DEDICATION

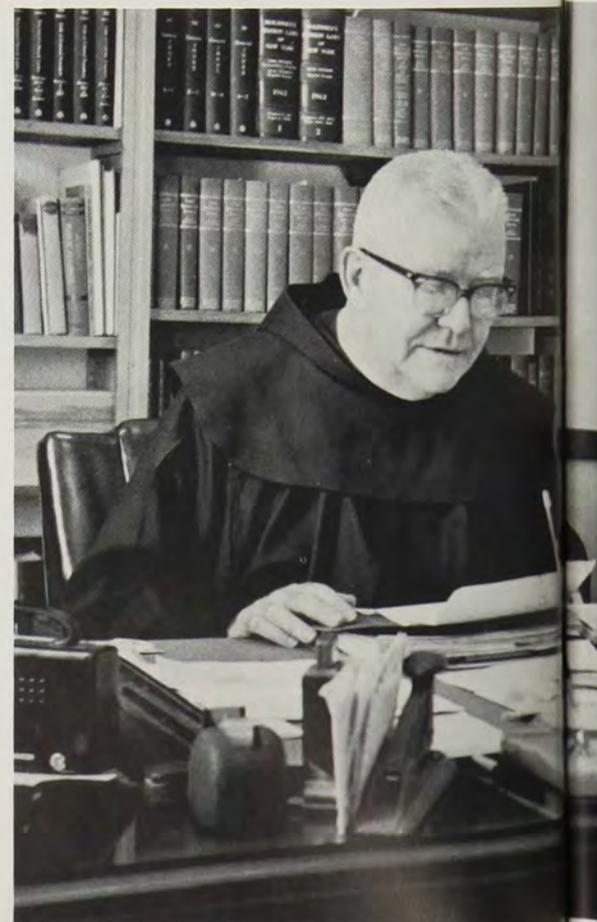

BONAVENTURE means a hundred things. To many, Bonaventure signifies a school; to others, it is a way of life. The Class of 1963 proudly dedicates this yearbook to Father Fidelis O'Rourke, a man who is the exemplification of the spirit and the meaning of the Bonaventure way of life.

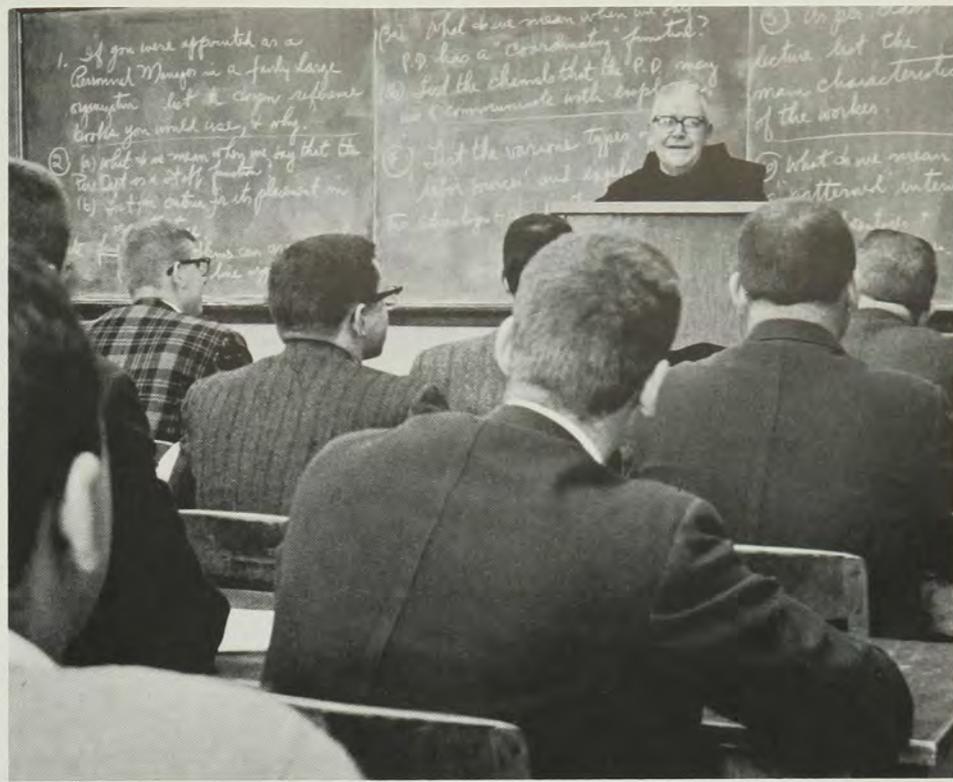

BONAVENTURE means a mature religious outlook. Fr. Fidelis, our priest and confessor, conveys in his daily life a religious spirit of freshness and kindness reflecting his model, St. Francis.

BONAVENTURE means friendliness and a good natured attitude towards life. Fr. Fidelis manifests this feeling by his rollicking Irish humor and earnest spirit of comradeship.

BONAVENTURE means a moderate but energetic participation in social life. By his membership in various organizations and his active interest in social functions, Father has shown us how to blend our social activities with our responsibilities.

