DEDICATION

IN THIS, ITS NINETY-NINTH YEAR DEVOTED TO HIGHER EDUCATION, THE SENIOR CLASS HUMBLY DEDICATES
THIS BOOK TO THE SPIRIT OF ST. BONAVENTURE UNIVERSITY.

Portrait of St. Bonaventure

*Dusty classrooms . . .
shuffling feet along the halls
that lead to learning;
A holy hush . . .
in a booklined sanctuary
that houses treasures,
earthly and sublime;
A juke box blaring . . .
coffee and cokes
in a smoke filled room;
With sunshine and shadows playing on the hills and valleys;
Brown robes — sandals — habits — black. White and blue — landscaping this paradise
Of tall pines, flowers and fountains;
The ever present Francis keeping watch;
Mingling in spirit with us — his lowly brethren privileged to walk in his dear footsteps
In this Old-World, Other-Worldly atmosphere, where one can reach out anywhere and touch divinity
'Mid scenes and folks so tensely human . . .
this is the focal point . . .
the great prerogative of St. Bonaventure
The marriage of the spirit and the flesh.*

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

St. Bonaventure University

St. Bonaventure, New York

My dear Graduates:

In your college days with us you have learned to know us intimately with our Franciscan ideals and ideas.

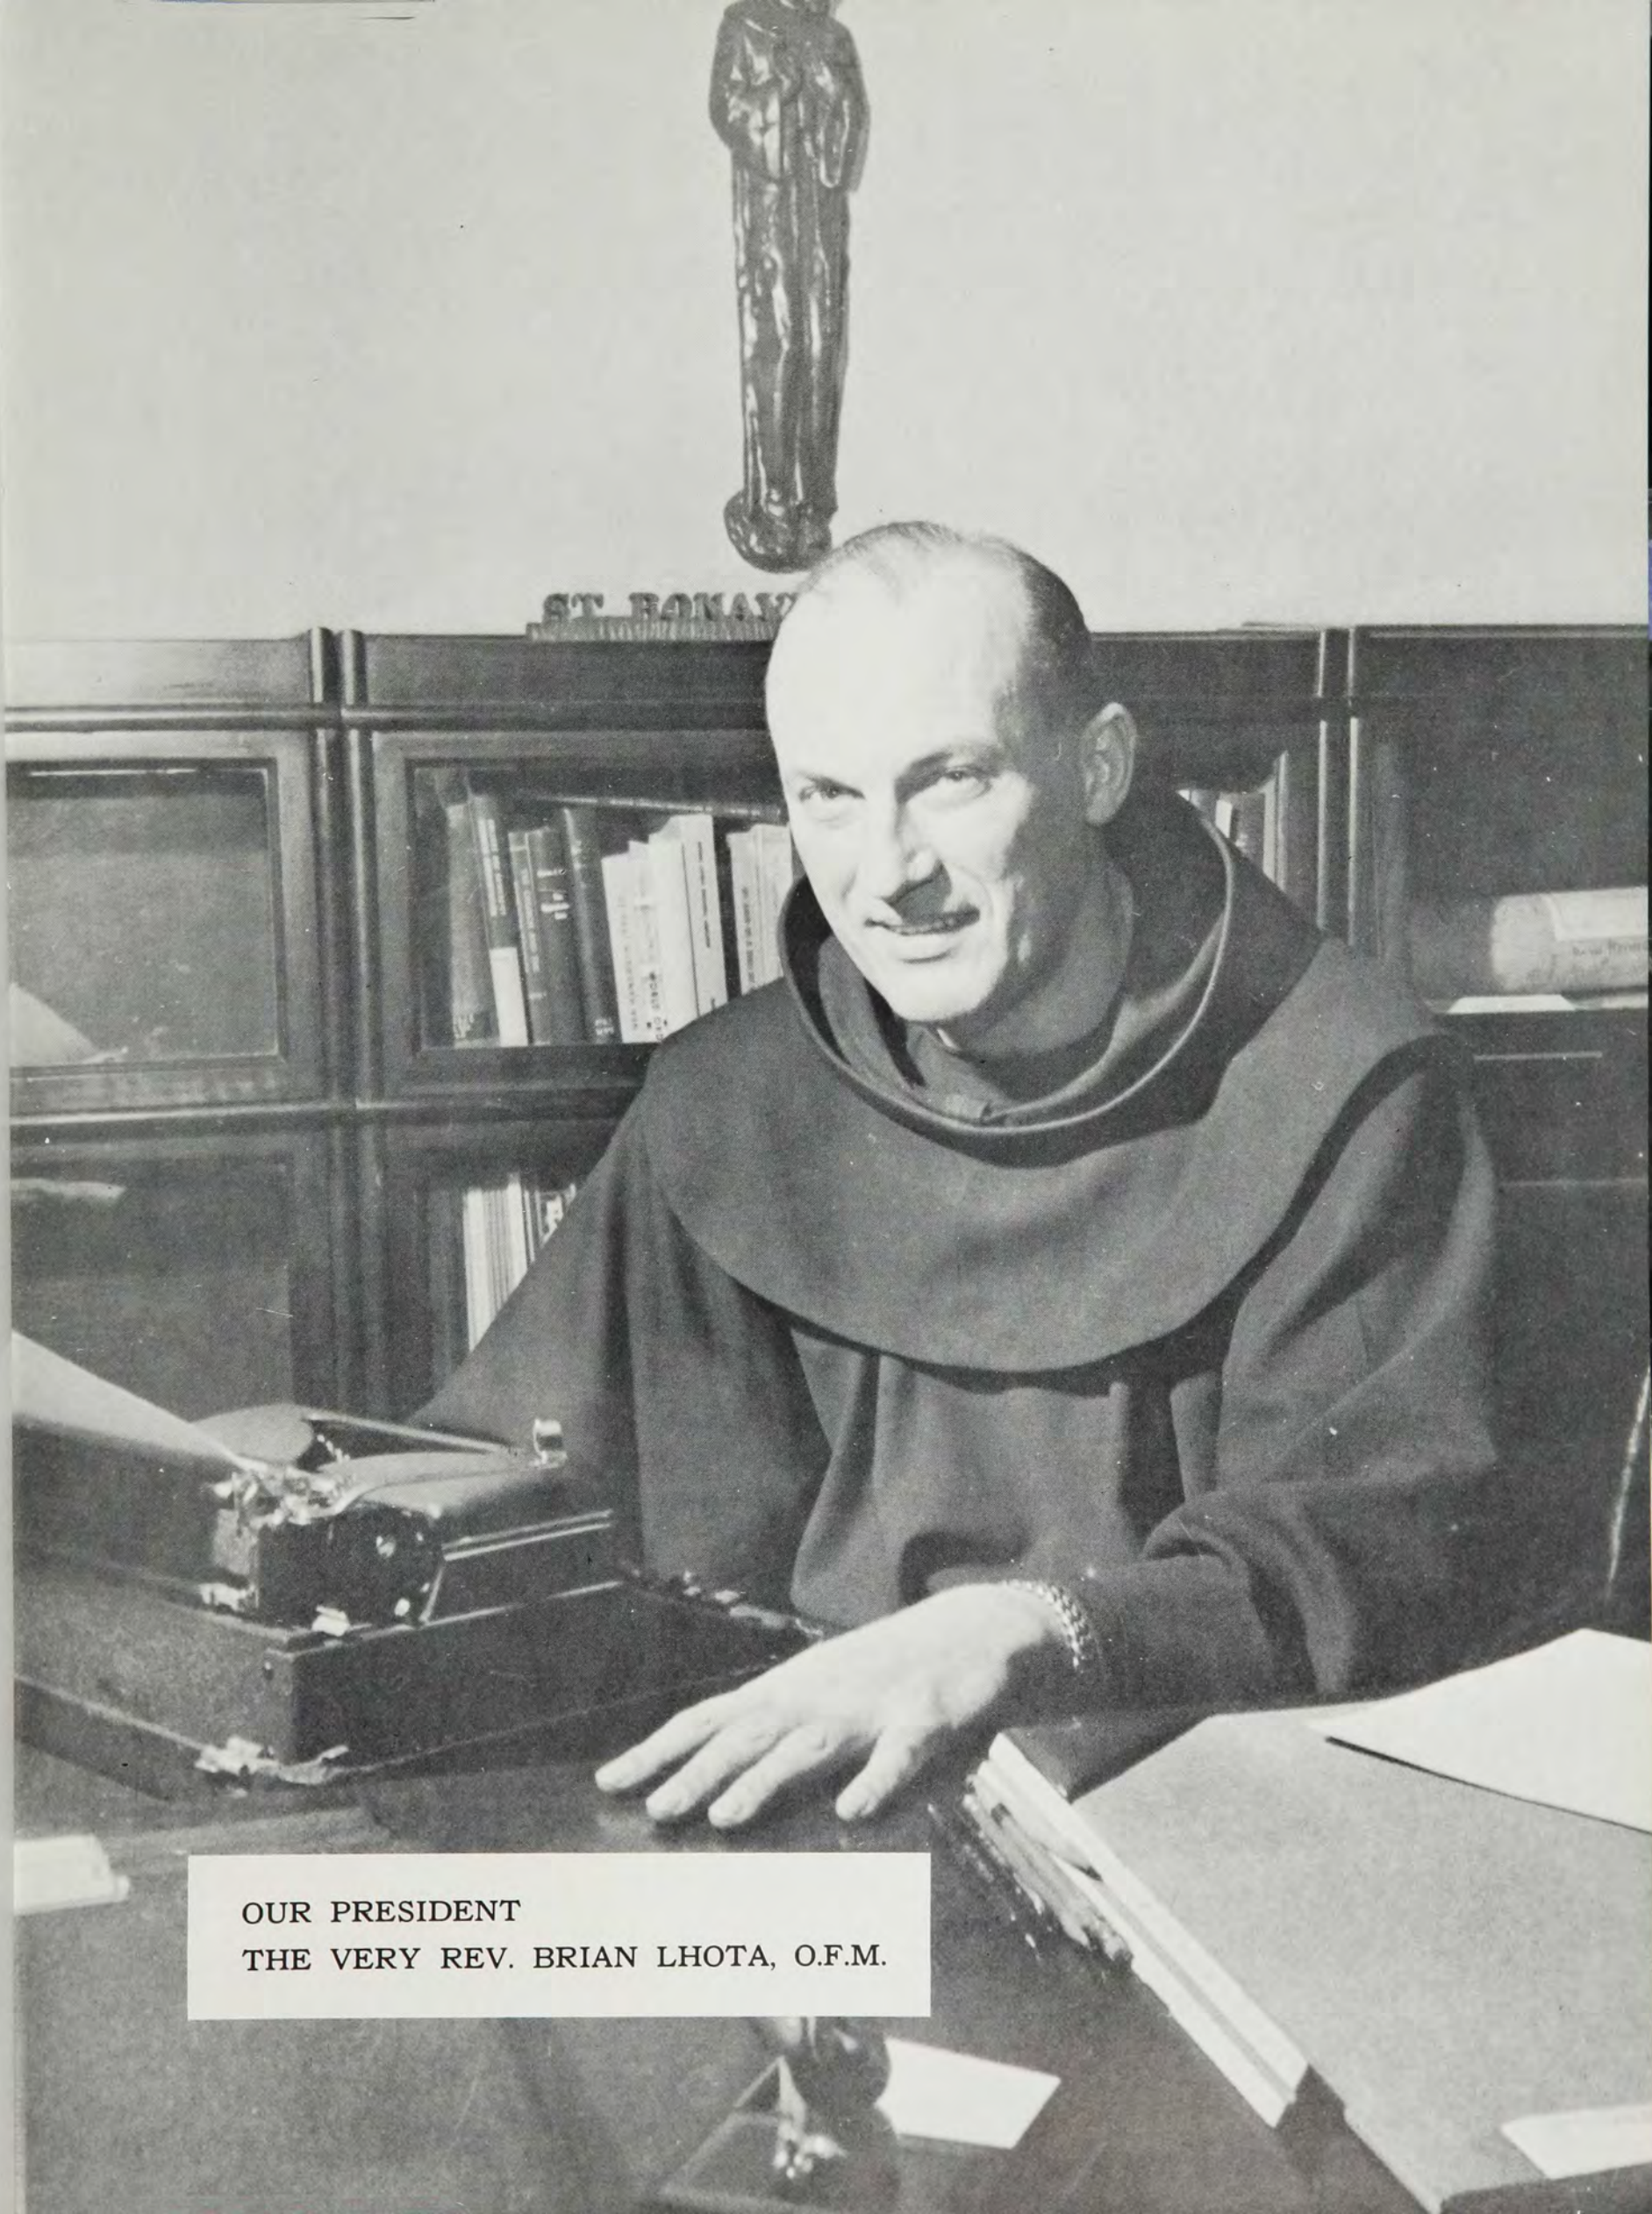

With everything at our command we have endeavored to inspire you to the very heights of human development and self-realization. We have directed our efforts not to a partial or a one-sided but to a full realization of your personality "in sanctitate et doctrina."

