THE BONAVENTURE MISSION

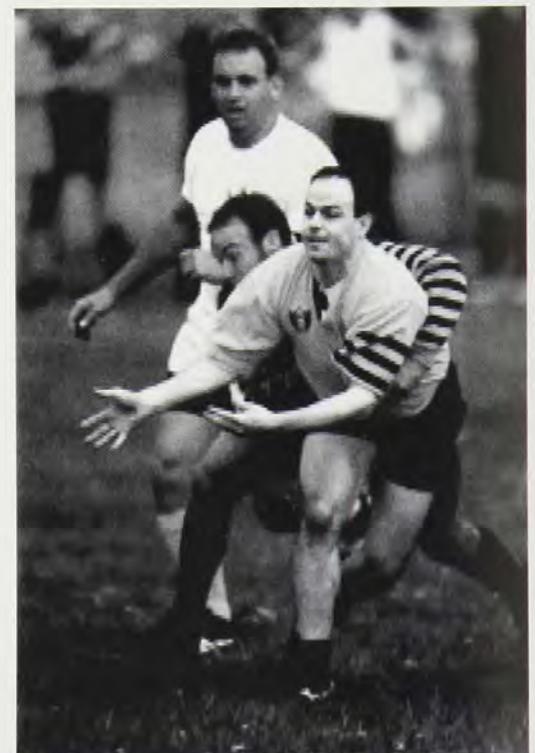

FOUNDED IN 1858, ST. BONAVENTURE IS A CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY DEDICATED TO EDUCATIONAL EXCELLENCE IN THE FRANCISCAN TRADITION. WE ARE COMMITTED TO THE CONSTANT PURSUIT OF DISTINCTION IN OUR UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE PROGRAMS, OUR INNOVATIVE LIBERAL ARTS CORE AND ALL OF OUR COURSES OF STUDY. AT ST. BONAVENTURE UNIVERSITY, WE COME TO KNOW OUR STUDENTS ON AN INDIVIDUAL BASIS AND BECOME THEIR MENTORS. WE STRIVE TO BRING OUT THE BEST IN EVERY INDIVIDUAL. AS AN ACADEMIC AND SPIRITUAL COMMUNITY, WE ENDEAVOR TO PREPARE OUR STUDENTS FOR THE CHALLENGES THEY WILL FACE IN THEIR PROFESSIONAL CAREERS AS WELL AS IN THEIR PERSONAL LIVES. TRUE TO OUR FRANCISCAN HERITAGE, WE ENCOURAGE STUDENTS TO MANIFEST OUR VALUES THROUGH LIVES OF CITIZENSHIP AND SERVICE.

Dedication

The Bonadieu would like to dedicate this 2002 edition to all of the courageous men and women involved in the tragedy of September 11th. The bravery of the firefighters, pilots, police officers, doctors, and each one of the civilians brought hope to the world as America recovered. Although each one will be missed, the souls lost in the attacks will forever be remembered in our hearts.

Three St. Bonaventure alumni died in the World Trade Center attack: Fr. Mychal Judge, O.F.M., '57 (above), Robert Peraza, '94, '96 (right), and Amy O'Doherty, '00.

September 11, 2001

We will never forget.

September 10th

On Monday, when you asked people how they were doing, they would reply "fine" or "good"

On Monday, the papers and the magazines were filled with stories about the new fall TV schedules