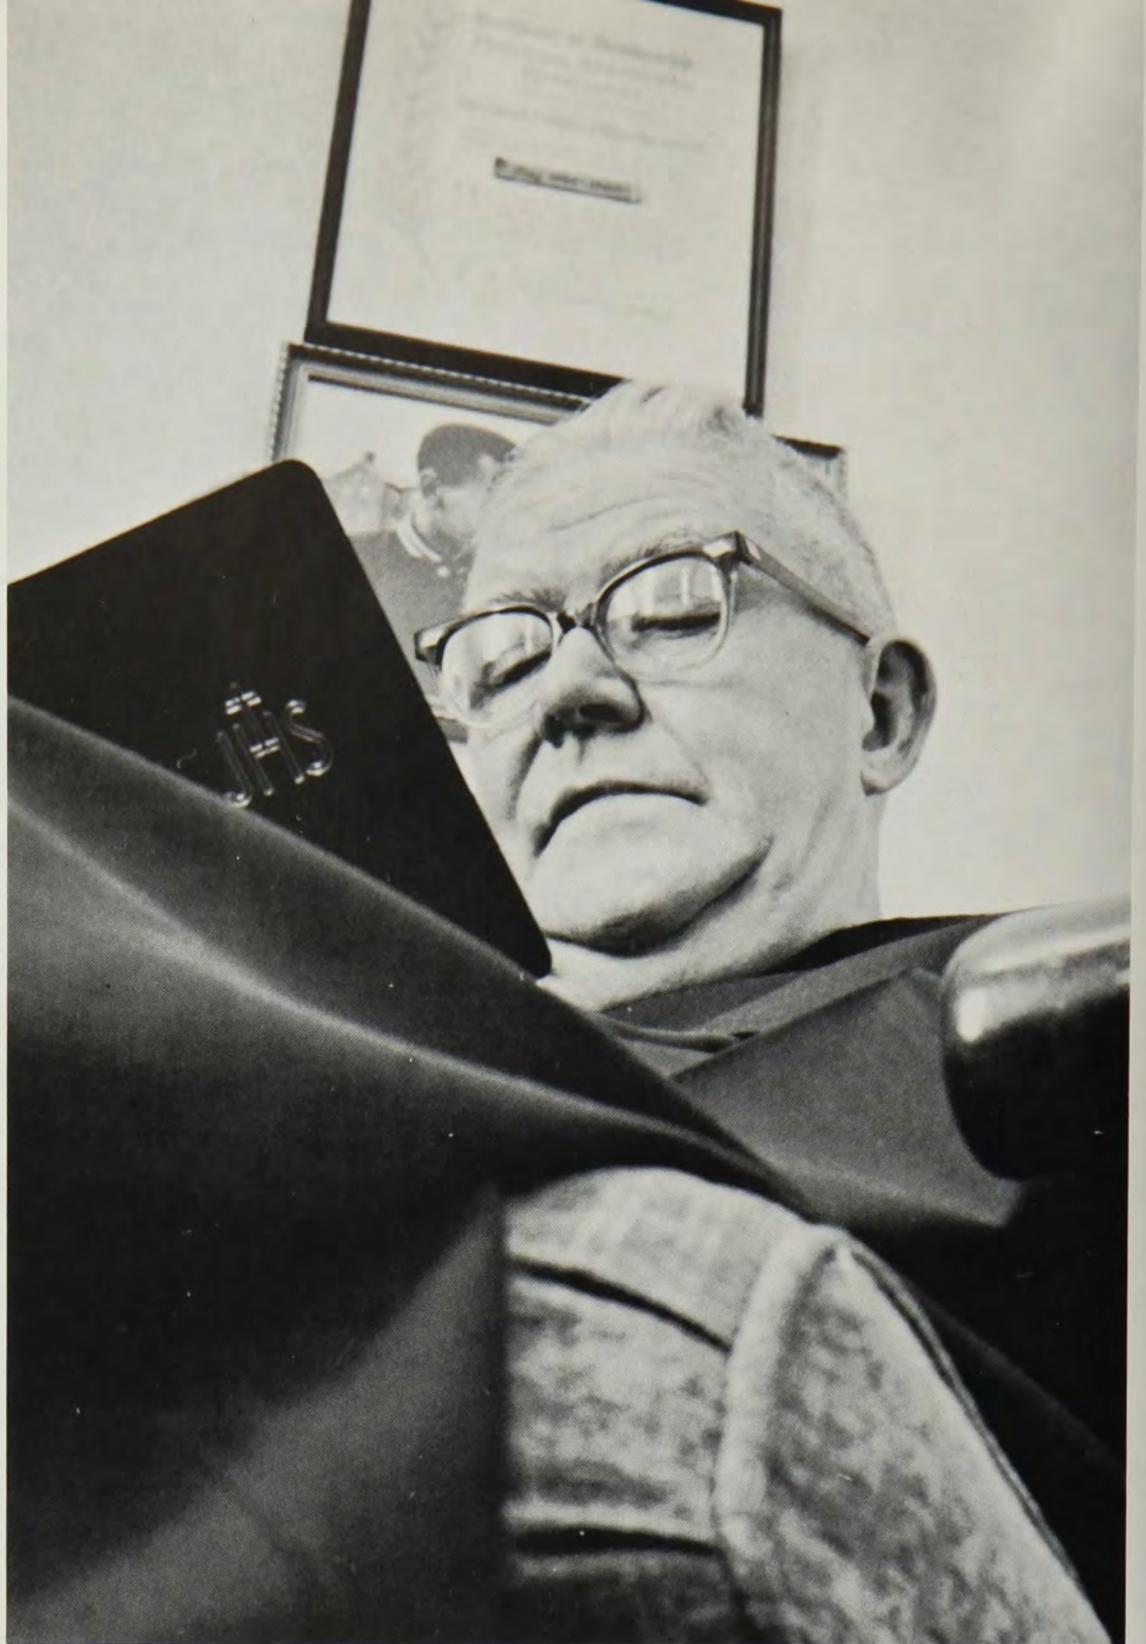

BONAVENTURE means a liberally educated outlook. Fr. Fidelis has spent fruitful years in the classroom imparting the knowledge needed to mold well rounded men.

BONAVENTURE means the acceptance of responsibility. As Dean of the School of Business and as Secretary of the University, Fr. Fidelis has shown us how to cope with responsibility.

BONAVENTURE means actively applying Christian ideals in the modern day world. For many years as a renowned labor arbitrator, Fr. Fidelis has injected the principles of charity and wisdom into the affairs of his fellow men.

BONAVENTURE means respect for the principles of law and justice. Using the experience gained from his distinguished career as a lawyer, Father instructs his students in the scope and dignity of the law.

BONAVENTURE means production of the whole man. With his wide range of interests and pursuits, Fr. Fidelis mirrors the reflection of a whole man.

Priest, teacher, lawyer, administrator, advisor, friend, he is all of these.

Father is a part of BONAVENTURE which we will always remember.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Commencement 1963

My dear Graduates:

It is my privilege to address to you the final words of your Alma Mater.

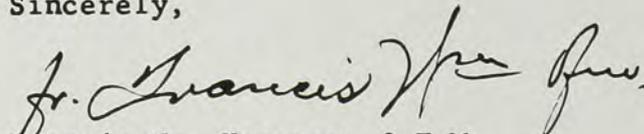

First, we congratulate you and your parents on your having completed your college course: you, because by diligent labor and self-discipline you have succeeded; your parents, because of their many sacrifices which have made this day possible.

Next we would ask you to strive manfully all the days of your life to live according to the principles and idealism we have held up to you, for in them lie the solid foundations of the true richness and dignity of human life.

Finally, as you go your various ways, we wish you well in all your endeavors, aspirations and dreams, and we invoke upon you God's blessing in the words of St. Francis of Assisi:

"May the Lord bless thee and keep thee;
May He show His face to thee
and have mercy on thee;
May He turn His countenance to thee and give thee peace."

Sincerely,

Francis Wm. Kearney, O.F.M.
President

Captain FRED CRAWFORD,

Capt. Fred Crawford electrified crowds this year with his magical ballhandling and scoring ability. Recovering rapidly from his bout with T.B. Freddy had by the end of the season stormed his way back to a high position among college basketball greats. His tremendous performance in the Canisius game against overwhelming odds will long be remembered.

MIKE JOYCE

Seeing full time duty in his senior year, Mike Joyce proved to be a strong and aggressive ball handler with a good eye which netted him a high percentage from the outside with his sharp jump shot. "Jet" set up key-plays with his quick passes as well as showing a strong offensive punch as evidenced by his 22 points against Providence.