Commencement Day will be a joyful end of your days with us. As you receive your diploma the joy of your success will fill our hearts with joy. Together with your dear ones we shall be proud for you will reflect honor on your Alma Mater as you represent us before the world "in sanctitate et doctrina."

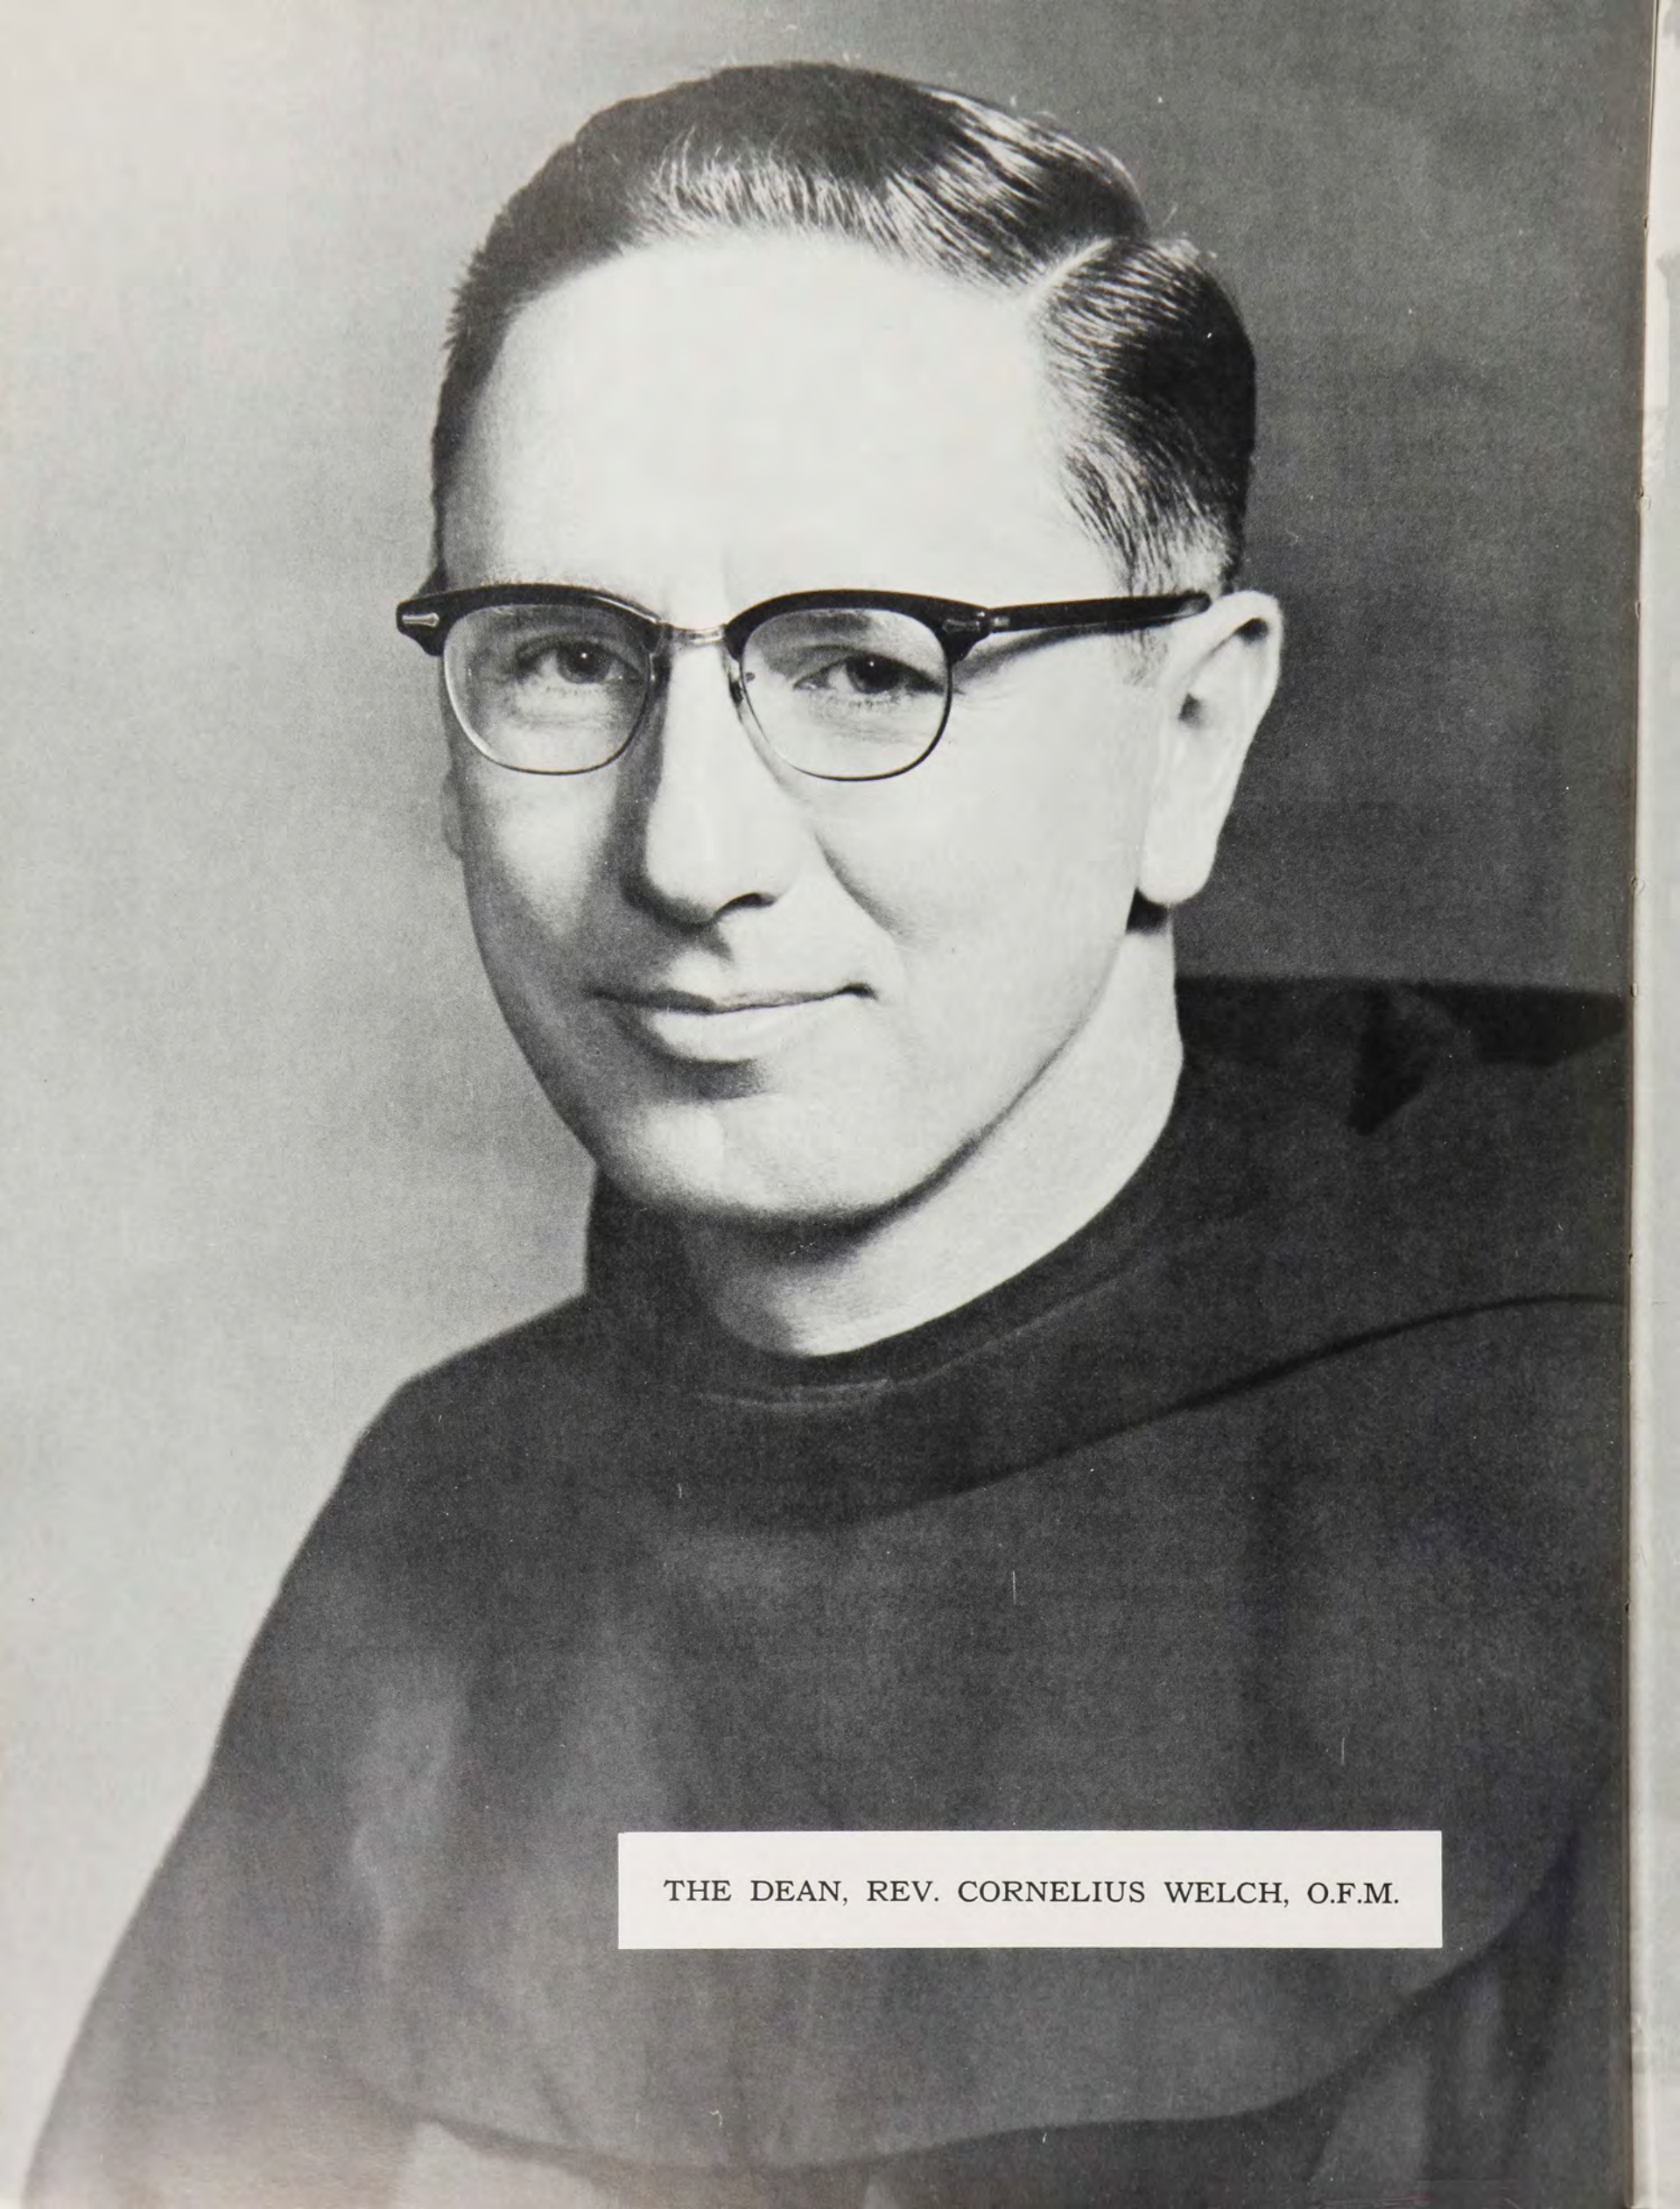

I offer you the sincere congratulations of all, together with our prayerful best wishes. Our constant prayer for you will be the Blessing of St. Francis: "The Lord bless thee and keep thee; may He show His face to thee and have mercy on thee; may He turn His countenance to thee and give thee peace."

Sincerely in St. Bonaventure,

Brian Lhota, O. F. M.

HISTORY OF THE

SENIOR SENATORS. Stephen Bush, Peter Zambito, Ronald Mega, John Leary.

September, 1953 . . .

We came from many places and many things. Some came from the factory bench or the separation center, while others arrived from a lazy summer after commencement's flattery. And so, with high hopes, varsity sweaters, white bucks, etc., we arrived to find our place in the sun—or rain, or fog, or snow—of St. Bonaventure's 500 acres of learning.