On Monday, there were not many people in the religious section at the bookstore

On Monday, the American flag hung, for the most part, unnoticed

On Monday, we passed strangers without much regard

On Tuesday, September 11, all that changed

On Tuesday, different things seemed important

On Tuesday, somebody tried to take America apart

On Tuesday, America came together

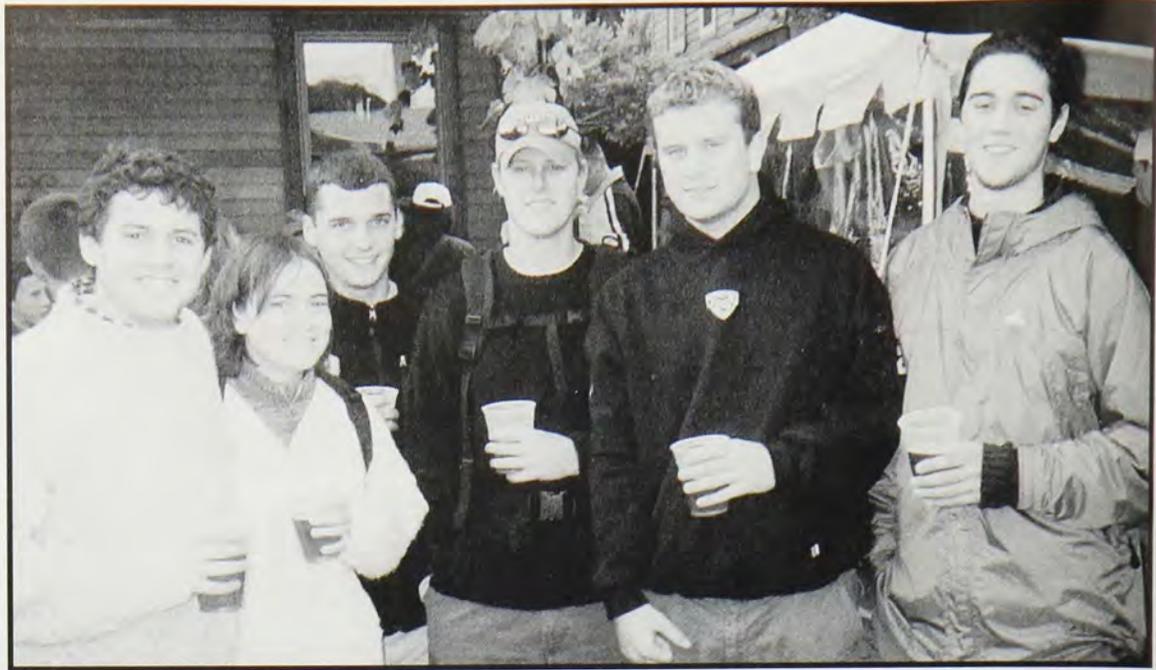

On Tuesday, September 11, strangers died for each other

On Tuesday, September 11, the best of the human spirit spit back into the eye of the worst

On Tuesday, September 11, America was knocked to its knees

On Tuesday, September 11, America got back up again

God Bless America

Prayer of St. Francis

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is injury, pardon.
Where there is doubt, faith.
Where there is despair, hope.
Where there is darkness, light.
And where there is sadness, joy.

Lord, grant that I may not so much as seek to be consoled as to console,
To be understood as to understand,
To be loved as to love.
For it is in giving that we receive,
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

Seniors celebrating their time at Bona's

Let the countdown begin...

An annual tradition is for the seniors to count down the days to their graduation in May. This is a way for seniors to come together and celebrate their last days at Bona's.

This year, 200 Days was a Halloween theme. Jeff Connors won the best costume prize for his superhero outfit. Other favorites were the Statue of Liberty and Popeye and Oliveoil. The event was held in the Rathskeller.

Next, came 100 Days — On Groundhogs Day. Once again, students gathered in the Skeller. This time, the party had an 80s theme.

Students dressed like punks, preps, rock stars and more. Big hair and bright colors abounded along with the not-forgotten music of our childhood. A live band entertained at the Skeller and again at the OP later that night.

Finally, there was 50 Days. For a change, the students gathered at the Old Library. This time, everyone dressed in their best attire because it was a formal occasion. There was a DJ and great food to make the night complete. Students danced the night away on the dance floor, and everyone began to realize just how close they were to graduation.

The Days events were a great way for the senior class to celebrate the ending of a huge chapter in their lives. Also, it helped students focus on the good times and the memories they were making, rather than the good-bye that looms ahead.