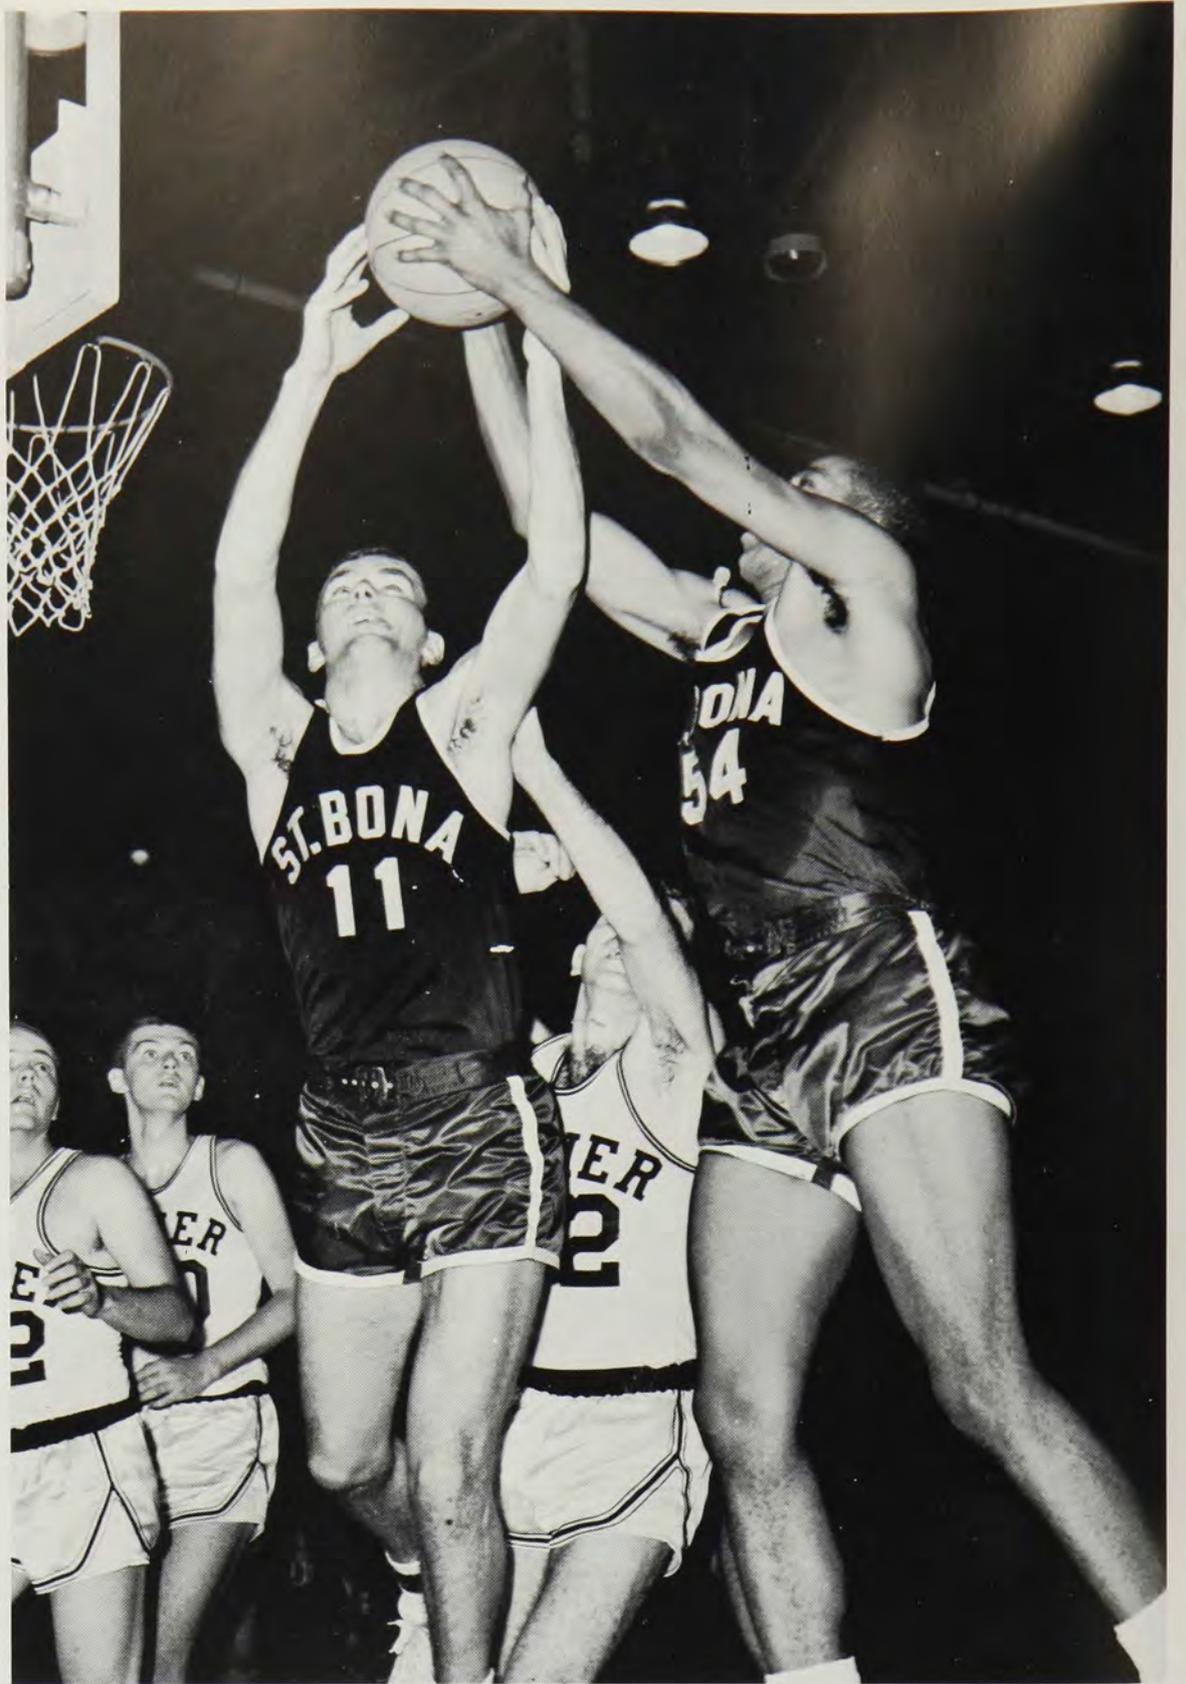

BARRY HERBERT

Big Barry Herbert served as Bona's strong man under the boards and played inspired ball in the rugged position left open by the loss of Miles Aiken early in January. The 6-6 "Canisius Crusher" pulled down more than his share of rebounds and showed strong defensive moves against such tough opponents as Creighton's Paul Silas and Providence College's John Thompson.

MILES AIKEN

Tabbed by many as a pre-season All-American, Miles Aiken was leading the team in scoring and rebounding when he was sidelined for the season by a knee injury suffered in the first Duquesne game. His deceptively quick moves under the baskets demoralized and devastated the defenders assigned to guard him. Barring more injuries, the leaping 6-6 center should lead the Indians to a high national ranking next year.

JOHN MAHONCHAK

BOB BARNEK

Rugged sophomore Bob Barnek can go as either forward or guard. His quick driving lay-ups as well as a fine jump shot from the outside make Bob a double threat man on offensive. The "Golden Greek" tossed in 20 points against Holy Cross in the Holiday Festival and proved to be a top rebounder while showing deceptive speed on defense.

BOB ULASEWICZ

A New York City native, Bob Ulasewicz is a 6-3 junior and an able athlete, a dependable replacement at either the forward or guard spots on the court and a hard throwing pitcher for the baseball team. "Uke" picked up valuable experience this season and gave the squad needed support with his sharp quips and ready humor.

