A black and white photograph of a large, multi-story brick building, likely a school or institutional structure. The building features a central tower with a conical roof and several dormer windows. The facade is made of brick and has numerous windows, some of which are illuminated from within. The building is viewed from a courtyard area with some landscaping, including bushes and a small tree. The overall style is that of a mid-20th-century yearbook cover.

FOR

Which we dedicate to

THE REVEREND JEROME A. KELLY, O.F.M.

WE HAVE chosen Father Jerome Kelly for our yearbook dedication for the excellent way in which he has fulfilled the obligations of the religious way of life. Roughly, these duties are to teach, to rule, and to sanctify. His teaching has always been a source of edification, his leadership has brought him to the top of his field on our campus, and his priestly qualities will remain with us always as the model to follow. Although the duties of the Friars are manifold, Father Jerome has participated in campus activities too numerous to mention. He is always available and ready to render advice or time to all who seek it.

Thus, to Father Jerome, whose work is immeasurable, we pay this small tribute that we may also follow the fine example which he, in his station of life, has set for us in ours.

PROFESSOR JAMES L. HAYES

THE PICTURE of this man, whom we all know as "Proff Hayes," demands its presence in this publication because of his outstanding achievement among the laity of this campus. For every student attending St. Bona's he has become the exemplar of the lay spirit to which we should all aspire. As a teacher he is to be admired and respected, as a person he is to be received as a friend. Proff Hayes has never spurned an opportunity to lend a hand where it was needed or to work tirelessly for the betterment of our school and the students in it.

It is for these reasons and many, many, others that we have chosen Proff Hayes for our yearbook dedication, that he may be an inspiration to guide us as we strive to equal the excellence he has attained in his station of life.

OF ALL the constantly difficult things, a beginning is one of the most constantly difficult. A beginning invariably involves a decision of one sort or another, and is more or less hard depending upon the circumstances surrounding the decision, and the immediate consequences, as well as the more subtle implications.

It is difficult now to choose from the language the single shining word, the appropriate sentence structure, the concise phrase, and so forth . . . words, sentences and and phrases that will convey our meaning precisely, but without cleverness, and without compromise.

We do not want to give the impression of cleverness; we want to create the impression of wholeness; we want to create a whole picture; we want to examine the problem from all angles; and this is partly why it is difficult to make a beginning.

It is the easiest thing in the world to say something clever, something with any number of implications . . . it is harder to say something completely and unmistakably.

It is difficult to be precise. We are afraid of not being precise . . . we are horribly afraid of being clever, and choosing words which will hold one meaning for this person, and a totally different one for you.

We will try to convey a single universal meaning.

But civilization, and the rise of new nations and new languages, has left few things that possess the same universal meaning—laughter, of course, is the same in all languages, and so is a baby's cry—but Capitalism cannot be interpreted into Communism, and few words translate exactly.

The best word of these few is, obviously, love.

It is a word, and it is a philosophy, and the word and the philosophy should have a single implication in any language. Love is not this, is not that. It is simply—translated or untranslated—love. It is not love your friend and hate your enemy. Kill your enemy, if it becomes necessary, but don't stop loving him, since he is also you.

But generations of clever men—and compromising men—have twisted the word out of shape, as one would twist a roll of wet dough, giving it all sorts of weird forms to suit their particular fancy, or singular politics.

Love the Mick, but hate the Polack. Smile upon the white, spit upon the black. Love the Aryan, but hate the Jew.

Can you love your mother's hand, and hate her arm? They are both parts of the same body, and you cannot love the general particularly. You must love her completely without compromise, and in this manner so must we love the body that is Man.

A word like love should have the same meaning for all men (we should all be able to translate the language of love, which is hope), but it has been twisted by implication until it has almost ceased to be a bond between men, but rather a wire barbed with misunderstanding which keeps them apart; we have begun to love particular ideologies rather than the universal race.

And it is because we cease to be individuals and become members of mobs that we get into trouble.

We come into this world, slapped and crying. We fall a hundred times as we learn to walk, and twenty years later, we are still stumbling. We stick our fingers into electric light sockets, and tip over our tricycles (knowledge can be shocking and upsetting) and we go to kindergarten and discover that we are not the only five-year-old on earth, and learn to write our name in block letters and thus preserve something of our individuality.

This is our most important possession—our individuality—the mind we possess, the body we inhabit, the soul with which we are blessed.

THROUGH THE ARCH

INDIVIDUALITY is a correlative of rationality, and when any man ceases to be an individual, and becomes a member of a mob, the Mystical Body of God suffers a tremendous hurt; each life is a new miracle and each man must love God singly, without compromise, for the particular miracle of his existence . . . it is why men have been presented with the gift of reason.

For there are those things with which you can make no compromise without compromising yourself.

And yet it has become popular to compromise—to be pragmatic, or to follow, with a will, the philosophy of expediency—the mob is doing it, and the trend is to become a member of the mob.

Perhaps it might be a good idea if we sat down and wrote our names in block letters upon a sheet of yellow paper with blue lines, and studied our identity for a few minutes, and then looked into the eyes of the man next to us, and realized that he, too, possesses an identity.

If we did this, perhaps all the mischief in the world would come to an end, and our sons would be able to walk through the arch of security into a tomorrow, which, given time, will come.

ADMINISTRATION

VERY REV. JUVENAL LALOR, O.F.M.,
President of the University

On July 13, 1949, while we were Sophomores, Father Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., became the twelfth President of Saint Bonaventure. We sensed that the appointment marked the end of an era rich in monuments and memories. At the same time we felt the thrilling challenge in the recognition that we were to have some part in shaping the events of a new chapter in the story of Bonaventure.

The final reading of that chapter must wait for the future. It seems not too early, however, to claim that what commenced so auspiciously with the elevation of Saint Bonaventure to the status of a University, the completion of the Seminary of Christ the King, the inauguration of new policies for the improvement of University facilities will indeed be a memorable chapter. Reading, in times to come, the bright record of what now lies hidden in the years, we shall find it as pleasant as it will be easy to wreath our grateful memories of Bonaventure around the recollection of the President we knew as a man of consistent, noble principles, humane scholarship, impressive spirituality, and warm, Franciscan friendliness, Father Juvenal Lalor.

The Class of 1952
St. Bonaventure University
St. Bonaventure, New York

My dear Graduates:

It is in accordance with a time-honored custom at St. Bonaventure that I write this short message of farewell, addressing myself to you in the name of the entire Faculty.

More than you suspect, perhaps, we hate to see you leave. Your stay with us for the past four years has not been merely an academic sojourn from matriculation to graduation, but a "familienanschluss" that has brightened a college career with affection and family loyalties. On the other hand, we are eager to see you put your best foot forward now and move quickly closer to the realization of all the dearest hopes of your self-sacrificing parents and of us, your teachers, friends, and spiritual fathers. It is a fond "Good-bye" that we say, and a hopeful "God bless you."

Although the Bachelor's diploma and hood are ready for you, it is surely not out of order to call your attention back to a simple lesson contained in a simple, little book that you may not have opened for years. The book is the Penry Catechism, and the lesson on its first page is the one that underlies all the education you have received in the past and all the life's work lying before you: "Why did God make me? God made me to know Him, to love Him, and to serve Him in this life in order that I may be happy with Him forever in the next." If you realize that your entire college education was not a replacement or substitute for this lesson, but only a partial explanation of it, and if you are highly and firmly resolved that your only real success in the future will be the further learning and whole-hearted living of this lesson; then, you have begun to learn wisdom, and by the mercy of God, both you and St. Bonaventure University can one day give a less fearful account to a God of Justice.

Our prayer for you is that of St. Paul, who, after warning the Corinthians against a false wisdom, in truth foolishness, concluded a letter to them by saying: "The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Charity of God, and the communication of the Holy Ghost be with you all. Amen."

Sincerely yours in Christ requirements for his particular vocation in life. The School of Arts and Sciences provides him with the background and cultural advance to round out his education.

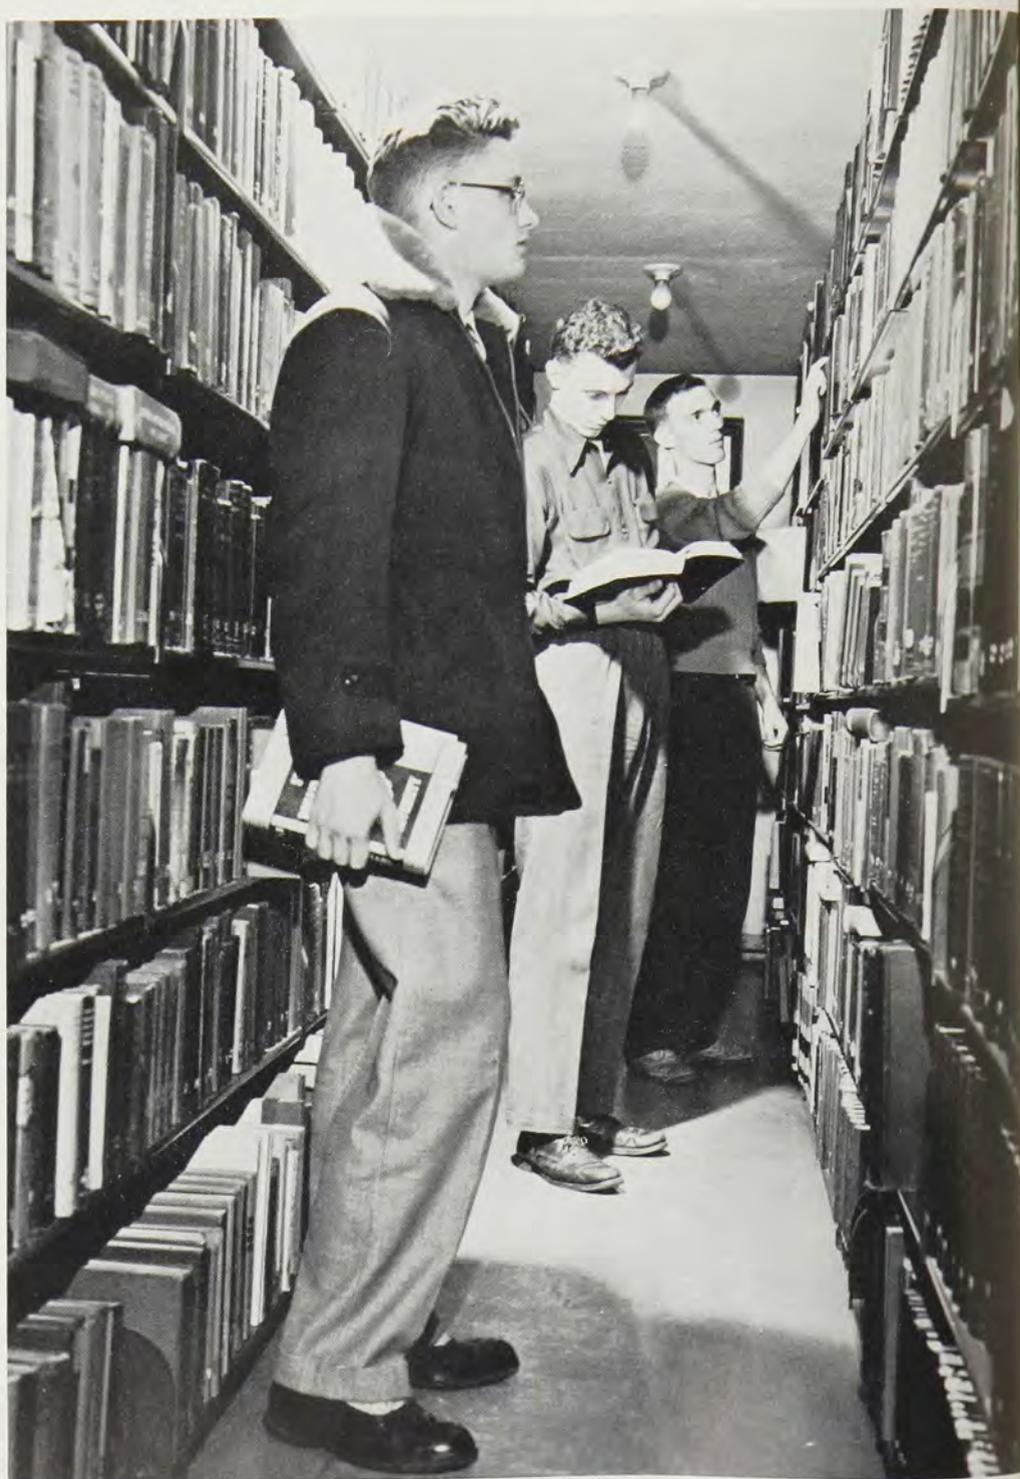

Even though modern needs and trends in education greatly enlarged the scope of the Liberal Arts College, its academic structure still rests—and rightly so—on the “Seven Pillars of Wisdom” of ancient and medieval days, as set forth in the Hexameter: “Lingua, Tropus, Numerous, Tonus, Angulus, Astra.”