Top, Jeff Connors dressed up with Lady Liberty, Fran Bauer showing their American pride for 200 Days. Top left, seniors celebrating 100 Days 80s style. Left, celebrating their last 50 Days together are Dena Carusone, Melissa Bertoni, Beth Dunn, Kate Kane, Kim McLaren, Amy Scrofani and and Nicole Walzack. Bottom left, Jeff Connors and his two gal pals take the Rathskeller by storm for 80s night. Bottom right, Kelley Northup, Matt Stevens, Eric Bach, Timea Libertiny, Kelly McDaniels and Katie O'Connell at 50 Days.

Below, are those the Brady's neighbors or members of the class of 2002 celebrating their countdown until graduation?

Right, we all know that Townhouse 212 parties are a blast, as seen from this picture from 100 Days.

Right, Brigid Mullen, Lindsey Scheg and Jen Rice dressed up as Little Red Riding Hood, a Coyote Ugly star, and a California Raisin.

Below, Kate Welc, Kim Gleason and Kara Swanson out living up their senior year at Bona's.

Above, Santa Claus and Tigger stop by to visit down at the Skeller for 200 Days.

Below, two cowgirls sit around and chat with this cute M&M.

Which Days event was your favorite and why?

200 Days because our class seemed to come together for the first time and many of us were able to talk to our classmates whom we otherwise usually wouldn't talk to.

-Ryan Hoyt

100 [Days] because of the costumes and the live band.

-Steve Frontera, Brian Donlin, Matt VanOrman & Luke LePage

200 Days because it was Halloween and the whole costume thing.

-Amy Mardino

200 Days probably just because I think virtually the entire class was there and it was just so much fun with everyone all dressed up.