Most of us met roommates, but all of us met sophomores and senators. They told us about Rules and Hazing and many of us began to fear the worst. Then in early October, our Reign of Terror was realized.

Education is, in many respects, only another word for discovery. And we found that our education was not limited to De La Roche and Friedsam Memorial. Yes, for the most part, our courses were interesting and informative; but, so too was our life outside the classroom.

This extra-curricular activity was well supported by the class of 1957. All of this helped to produce the birth of the Off-Campus Club for day students, the resurrection of the university radio station, WOFM, and a revised format of The Laurel magazine.

Rules dragged on and so did we. But we looked forward to a brief respite in the form of a Sports Dance scheduled for November 6th. We were promised girls galore from D'Youville, Rosary Hill Colleges, but a sixteen inch snowfall produced a painful scarcity of women.

Dinks and ties were shelved as memories and we were soon on our way home for a much-longed-for Thanksgiving vacation. On our return we learned of the death of our Dean of Studies, Rev. Vincent Divine, O.F.M., who was succeeded by the Rev. Brian Duffy.

Early in December we held elections for class officers. John Durr was selected as President, Jack Leary, Vice President, with Vin Zullo as Secretary and Sam Boles as Treasurer.

After Christmas vacation, basketball and last minute cramming occupied most of our free time. This was coach Eddie Donovan's first year at Bonaventure and he guided a memorable team. A member of this team was Mal Duffy who broke three existing records culminating in his 36 point score over Ithaca College. And towards the end of the season a bus excursion to N.Y.C. sponsored by the National Federation of Catholic College Students ended in watching St. Bonaventure defeat Seton Hall in a close game. The score — 63 - 60.

The close of our Freshman year was marked by a procession as students gathered in Forness Stadium to salute the Blessed Mother in her Marion year.

Our sophomore year was begun under the leadership of John Durr who had been re-elected President. Henry Herfel was Vice President, with Vin Zullo, Secretary and Sam Boles, Treasurer. Jim Luke, John Leary and Pete Zambito were elected to the senate.

Early in October WOFM inaugurated the first annual Fall Festival. Now that we were sophomores the frosh were made to strut in p.j.'s forming a pre-festival parade which included the band, drill team, coeds and convertibles.

On the more serious side, Bonaventure played host to nine debating teams. The recognition of Red China proved a thorny topic for that discussion.

End men were back in style when the Men's Chorus, assisted by the coeds and Paddy Ryan revived the minstrel show for a two day stint in Olean. Their great success established the Music Department at Bonaventure.

Our sophomore year saw the fruition of an important project on campus. With the completion of two new residence halls, the temporary barracks were hauled down. To supply the much-needed curtains for Falconio and Robinson Halls, the President of the University, The Rev. Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., appealed to the students for help. Various committees were formed culminating in the Inter-Fraternity Council's Drape Drag in Olean.

Coach Eddie Donovan's Brown Indians once again captured our interest during the long winter months. This was the year when Mal Duffy entered the realm of the chosen few by scoring over 1,000 points in his collegiate career.

CLASS OF 1957

In May, the Journalism Department once again sponsored High School Press Day. More than a thousand secondary school students and guests heard James Hagerty, the Presidential news secretary, as the official speaker.

Late in the year we held elections. Stan Pylipow was chosen to head the class during junior year, with Bob Zuger as vice president. Carol Stark took over the post as secretary and Vince LaPorta was treasurer. Ron Mega, Pete Zambito and Jim Luke were elected to the senate.

Headlines in The Bona Venture announced that Jim Moran and Jack Carlin were chosen Prom Chairmen for 1956. This was only the beginning of the many headaches they faced to bring us the most successful weekend in Bonaventure's history.

The fall of our junior year was begun under a new administration. The Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., was installed as our 13th president, with the Rev. Cornelius Welch, O.F.M., as Dean of the University and Rev. Simeon Capizzi, O.F.M., as Dean of Discipline.

In late October, St. Bonaventure played host to a N.F.C.C.S. convention. The weekend proved to be a smashing success for as it turned out, most of the delegates were girls.

A nice surprise greeted everyone on campus the morning we picked up the paper in the Small Cafe to find that St. Bonaventure had received a substantial grant from the Ford foundation. A second surprise occurred when word was received that the tuition was boosted from $14. to $17. a credit hour effective for the following year.

When pictures of pretty girls flooded the pages of The Bona Venture we knew that once again it was Prom time. Our theme was "Southern Melody," our band was Charlie Spivak's. The "Man who plays the sweetest trumpet in the world" officiated at the crowning of Queen Julie Murphy of New Jersey who was escorted by Tony Coppola.

Senior year, and for most of us this meant the termination of our formal education. The class elected Tom Minnock as our final president and Vince Zullo as vice president. Carol Stark and Vince La Porta retained their posts as secretary and treasurer. Pete Zambito gained the presidency of the Student Senate with Ron Mega, Jack Leary and Steve Bush assisting as the other senior members.

Soon after we were back on campus the senior class held a highly successful picnic. This was closely followed by the Fall Festival, which was also sponsored by the seniors.

We saw many changes taking place during our last year at Bonaventure. After much controversy, hazing was formally abolished; but rules remained. We also saw senior privileges extended for the entire year, the leveling of "diaper row," a new hi-fi system installed in the dining hall, and cinemascope movies in the gym.

While election fever was sweeping the country, the B.V. conducted a poll querying faculty and students on their White House choice for the next four years. The school went as did the nation — Ike and Dick over Adlai and Estes.

November was also noted for its Military Ball. Under the leadership of chairmen Pat Pelligrini and Bob Zuger the Bartlett Country Club provided a perfect setting for a wonderful dance.

Enthusiasm burned as a hot coal bursting into flames as Capt. Brenden McCann guided the ball team through many games. Exultation swept the "Aud" as Canisius bowed to the Bonnies; pandamonium broke loose in the "chow" hall when we accepted our bid to the N.I.T. The team had done a great job and we were proud of them.

As our final year rapidly came to an end we began to realize that we would soon have to apply those principles learned in and out of the classroom to our way of life. And we began to see that our major field of study was important, not only intrinsically, but also as a path of discovery for our future life. This then was our education.

STUDENT

The Student Senate is the representative organization of the student body. Comprised of ten members, it serves to regulate and coordinate student activities within the scope of the University.

It acts as a student-administration liaison and often is the stimulus for activities which involve the entire student body such as the underprivileged children's Christmas party, pep rallies, Moving Up Day and other large student demonstrations.

The Board of Managers is a subcommittee of the senate which is primarily concerned with the coordination of student social activities. It has jurisdiction over the use of university facilities or the university name for all social activities.

LAUREL

LAUREL EDITORS. P. O'Dea, S. Salvadori, P. Costa, R. Harrington.

The Laurel, St. Bonaventure's literary magazine was founded in June, 1898, by the late Archbishop Paschal Robinson. In his own words The Laurel strives, "to aid the students in their literary labors." The Laurel is a quarterly publication produced by the students of St. Bonaventure University. Students on the staff are drawn from the undergraduates of the University. They serve as editors, writers, artists, and they are also concerned with circulation and production.

LAUREL STAFF. Seated: J. Butzow, R. Harrington, R. O'Brien, H. Tessandori. Standing: V. O'Connor, M. Wickert, A. Purcell, M. Avella, L. Prisco.

The Bona

To promote the interests and ideals

EDITORIAL STAFF. E. Reiter, T. Buonocore, R. Dubill, R. Joyce, P. Wolfeich.

The weekly newspaper, the Bona Venture offers journalism majors and other qualified students an opportunity to gain practical journalistic experience.

Founded in 1926 as the St. Bona Venture, the staff can proudly show a list of awards won in intercollegiate competition each year. High School Press Day, formally sponsored by the Journalism Department each year, offers the staff an opportunity to pass on some of its experience to aspiring journalism students.

Accurate reporting, constructively critical editorials and timely feature articles are all combined in a fashion that has won a wide reputation in intercollegiate circles.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF. P. Costa and former Editor-in-Chief A. Purcell.

WOFM, "The voice of St. Bonaventure", was reorganized in 1952 after a lapse of inactivity for a number of years.

Broadcasting on a wavelength of 670 kilocycles, the broadcasting beam is restricted to the area of the campus by the F.C.C. The station features eight hours of programs each day suited to fit the tastes of all Bonaventure men, including news, music features and timely interviews.

The station boasts luxurious facilities of the former press box of Forness Stadium and is financed principally by advertising income from the local and national scene.

DELTA SIGMA CHI

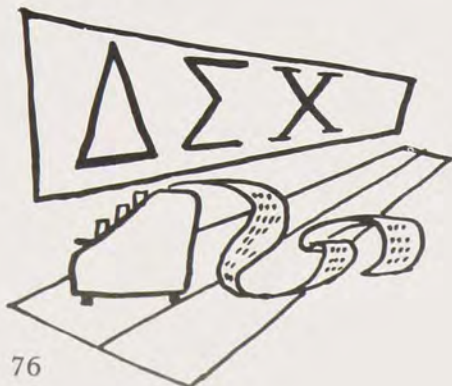

This organization was originally founded in 1937 when students of the School of Commerce sought to establish and continue a harmonious relationship through promotion of its intellectual and spiritual activities. Some time after the war they became affiliated with the national fraternity, Delta Sigma Pi. Then in March, 1955, the body of members agreed to withdraw from this affiliation, changing their name to Delta Sigma Chi. The fraternity is composed of those students enrolled in the School of Business who have qualified by passing the initiation program.

This year Delta Sigma Chi has participated in the annual Fall Festival, and has sponsored their initiation banquet and a number of socials.

One of the largest organizations on the campus scene, the Met Club boasts nearly seventy active members each year. Primarily a social club, the highlight of its annual activities is its annual Christmas Dance at the Biltmore Hotel.

Beer socials, picnics and parties round out a lively year for the metropolitanites. This year, during the National Invitation Tournament, the club formed a nucleus for the Bonaventure supporters to organize their activities in the New York City area. The display of spirit in Madison Square Garden during the tournament games captured the hearts of all New Yorkers.

IOTA DELTA ALPHA

This fraternity traces its founding to the Rev. James Dolan, O.F.M., who on March 14, 1892, established the literary society which bore his name. This fraternity, known as the James Dolan Literary Association, formerly adopted its Greek letters in 1926, from which time it has been known as the Iota Delta Alpha.

Prospective members are drawn from students pursuing the Arts who have successfully completed the comprehensive initiation program. Iota Delta Alpha strives to cultivate those intellectual and spiritual qualities towards the production of the whole man.

During the course of the year Iota Delta Alpha has sponsored the Cinema Club which brings worthwhile movies to the student body. The fraternity has also participated in the Fall Festival, and sponsored a lecture series, the annual initiation banquet, the highly entertaining "Roaring Twenties" party, and several socials.

ALPHA KAPPA MU

Founded on October 17, 1915, this organization has actively functioned for forty-one years and is the oldest continuous fraternity on the St. Bonaventure campus. Membership in the Alpha Kappa Mu is restricted to those students enrolled in the School of Science who have successfully completed the program of initiation. And, thus, the purpose of this fraternity is to generate a genuine interest in the field of science, while promoting a high standard of Christian ideals.

This year the fraternity has participated in the Fall Festival, and has sponsored its annual initiation banquet along with several successful socials.

OFF-CAMPUS CLUB

The Off-Campus Club is the instrument by which the day hop students are encouraged to participate in the extra-curricular activities and serves as the focal point for their social activities among their own group.

Traditionally one of the most active groups on the campus scene, the organization sponsors dances, dinners and Communion Breakfasts several times during the course of the academic year. In addition, the club participates in the Fall Festival, the annual Children's Christmas Party, Moving Up Day and virtually all other integrated campus activities.

The 105 Club, in coordination with the Reserve Officers Training Corps offers a widely varied program of endeavor. Each year the rifle team rates among the best in the nation, winning over eighty percent of its matches against many of the leading universities across the land.

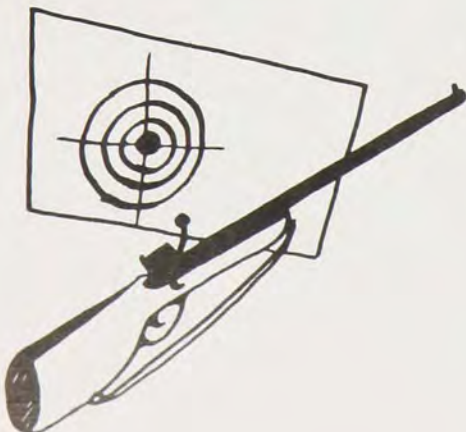

The drill team competes chiefly against area colleges and universities.

One of the social highlights of each academic year is the annual Military Ball presented by the 105 Club each November in full military honor and tradition.