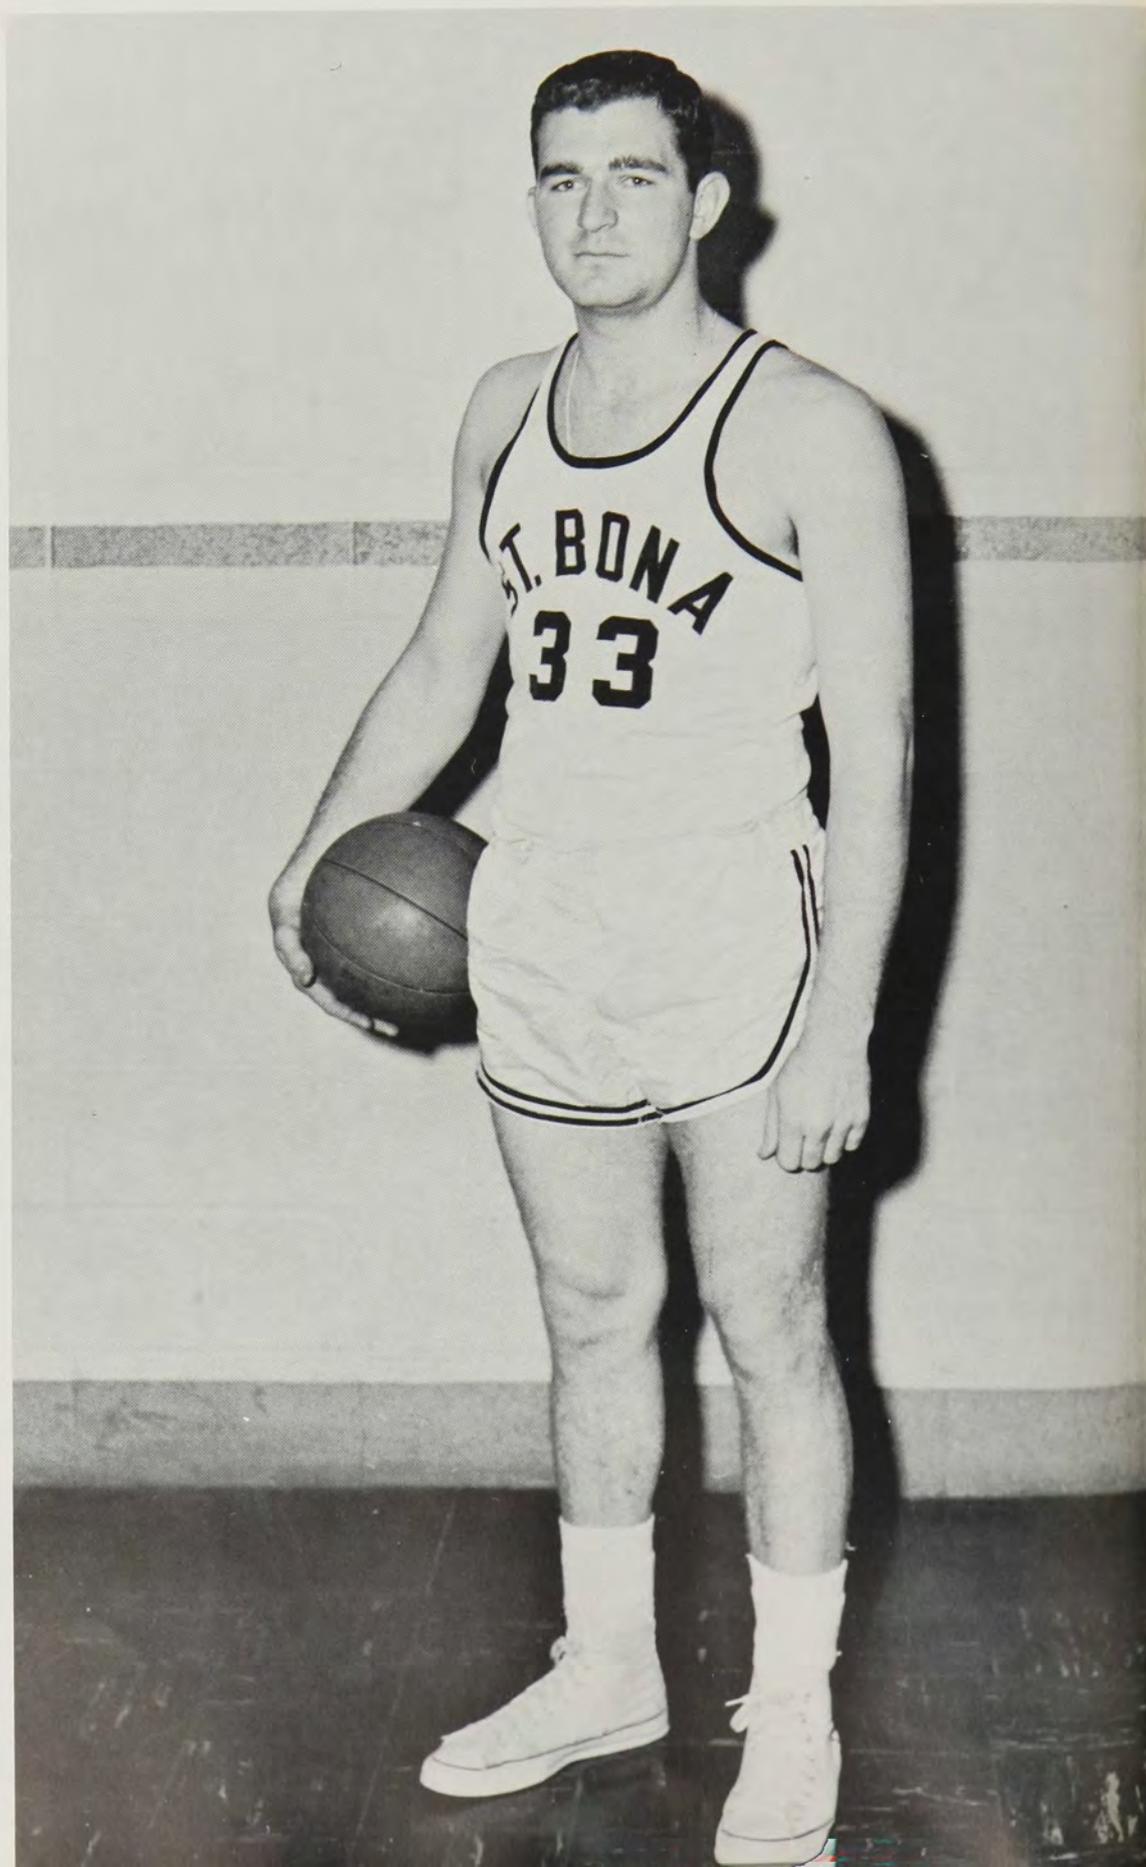

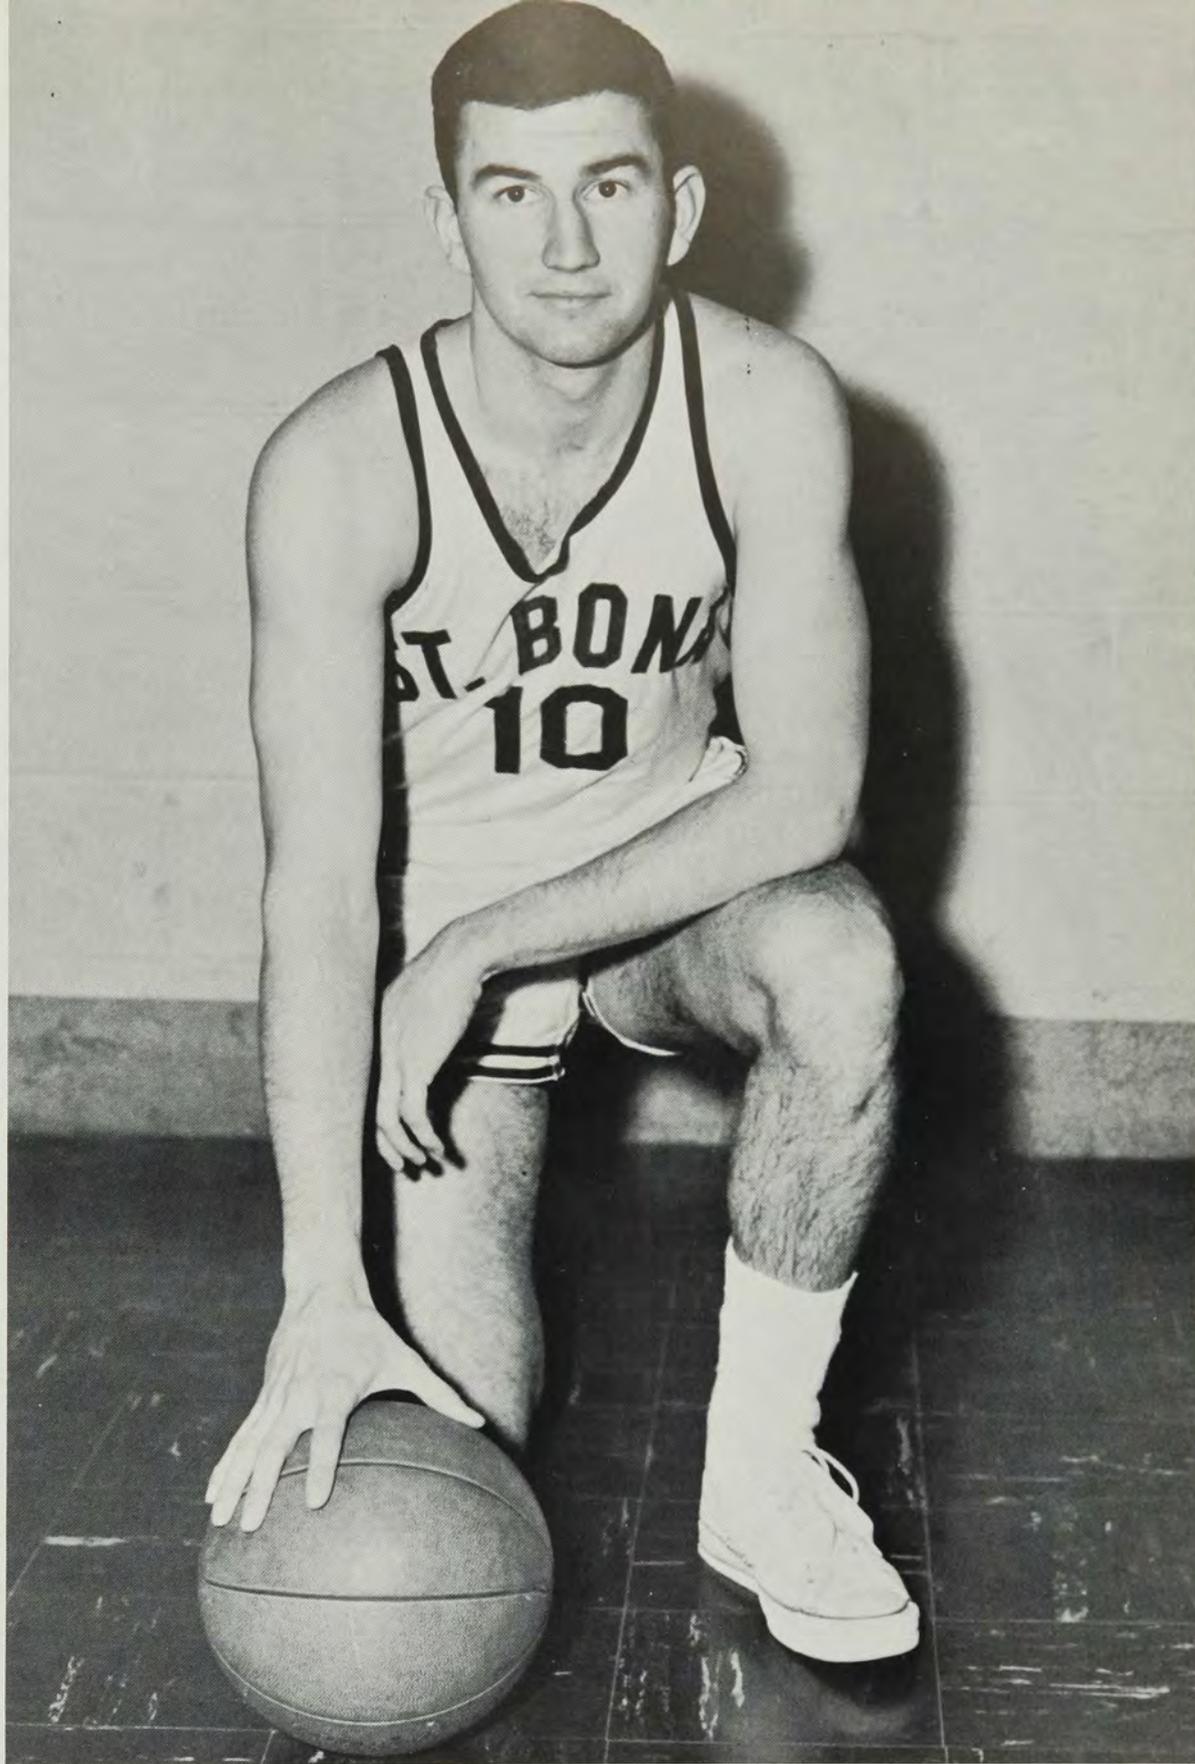

PAT MONAGHAN

Husky Pat Monaghan was given a place on the varsity squad because of his showing on the freshman team. Although "Fats" saw only limited duty this season, he gave signs of developing into a solid player in future seasons.