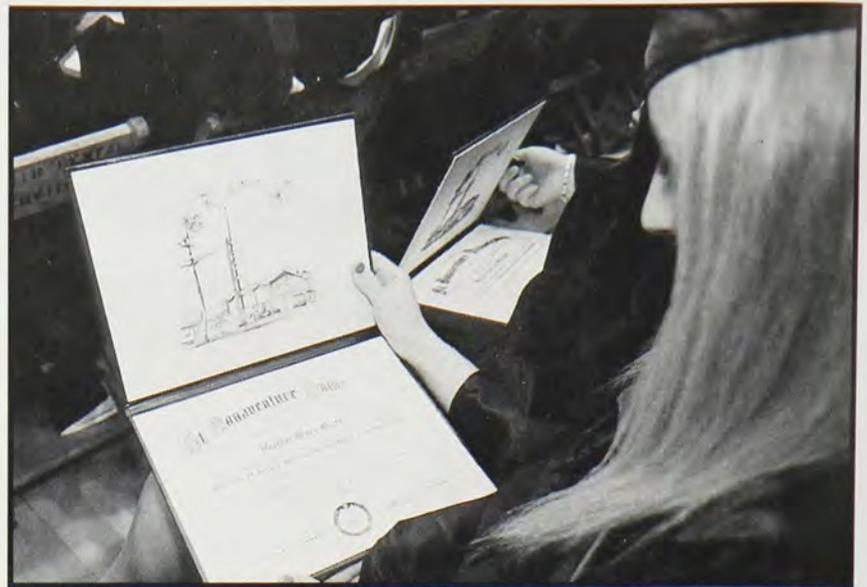

-Mike Neel

50 Days, I love getting all dressed up!

-Kara Swanson

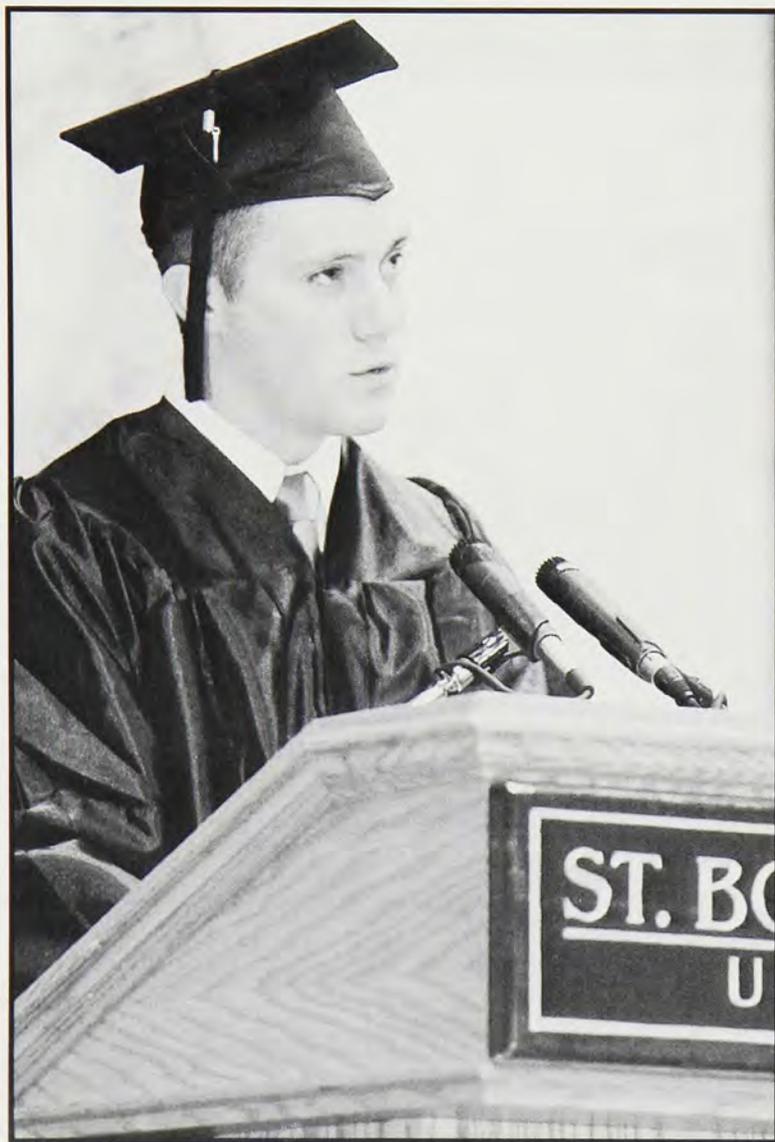

100 Days because someone said, 'Even the hot girls looked ugly'.

The St. Bonaventure University
Graduating
Class of 2002

After seeing the same familiar faces for four years, it is now time to move on from St. Bonaventure.

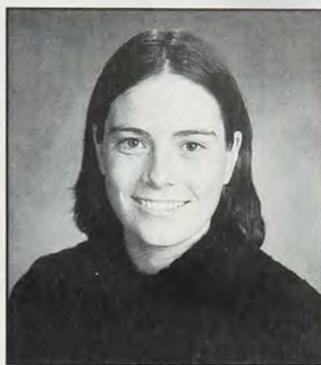

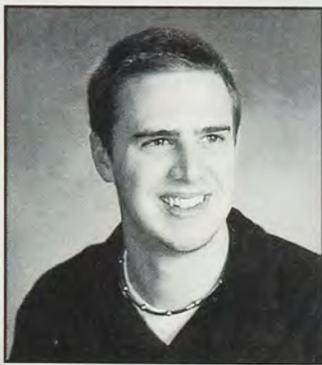

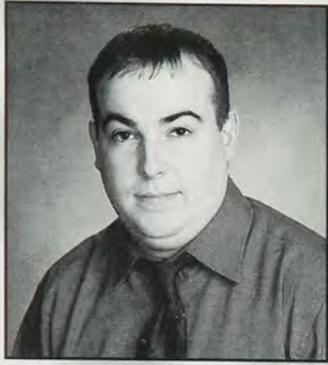

Everyone says that college flies by. The time goes by so quickly that you do not get a chance to realize how close your friends have become. Leaving here, you are moving on no longer just friends or acquaintances but as a family.

Although you'll see each other at Alumni Weekend or drop a "Hey, how you doin'?" over the Internet, know that each of you have contributed something to this journey to make it such an incredible experience.