ATHLETICS

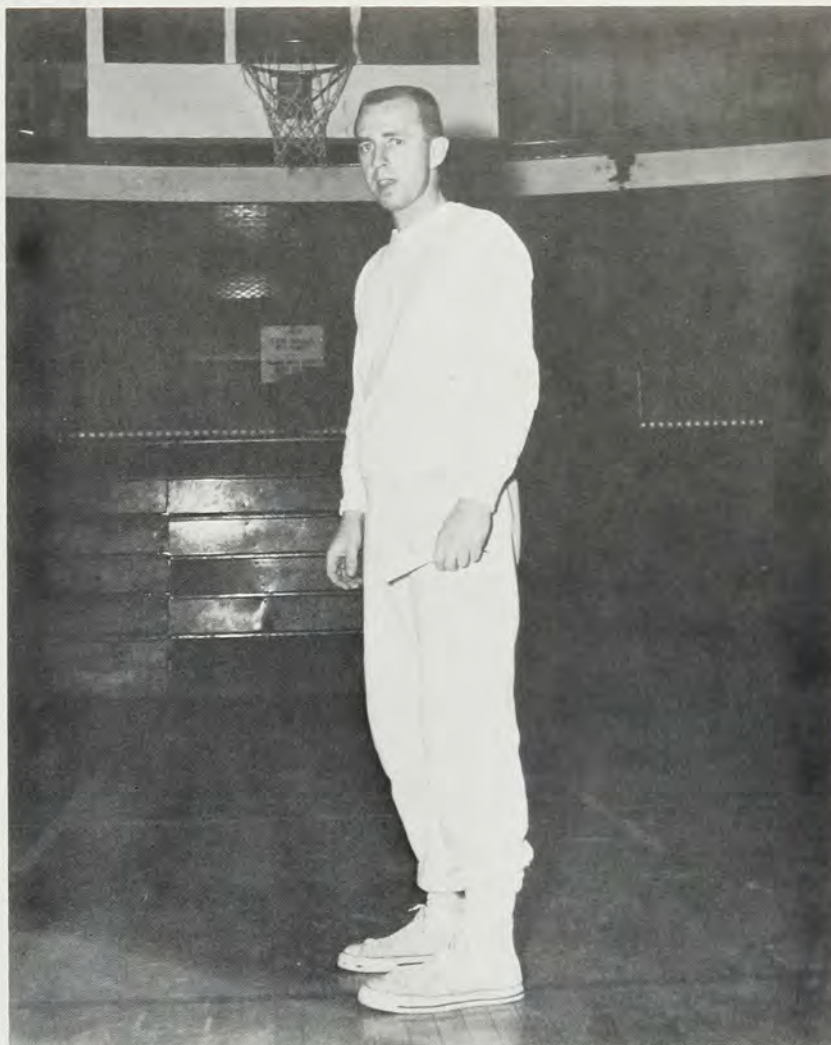

Rev. Walter Fox, O.F.M., Athletic Director

Seated at the desk above is one of the busiest men on campus. His activities range from English classes to directing the athletic program of the university with such odd jobs as ticket sales, schedule arrangements, the intramural program, and arranging game transportation for the basketball team, all found in a day's schedule.

With a quietness and modesty that would seem to belie his position on campus, Father Walter goes about each day efficiently tackling his duties, each one receiving the same careful attention whether it be the acceptance of a tournament bid or just a sophomore looking for an extra ticket to the Canisius game.

Another often overlooked feature of his directorship has been the passing of the minor sports of baseball and cross country and the intramural sports from the twilight into their full place on the local sports scene.

Basketball Coach Eddie Donovan

Now may we present one of the most prominent men in Bonaventure's recent rise to basketball fame. Eddie Donovan faced a tremendous rebuilding job when he first came back to his Alma Mater. In his first season it was a very green and inexperienced team that took to the hardwoods under a new coach. Still when the last "Swish" was heard in March, some four months later, the record stood at 12 - 11, posted against some of the toughest competition in the nation. The following year it was 13 - 11 and in our junior year we moved up a little further with a 14 - 12 mark for the season.

But this was all building up to the today's climax of this rebuilding that had been quietly taking place for a number of years . . . 15 - 5 for the regular season, including two consecutive overtime losses when Capt. Brendan McCann was hospitalized.

Stressing team play, fundamental basketball and a great defense, the Indians won a bid to the National Invitational Tournament.

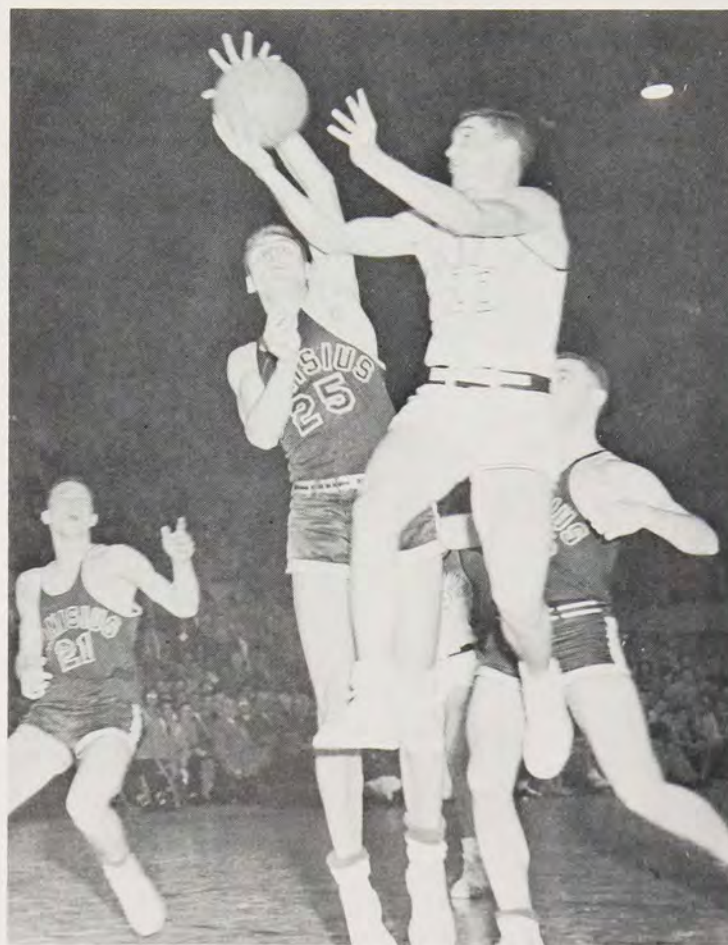

BASKETBALL

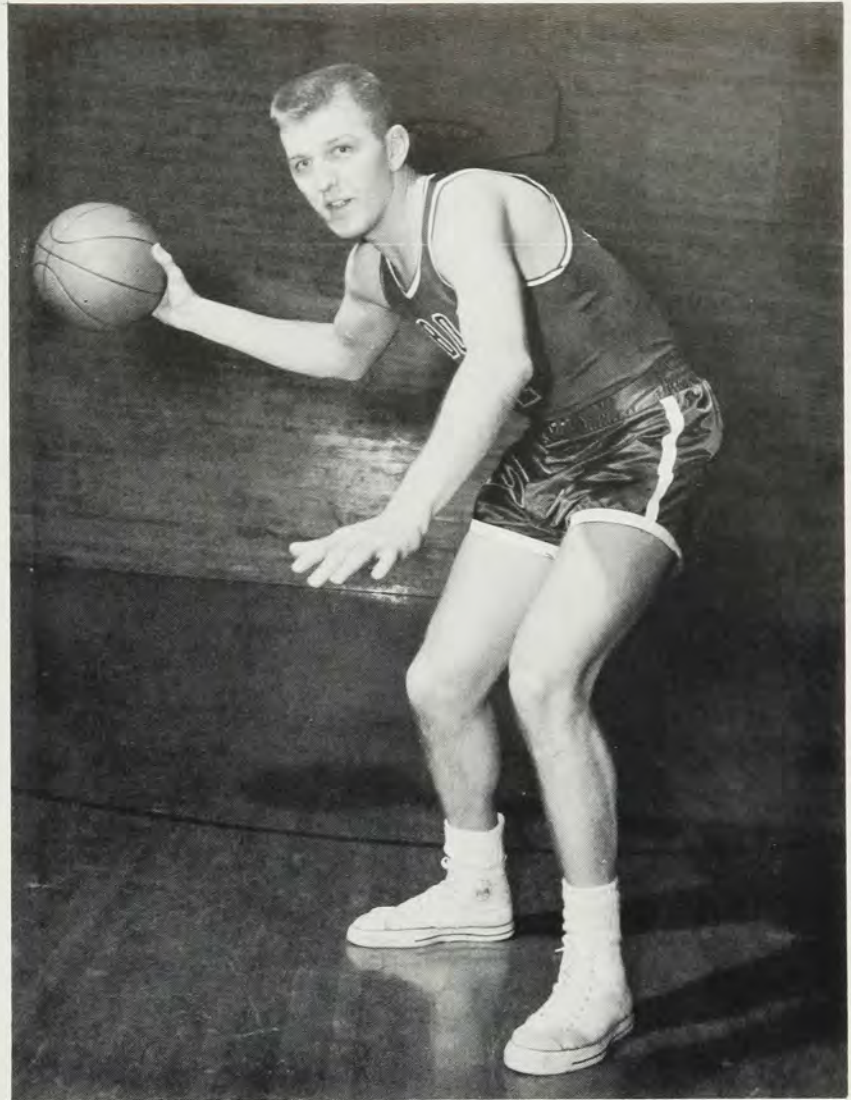

Brendan McCann climaxed a brilliant college career this season as captain and playmaker for the Brown Indians. The 6' 2" senior from Brooklyn, earned All-American Honorable Mention from the Associated Press but most basketball fans from Upstate New York rate him far higher than that.

Frequently he drew the dubious honor of guarding the opponent's top scorer. His deft blind passing and his three quarter court passes that were frequently the fuel for Bona's driving style, quickly won him the respect of every opposing ball club.

After ranking as the top scorer for the Bonnies in his junior year with an output of 376 points, he assumed the role of decoy and playmaker this season with the same competence that he earlier demonstrated as a scoring threat. This year he hit for 213 points in 18 games, while setting up team mates for more than an equal number of points.

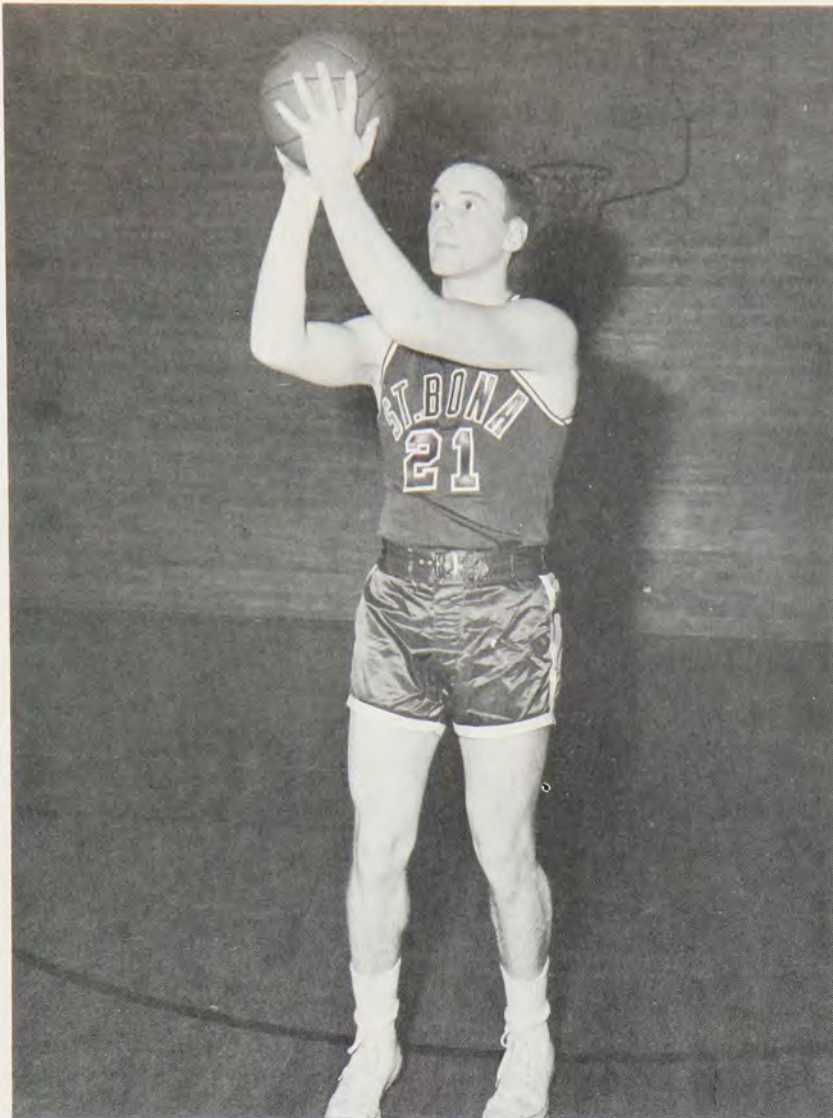

Gerry Olshefski, a 6' 5" senior from Hanover, Pennsylvania, was one of the two tallest men on this year's squad. Aggressiveness and hustle were his big characteristics as he scored 95 points and snagged 90 rebounds in 16 games.