The school has developed such divisions as are deemed necessary to fulfill its range and objectives. Saint Bonaventure University in its School of Arts and Sciences has taken Man as the main focus of all liberal, humanistic, and cultural studies. The University has developed its divisions as follows: Man and His Mind (Philosophy and Related Subjects); Man and Human Expression (Arts and Letters); Man and Nature (Natural Sciences and Mathematics).

Each one of the above divisions is further split up into Departments.

The Department is the more restricted and specialized unit. It is here, in the Department, that the student seeks his concentration, in addition to which he draws on the other departments outside his concentration for courses that will enable him to round out completely his education.

The School of Arts and Sciences of Saint Bonaventure University is the most fundamental of all the schools in the University. It is the foundation for the other schools. It is the very core around which is built the education of every student who enters Saint Bonaventure. The other schools equip the student with the

Although Franciscans are primarily interested in man's spiritual life, they have always been realistic in their dealings with the necessity of his earning a livelihood, as can be seen in such items of Franciscan accomplishment as the initiation of the double-entry bookkeeping system (Pacioli of Tuscany in 1494), the discovery of oil in America and the establishment of trade relations with the Indians (Fr. de la Roche in 1627), the introduction of "hock shops" as a protection against usury (the "Montes Pietatis" of the fifteenth century), and the "Paraguay Reductions" of the Franciscan missionaries to the South American Indians.

The Franciscans still feel the necessity of aiding the businessman. Saint Bonaventure College offered instruction in business machine operation and clerical work as early as 1900. Business Administration and Accounting Departments were founded in 1933, a major in Secretarial Science was added in 1938, and a Finance Department in 1949.

From an enrollment of 100 in 1942, the School has grown to one-third of the University's enrollment.

The Accounting Department, geared to the objectives of certification in public accountancy, is recognized by the New York Board of C.P.A. Examiners as having the educational qualifications to allow a graduate to become a candidate for the C.P.A. examinations. The Business Administration Department serves a dual purpose in that it trains the student in economics as well as in the auxiliary fields of management. Of all the departments in the School of Business Administration it gives the broadest background for the student of business. It is the purpose of the Finance Department to equip the student to deal with the financial aspects of business. As in its sister departments, its aim is Business leadership in the light of Christian principles.

Natural Sciences and Mathematics

Rev. Francis Sullivan, O.F.M.
Divisional Chairman, Professor, Physics

With the advent of new scientific theories and formulations the Departments of Natural Sciences and Mathematics have strode almost to the pinnacle of importance in this atomic era. They have had to enlarge their scope to match the increased specialization of modern industry. They have also had to provide the student with sufficient groundwork in fundamentals to enable him to pursue the more technical aspects of natural sciences. In addition to this, they must provide the science student with enough of the liberal arts to give him a cultural background.

As a result, these Departments have struck a balance between the two fields, accentuating, as is fitting, that of the sciences. In well-equipped laboratories students are enabled to see for themselves the startling examples of natural processes and phenomena. As for the consequences, only human progress can testify. These Departments have provided the means to the betterment of mankind.

THE SENIORS

SEPTEMBER, 1948.

A world off balance! Panaceas prescribed and proscribed. Tension, fear among men. Questions.

The class of 1952, straight from separation centre, factory bench, or a lazy summer after commencement's flattery, organized itself in colleges and universities to be the problem of the professors for the next four years—the final sizable group of GI students, the first detachment of post-war opportunists, the products of traditional, progressive, and radical educational philosophies, boys and girls whose parents wanted them to go to college . . . and us!

We arrived at Bonaventure, high hopes, varsity sweaters, white bucks and all, to claim a place in the sun and a location somewhere on the five hundred acres,—exclusive of the sixty still in a state of native wildness. Father Thomas Plassmann, then President of the College, put us at ease and welcomed us into the Bonaventure Family. Father Aubert, Dean of Men, introduced the new sociology—the finer points of which were demonstrated drastically by the Prefects. The Bursar and the Book Store introduced the new economy, and with only a dink and a tie to call our own, we were FRESHMEN!

1948 was some year. Mr. Belvedere was casting the shadow of his genius on the American scene. That didn't bother us: we were wildly hissing Randolph Scott every Saturday night at Loew's Duff . . . the arty set departing after the cartoons. Thomas Merton's Seven Storey Mountain was the country's best-seller. After mid-semester exams we began to think highly of the Trappist vocation for some of Father Merton's colleagues here at Bona's. The Russians tried Cardinal Mindszenty for treason, and the nation prayed. We faced the Scholastic Board—and learned that campus has two meanings!

During that first year work began on the Seminary. The Student Recreation Building was officially opened. It wasn't popular with the Sophs until rules were over. The Juniors, in a rash of unconscious atavism, joined in the fun. Despite this addition of mind to muscle, Don Heintjes rescued the dink from the greased pole to become Class Hero. Remember?

Under the serene guidance of Father Francis Duffy, our moderator, we inaugurated a program of monthly Communion Breakfasts. Directed by Bill Laughlin, Jack Kelly, Frank Murphy, and Angelo Carideo, the class officers, we donned costumes and grease paint, walked out on the stage and merely by acting natural almost succeeded in touring the provinces with the "Minstrel Men of '52." The younger set, meanwhile, having mastered the technique of the pinball machine, were ceremoniously admitted to the exalted ranks of the Galanis Gallants, amid the delighted squeals of the 4-H and Hi-Y.

Hugh Devore wound up a successful football season of seven games won, one lost, and one tied. We found listening to a game more enervating than a Lafayette victory celebration. We never did inform Mother that Lafayette stands for something more than a Revolutionary hero. The basketball team under Eddie Milkovitch finished its season with eighteen victories and eight defeats. Our Frosh team, incidentally, was on the long end of a fourteen-three record.

Spring, thirteen more classes. The picnic, four more classes. Exams, no more classes. Instead of rushing home, we rode the Erie, dreaming ahead to our first summer as college men.

The summer was over before we realized it. So was our Sophomore year! 1949 saw the appearance of the UN

From dinks and ties...

Professor James L. Hayes
Moderator of the Senior Class

Officers of the Senior Class: J. Richard Hartigan, Secretary; Frederick M. Specht, Vice-President; J. Robert Mayer, Treasurer; George B. McPhillips, President.

Senior Student Senators: Giacomo H. Achille, Treasurer;; Donald W. Heintjes, Vice-President; Kenneth J. Hanabergh, President; James J. Duggan, S.A.C. President.

Headquarters in New York. Father Thomas Plassmann moved to the same city to act as Provincial of Holy Name Province. Father Juvenal Lalor was chosen to succeed him as twelfth president of the College. Of more immediate effect upon us, perhaps, was the appointment of Father Francis William Kearney as moderator to guide the efforts of Paul Gallagher, Jack Stapleton, Jack Trippe and Neil Miller, the class officers.

Outside our little world Mary Martin was treating society to the first of a long series of shampoos in South Pacific.

to caps and gowns...

We discovered another kind of suds was as important for a social meeting as old business. Gargantua died and our Sno-Ball melted—to the intense disappointment of that young lady from Englewood, New Jersey. WHDL revived “The Teddy Bears’ Picnic,” and we helped Father Regis’ Dramatic Club revive Hamlet. Frosh rules tore us away from “Big John and Sparky.” And thumbing into the Brown Bear and the Haven became more fashionable than riding the “Blue Bird of Happiness” into Galanis’ Clubby Corner.

What was to be Hughie Devore’s last season at Bona’s was a series of exciting games highlighted by a sensational victory over B.U. Splinters of the goalposts replaced pin-ups. The basketball season closed on a seventeen-five record.

Somehow, with the close of the academic year, there came a suspicion that we had matured, even if we couldn’t tell when or where. Upper classmen, now, we had fairly well finished our required courses and were ready for work in the field of our choice.

We moved leisurely into June and vacation. Then Korea and its threat to our future. The nation grew restive with us. Characters again began to sit on flag poles. The “Charleston” was revived. The “Big Mo” got herself stuck on a mud bank; Shirley May tried to get herself off Calais. F. Scott Fitzgerald and Rita Hayworth dominated the literary scene, and “The Teddy Bears’ Picnic” lost ground to “The Tennessee Waltz.” Things were changing again.

Upon our return in September, we were reminded that on July 21, 1950, Saint Bonaventure had been officially declared a university; we were no longer collegians but university men. New faces, new fashions sprouted—ties and coats became de rigueur in the renovated dining hall, —Charlie died, chicken à la became as institutional as Griff’s official greeting or Andy’s unofficial retort. Aspects of old Bonaventure set us thinking: collegians at the grotto for daily rosary, for instance, or the football team at Mass and Communion in thanksgiving, or the vigil of prayers in the chapel during the week before Ed Kane’s death.

Actually, we grew a bit more serious. An evening in the quadrangle, a stroll into the Burton held more appeal than competing with the Sophs at the Christopher Columbus Lodge. We made plans and chose officers to carry them out: Al Palmer, Jerry Hanifin, Charlie San Fratello, and Neil Miller. Prof. Hayes was our choice for moderator, the first layman so honored in the history of the institution. This group gave us the most successful Junior Prom in the annals of Bona’s. Charlie Spivak kept us dancing—the sixteen-foot Southern Belles and the six-inch Fountain of Youth kept us guessing.

Joe Bach, too, was new in 1950, showing a thrilling brand of ball throughout a season of eight victories and two defeats, heartbreakers to Duquesne and Xavier. There was no trip to Buffalo for a Canisius Game, our old rivals had dropped football. We made up for the loss by an exodus to New York to Watch Ed Milkovitch’s boys play in the NIT. The invitation, our first bid to the Garden, came at the end of an eighteen-five season. "Gilhuly's" took it place in the Bonaventure vocabulary along with "Howz-it," "Call me for my eight," and "I had it cold."

That summer, 1951, many of us at Fort Bragg mastered the vocabulary of war, while learning one answer to Korea's challenge. By September some had gone off to war; the rest of us returned to Bona's for the last lap between us and the world. Perhaps with a touch of grim determination to make the last mile the best. And we chose as guides George McPhillips, Fred Specht, Dick Hartigan, and Bob Mayer, the class officers, and Prof. Hayes, the moderator.

Blueprints for a magnificent Bonadieu were temporarily shelved for lack of funds and encouragement, until assurance of student subscription inspired the staff to commence assembling the yearbook. Seniors were busy, too, with dramatics; ignoring the egg-laying Rabbit, they teamed up with a Ghost—a successful conjunction, artistically and financially. Seniors worked along with Joe Bach to ready a team that promised to realize the promise of this year's five-four tally.