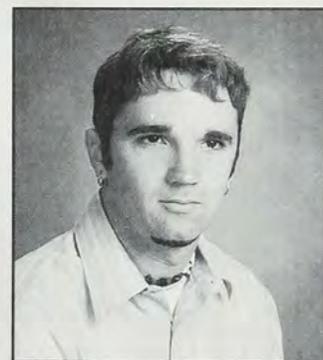

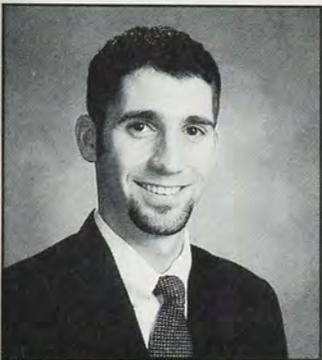

You can always come home to the physical place we know as St. Bonaventure, but the spirit of St. Bonaventure is not just on this campus. It is within each of you and within the people who work at and attend the University. Each member of the Class of 2002 has touched our hearts. Displaying and knowing what the meaning of the Bona family is, there will always be a special place for you no matter where life may take you.

*Congratulations on all of your accomplishments, and

The Pride of Publishing

Many long nights are spent working on school publications. The lights on first Robinson Hall are almost always on when you pass by. The Bonadieu and The Laurel are both published by the students of St. Bonaventure with all their heart and soul. Filled with ambition and creativity, The Laurel shows the artistic side of the students, while The Bonadieu Yearbook works diligently to put together a year in review for the senior class. There is always plenty to do at Bona's, but thanks to those on The Bonadieu and The Laurel, hard work turns into history books for future generations. Enjoy!

Acting as liaisons, the Student Government Association brings the concerns of the students to the attention of the university's administration. The SGA, as it is more commonly referred to, has tackled many issues this year. Improving the on-campus parking situation, as well as working towards creating a computer lab on the east side of campus and improving Francis Hall were just a few of the tasks our Student Government set out to achieve. With such a fine administration, cabinet and senate, the Student Government Association truly does its share of leadership.

Entertaining Community

Campus Media is an extremely important aspect of life at Bona's. Keeping people informed all the time on the The Buzz, one of the nation's top college radio stations, and our incredible newspaper, The Bona Venture, the student body relies heavily on what is covered. Hosting events and concerts, as well as offering students a hands-on opportunity are just a few of the reasons why we all love and appreciate the hard work and dedication from our various forms of campus media!

Below, the Buzz board members do research on celebrities for their concert.

Giving back to the community through the Warming House

The Warming House is one of the many activities that University Ministries offers to the students and Bonaventure community. St. Bonaventure's Warming House is the oldest student-run soup kitchen in the nation, as it was started in 1974. Students dedicate their time each and every week to help the members of the Olean community who are less fortunate than themselves. Just this year, the Warming House found a new home on 110 W. State Street in Olean and is led by Sarah Nies of University Ministries.

Bonaventure students enjoy some playtime on a service trip with children from Mexico.