His best performances this year were in the Little Three games, especially against Niagara when he turned in two great defensive performances in holding down the high scoring Boo Ellis of the Purple Eagles.

His size, coupled with his 190 pounds, gave the Bonnies some real power beneath the backboards for rebounds and Gerry was never adverse to using it to his advantage.

His best shot is a one-handed jump from just outside the foul line. From inside he is very accurate with a right hand hook shot. For three seasons of varsity ball his records are 276 points and 253 rebounds.

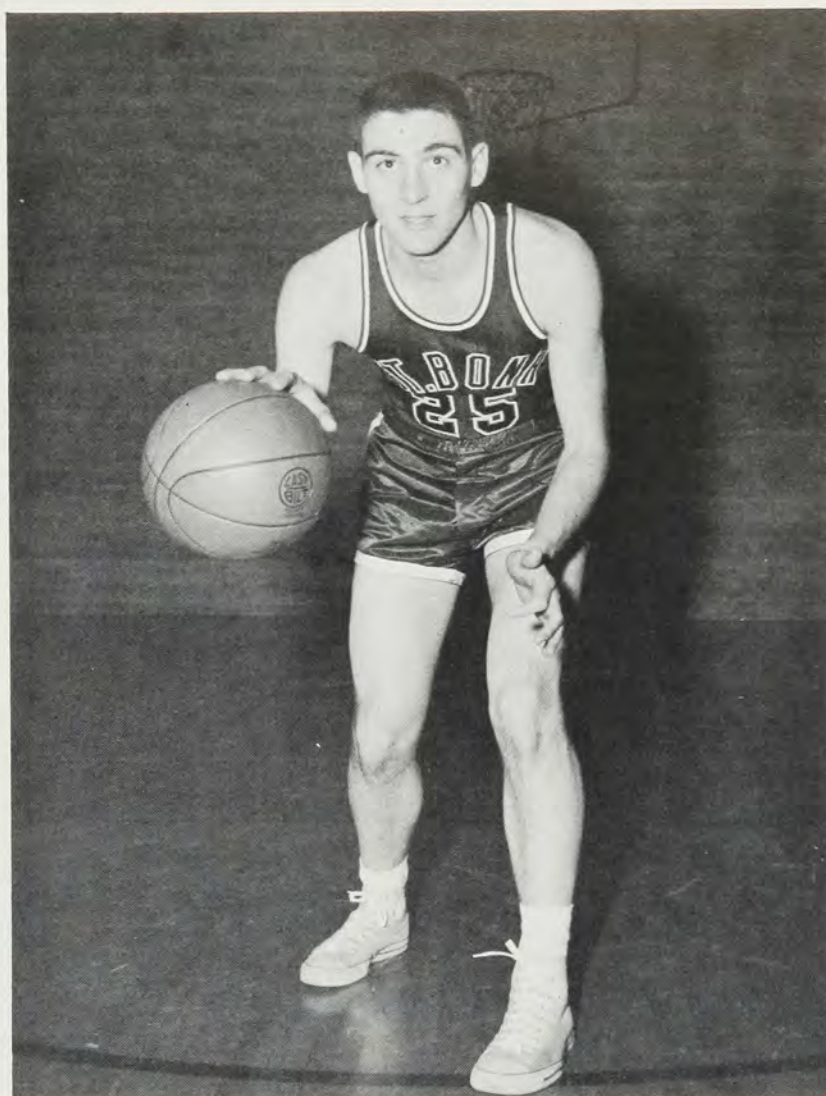

John Durr, a six footer from Utica, New York was the third senior on this year's squad. One of the members of the strong bench this season Jack is capable of playing any position and is a deft ball handler and strong driver.

After a season of freshman basketball, he was inactive for a year but his phenomenal rewriting of the intramural basketball record books earned him a chance for a varsity berth which he quickly nailed down.

Off court, John is a well rated student and will enter Seton Hall Dental School next fall. An active student leader, he served as class president in his freshman and sophomore years and has been active in the Alpha Kappa Mu science fraternity on campus.

Larry Weise, a 6' 0" junior from East Rochester, New York, rates as one of the best defensive men in the annals of Bonaventure basketball. A persistent ball hawk on the court, he usually manages at least several steals per game plus an equal number of intercepted passes.

An expert at working the "give and go" with McCann, Larry was the Brown Indians high scorer for the season with 279 points in twenty games. He is the possessor of an excellent outside set shot and rebounds well for his height. His performances against Niagara were two of the finest individual performances viewed in Memorial Auditorium this season.

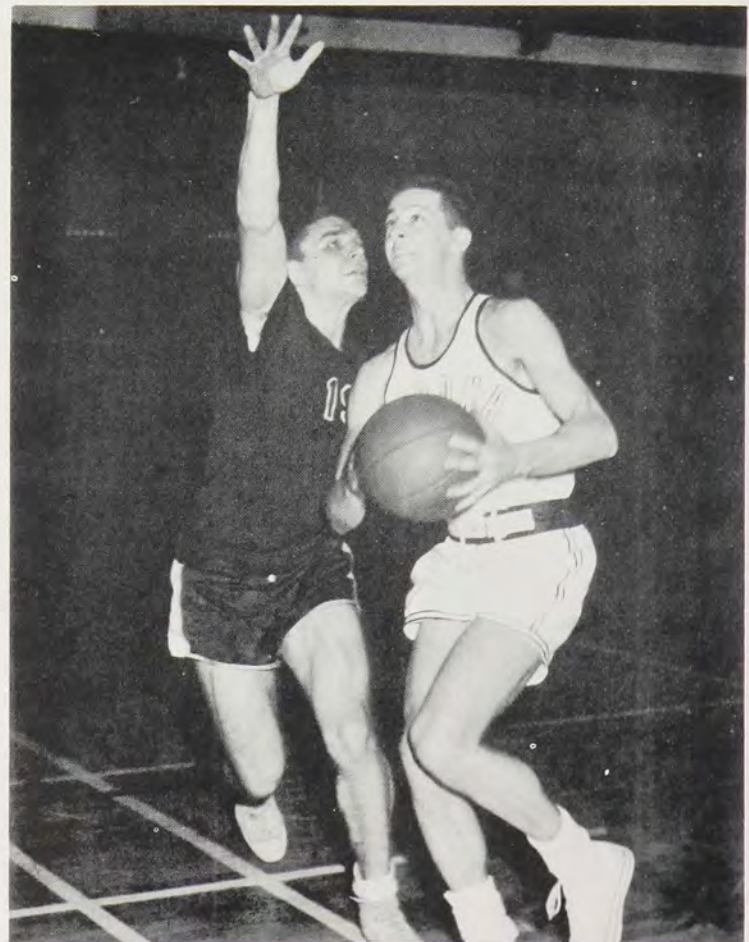

A physics major, Larry sets a high standard academically. He has earned a spot on the Dean's Honor List every semester since entering college.

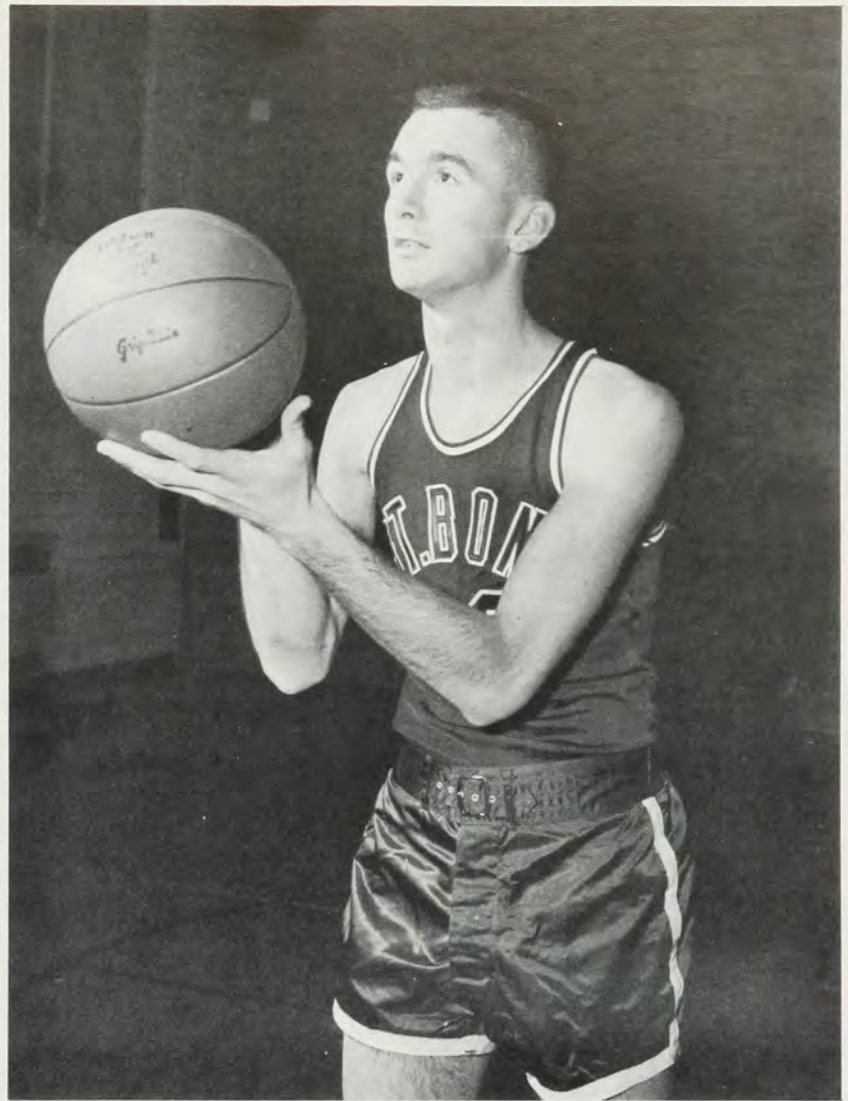

Jim Odell ranks as another reserve on the strong Bonaventure bench. A six foot junior from Maplewood, New Jersey, Jim possesses a good set shot and drives very well. He rates as a excellent jumper and often drops the ball over the rim on his drives despite his diminutive size in terms of basketball players.

Odell's speed and hustle have made him a valuable addition to the ball club. He stands as another reason why the Bonaventure fans are looking ahead to next season with confidence of another strong ball club.

A standout hoopster in high school, the scoring records he set while in New Jersey are still standing.

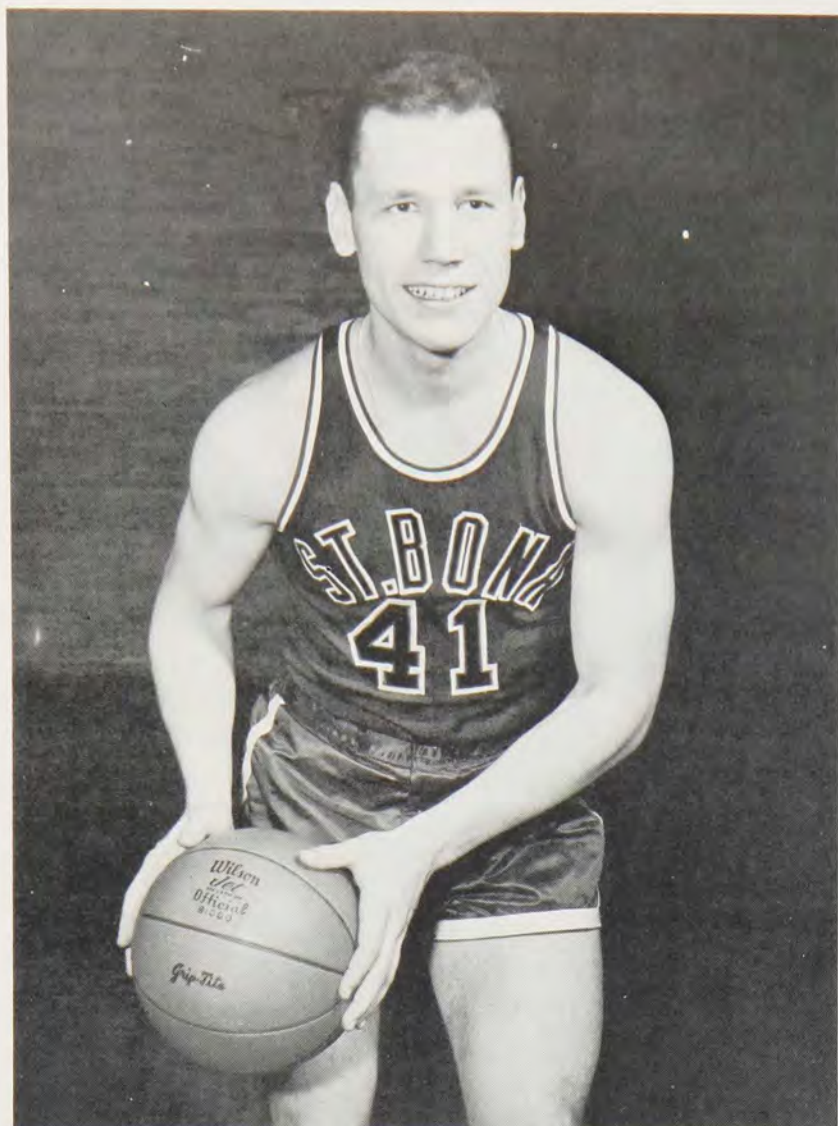

John Connors was one of the leading rebounders on the squad this year. He grabbed off 83 rebounds and tossed in 105 points while serving mostly in relief roles. His marked improvement this season played an important role in the Indians drive to their post-season tournament bid.