Christmas! We all worked sixteen hours daily in post offices to give our girls solitaires . . . back to school tied and tired! Exams again! And the grind of musical chairs in the library, late lights, cigarette-and-coffee breakfasts in the Small Cafe and, then, guess who made "The List?"

Our last registration. Now for that semester of coasting. Could we take Public Speaking instead of Psychology? And positively no eights! But we did realize that it was our last registration.

In February we played St. John's and added another verse to "Who Owns New York?" Sociology majors, of course, surveyed the struggle for existence in Gilhuly's; the rest of us looked for Bill Dailey and the sandwiches.

The end came too soon with a month made memorable by the music of the Senior Ball, the laughs of the Picnic, the farewell friendliness of the Banquet. At last, Commencement. The cap and gown had replaced, finally, the dink and tie. And the diploma was a symbol of a change that had happened to us, somehow, here on the five hundred acres . . .

Co-Editors of the Bonadieu: Charles S. San Fratello, Jr. and Raymond S. Burns

a saga

Reverend Jerome A. Kelly, O.F.M.
Advisor to the Bonadieu

What the change was no one of us could say, precisely. But we all knew it had something to do with questions answered, ideas defined, knowledge widened, ideals shaped and strengthened, and faith deepened. Each of us sensed, too, a debt to the fellows on campus, to profs and classmates, to the Friars—teachers, friends, fathers,—to all who had given us Saint Bonaventure's answer to the challenge just beyond the campus we were leaving.

A world still off balance. Panaceas prescribed and proscribed. Peace, courage in Christ. The Answer.

ACTIVITIES

The Prom Queen, Miss Roberta Yerks, and her attendants, Mesdames Patricia Coyle, Ruth Randall and Patricia Coyne, receive the congratulations of Al Palmer, Junior Class President, and Don Heintjes and George McPhillips, Prom Co-Chairmen.

"Moonlight and Roses" . . . an enchanted evening spent in the Old South . . . dancing with our favorite girls . . . Charlie Spivak's music . . . those after-the-Prom parties . . . goodnights at sunrise . . . the rush of cocktail parties Saturday afternoon . . . the Senior Ball . . . more parties . . . Before we knew it we were standing 'round the Erie Depot waiting for the train to come in and wishing the weekend were still ahead of us. Our Junior Prom . . . the time of our lives.

The Coronation: Miss Roberta Yerks of Ossining, New York, escorted by Tom Arminio, is crowned Queen of the Junior Prom by bandleader Charlie Spivak.

Military Ball

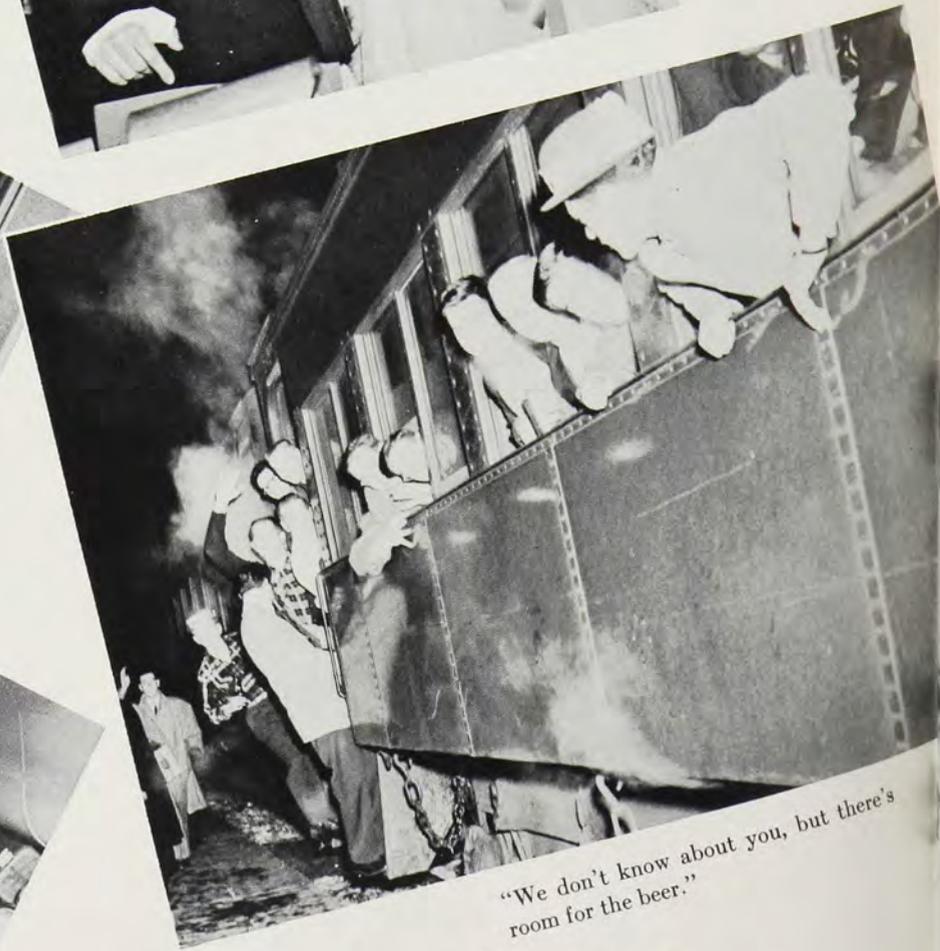

"But really, Jackie-poo, that uniform does things for you."
 Right: The muster before the Grand Rout.

Miss Barbara Reninger, Queen of the Ball, and her escort, Fred, Specht.

"We won't forget, Maw."

"We don't know about you, but there's room for the beer."

St. John's Excursion

A Christmas Party for needy kids

This party was the result of co-operation between several campus organizations, particularly the Catholic Action Group, the Women's Council and the Student Senate. Held shortly before the Christmas recess, it sent all of the kids home to their grateful parents with full stomachs and gift-laden arms. It sent all of us home with a good feeling inside. Special commendation is due Miss Anne Luntz and Bill Ludwig.

Cana Conference

Time out for refreshments.

The wives squander their kitchen money during a hectic Bingo session.

Student Senate

The task of the Student Senate, rather briefly, is to represent the interests of the student body before the university administration when policies affecting these interests are involved. Less spectacular, but equally important obligations keep the members of the Senate busy throughout the academic year: Frosh Rules, organizing pep rallies, sounding out student opinion, all are of direct bearing on the Senate.

The Student Activity Council is an inter-organizational group which concerns itself with the initiation and supervision of campus activities. Representatives from each club meet weekly to discuss plans for forthcoming events and iron out whatever difficulties might have come about as the result of past events.

The various campus organizations are religious, fraternal, administrative, scholastic or social in scope. The Third Order, the National Federation of Catholic College Students and the Cana Conference, the latter composed of married students and their wives, concern themselves with furthering spiritual life among the students. The National Students' Association has as its goal the strengthening of the student voice in national and international affairs. The Women's Council, in addition to organizing the activities of the co-eds, sees to it that when it is needed in campus affairs the "woman's touch" is provided. The arts, business and science fraternities, together with the "105" Club, are dedicated to fostering fraternal spirit and projects. The district clubs, while basically social outlets, are instrumental in strengthening alumni chapters in the various locales which they represent. The different scholastic and athletic organizations give the student an opportunity to enjoy, as well as benefit from, the fields in which he is particularly interested. The Glee Club, Band and Dramatic Club, all of them successful in their endeavors, provide the interested student with a chance to realize his talents and, at the same time, offer entertainment to many. The three student publications are at once a depository for student opinion and literary and journalistic talent.

Because of their diversity, the campus organizations offer every student an opportunity to partake in college life and better himself spiritually, scholastically and socially.

A few highlights from the hilarious production of "Grammercy Ghost." Romance and laughs on an ectoplasmic scale.

The Dramatic Club enjoys a wide popularity at St. Bonaventure University. Under the capable direction of Father Regis Galvin, O.F.M., the group has maintained a sustained excellency in all its plays, dramas and comedies alike. This season, departing from the tradition of an annual Shakespearean production, the Club has elected to present the renowned Passion Play, "The Betrayal."

We Acknowledge

The book which you now have before you is the result of a year's planning and efforts; whether for good or ill, it represents the earnest activities of a number of people, most of whom are in some way connected with St. Bonaventure University, some of whom are not. At this time we think it fitting to express our gratitude to those who helped make the 1952 edition of The Bonadieu possible. We sincerely hope that this humble commendation will prove some reward for their invaluable services. With this in mind, we offer our thanks to:

Father Jerome A. Kelly, O.F.M., our advisor, for getting us started and keeping us working when our progress was slow—

Father Francis P. Duffy, O.F.M., for the kind use of his recreation room—

Father Brian G. Lhota, O.F.M., for his helpful suggestions—

Father Irenaeus Hirscher, O.F.M., and Anselm Hardy, O.F.M. for the use of the Library—

Professor James L. Hayes for going to bat for us—

The entire staff of the yearbook for their inestimable co-operation above and beyond—

Mrs. Genevieve Graham, Mrs. Jean Maloney, Miss Elda-Marie Lenotti, Miss Corinne Krampf, Mrs. Zita Galvin, Miss Shelia Dixon and Miss Mary Ellen Brown for their generous assistance—

Mr. and Mrs. Mark McIntyre and Mr. Frank Subjeck, of the Olean Times Herald, for their help with our photography—

Mrs. Jewell M. Gates and Mr. Don Messinger of Wm. J. Keller Inc., for taking a personal interest in our yearbook—

Messrs. Robert Allen, Henry Liccion and Arnold Cirman for their splendid co-operation in making the photography of this book what it is—

The storm-tossed cast of "Marriage for Two" for proving that life outside the Bonadieu office was just as bad—

Our subscribers, advertisers and patrons for helping to make this book a financial success—

All those whose efforts, time and patience made the production of the yearbook possible.

These we gratefully acknowledge.

ATHLETICS

Rev. Silas Rooney, O.F.M.
Director of Athletics

In regard to intercollegiate sports competition the Athletic Board serves as the policy-making committee. The primary function of the Board is one of administration: it evaluates the prospective plans for the forthcoming athletic seasons and determines with the respective-coaches how these plans are to be effected. It was the Athletic Board which decided, after weighing facts and arguments both for and against the action, that St. Bonaventure University would no longer engage in intercollegiate football.

Each of the six members on the committee represents a definite portion of the Bonaventure scene. The Very Rev. Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., sits on the Board as President of St. Bonaventure University. Father Vincent Devine, O.F.M., Dean of Studies, acts in his capacity as Chairman of the Board of Scholastic Evaluation. Treasurer of the University, Father Celsus Wheeler, O.F.M., presides over the Board of Operations. Father Silas Rooney, O.F.M., is Director of Athletics, and Father Brian Lhota, O.F.M., is in charge of Minor Sports. Mr. Frank White serves as Comptroller of the University.

Joe Bach,
Head Coach,
St. Bonaventure University

Genial Joe Bach guided the St. Bonaventure football team, for some time at least, to a winning 5-4 record, remarkable when you consider the number of men he lost from his 1950 team.

Bach's two year record at St. Bonaventure stands at the .750 mark with 12 victories and 6 defeats. The respected offensive mentor was signed as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers at the end of last season.

Bach, who nears the fifty mark in age has spent more than a quarter of a century in the coaching ranks, both in the collegiate ranks and pros. His first head coaching post was at Duquesne in 1934, ironically the school that knocked his 1950 team from the ranks of the unbeaten after five straight victories.

The pro ranks will be nothing new for Bach. Joe, who also was a good will ambassador for St. Bonaventure University, served as line coach of the Detroit Lions for five years. In 1948 he served in the same capacity with the Boston Yanks and later with the New York Bulldogs.

Bach's favorite motto was, "If you can't have a little fun while playing the game, the game isn't worth playing."

He was a great leader and St. Bonaventure was fortunate to have Joe Bach as Head Football Coach for two seasons.