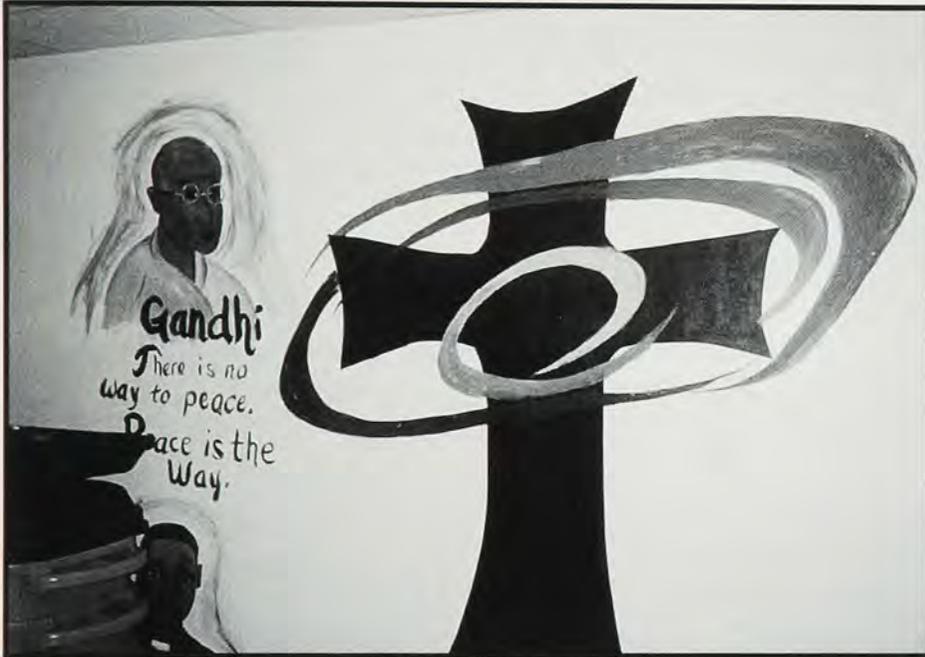

Some local residents enjoy some nice quiet time at the old Warming House.

Students for the Mountain and Franciscan Center for Social Concern

The Franciscan Center for Social Concern seeks to encourage in all members of the university community a yearning for justice and peace, a greater respect for life, and a deeper reverence for creation. The journey begins with serving others, but also includes reflecting on that experience in the light of faith, integrating it with our studies and becoming agents for positive change. We trust that such a journey will change lives, transform our campus and create a better world.

To the left is the FCSC mural which is still a work in progress. The mural is located on 1st Rob.

The FCSC set up a table like many others for Family Weekend in September to sell their T-shirts and help raise funds.

How can students be a part of Mt. Irenaeus? Just join Students for the Mountain. This organization helps to organize trips to the 228-acre mountain property. At the mountain, it is easy to feel like you're at home with family-like hospitality and atmosphere. University Ministries provides transportation for evenings away, overnights and weekend retreats. Members of Students for the Mountain brainstorm to find various activities that could involve and interest all areas of the Bonaventure community.

The 2002 College Bowl team.

College Bowl 2002

The College Bowl team representing St. Bonaventure placed fourth at a regional tournament held in Syracuse Feb. 15-17. It was the highest finish that any team representing St. Bonaventure has accomplished.

The team finished round robin play with a record of 9-4. Bonas beat Canisius, Buffalo State, SUNY Geneseo, RIT, Alfred State, St. Lawrence, St. John Fisher and Elmira. Bonaventure also upset high-ranked Syracuse 235-45 in one of the tournaments most surprising outcomes. Bonaventure entered the second phase of the tournament which is a four-team double-elimination playoff. Bonaventure lost to the University of Rochester in the first round and then came close to upsetting eventual finalist and defending champion Cornell. The University of Rochester won the tournament and headed to Kansas State University for the national tournament.

The team was chosen from the on-campus tournament that took place in November. The team consisted of the two high scorers from the championship team as well as the next three overall leading scorers. The team consisted of seniors Stephen Frontera, Mike Ford, Josh Morcelle, Dave DuBois and sophomore Mike DeRan. The team advisors were David Matz, professor of classical languages, and Lauren De La Vars, associate professor of English.

Displaying their hard work, Bonas proves once again that they have what it takes to be #1 with the blue ribbon.

They couldn't have said it any better: "There's No Place Like Bona's!" Under the leadership of Nikki Bomasuto, the 17 orientation leaders greeted the incoming freshmen with welcoming smiles at each of the four orientation sessions. When a student arrived, each leader made it their goal for the freshman to love Bonaventure and begin to think of it as a home. The Bona team proved how great they are by grabbing a first-place honor at a competition in Canada for orientation teams. They were thrilled to hear the news of being chosen as first place for small schools in North America. Congratulations from the Class of 2005. Thanks for helping us love Bona's!

Student Ambassador Organization

No one really knows how much time goes into recruiting. The admissions team works extremely hard promoting Bonaventure at fairs and at different high schools all over the country. Assisting the admissions team is the Student Ambassador organization. These students are trained to give tours on campus and show perspective students what life at Bona's is all about. Volunteering their time, you will see the ambassadors at many activities throughout the year, including Spring into Bonaventure, Open Houses, overnights, or even walking around campus with a family during the day. Such great students with amazing personalities--no wonder why Bona's is #1!