He turned in his best performance of the season in January against LeMoyne when he pumped in 21 points in the Bonnies first win over their Syracuse opponents. His average for the season was 8.4 points per game.

Besides his prowess on the court, Connors is also the top lefty hurler on the baseball squad and rates as a steady above average student in an Arts course.

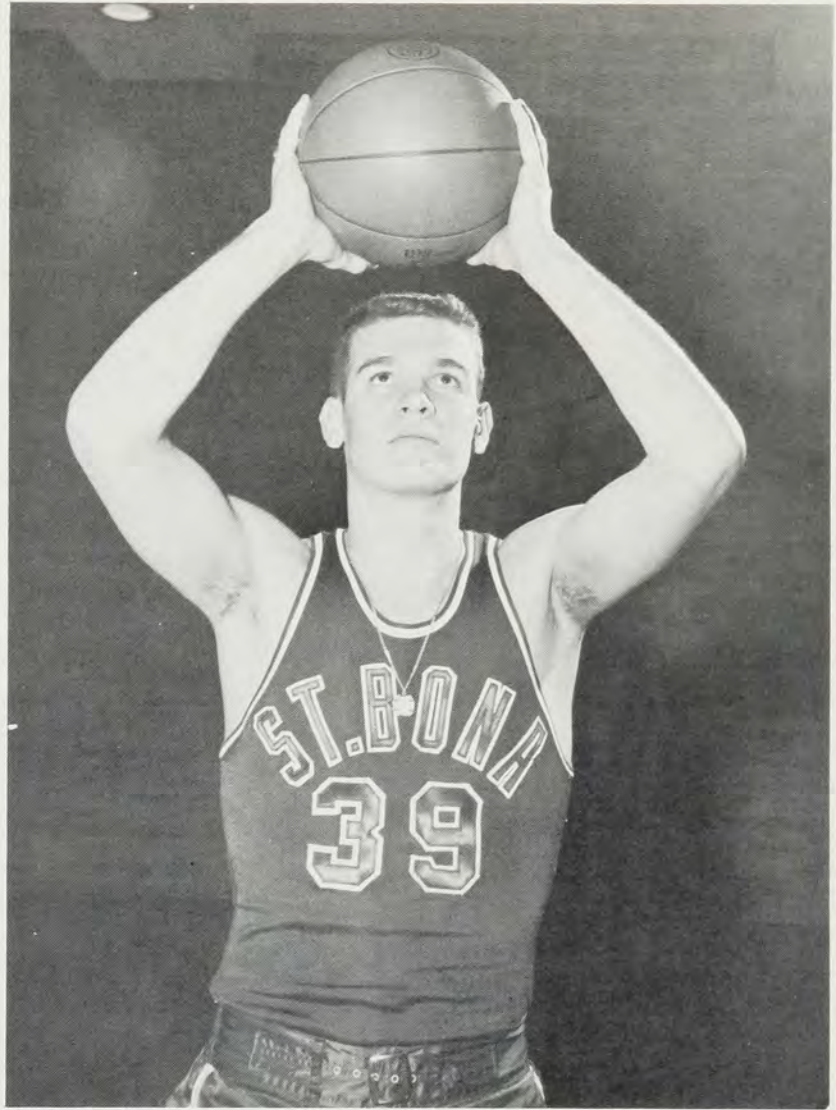

Here is another sophomore who really came through for the Brown and White this season. One of two soph starters, Don Newhook finished third in the scoring column this season with a total of 225 points in 20 games for an average of 11.25 points per game. His jump shot and his defensive ability made him an opponent to be reckoned with.

Don played his high school ball at Cardinal Hayes High and in 1955 earned a berth as a member of the All Metropolitan New York basketball team. Last year, with the frosh team, he ranked as the leading scorer.

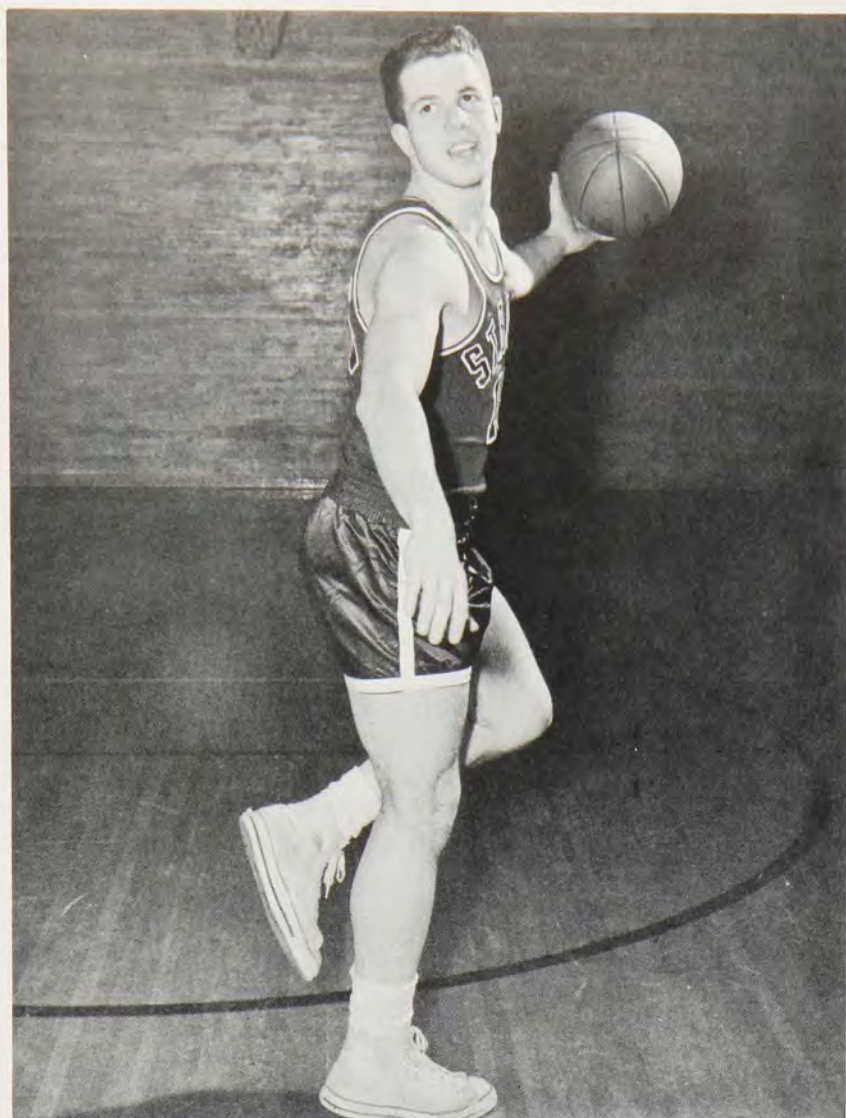

One of the chief holler guys of the Indians, Don is another ball hawker on the club who turns frequent steals and pass interceptions into quick baskets on fast breaks.

"The best sixth man in college basketball today." Those were some of the words of praise heaped upon the shoulders of slender Mike Schrauth by Coach Eddie Donovan this season. Mike had a specialty of coming in the game from the bench and spurting for double figures in the scoring column on several occasions this season when trouble developed for the Brown Indians. Some of his shots bordered on the phenomenal, drives and off balance shots which found the hoop with deadly accuracy despite their unconventional beginning.

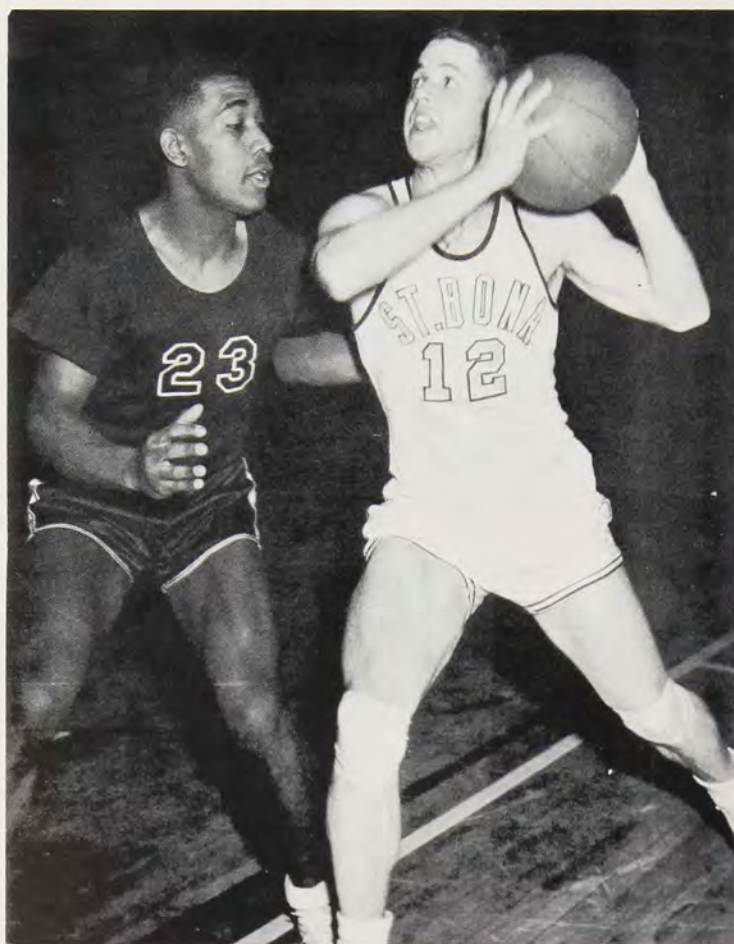

A 6'3" sophomore from Rockville Center, New York, Mike figures big in the future plans of Coach Donovan. He averaged 7.7 points per game, always in relief roles and took down 122 rebounds.

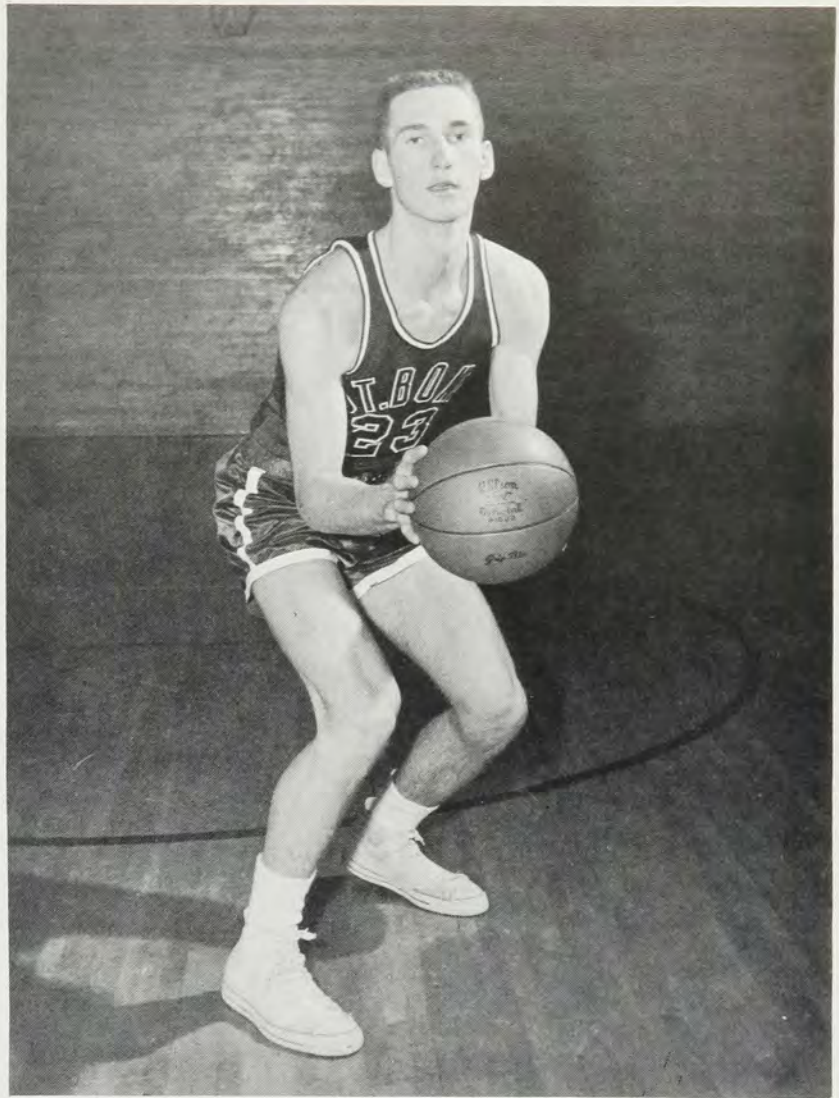

Another of the five talented sophomores who earned berths on the varsity this year is Lee Fitzpatrick. A southpaw with a sharp set shot and one of the best jump shots on the squad, he first attracted the attention of the local sports officials when he played against the Brown and White frosh team as a senior in high school at Hornell.