BRIAN McREDMOND

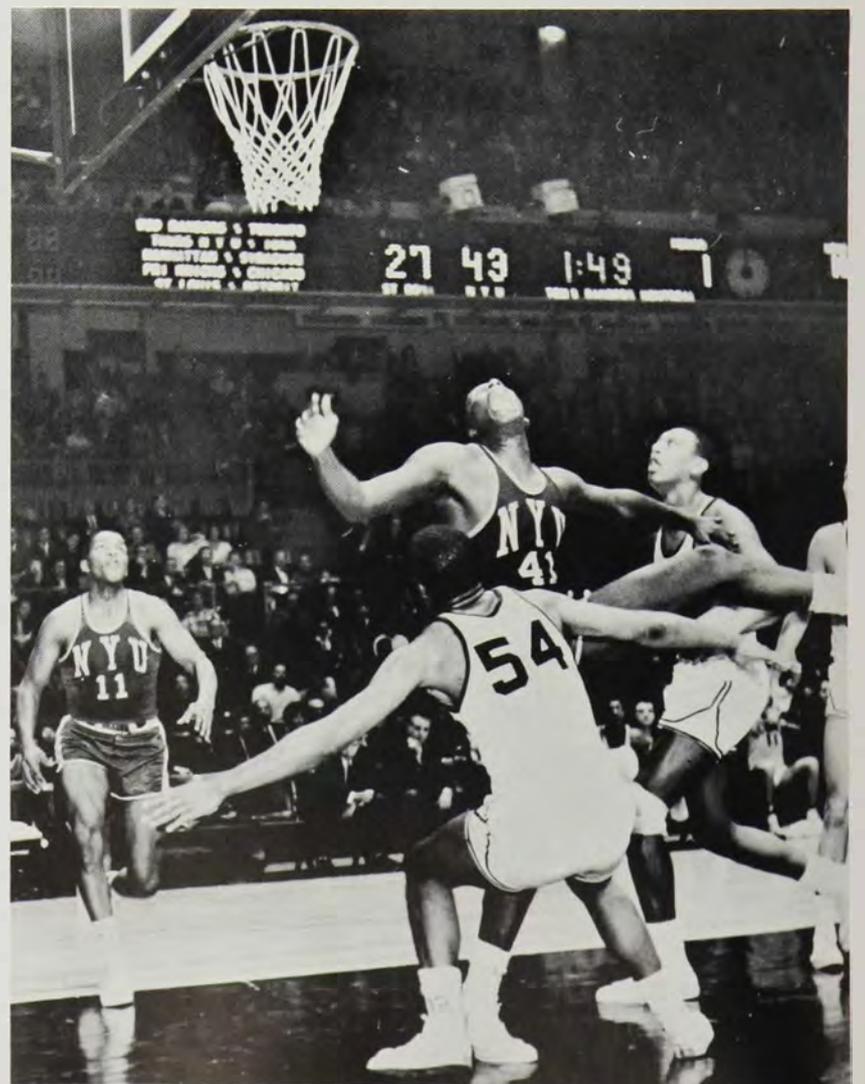

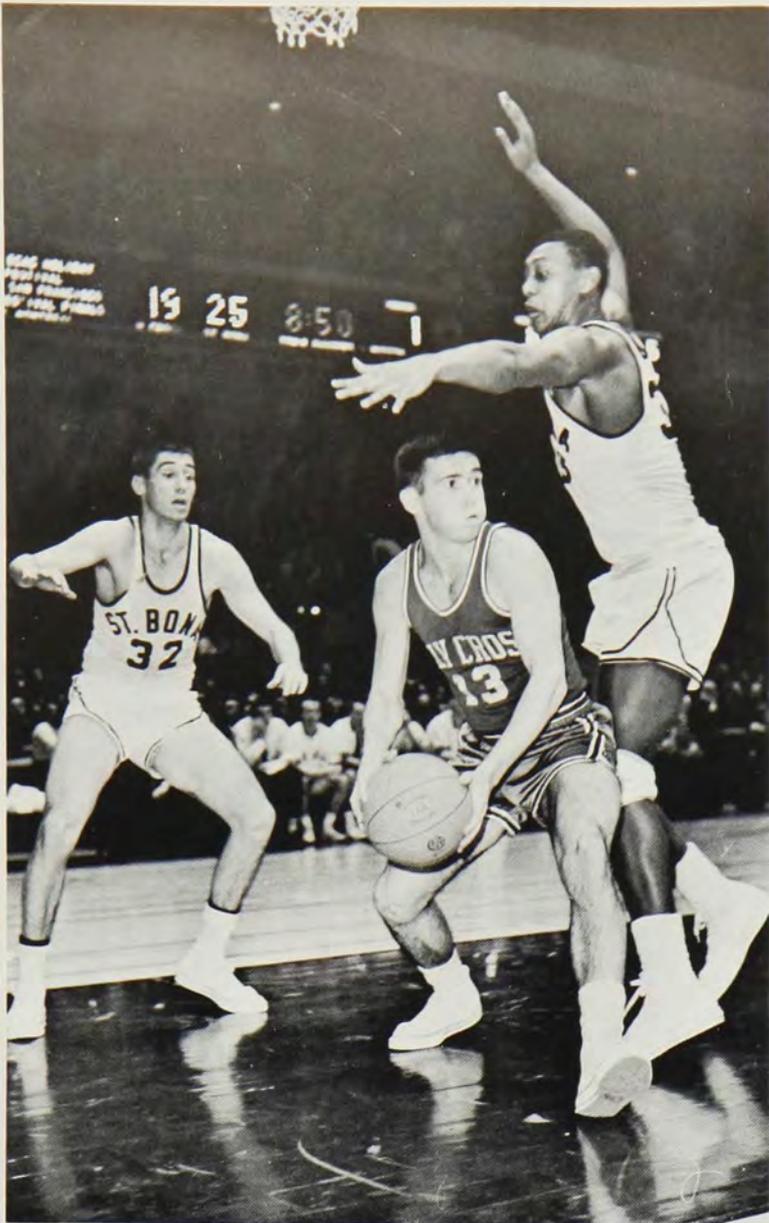

A strong 6-3 forward, Brian McRedmond added powerful rebounding and good shooting to the Bonnies reserve strength. Placed on the squad in mid-season, "Breeze" seemed to enjoy the rough and rugged play under the boards.