University Ministries

Guiding students with faith.

Students have so many advantages at St. Bonaventure, and one of these is University Ministries. The center provides a number of services not only to the school and students, but also to the surrounding community. Whether it's the Warming House, Bona Buddies, or Mt. Irenaeus, the ministry center continues to instill faith in us as individuals and as a whole.

University Ministries takes several trips each year to the Canticle Farm in Allegany along with the FCSC.

University Ministries works very closely with Mt. Irenaeus to ensure that students are able to enjoy the mountain. Various “evenings away” and weekend retreats are enjoyed by many.

About 80% of all Bonaventure students participate in intramurals or club sports.

There are seven club sports and 12 intramurals for men and women.

Bonnies Get New Coach

When Bonnie fans found out that last year's head coach, Jim Baron, would not be returning, no one knew what to think. But their worries were soon put to rest when it was announced that Jan van Breda Kolff would be the new head coach. As of April 10, 2001, van Breda Kolff became the 17th coach at St. Bonaventure University. His basketball background is outstanding as a player and coach. The new Bona leader was a player and coach in the Italian professional league from 1983-85. He spent nine years as a professional player in the NBA and ABA and was an impressive fifth overall pick in the '74 ABA draft; he was chosen by the Denver Nuggets. His college-level coaching career began as an assistant coach at Princeton from 1987-91. van Breda Kolff took the reins as head coach at Cornell (91-93), Vanderbilt (93-99), and most recently Pepperdine (99-01). He holds an impressive record of 174-128 (.576) at those schools, two NCAA and four NIT tourney appearances. He received a wave of support from the Bonaventure community all over. This past season he has shown his dedication to the Bonnies and St. Bonaventure University.

Crowley's Thoughts On...

Season Goals: The team plan is to focus on improving three specific areas: taking care of the ball, defense and winning games decided by 10 points or less

Style of Play: We want to be able to control the tempo of the game with our defensive pressure and our offensive execution.

St. Bonaventure's long-term goals: Players who graduate from this program are prepared for success in life