Last season he was a starter on the powerful frosh squad that won 17 of 20 games and he ranked right behind Don Newhook in the scoring department for the papooses.

A six footer, relatively short for basketball company, he also was an outstanding trackman for Hornell High and his speed aided the Brown Indians' whip-like fast break this season.

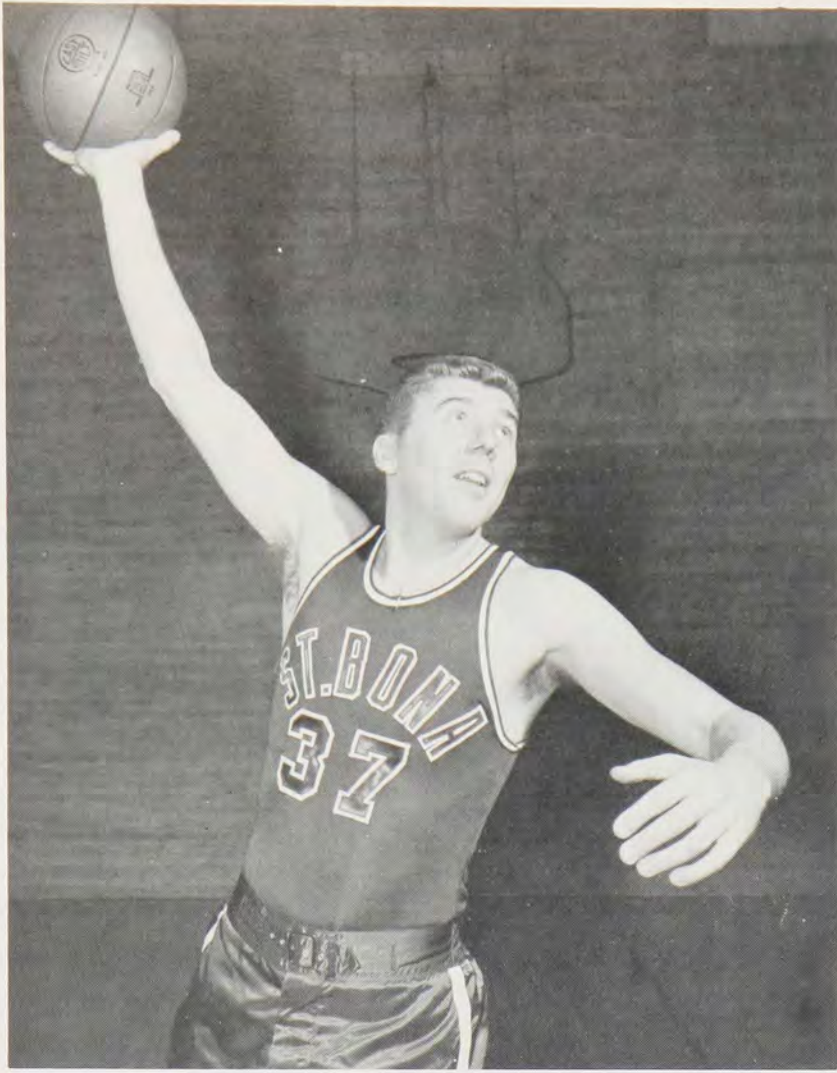

The old cliché, "local boy makes good," applies unerringly in the case of Kenny Fairfield, a 6' 3" product of nearby Hinsdale High School. The other of two sophomore starters on Donovan's quintet this year, Ken has demonstrated a deadly jump shot and has developed into a top flight defensive ball player.

He finished the season as the second highest scorer on the varsity with a total output of 268 points in 20 games for an average of 13.4 points per game.

An outstanding rebounder for his size, Fairfield depends upon coil-like legs to keep him up with the opponent's big men. He was a four sport letter winner in high school and still holds the New York State Section VI pole vault record which he set as a senior at Hinsdale.

Last but certainly not the least is the latest addition to the varsity quintet, Mike Cavalier, who joined the team when he became eligible for competition in January. At 6' 4" he added considerable rebounding and bench strength to the Indians.

A product of Manual High in Brooklyn, as is Brendan McCann, Mike was a star in the Armed Forces basketball competition with the Air Force. He was stationed in Japan and Korea and picked up a great deal of his basketball savy on the far side of the globe.

He appeared in six games during the regular season for the Bonnies and tallied a total of 42 points for an even seven points per game average.

Here is one of the ways in which the Brown Indians teamed up to stop Seattle's star, Elgin Baylor in the NIT quarter-finals. Brendan McCann (35) who had the job of staying in front of Baylor, was right there as Baylor (22) took the ball, dribbled and pivoted without finding an opening. Don Newhook (41) closed in to cover the rear for the Indians and on the far side, John Connors (33) watched closely and went into action as Baylor bounced a pass to Dick Stricklin (21), who failed to score. Larry Weise (25) is also seen in the series.

Jim Hockaday (16) of Memphis State and Mike Cavaliere (38) of Bonnies battle for the ball in the first half of the semi-final game of the NIT. Ducking away from the two is John Connors.

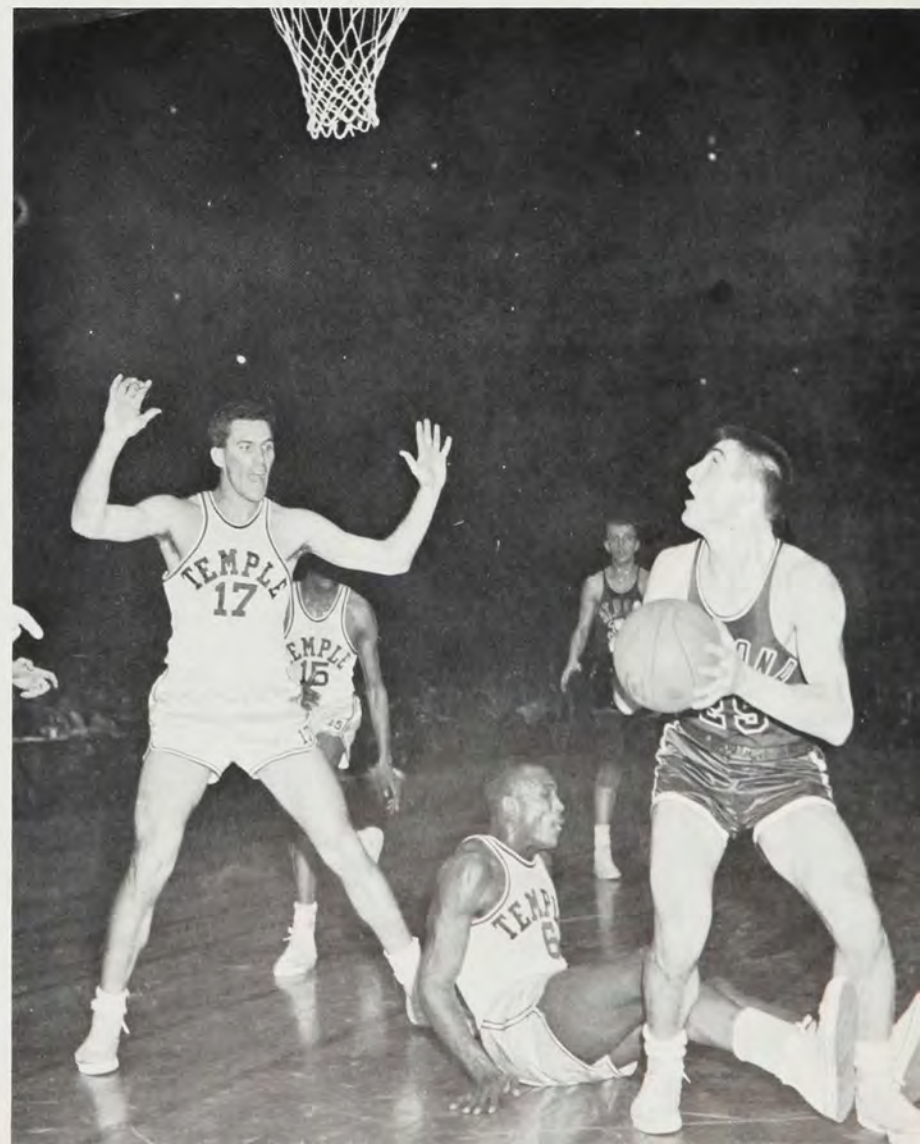

Mike Cavaliere snags a rebound as Connors looks on.

After the Seattle game the roof fell in on the Indians. They entered the Memphis State game without the services of their stellar defensive guard, Don Newhook, who was injured in the late minutes of the Seattle encounter. Bona lost in double overtime 80 - 78.

Then with Newhook, Mike Schrauth and Brendan McCann all seeing limited action due to injuries, the Brown Indians dropped their final game of the season to Temple 67-50 in a game that saw the Bonamen trailing most of the distance.

Larry Weise takes aim at close range.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL 1956-57. Kneeling: B. Nolan, T. Davey, F. Sohagian, B. Cane, H. Raake. Standing: S. Coliander, C. Martin, C. Romei, T. Zacharias, B. Connery, S. Stith, B. Condey.

The '56-57 Bonaventure yearlings rolled to a seasonal record of ten wins against three losses.

Their best showing of the year came in their first encounter with the Baby Griffins of Canisius in Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium. The Little Indians raced back from an eleven point deficit and won the game in the final two seconds when Bill Connery meshed a foul shot for the margin of victory, 53-52.

The top scoring performance of the season for the frosh came when Sam Stith hit for 44 points in the victory over Jamestown Arts and Metals at Jamestown.

The team's regular starters were: Mike Cavaliere, Bill Connery, Stan Kollliander, Sam Stith and Bill Condey. Frank Gahagan replaced Cavaliere when the latter became eligible for varsity competition at the beginning of the second semester. Tom Davey and Harvey Garety were the big factors in a strong Bona bench.

Sam Stith ranked as the leading scorer for the frosh rolling up an average of 23 points per game over the thirteen game schedule.

INTRAMURALS

St. Bonaventure boasts of an extensive intramural program, emphasizing football, basketball and baseball. Facilities for tennis, golf and swimming are also featured.

Each year under the capable student leadership of the Intramural Council, intramural leagues in the major sports are formed and round robin play is conducted through the season.

The purpose of the program is to provide wholesome recreation for all students who wish to avail themselves of the competition.

An Honorary Doctorate

In an impressive mid-academic year ceremony, Carelton Hayes, internationally known historian, was awarded an honorary doctorate. Shown above are the principals of the ceremony, Bishop Smith, Carelton Hayes, and the Very Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M.

Planning the Centennial

Next October 4th will see the beginning of the most impressive ceremonies in the century-old history of St. Bonaventure. That day, the feast of St. Francis of Assisi, will mark the opening of the celebration of the centennial of the University.

A vigorous building program and a science symposium are among the leading features of centennial observance which is now in the planning stage as this volume goes to press. The three living presidents of the university, Rev. Thomas Plasmann, O.F.M., Rev. Juvenal Lalor, O.F.M., and Rev. Brian Lhota, O.F.M., whose three administrative reigns span four decades without interruption, will play an important role in the year-long celebration.

St. Bonaventure has progressed a great way since Rev. Pamphilus, O.F.M., became the first president of the college in 1858, then a one-building structure devoted to the teaching of arts. The initial endowment of the school consisted of 200 acres and $5,000.