TIM HUDSON

Senior Tim Hudson was brought up to the varsity because a rash of mid-season injuries left the Bonnies short of dependable ballplayers. A fine all around athlete, Tim besides being recognized for his basketball talents was also chosen as the most valuable player in the intramural football league for two years in a row.

Participation is the key to the success of Bonaventure's rapidly growing intramural program. Points toward the President's Cup, the symbol of intramural superiority, are earned by both participation and hard fought victories.

INTRAMURALS

Besides football, basketball, and softball, the program offers among others such various sports as ping-pong, wrestling, swimming, and track. At any time during the fall, winter, or spring, Bona men can be seen engaging in all kinds of sports.

Under the guidance of the Intramural Council and the help of Coach Skehan, the intramural program has become a smooth functioning and efficient organization. Council President Bob Johnson has been a vital cog in the intramural machine during his stay at Bonaventure.

LITERARY

The calendar read September, 1959. We were immediately confronted with "beat" meetings, and bothersome duties such as writing letters and shining shoes for upperclassmen. We thought we were freshmen, but we were called such names as "finks" or "yockies." Our revenge was sweet when on Retaliation Day we battled the sophomores in the traditional mud fight. Although the full eight week rules program was dropped after our class, we are grateful that we can look back at this "unique" experience . . .

In our sophomore year we did an about face and "dished" out rules to the frosh in their abbreviated three weeks program. Later in the year we put on the Winter Carnival which featured the sophisticated sounds of Lambert, Hendricks and Ross.

In the spring of our Junior year, the awareness of our upcoming Senior year and our eventual graduation penetrated our thoughts. We became conscious of items of national and international concern. Gov. Rockefeller added to these thoughts with an informing speech of state and national significance . . .

On Press Day as some of us listened to Walter Cronkite's speech on the role of the nation's press in the space age, others of us were thinking of "different" things . . .

Glenn Miller's Orchestra under the direction of genial Ray McKinley provided the enchanting music for our Junior Prom. Although at the end there were many foot weary and tired Prom goers, everyone who attended "Moonlight Serenade" had a fun filled and exciting evening . . .

The realization of the debt we owe our parents was impressed on our minds during Parents Weekend. Although we participated in a talent show and gave a party for them, this was but a small token of the love we hold for our parents . . .

Finishing last minute papers, cramming for that tough Math exam, thinking of how we would spend the summer, signalled the coming of the June exams. The grind was quickly over and we began to pack . . .

Blistering heat and choking dust greeted the Bona ROTC "majors" when they reached Ft. Sill, Oklahoma for summer camp. Making their bunks, learning the complexities of the aiming circle, and doing K.P. were all part of the daily routing for the future officers . . .

The deafening roar of the 105 howitzers and the sharp commands of veteran sergeants became familiar sounds by the end of the summer . . .

After summer vacation we returned to the campus for our final year. It did not take long to return to the swing of things. Participating in weekly ROTC drills and engaging in such activities as CCD teaching occupied much of our time . . .

Classroom lectures, lab work and such extracurricular activities as band practice were everyday activities . . .

Winter was approaching swiftly, but not before we sponsored the Fall Festival. Various games and some fun at the expense of our Senators in Gargoyle Park and a social played prominent parts during the weekend . . .

A folksinging trio, Peter, Paul and Mary, provided the entertainment in the Olean Armory on Saturday night . . .

Brightly polished shoes and freshly cleaned uniforms were the orders of the day at the Military Ball. The Spartan-like sternness of the Paschal Guard members contrasted sharply with the Queen's smile as she accepted a bouquet of roses . . .

Soon the Christmas spirit enveloped the campus. The traditional party with the happy children and the appearance of "Santa" gave us thoughts of spending our own Christmas with our families . . .

AKM's giant frog typified the ingenuity of the snow sculptures at the Winter Carnival. Ice-skating, beer socials, and dance sessions gave way to the appearance of The Lettermen on Saturday night. Our wallets may have been empty on Sunday, but a highly successful weekend was worth the price we paid.