*So long, Joe,
best of luck
and thanks*

The Last Team

St. Bona's 65
St. Francis 6

The Brown Indians, showing 24 freshmen and sophomores on the 35 man squad, rolled up a record ten touchdown spree as they romped over a helpless St. Francis eleven 65 to 6 in the Forness Stadium opener.

The record score was achieved with only half of the great Bona pair of 1950. Jerry Hanifin, the crazy-legged halfback, was sitting on the bench nursing an injury received in earlier practice sessions.

Ted Marchibroda, the other half of Joe Bach's offensive-minded football machine, only played about 19 minutes. In that time, however, he completely dominated the contest by tossing two touchdown passes, ending up with a total offensive of 208 yards. The Franklin firearm faded back after 5:47 of the opening kick-off and connected a 39 yard pass with halfback Fran Henderson for the first score.

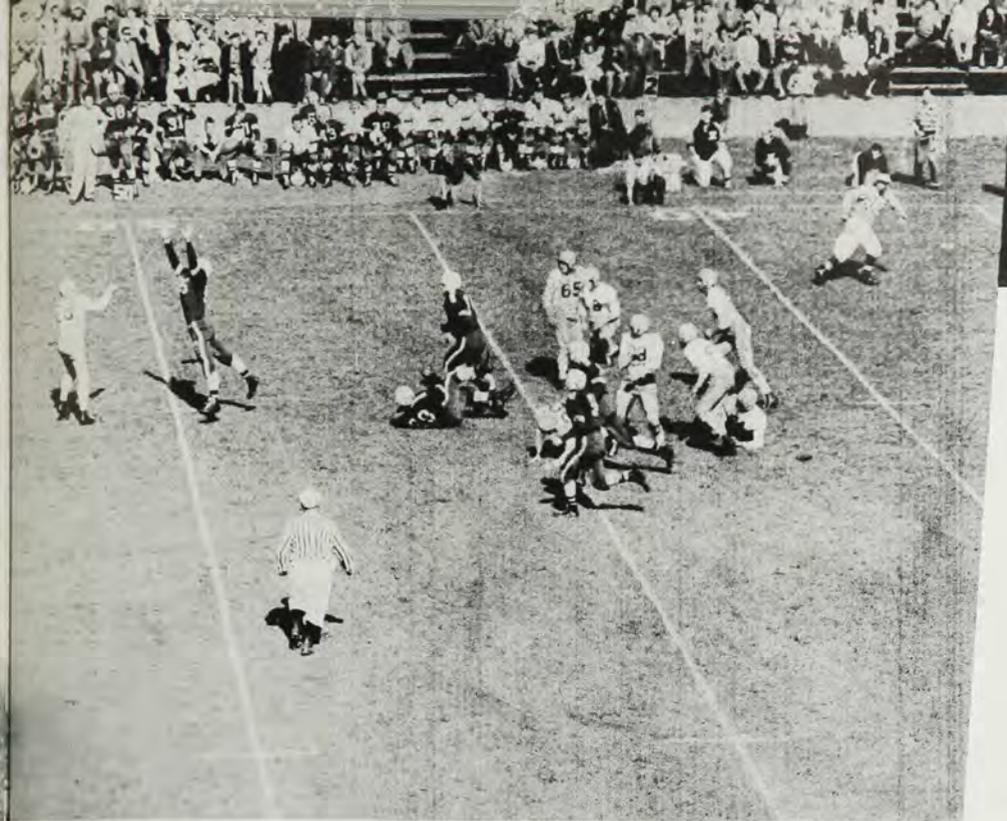

Marchibroda pitched his second touchdown pass to end Jack Romagnoli. Joe Callahan, a defensive standout, intercepted a St. Francis aerial and romped 35 yards for the Bonnies' fourth tally. Yet, it was the work of the hard-running Brown and White backs that really stole the show.

Greg Riel, the veteran right halfback, and Henderson each scored twice. Bernie Popson who gained 90 yards in 12 drives from the fullback post cracked over for a single tally.

With the situation well in hand, Coach Bach sent his untried freshmen into the game and several of them, notably Wayne Torrey, Stan Tubinis, Joe Callahan, and Joe Bellusso, earned their varsity stripes. Torrey galloped 40 yards for a touchdown as he stiffarmed three would-be tacklers en route. Lee Riley dashed 21 yards around the flank for another and Tubinis set up the final TD, as Don Walsh carried it over from the 9.

Homecoming

St. Bona's	6
Xavier	40

An indication of the afternoon's trend of events was evident in the first minute of play when Bonaventure lost four yards on three plays. Xavier's second play, after the Bona punt, was right half-back Finnell scoring from the four with the game only three minutes old. A touchdown parade followed in which Gilmartin, Finnell for the second time, and Judd thrice carried to pay-dirt.

The Homecoming Day crowd got its one thrill for the day in the third quarter as Bona's marched 85 yards on two passes to register its lone score. Marchibroda heaved the pigskin 50 yards from the fifteen to Hanifin on the Xavier thirty-five. The next play he hit Riel in the end zone.

The one bright spot in the otherwise dismal afternoon was the fact that Bona picked up 178 yards in the air on 9 completions, truly a tribute to the outstanding ability of "Terrific" Teddy Marchibroda who spent most of the afternoon warding off blue-jerseyed linemen.

A magnificent era in St. Bonaventure's grid history came to a sudden and convincing end in Forness Stadium before 10,000 homecoming fans as Xavier University humiliated the Brown and White by overpowering them 40-6.

One has to go back to the 45-0 Manhattan loss in 1940 and from there to the Penn State and Army setbacks of 1922 to find a game in which St. Bonaventure was as outclassed as they were against the Musketeers. Not only that, but Xavier, by defeating the Bonnies at home did what no other team has done since 1946 when Youngstown defeated the Brown Indians 20-14 in the Stadium

Dayton 35

After operating in high gear against St. Vincent's and being held to a standstill by Xavier, the Brown Indians journeyed to Ohio for their second defeat from the Dayton Flyers.

Dayton ran up the amazing total of 681 yards from scrimmage, 543 by the hard-driving Blue and White backs.

The Ohioans wasted no time in breaking the ice as they took the opening kickoff and marched 64 yards before Recker skirted right end on a pitchout to score his first of 3 touchdowns. Spakowski, who had a perfect day kicking the pigskin, converted the first of five extra points.

Towards the end of the first quarter, the Brown and White began to move when Torrey intercepted a Flyer pass. Passes from Marchibroda to Hanifin and Riel and a line buck by Popson set the ball on the Dayton nine. From that point Marchy pitched out to Hanifin, who fumbled the ball momentarily, but twisted his way into the end zone to knot the score as Czaja converted.

After this the Dayton line, which averaged 213 pounds, combined with their speed merchants to push the Bonnies' yearlings into submission. "Rabbit" Martin, on the first play from scrimmage, darted 50 yards and then hurdled the Bona-venture line to put the Ohioans in front 14-7 at the half.

Opening up the third quarter, the Flyers again took the kickoff and went the length of the field before Joe Young lunched over from the two. The fourth Dayton tally came by way of the "Bonnie Special," a spot play created by Coach Joe Galvin. It consisted of a short pass to tackle wall, who became eligible when the end moved back into the secondary. The play put the ball on the Bona one-yard line, where Recker lunched across.

Marchibroda, who completed 13 of 28 passes for 184 yards, hit Romagnoli for the second Bonnie tally. The Flyers matched this, however, when Siggins tossed a 27 yard aerial to Recker to end the scoring.

Bona's Brown Indians broke the Ohio jinx, that saw them lose games to Xavier and Dayton, by coming from behind to defeat stubborn John Carroll 20-13 in Cleveland's Shaw Stadium.

Wayne Torrey, a headlined frosh sensation from Bolivar, got the Indians rolling by dashing 79 yards on a punt return early in the second period. But stubborn Carroll, aided by the passing of Tony Ferrante, came back with a 54 yard drive to score a touchdown on the last play of the first half. McMilland made a diving catch of a Ferrante aerial for the score. Bonaventure's Walt Czaja had converted his PAT to give the Indians a 7-6 halftime lead.

Ferrante again pitched for a TD in the third quarter, this time to Minor, to give the Streaks a 13-7 lead after Lyman's conversion. But Bona's bounced right back to tie the count on Teddy Marchibroda's 45 yard TD toss to Greg Riel. Marchibroda was labeled "the best quarterback to show in Cleveland in some time."

Coach Joe Bach's crew put the contest on ice in the fourth quarter when Ben Popson bulled over from the 1 yard line capping a sustained 65 yard march. Carroll led in all statistical departments, but it was Marchibroda's passing that kept the Streaks with their backs to the wall.

St. Bona's 14
Quantico 21

St. Bonaventure's gridiron machine put up a terrific fight before falling to the powerful Quantico Marines 21-14 in Buffalo's Civic Stadium. Only 9,908 fans turned out on a beautiful sunny day to view Buffalo's top football attraction of the collegiate season.

Two lapses on pass defense spelled defeat for the Bachmen, who held an 8-7 lead going into the fourth quarter. Inexperience in the secondary allowed two Marine passes to be turned into easy scores.

Not only did Bonaventure lose the ball game, their third loss of the season against two victories, but Frank Godlewski, first string offensive center suffered a broken leg and was lost to the Brown Indians for the remainder of the season.

The Bonnies were off and running in the opening minutes when Bernie Popson raced through the middle on a trap and traveled 43 yards before being knocked out of bounds. Quantico held, and Herb Kenny punted for Bona's. A safety man was nailed by Ben Popson and Greg Riel in the end zone to put Bona's in front 2-0.

Jerry Hanifin, Bona's all-time ground gaining record holder, increased the lead to 8-0 in the second period when he crazy-legged 95 yards on an off tackle play.

Bona's poor pass defense gave the Marines their first two scores. Dick Flowers hit Bill Samer in the clear on a play covering 52 yards for the first score. Then in the fourth quarter Bill Weeks passed to unguarded Dixie Howell for a 41 yard touchdown maneuver. Bob Tougas bulled 5 yards for the final Quantico Ted after a pass interception.

With the people filing out of Civic Stadium, Ben Popson took a screen pass from Ted Marchibroda and traveled 35 yards for the score at the gun.

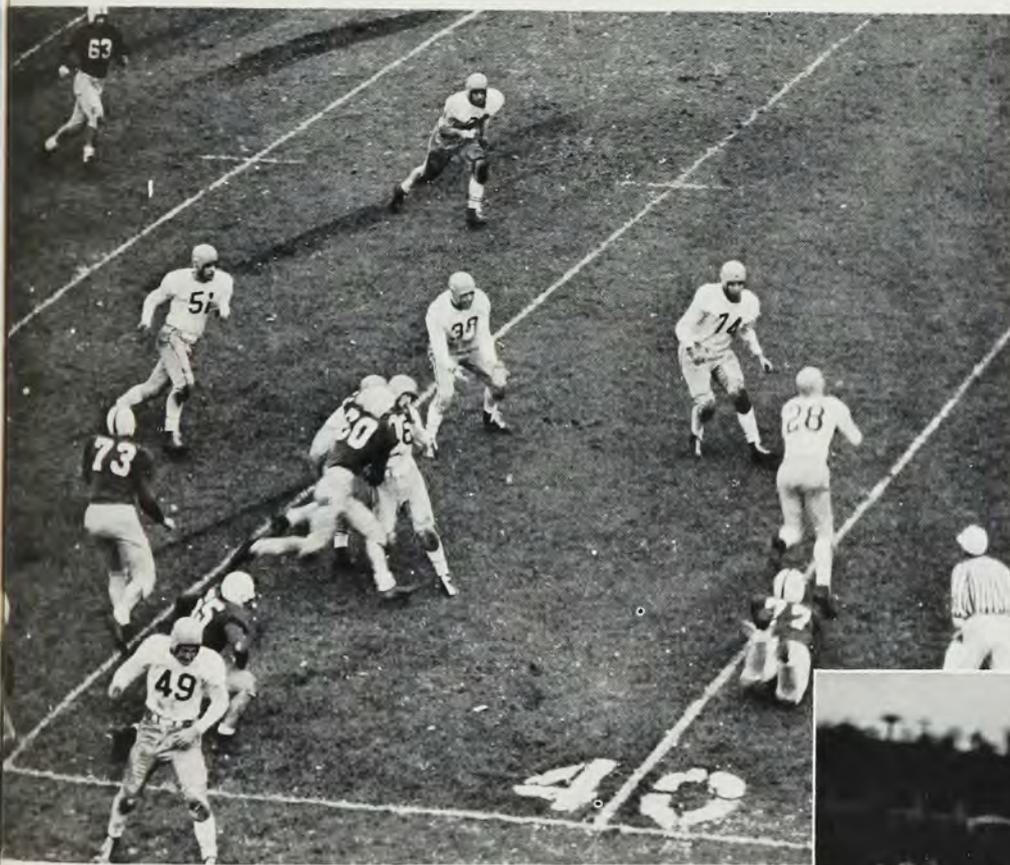

What a thriller! Eight seconds remain in the game with Louisville ahead 21-19, the ball is on the Cardinals 27 yard line and Walt Czaja, a boy who has never attempted a field goal before, is approaching the ball. He kicks and it's GOOD. In a story book ending Bonaventure wins 22-21.

