the realm of student production.

Expert attention is given by the moderator, Father Sebastian McKenna, O.F.M., and the faculty advisor, Mr. John Maloney.

As we of the graduating class of '50 congratulate ourselves on being nicknamed the "Mid-Century Class," we can also look toward our campus magazine, "The Laurel," in its mid-century of publication. It has completed fifty years of activity since it was founded by the beloved Fr. Paschal Robinson, O.F.M., back at the turn of the century.

As have the other organizations and activities on the campus, the Laurel has reached a new high in the quality of its work. Gradually, with each issue, it has shown a steady improvement, until in October of last year it reached a new pinnacle with the completion of the "Anniversary Issue" which celebrated the 50th anniversary of its founding. Consisting of works of alumni, it included selections from "The Seven Storey Mountain," by Fr. Thomas Merton, O.C.S.O., a rare picture of his ordination at the monastery of Gethsemane, and a letter to the students by our former president, Fr. Tom, as well as numerous other entertaining articles. The fiftieth anniversary issue was indeed a golden one. It is with great pride that those of the staff look back at having had a hand in that fine work.

Having reached this point, the staff is not to be halted in further improvement of the magazine. It is the wish of every member of the Laurel's complement to make the Laurel not just one of the best, but the finest, of college publications all over the country.

This may be quite a large order to fill, but if diligence, enthusiasm and hard work mean anything today, those of the Laurel staff should not find their self-appointed task too difficult.

A black silhouette of a man in a long, flowing robe, standing on a dark rectangular base. His arms are raised, with his hands open and palms facing forward, as if in a gesture of blessing or teaching. The background is a light, textured grey.

OUR FOUR YEARS are near complete. As we linger a last moment with our Alma Mater, we view the oncoming surf of her fame in the increasing number of her loyal sons in intellectual, athletic and moral feats.

Changes have visited these quiet grounds, nevertheless the hovering spirit remains as of old. New buildings have appeared, but venerable traditions and memories have persevered.

Her Wisdom has been offered us: Learning to lead us to intellectual heights and Example to carry us along the Franciscan way to God.

Our era is no more—what we have accomplished yields to the achievement yet to come.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

While working with the 1950 BONADIEU we leaned upon many people, on some heavily, on others lightly, to such an extent that it would be impossible to enumerate all of their names here. However, we cannot fail to mention our admiration for and gratitude to:

Father Brian G. Lhota, O.F.M., who shared our interest and suspense equally, in the meantime offering his time and advice on ideas for every portion of the Yearbook while counseling and encouraging us—

Gerald J. Fordham, John J. Quinn, Leo J. Fallon and Harold W. Beery, who were instrumental in producing and financing this BONADIEU—

All members of the Staff listed below who so capably performed their assignments—

Those helpful and cheerful members of the Administration, Faculty, Secretarial Staffs and Student Body who forgave our frequent interruptions to provide assistance and information—

Michael Ceci, Edward Kern, Miss Margery Cady and Mrs. William Tuite for their professional knowledge and patient co-operation—

Every other friend and supporter.

OUR DIRECTORY OF OFF CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Here is an index to Bonaventure life off campus. These are the people whom we have supported, and who have supported us, during our four years tenure at St. Bonaventure College. We have enjoyed our association with them, and we know that the thousands of students who will follow us shall find their friendly co-operation and service very difficult to surpass.

LORD, MAKE ME

AN INSTRUMENT OF THY PEACE!

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console,

to be understood as to understand,

to be loved as to love;

for it is in giving that we receive,

it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, and it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