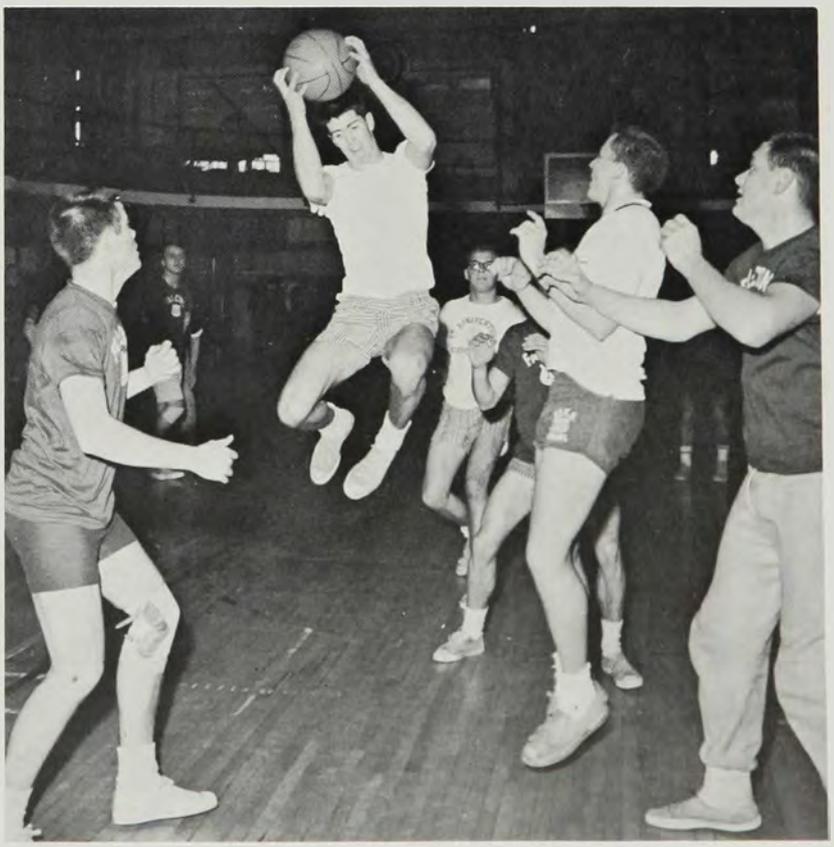

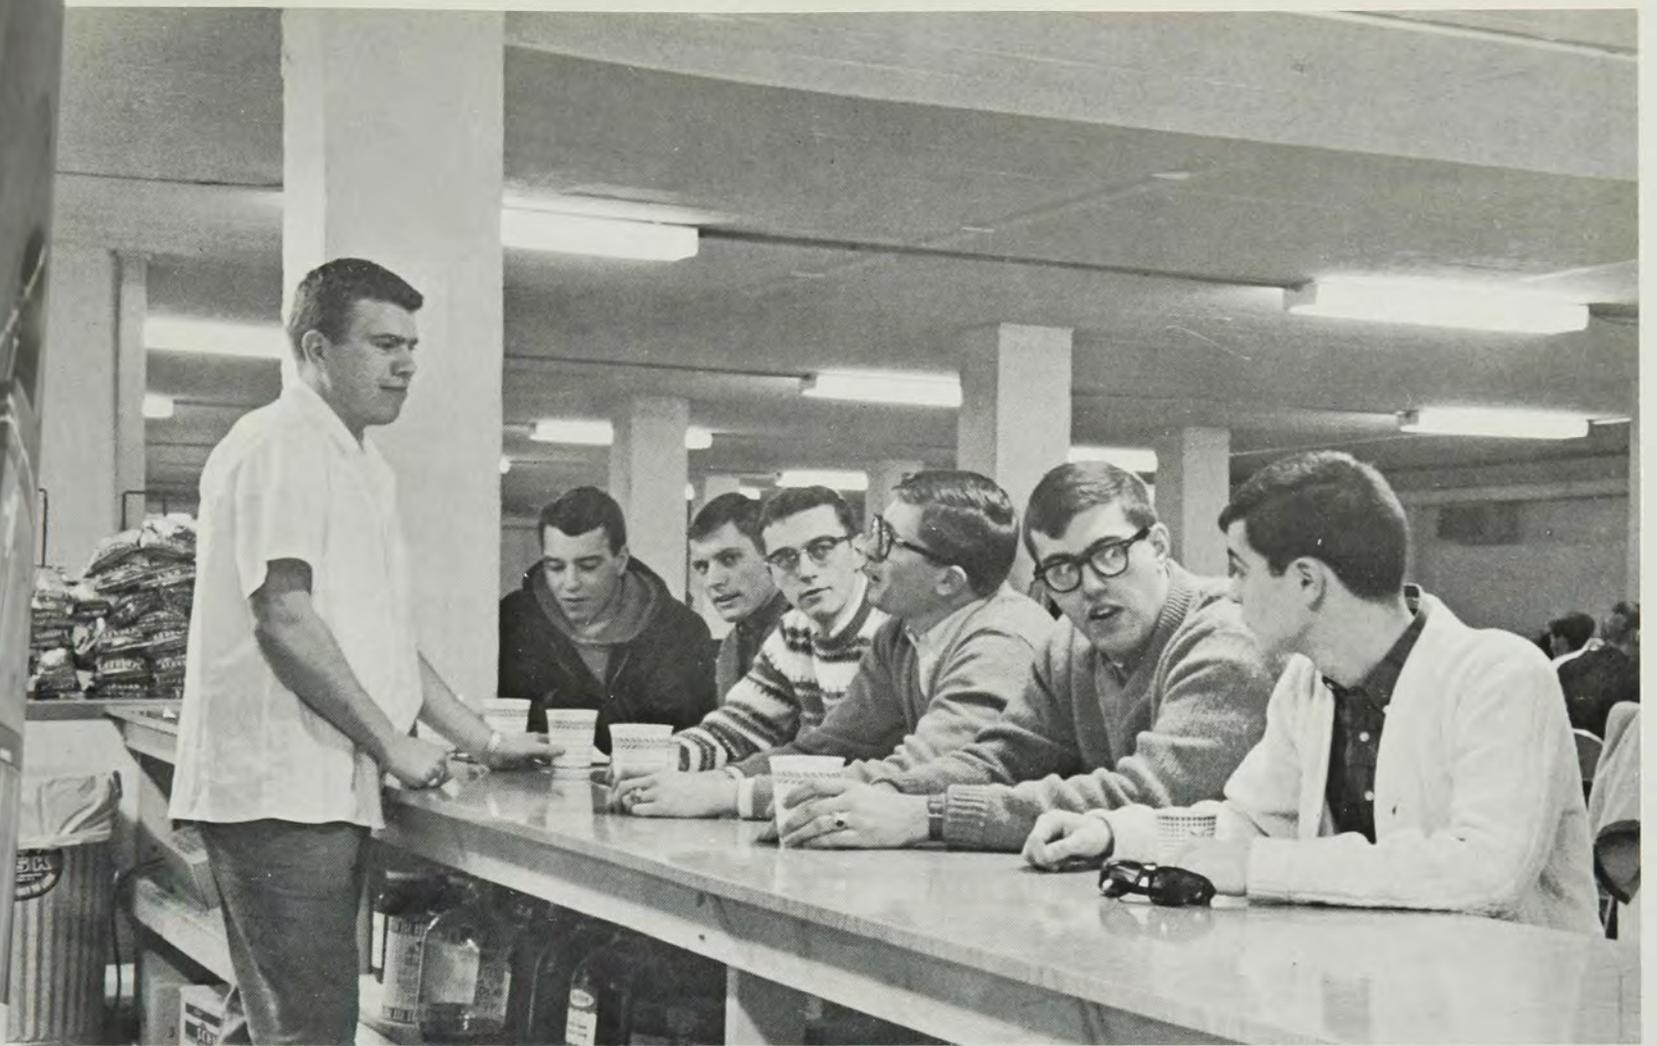

In keeping with President Kennedy's plea for the celebration of the Emancipation Centennial, Bonaventure celebrated an Emancipation Week. An essay contest, a play, and an address by Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota were the main attractions . . .

Trudging through snow, playing in intramurals, and "chowing down" in the cafe kept restless Bonamen busy on those long winter days . . .