Passes from Marchibroda to Tisko and Riel accounted for the first two tallies, and the third came on Jerry Hanifin's spectacular 76 yard dash off-tackle. Louisville's first score came as John Unitas, the Southerner's quarterback, threw the first of his three touchdown passes. The score was 19-7. Then with five minutes remaining in the game Unitas hit once again for a score, and with but two minutes to play he connected for the final time. All P.A.T.'s were good. The stage was now set. Bonaventure worked the ball downfield to the Louisville 27 yard line from which spot Czaja split the uprights.

Coach Joe Bach pulled three maneuvers which helped Bona's win its third game. His first was the running-pass play with Walsh throwing, which set up two T.D.'s. His second was the sleeper on the first play of the third stanza, and the final one was inserting Czaja for the field goal.

Sharing the spotlight with the thrilling victory was the return of the true "Bonaventure spirit" displayed by the student body. "It was the first time I ever saw a football game won by the spirit on campus," remarked the Louisville coach following the contest.

St. Bona's	22

St. Bona's 39
Youngstown 6

Frigid weather failed to stop the attack of St. Bonaventure University as it rolled up its second highest score of the season in downing Youngstown College 39-6. Youngstown's first and only score was set up by a Bonaventure fumble deep in its own territory within five minutes of the first quarter. On the third Penguin play from the line of scrimmage, fullback Jack Schaville scored on a run from the 12 yard line.

After that it was all Bonaventure. Don Walsh, the strongarmed quarterback, set up the first Bona TD hitting Ted Marchibroda on the 4 yard line. Then Ben Popson bulled over to tie the count. Marchibroda hit Jack Romagnoli in the end zone for the second score. Again Marchy, this time on the receiving end, took a Walsh pass on the 26 yard line and ran it beautifully for the third Brown Indian touchdown.

A blocked punt by guard Joe Belluso set the stage for Jerry Hanifin to swivel-hip his way 21 yards for the fourth Bona TD. Freshman halfback Lee Riley returned a punt 65 yards for the fifth Bona score. Walt Czaja converted his second of five P.A.T.'s and the score at half time was 32-6.

With Coach Bach using his entire bench, the third quarter went scoreless and it wasn't until late in the final stanza that a Marchibroda forward hit Romagnoli in the end zone. Czaja again split the uprights to end the scoring which gave the Brown Indians their fourth win of the season.

The outstanding defensive star was frosh Stan Tubinis who time and again came up from his halfback post to make key tackles. Walsh completed four aerials for 126 yards to take offensive honors.

It was in this game that six seniors—co-captains Jerry Hanifin and Bernie Popson, Greg Riel, Fred Specht, George Hanley, and Tony Tisko—made their final Forness Stadium appearances.

Bonaventure's Brown Indians helped Camp Lejeune's Marines celebrate the 176th birthday of the United States Marine Corps by falling before the servicemen 20-10. Fumbles proved costly to the Bonnies as three bobbles set the stage for two Marine touchdowns. Camp Lejeune, which was rated as one of the top service teams of last season, later was victorious in the annual Cigar Bowl, played at Tampa, Florida.

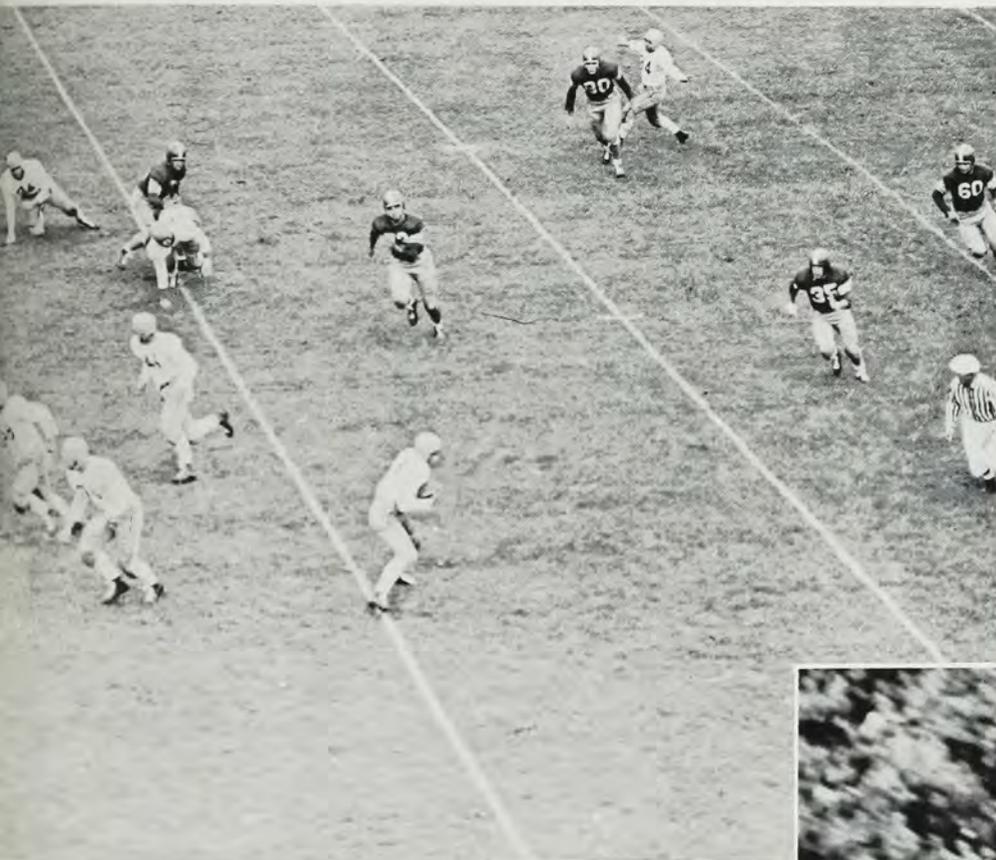

Bonaventure went into the contest with a winning 4-3 record. The Marines opened fast after recovering a Brown Indian fumble on the Bonaventure 19. Ed Johnson ran 16 yards from a field goal formation to the 3. Bob Gault then plunged through the middle for the score. Frank Letteri kicked the point to put the Marines in front 7-0.

Bonaventure, led by Teddy Marchibroda's brilliant display of ball handling, then marched 74 yards to score. Marchy traveled the final three yards via quarterback sneak. Walt Czaja kicked the point to knot the count at 7-7.

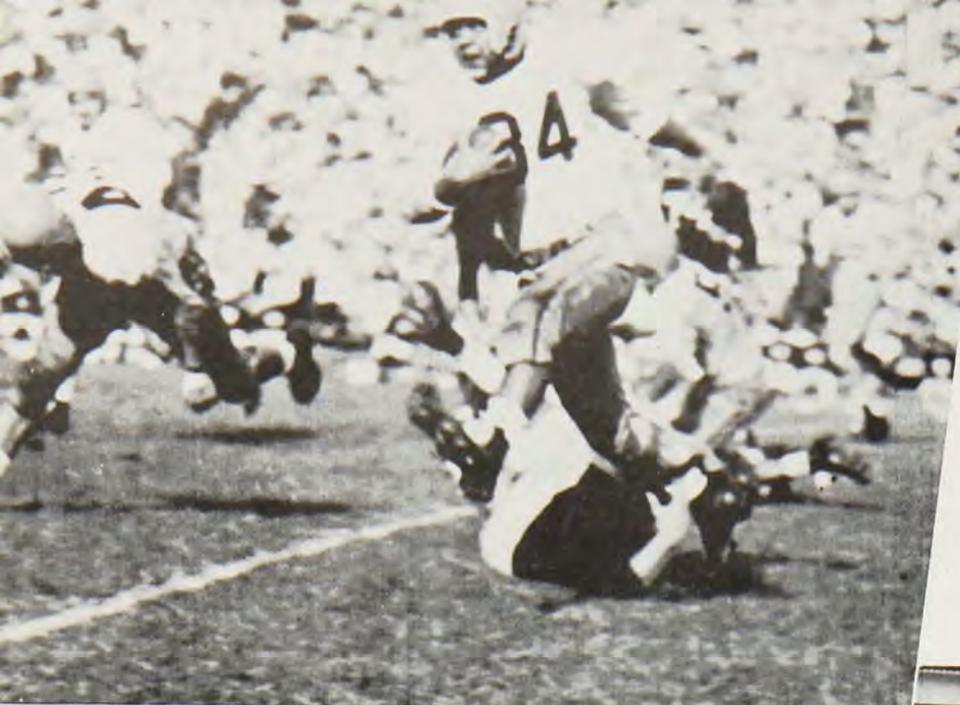

The teams battled between the 40 yard lines for the most of the second quarter. With three minutes remaining Marchy tossed to Jerry Hanifin on the 11. With time running out, Czaja split the uprights with a field goal to give the Indians a 10-7 half time edge.

The second half was all Lejeune. A pass from Russ Pecton to George Giece put the servicemen into the lead shortly after the intermission. Then, this same Giece traveled 59 yards to set up the final score. Bill Minahan tossed to Paul Swezey for the remaining 5 yards.

Marchy, although rushed and battered all afternoon, played brilliant ball for Bonaventure. Tony Tisko and Don Manzini were the Indian line stars, with Stan Tubinis, Jim McKenna, and John Romagnoli the standouts in the secondary.

Our Last Game

Jerry Hanifin, the will-o-the-wisp scatback, drew the curtain in a blaze of glory on the 1951 football season for the Brown Indians.

Playing his last game as a Bonaventure griddler, Hanifin reeled off touchdown runs of 55 and 100 yards in the Indians' 28 to 13 triumph over St. Vincent in Latrobe, Pa.

Bonaventure lost little time in moving ahead of the Bearcats. Hanifin, on the fourth play from scrimmage, darted 56 yards for his first touchdown. Walt Czaja booted the first of four extra points to make it 7-0.

St. Vincent's, on the ensuing kick-off, drove to within the Bonnie five yard line, but a fine goal line stand held the Bearcats and the Brown Indians took over. Hanifin then fumbled in his own end zone and the Vinnies recovered to knot the score after the PAT.

Bonaventure in registering its fifth win in nine games, started the contest without the services of their star field general, Ted Marchbroda. But when the Franklin Firearm entered the game, he engineered an 80 yard drive ending in a ten yard pitch to John Romagnoli for the score.