Today, St. Bonaventure boasts of a total land area of 500 acres, a nearly twenty-fold increase over the original faculty members to almost one hundred and educational facilities assessed at about seven million dollars.

All of this great advancement has been inspired by the Franciscan philosophy "In sanctitae et doctrina."

Acknowledgments

In the publication of a yearbook such as this 1957 Bonadieu no one man or two can be singled out as having done all of the work. It is a united effort on the part of many, especially the members of the editorial staff.

Primarily it was the hard work of many people and to all who helped, we thank them for their efforts . . .

Father Crispin Maguire, O.F.M., for always coming through when he was needed . . .

Mr. William Rauch, for his patience . . .

Steve Bush and Gene Chap, for many an extra push on something that really wasn't part of their job . . .

To all the members of the staff who sacrificed plenty of time to make this book a reality . . .

Don "Swede" Anderson, who unselfishly gave much of his time to canvassing for patrons and advertising . . .

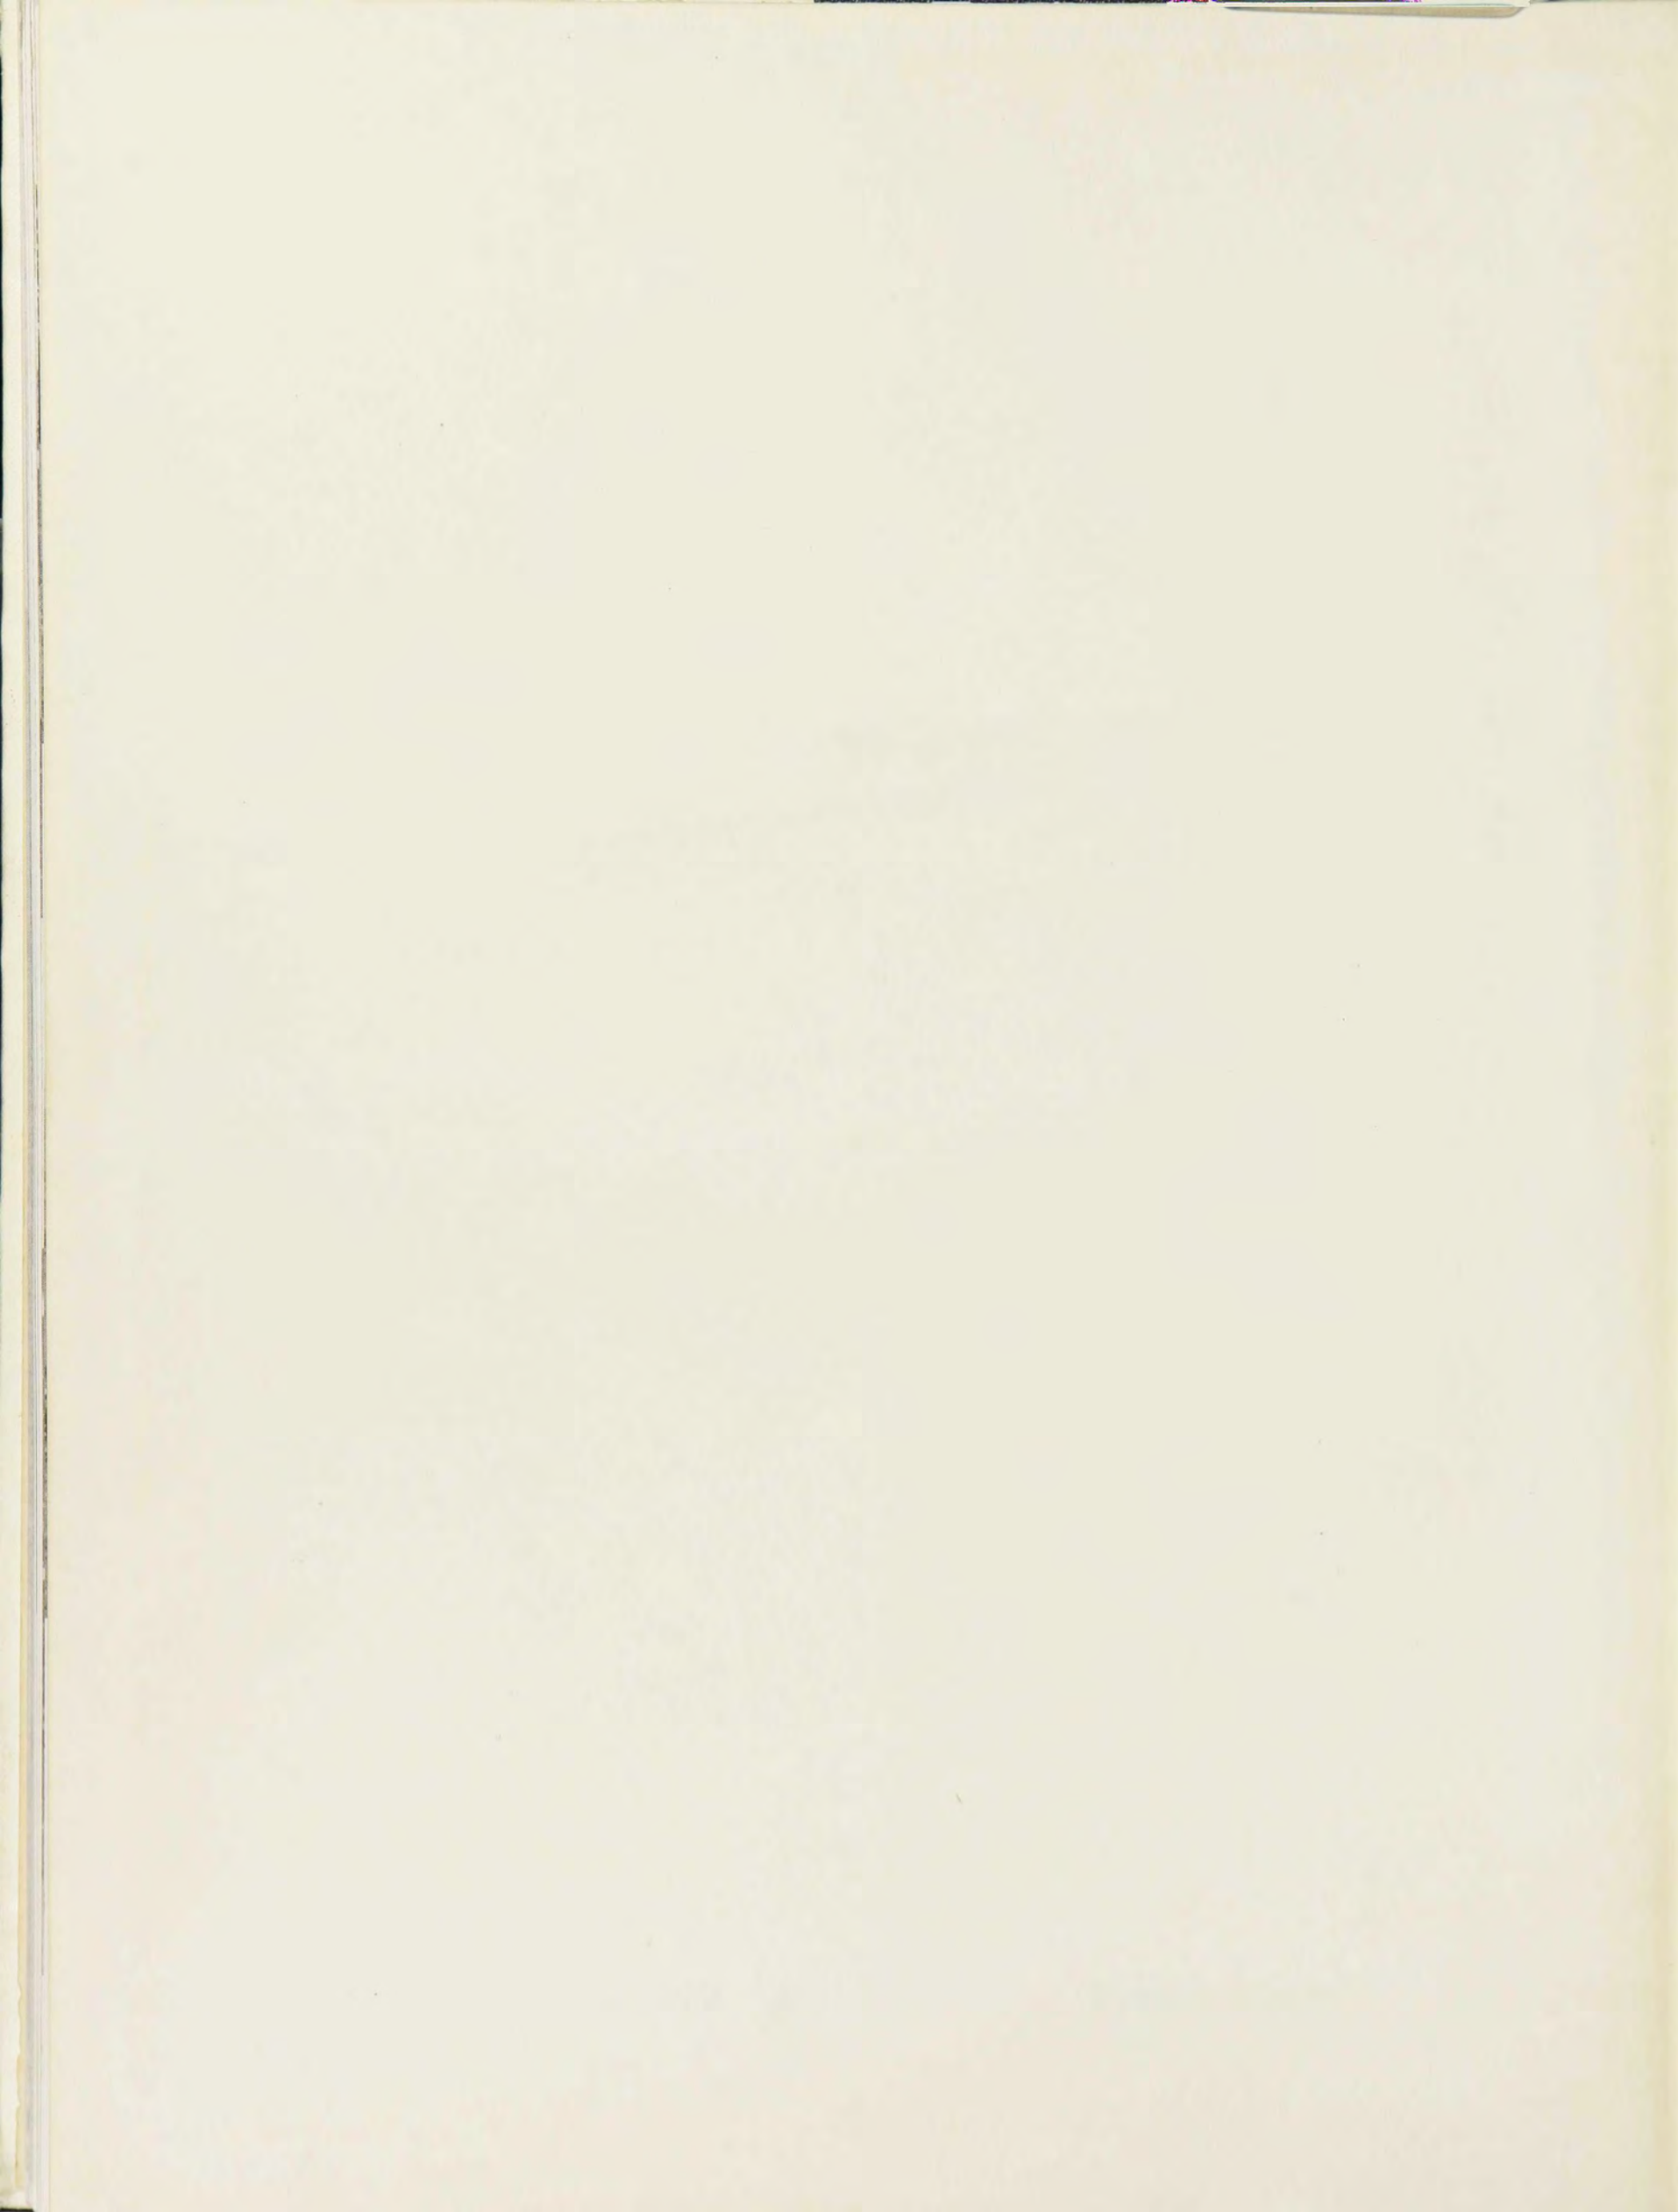

And finally to all our patrons and advertisers without whose aid this book could never have been printed.

Thanks

Bob Cuddihy and Steve Cavanaugh, Co-Editors
Stan Pylipow, Business Manager