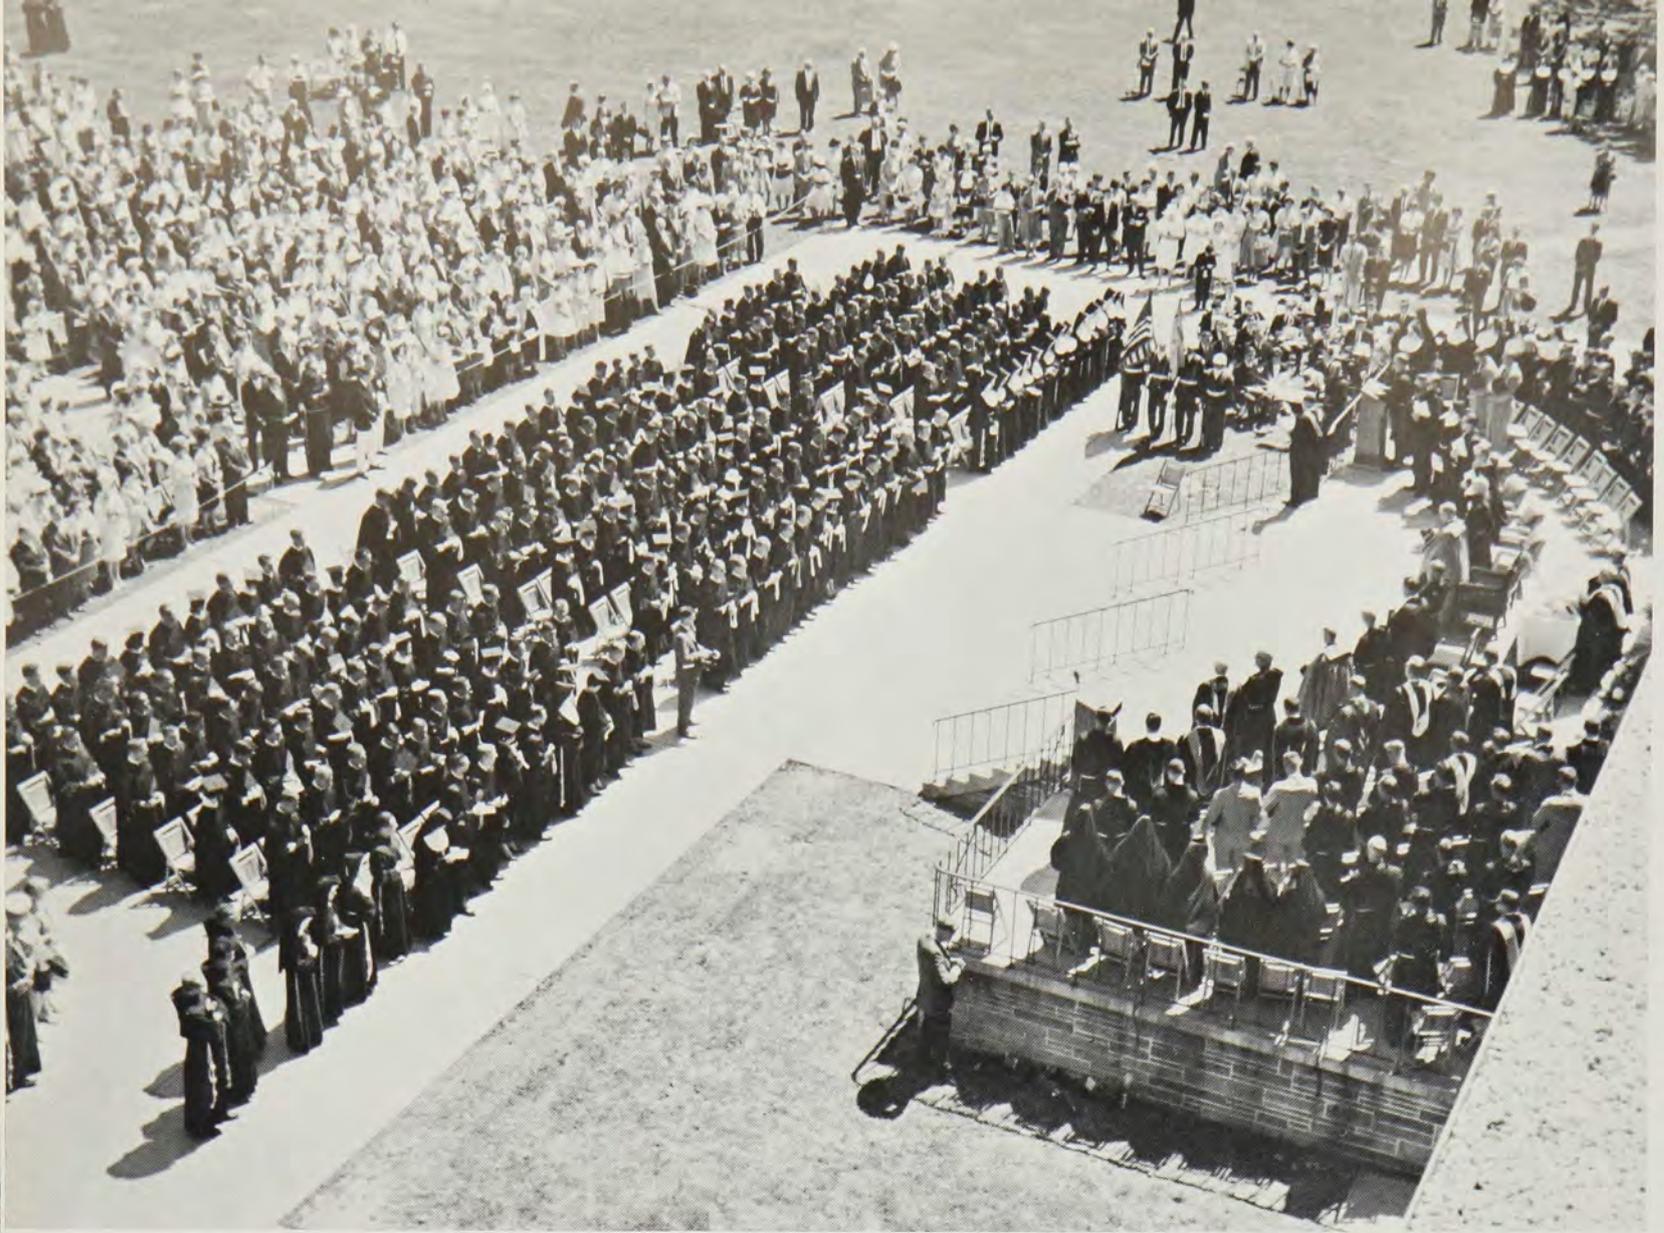

w, playing
ing down

As the end of our four years drew to a close, we found that in the middle of studying there "had" to be time for that afternoon nap. Checking Mail, studying for exams and "shooting the breeze" were all part of the daily routine. It wasn't long before the end of May and Senior Week . . .

The calendar read June, 1963. On Graduation Day we took with us an education, a host of memories and the Bonaventure spirit.

In any project as ambitious as the 1963 BONADIEU, there is a wide variety of individual jobs that constitute the whole. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many students, friars, professionals, and all the other persons who have helped bring this year's BONADIEU to press.

Our largest debt belongs to Fr. Robert Gavin. His advice and encouragement helped us immensely in the early days of struggle with this book. His good natured humor and friendly disposition instilled in us a spirit of optimism which we needed many times. Father's knack for an efficient and business-like approach to difficult problems showed us how to cope with delays and deadlines. But above all, we knew that Fr. Bob would always be near when we needed advice and help.

One of the most difficult jobs in any yearbook is that of layout editor. Dick Sheridan fulfilled this job admirably. Fresh ideas and suggestions were sure to come forth if Dick was nearby. He was the strong right arm that we needed to give us authority and direction.

Coordinating the correspondence, paper work, and typing in any job is always a herculean task. We were fortunate to have Jack Lyons work at this chore. His subtle wit and sly humor helped make this tiresome work a pleasant occupation for his staff of cheerful coeds.

If you saw two "energetic" collegians running around campus organizing photo schedules, helping out Ernie, or snapping candid shots, they were probably Bill Bennett or Tony Scarano. They unselfishly devoted many hours in collecting, organizing, and sorting hundreds of pictures.

Our business "wizard," Richie Philips, did an amazing job in keeping an eye on our finances. He carefully checked our cash reserves to see that we stayed in the black. Dick Nolan, our "super" sales manager, coordinated his policies with Rich to give the financial end of the yearbook strong support. Both of these men deserve our thanks.

Marge Roefs, our art editor, spent much time in devising themes and ideas to incorporate into the art work. As the first coed to have a major part in the production of a BONADIEU, she reflected much credit on her fellow coeds.

Keeping tabs on the basketball statistics, watching soccer and baseball games, covering swimming meets, were all part of the job of the sports editor, Paul Cournoyer. This sports enthusiast used his knowledge of sports to construct a well knit sports section.

John Bauer devoted his time to the painstaking task of gathering patrons and advertising revenue. He directed his competent staff with authority and efficiency.

Writing original copy, contributing ideas, and devising fresh captions were among the tasks performed by our literary editor. John Byrnes contributed his abilities to help make a well rounded staff.

Although we would like to think we did this job all on our own, we do owe a word of thanks to the professionals that contributed to our publication. Ernie Bouchard patiently took many of the photo shots that are contained in the BONADIEU. The brilliance of the senior pictures, many action shots, and the beautiful color pictures are all a tribute to Ernie's professional skill. We would also like to thank Wm. J. Keller Inc. and their excellent staff for advising us on just how to construct a yearbook.

Many other individuals and groups helped in making this yearbook a success. Jack Ritzenthaler, Modesto Argenio, Mr. Pavlik, Fr. Juvenal Lalor, Maj. Watts, members of the faculty, the student body, our patrons and advertisers, are just some of the people involved in this production.

I would like to thank all the people I have mentioned and those I might have missed for their help. Finally, in translating the name of the BONADIEU into English, I thank the Good God for making this yearbook a success.

that's the way people feel about their daily newspaper.

Add another staple to food, clothing, shelter, the daily newspaper. It's that basic.

Nearly everyone reads it (99 million people on an average weekday).

They read it thoroughly, page by page (71%)
 Would feel lost without it or miss it (79%)
 They clip it (editorials 53%, ads 28%), quote from it (65%).

And 99 million consumers wouldn't have it any other way—an ever-changing diet of news and events, freshly packaged, eagerly consumed, thoroughly digested, completely welcome, The Daily Newspaper.

Note: 53% clip from editorial items, 28% clip from ads in a three month period.
 65% quote from the newspaper in the past month.

The art of being a non-conformist or why many perceptive yearbook staffs prefer a very distinguished publishing house Retaining one's individuality is not easy in these days of mass production and standardization. This is especially true of yearbook publishing, in which mass production methods have the tendency to force one to buy just what the other fellow buys.

Making of soap or soup or salad dressing by mass methods is one thing. But it is quite another to attempt to produce a creative yearbook by trying to squeeze it into some pre-conceived mold. It just can't be done that way.

The Wm. J. Keller firm brings together highly trained craftsmen, the very finest papers and ink of superlative quality. Add to these a unique service plan built around the individual school, and, finally, production by the Velvatone process, which Keller perfected especially for the printing of yearbooks, and you have a truly distinguished performance. And a yearbook with singular character and individuality . . . we call it "THE LOOK OF THE BOOK."

The yearbook you are presently leafing through is the product of the Keller custom program. If you would care to see other examples of "THE LOOK OF THE BOOK" as produced by Wm. J. Keller, get in touch with us now.