Marchy, who threw and completed three passes for 78 yards, then flipped another touchdown pass to Lee Riley. The Bearcats then bounced back when Dick Romito intercepted a Fran Henderson aerial and five plays later, Ralph Litzenger drove off tackle for his twelfth TD of the season and the Vinnie's 13th point.

On the following kickoff, Hanifin took the ball five yards in his end zone, picked up his blockers and outran the entire Bearcat team. It was the play that brought an end to the college football career of one of Bonaventure's greatest players, the slithering speedster from Binghamton.

Along with Hanifin the game was the last one for five other seniors. Co-captain Ben Popson, Fred Specht, Tony Tisko, Greg Reil and George Hanley all took part in the last chapter that closed the book on their football days at St. Bonaventure University.

Hall of Fame

Football 1948-1951

Early this year it was announced by Father Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., President of the University, that St. Bonaventure would no longer engage in intercollegiate football competition. Because of increasing expenses and decreasing compensation, football had to be dropped. Again we saw the end of a tradition, the completion of an era. We felt an irrevocable break with the past, a past in which we had shared.

Although the announcement came as no surprise (we had been expecting it for several months), it nevertheless left us all a little diminished.

During our four years at St. Bonaventure we have seen many fine teams produced by Coach Hughie Devore and his successor, Joe Bach, and we have thrilled in Forness Stadium and elsewhere to their brilliant displays of football acumen.

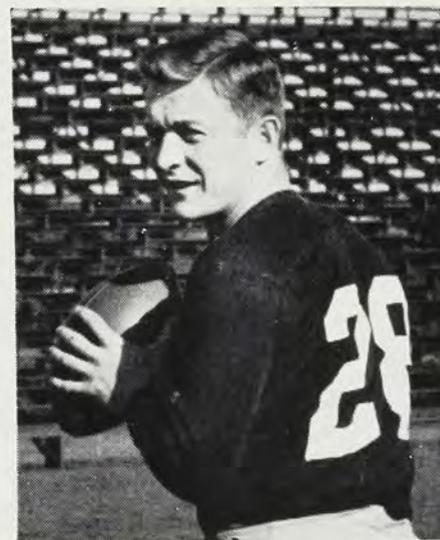

Now that is all behind us. But, if it is not too early for nostalgia, we can muse on many of these games and remember some of the players who made them so memorable. Few of us will ever forget the excitement of the William and Mary upset and the tie with Boston College in 1948; the overwhelming defeat of Canisius, our former grid rival, in the Homecoming spectacle of 1949; or the sensational downings of Boston University in 1949 and 1950. Nor will we forget the players who made these thrills possible: Teddy Marchibroda for his deadly passes; Jerry Hanifin his unbelievable touchdown gallops; Jack Butler his astounding end runs. These are but a few.

We, the Graduating Seniors, think it only fitting that we present some testimony to these players. Our "Football Hall of Fame" is an humble attempt in this direction. However, it is not complete. Because we were unable to locate pictures of others whose accomplishments demand inclusion and because of the limited space allowed, we can only list a few more of these outstanding players and hope that our small tribute will in some way acknowledge our appreciation for all of the rich memories they have provided us.

They are—Jack Butler, Guy Collela, Glenn Haggerty, Leo Haggerty, Skitch Henderson, Harry Liechtweiss, George Nicksich, Joe Pavlokowski, John Romanogli, Joe Romanowsky, Chris Scaturro, Stan Tubinis.

Edward Melvin,
Head Coach, Basketball

The rise from the minors to the majors. That best describes the basketball status of St. Bonaventure under the guidance of Eddie Melvin, who has been called by many the best coach in the country.

The fiery Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania native, who was a member of the famed Iron Dukes of Duquesne, has a great 69 won 28 lost record at St. Bonaventure, excluding tournament play.

"Milky's" scientific basketball has captured the eyes of the nation and this year's cage quintet brought the fans flocking through the turnstiles in Pittsburgh, Buffalo, New York, and Olean.

This is Bonaventure's fifth year under Melvin's reign and every year the record has improved. Eddie has the habit of winning from his famous college team, which won 87 of 95 tilts. And the NIT is nothing new for him either—only now he's in the role of coach.

Eddie Melvin's stay at St. Bonaventure has certainly been a great one both for himself and for St. Bonaventure University.

St. Bona's Ithaca

St. Bonaventure opened its 1951-52 basketball campaign with an expected easy win over the Ithaca College Bombers, 69-42. A surprisingly large crowd packed the Olean Armory to get their first glimpse of this year's Brown Indian court edition and they came away more than satisfied. Little did they think, however, that this team would rise to the greatest heights ever reached by a Bonaventure basketball team.

The Bonnies started right off splitting their scoring—as they continued to do for the balance of the season. Billy Kenville took the honors in this contest with 14 points, followed close behind with Leo Corkery's 12.

Ithaca managed to keep abreast of the Indians in the first quarter. After nine minutes the Melvinmen pulled even at 10-10. After that it was no contest as the Brown Indian sharpshooters rapidly drew away. At halftime Bona's showed a 35-18 margin.

Bona's attempted 78 shots from the floor and connected on 23 for a 29 per cent shooting average.

Working on the theory that if one combination can't do it another can, Coach Eddie Melvin's Brown Indians subdued stubborn Gannon College 68-47 at Erie.

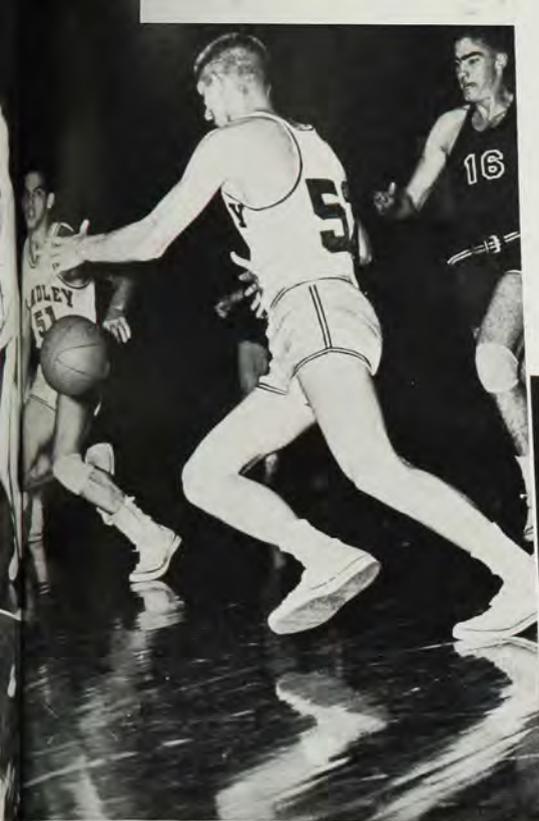

With less than six minutes remaining in the first half and the Golden Knights leading, Mike Bednar and Owen Gorman were inserted into the lineup. Bednar immediately hit Nolan with a perfect pass that resulted in a two pointer and seconds later scored one himself that gave Bona's a lead that they never relinquished.

It was all Bonaventure in the second half, however, as Bednar continued to pace his team, hitting on 7 of 10 shots for the afternoon. Twice in the final period the Binghamton speedster, who registered 15 points, stole the ball and dribbled all the way in for the score.

Bob Sassone contributed 13 points and Bill Kenville 11, to the Bonnies' second win. Kenville, Corkery, and Gorman did most of the rebounding.

The Brown Indians first important game of the year, and the most important intersectional clash in the school's history, saw the Indians traveling to Peoria, Illinois and defeating Bradley 66-51.

The Brown and White hoopsters had planned to plane to Chicago, but storm conditions forced the Melvin-men to travel by rail. A train wreck outside of Chicago had the winners traveling by cab the remaining 20 miles. They arrived at the Bradley Fieldhouse one hour before game time.

None the worse for wear, the visitors put on a terrific second half spurt to pull to a 50-41 lead. After that it was no contest as the highly publicized Braves were never in the running.

Bobby Sassone, Bona's leading scorer last season, tallied 17 points to pace the Melvin-men, with smooth Billy Kenville chipping in with 15 valuable counters. Bona's hit on 45% of their shots in racking up their third win of the year, while Bradley hit a creditable 30%.

St. Bonaventure, led by Bob Sassone, won its fourth straight game by defeating Colgate 77-68. Sassone, who had 26 points set a new Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium record.

The Brown Indians kept their unbeaten string intact with a sensational rally in the second half. Trailing by seven points with 14 minutes remaining, the Bonnies suddenly caught fire, outscoring Colgate 15 to 3 in the space of five minutes.

Mike Bednar opened the rally with 2 set shots and he tallied again on a drive-in layup after a free throw by Roberts of Colgate. Bona's Corkery and the Red Raiders' Popovich traded free throws. The Brown and White virtually clinched the contest with a string of 8 points to make it 60-54 on 2 fouls by Gorman and baskets by Edwards, Sassone, and Bednar.

For St. Bonaventure, Sassone and Bednar supplied the scoring punch while Kenville and Edwards controlled the rebounding.

St. Bona's 68 Lawrence Tech 46

St. Bonaventure's amazing basketball team raced to their fifth successive victory by defeating previously unbeaten Lawrence Tech 68-46.

With Guard Bob Sassone directing the play from backcourt, the Indians controlled the ball effectively, and steadily drew ahead in the second half after leading at intermission 33-25.

Leo Corkery was a demon off the backboards and paced the victors with 12 points. Sassone, setting with a deadly eye, and Bill Kenville divided 22 points for the Indians.

Blaine Denning, Tech's highly publicized forward, led all scorers with 15 points, but 3 of his 6 baskets came in the final period after Bona's had run up a 16 point lead and the issue had been settled.

This was Lawrence Tech's biggest game of the year. Early last fall they announced that they had dropped the cage sport, but they decided to continue and announced that the Bona game in Buffalo would be "their top game of the year."

The giant killers of St. Bonaventure, in the role of David again, knocked off Western Kentucky, previously unbeaten, by a 73-60 score before 8,500 fans in Buffalo Memorial Auditorium.

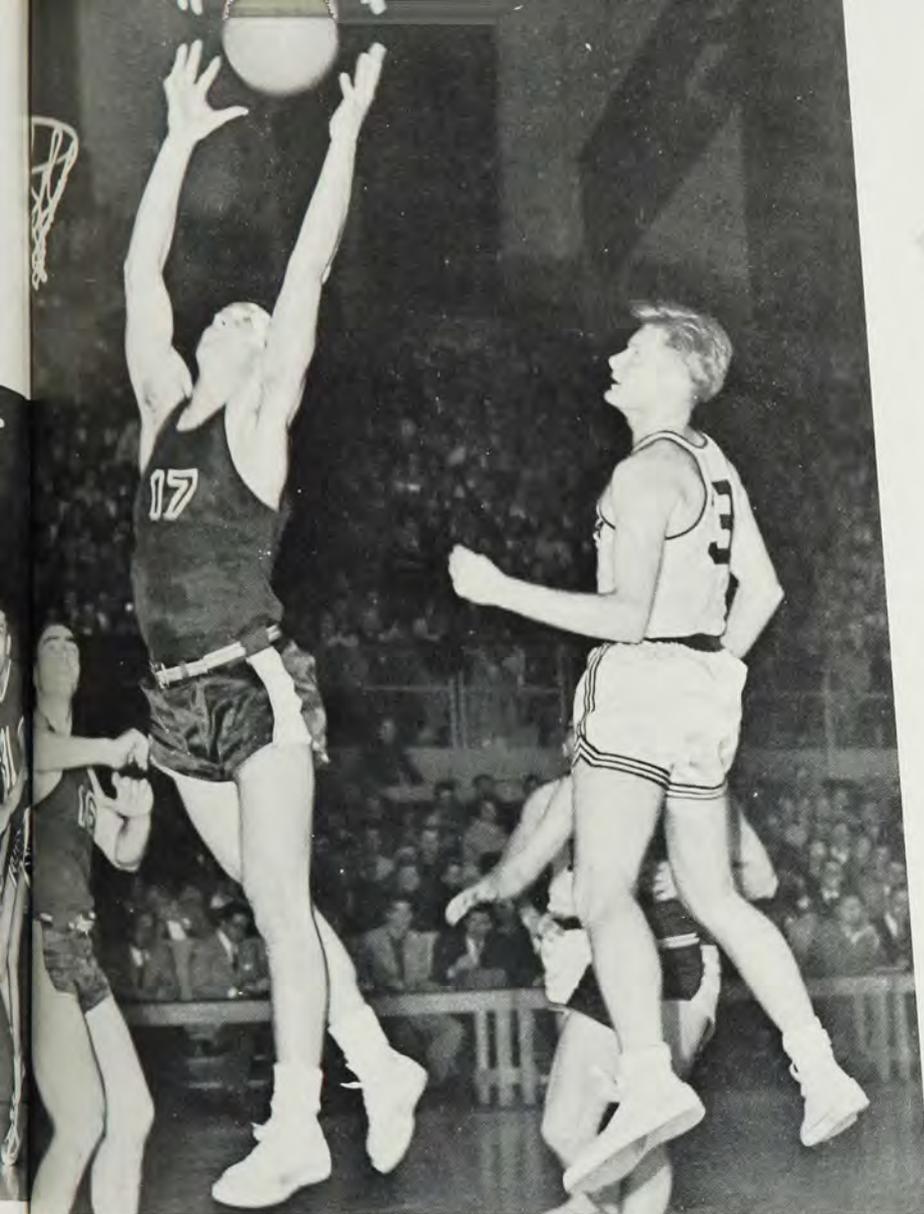

The triumph, sixth of the season, established the Bonnies as "the greatest team ever developed in Western New York." Authorities describing the Brown Indians said, "Tremendous . . . Bob Sassone is an All-American," and "Bona's teamwork is the story . . . it's terrific."

Displaying poise and a bewildering weaver (to Western that is) for driving layups the Bonnies raced to a 42-27 halftime lead, with "Celte" Kenville netting 15 points.

St. Bonaventure's defense led to many scores as Western placed its faith in its usual fast break game, but the Olean athletes were intercepting passes all over the court and turning these plays into scores as Western was caught going the wrong way.

8 of the 9 Brown and White players scored with Kenville, Sassone, and Gorman hitting for double figures.

St. Bona's 80 Westminster 56

St. Bonaventure University's cagers, 10th ranking team in the nation, added victory Number Seven to its unblemished record by defeating the Westminster Titans 80-56.

Bona's victory snapped an 81-game winning streak that the Titans had compiled on its home over a period of four years.

In a nip and tuck first period it was Leo Corkery's fine play, both shooting and rebounding, that gave the Bonnies a 16-14 edge. The last 3 periods were strictly Bonaventure, as the entire squad took over the spotlight. It was just a matter of too much for Westminster—too much defense, bench and talent from the Bonnies.

Westminster never could place a sustained offensive under motion. Their scoring ace was confined to 1 field goal, by the defense-minded Melvin-men.

The Indians were led by Bill Kenville and Bob Sassone with 18 and 16 points respectively. Paul Nolan accounted for 12 more points, most of them in the second half.

Coach Eddie Melvin's Brown Indians showed everything demanded of a great team—deadly accuracy, passing skill, poise, smoothness, smartness, height and top notch reserves—in leveling Canisius' Golden Griffins, 76-61, before 11,977, largest crowd of the season at Memorial Auditorium.

Although not as sharp as they were in their last 2 appearances, the Bonnies took command in the first period and never allowed the Griffins to get closer than 7 points. Stoetzel of Canisius opened the scoring with a two-pointer. Then the Bonnies with a 22 point outburst virtually clinched the contest.

The Griffins managed to get within 7 points on a few occasions, but each time Kenville or one of his colleagues came up with a rally breaking score.

Bill Kenville and Captain Don Solinsky led the scorers with 19 and 14 points respectively, but once again, it was Coach Melvin's eight man first team which deserves credit for victory Number Eight.

The Brown Indians continued to amaze the nation by defeating Niagara's Purple Eagles 65-42 for their ninth straight victory in the Buffalo Aud. The win gave Bona's a head start in the race for the Little Three title. Earlier in the same week they pummeled Cansius.

Bob Sassone, who was at his peak in early season play, led Bona's with 15 points, but again it was the divided scoring that told the story as Don Solinsky hit for 14 and Leo Corkery chipped in with 12.

Bona's jumped to an early 20-12 first quarter lead in a game that was supposed to be the first real test for Bona's under pressure. Cagey Taps Gallagher tried every trick in the book, but he was woefully undermanned with two of his regulars, Costello and Fleming, sidelined because of illness.

The Bona defense was at its season best in this encounter, holding the fighting Eagles scoreless from the floor for 17 minutes.

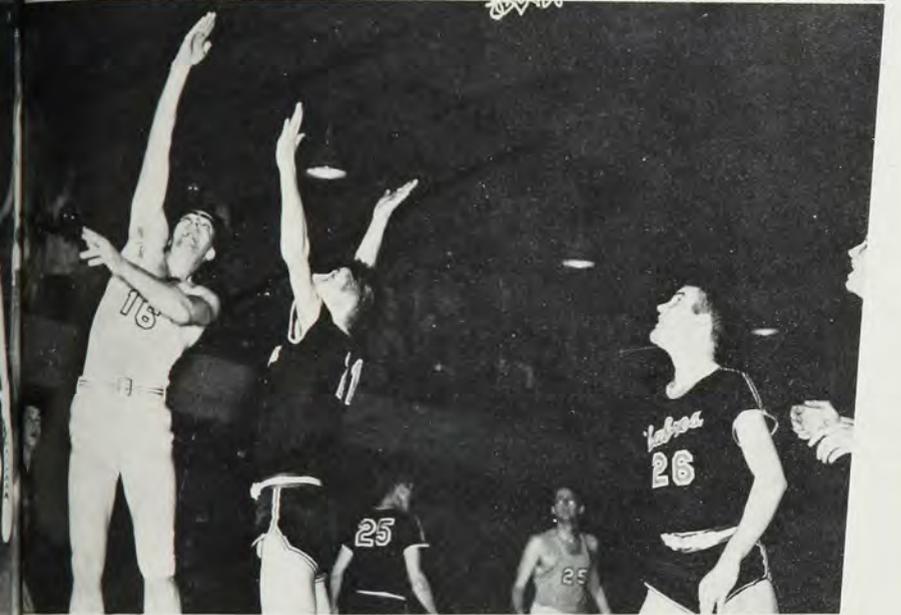

In a game built up as a rematch of last year's NIT first-round clash, Bonaventure's high riding Brown Indians raced to their 10th consecutive victory by trouncing Cincinnati 77-58 in the Buffalo Aud.

The Brown Indians, who by now are averaging 71.9 points per contest, were paced by Bob Sassone who tossed in 15 points. Despite the fact the Bona shooting percentage was 36%, the Indians missed 23 layups. Nevertheless they cracked the game wide open in the first quarter and won almost as they pleased. By now the papers were creating new adjectives to describe the exploits of this "Cinderella Team."

Cincinnati was supposed to be the team to give the Indians trouble. They employed their full court press, which proved to be partially successful in the NIT, but the Indians were prepared for it.

Mike Bednar ended this year's play with the St. Bonaventure team. He was suspended immediately afterward for the remainder of the season.

The unbeaten Bonnies, turning loose for a spectacular 56 point second half splurge, stormed back to defeat stubborn Sampson Air Base 81-71 before a capacity crowd in the Olean Armory. The win was the 11th straight for the Melvin-men and marked their triumphant return to their home court after 10 games on the road.

Bob Sassone again led the Brown and White in scoring with 21 points, which was the individual high for this season for any Bona player in the Armory.

Bona's trailing by 10 at the half, uncorked a 29 point third quarter to cut the deficit to two points, 56-54, at that juncture.

Then the Bonnies hit a 7 point string in the first minute of the fourth quarter to take a 61-54 lead. After this they were never headed.

This game was the closest the Indians came to having their unbeaten string broken until they met Duquesne. The battle was rough all the way with the Airmen having several former professional stars. Sampson had beaten the Elmira pros and had given the Rochester Royals a great battle.

Youngstown	50

With a convincing 76-50 win over the Youngstown Penguins, St. Bonaventure, ranked fifth in the nation, ran its unbeaten streak to 12 games which established a record for the school. The win also stretched Bona's string of successes to 36 at the Olean Armory over a period of several years.

Each of the eleven Brown Indians who saw action scored, four of them connecting for double figures. Bob Sassone, Bona's sharpshooter, and Owen Gorman had 13 points each. Solinsky contributed 12 and Kenville 11.

Bona's with Solinsky whipping in 4 straight sets, raced to a 19-11 edge at the quarter, upped its advantage to 40-21 at the half, then coasted the rest of the way with the reserves including Quinones, Black, and Saglimben.

Only 2 major teams in the nation were still undefeated following this game, of which the Bonnies were one and future opponent Duquesne (11-0) the other.

In the nation's outstanding game which showed the battle of the unbeaten—Duquesne and St. Bonaventure—the mighty Dukes handed the Indians their first setback of the campaign by a score of 69-63. The loss left Duquesne as the only major undefeated team in the country.

Although the Bonnies led for most of the first period the Dukes took the lead with two minutes remaining at 14-13 and were never headed. Duquesne piled on 15 points to 11 for the Indians in the second period to hold a 33-24 half time lead. So well did the Duquesne defense throttle the scoring power of the Bonnies that the visiting forwards were held without a field goal until midway in the final quarter when Leo Corkery and Bill Kenville registered their first buckets. The Dukes, who shot 47% compared to the Bonnie 27% spurred ahead by 15 points early in the third stanza but Bona cut the gap to 6. Each team, playing a race horse style of ball, scored 19 points in the final quarter.

Ricketts with 19 points was the game's highest scorer while Jim Tucker took runner-up honors with 17. The Bonnie's high man was Don Solinsky with 15 points. Bill Edwards, who played the game with a sprained ankle, and Bob Sassone were tied with 11 each.

The Brown Indians invaded New York City and were immediately handed their second set-back of the season at the hands of St. John's, 59-56. The tense and interesting contest drew the regular season's largest basketball crowd of 16,151 to Madison Square Garden.

Bona, recovered from a miserable start by not scoring a basket until the game was nearly eight minutes old, closed in to trail 30-27 at the half. After the intermission the Brown Indians found the range and put on a third-quarter drive that produced a 43-47 advantage. St. John's using an offense that revolved around the shooting and passing of All-American Bob Zawoluk came roaring back and with 6:45 of the final period left were eight points in front. The Bonnies cut this margin with a late flurry but by this time the Brooklynites were out of danger.

Bob Zawoluk, playing one of his greatest games, caged nine of eleven shots from the field and seven of eight fouls for the game's high total of 25 points. Jack McMahon, set-shot artist tallied 17 points for the Redmen. Bona scoring leaders were Paul Nolan and Bob Sassone with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Coach Eddie Melvin's Brown Indians, after a hectic road trip that saw Bona suffer its first two setbacks of the season, rebounded to defeat Toledo 58-41.

Bob Sassone broke the backs of the invaders as he caged three quick sets to send the Bonnies into an early 8-0 advantage. It was the tight defense of the Indians that really told the story. The tall Ohioans were limited to 51 shots and a 23.4% average by the pressing defense employed by the Melvin-men. Johnny Pazdziar, who had ten points and Ray Sirois, who accounted for six were the only visitors who were able to count more than once from the field.

The Rockets, who had fallen behind 35-23 at half time were held to five field goals in the first 20 minutes. The Brown Indians, on the other hand, showed no ill after-effects from their earlier losses. Bob Sassone wound up as high man with 16 points. Bill Kenville shook off a scoring slump to net 11 and Don Solinsky added 9.

A capacity crowd couldn't believe their own eyes as the winning Indians raced to a 22-8 lead in a game that was billed as a tossup. Siena needed this one to keep alive their NIT hopes, but they were never in the game.

Bonaventure, who received the bid to play in this year's NIT just before game time, was paced by Billy Kenville who tallied 12 points and grabbed 22 rebounds.

Another sad point on the part of Siena was the fact that their All-American-billed Billy Harrett was held to one field goal—and this came in the waning moments of the contest.

When the game had ended, Bona's had shot a remarkable 43% while Siena was turning in a good 34% evening with 17 buckets in 50 attempts.

The win was the 39th straight win on the Armory Court, a span which stretches over the entire four-year period of this year's graduating class.

St. Bona's Canisius

The Golden Griffins of Canisius pulled what in some corners was called the "Upset of the Season" by defeating Bona's 65-63 before the largest crowd of the season in the Buffalo Aud.

Bonaventure never led in this contest, but they tied the count 11 times. It was 63-63 when Bob Stoetzel missed a driving layup for the Griffs. Don Solinsky drove into the corner for Bona's with 15 seconds to go, but lost the ball. Two quick passes found Herman Hedderick, Canisius star, driving in for the winning layup with 2 seconds showing on the clock.

Although Hedderick scored the winning basket, it was really the drives of Jimmy Young, and the outstanding board work of Larry O'Connor which gave the Griffins their biggest win of the year.

Billy Kenville paced the dejected Indians with 20 points, scoring 18 of them in the first half. Leo Corkery's hook shots kept the Brown and White hoopsters in the game during the second half.

Surprised and happy Canisius coach, Joe Niland, said after the game, "Brother, were we lucky!"

The Brown Indians invaded Buffalo Memorial Auditorium for the last time this season and assured themselves of at least a first place tie in the Little Three Conference by dumping Niagara 62-51.

Showing some ill after-effects of the surprising defeat by Canisius, Bona's played very sloppy ball at the outset. The Purple Eagles on the other hand hit with deadly accuracy and jumped to a 17-11 lead at the ten minute mark.

With eight minutes left in the first half Coach Eddie Melvin did away with his slow, deliberate type offense and switched to a fast-break attack. The move repeatedly caught the Niagara defense off guard allowing the Indians to move out in front 32-26 at the intermissions.

The Indians continued to move in the third quarter. In the final stanza the underclassmen retired to the bench as the four seniors: Capt. Don Solinsky, Leo Corkery, Paul Nolan and Owen Gorman worked the give-and-go patterns to clinch the contest.

Leo Corkery, unveiling a beautiful hook shot paced the Bonnies with 25 points. Bill Kenville added 11 and Don Solinsky 11. Kenville also collared 18 rebounds before he retired in the third canto.

The Brown Indians starting on a long road trip that took them to Albany, Philadelphia and New York City were tripped by their first stumbling block. Siena College handed the Bonnies their fourth defeat, 61-59, in a game that saw the lead change hands 17 times.

Bona, which earlier in the season defeated Siena, 60-44 in Olean, will wind up its regular season against Villanova and then begins play in the National Invitational Tournament.

The key point that led to the upset was the bottling up of Bob Sassone, usually the Bonnie's leading scorer, by Siena's defensive specialist, Bill Rapaney. Sassone netted only two baskets and two foul shots for six points.

The score was tied nine times during the contest but Siena always managed to draw ahead. Billy Harrell led the Loudonville quintet as he scored 16 points and dribbled out the clock in the closing seconds to insure the victory.

For the Bonnies Leo Corkery hooked in 16 points and Paul Nolan, in a fruitless attempt to add the much needed spark, added 12.

St. Bonaventure closed the regular season schedule by dropping its fifth game in the last eight starts by a 66-59 score to Villanova College before a sellout crowd of 8,400 in the Penn Palestra.

The Brown Indians led throughout, until Steve Gepp tallied to put Villanova ahead, 56-55 with 4:42 left. Then the Wildcats added two quick baskets to take a five point bulge. The Bonnies could not cut their deficit to less than three points thereafter.

Bona's, on the strength of a scorching hand by Solinsky, raced to a 24-12 edge in the first ten minutes. Then Villanova began to shave the Brown Indians head. The Wildcats closed the gap to 30-34 at the half, and trailed by six, 45-51 after three quarters. Then the roof literally fell in as Villanova outscored the Bonnies 21 to 8 in the final ten minutes.

Solinsky with 15 points and Corkery's 14 were best individual outputs.

ST. BONA'S vs

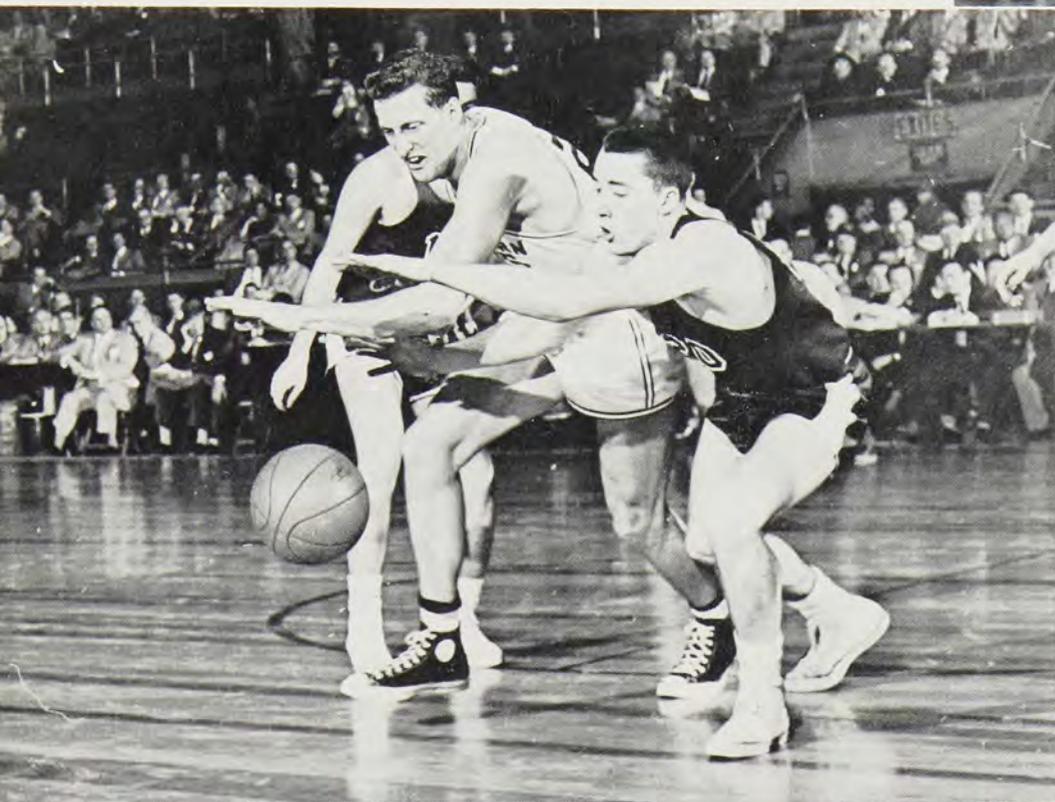

St. Bona's 70 W. Kentucky 69

St. Bonaventure's greatest basketball team, the 1951-52 edition of the Brown Indians, was invited to the National Invitation Tournament for the second straight year. And this year's cagers, under the guidance of Coach Eddie Melvin, reached the heights in St. Bonaventure's sports history by being seeded third and by fulfilling their pre-tourney ranking.

Sellout crowds witnessed the Garden spectacle as the Brown Indians won 2 out of 3 games, defeating Western Kentucky in the quarter-finals, losing to Dayton in the semi-finals, and whipping Duquesne in the consolation game the final night.

This Bonaventure team established itself in New York as a definite basketball power—a small school with a great team and a huge following.

Seeded third in the pairings, the Brown and White cagers drew a bye in the opening round. Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers, winners over Louisville in the opening round, were their opponents in the quarter-finals; and they gave the Bona

St. Bona's 62 Dayton 69

Sassone, leading Brown Indian scorer during the season and an All-Tourney first team choice, led the winners with 17 points, followed closely by Solinsky with 12 and Edwards with 10.

Thursday night found over 500 Bona rooters in the stands for the semi-finals—and it also found a towering Dayton quintet which had upset St. Louis 2 nights earlier.

hopes a jolt in the first half by taking an 11-point lead. Bona's closed the gap near the end of the halfway mark and trailed 38-34.

Putting on one of the greatest single quarter exhibitions in Garden history, the Melvin-men rang up 12 straight points to lead after two and a half minutes of play in the second half 44-39. Unstoppable after this, the victors increased the lead to 58-41 before the quarter ended.

But Western was still in the game. Bona's went into a semi-freeze, trying to hold on to the ball as much as possible. Repeatedly, the Hilltoppers, who were defeated earlier in the regular season by Bona's, stole the ball and cut the lead to 1 point with 10 seconds left. The Westerners grabbed a loose ball, but a desperation shot at the gun failed, and Bona's won 70-69.

Bona's grabbed an early lead and had their followers rocking the rafters. But the Flyers, their entire attack built around their giant 6-7 All-American, Don Meineke, started to hit from all angles and couldn't be stopped. Bona's last hopes faded when their big men, Edwards, Gorman, and Corkery, fouled out. Down at one stage by as much as 17 points, the Brown Indians gave it everything they had and fought up to the gun to make the final tally 67-60.

All the scouting reports had said Dayton couldn't hit from the outside, so Coach Melvin had the Brown Indians use a collapsing defense to bottle up Meineke. Edwards did a yoe-man job until fouls hurt him, but while this was going on, the Flyers were making one-handers from all over the court to pull ahead. Kenville played a terrific game to lead Bona's with 22 points, while Meineke topped the Flyers with 25.

Bonaventure wasn't the only team to be disappointed in the semi-finals: their Saturday night opponent, top-seeded Duquesne, fell to the eventual winners, LaSalle. So on Saturday it was Bona's and Duquesne in the consolation game. Ironically, when they had played earlier in the season, with the Duke winning, it was the battle between the only remaining unbeaten teams in the country. As one sportswriter put it: "Before it was the battle of the unbeaten; now it's the battle of the disillusioned."

An SRO crowd of over 18,000 was on hand expecting to watch the Dukes repeat their earlier win—all, that is, with the exception of the determined Bona team and Coach Eddie Melvin.

Flashing their early-season form, which had netted them 16 straight victories, Bona's couldn't be denied as they opened with fury and took an early 10-4 lead. Their defense was great, especially on the Duke's 2 stars, Tucker and Ricketts. A starry-eyed crowd sat and gaped as the Melvin-men increased the lead to 6, 10, 12, and then 15 points. Desperately, the Dukes fought but it was no go. Bona's had them running in circles, and when the final gun sounded, Bona's had an unbelievable 48-31 victory. Kenville and Corkery outscored the Duquesne team between themselves with 19 and 16 points respectively. Tucker ended up with 11, whereas Ricketts had only 2 foul shots to show for the night.

It was a great ending of a great season for the Bona cagers. The team was somewhat sorry after the Duquesne win—sorry that the game wasn't played for the championship. But there will be other years. Now Bona's has the name, thanks to Coach Melvin and the 1951-52 basketball team.

*F*OR THE FINEST IN YEARBOOKS...

HAVE YOU NOTICED how many colleges and universities are turning to Keller's for their yearbooks? Keller's refinement of the lithography method of printing, VELVATONE, means more pictures, better layout design and needle-sharp fidelity in picture reproduction. Famous, too, are Keller's service organization and creative team. A service representative will gladly call to discuss your yearbook plans.