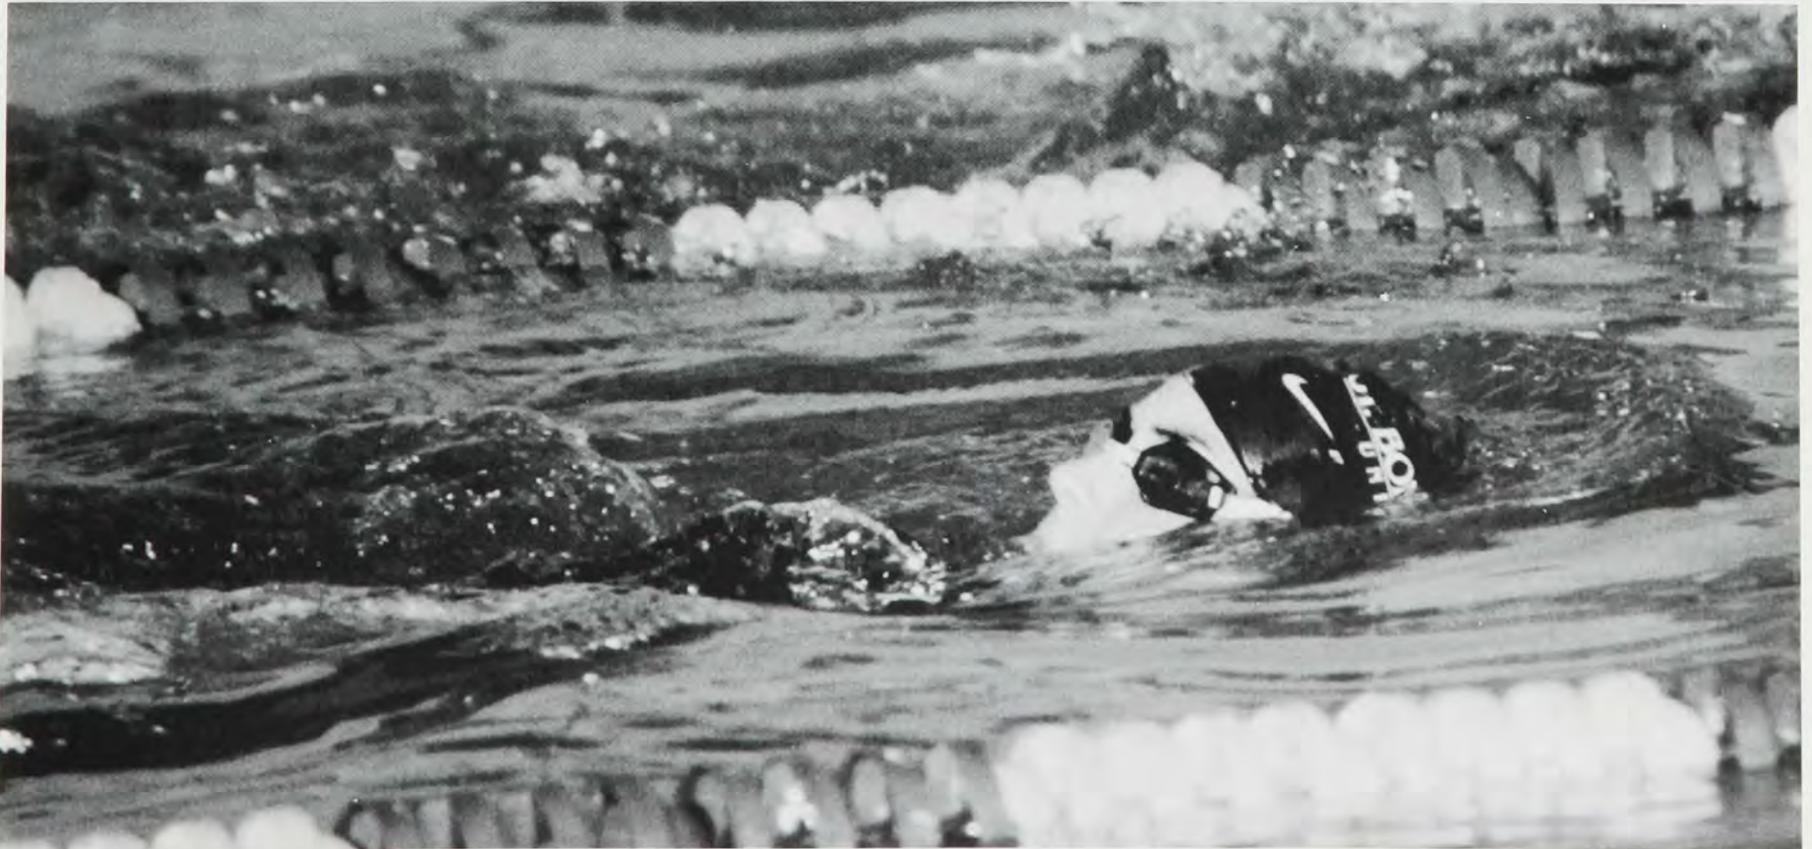

Recruiting: We want not only talented players but also talented people. I want people who love the game and understand the sacrifice of being part of a team.

Men's Golf

Led by Coach Steve Campbell, the 2001 fall Golf team had a strong season. With an exceptional team scoring average of 77.3, the men were victorious in the Binghamton Invitational as well in the St. Bonaventure-Leo Keenan Invitational.

With senior Matt Pochily leading the young starting team, they are looking forward to a strong future. Freshman Jay Lindell, four-time Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week, had an exceptional season, finishing with a low scoring average of 73.9. Having such potential, freshman Jon Gonzalez is definitely looking optimistic about future seasons. "We had an awesome fall season! We finished strong with two wins, and are looking forward to an even better spring." With that optimism, continued success is certainly in the forecast for the Bonnies!

Team Bona's Sports Marketing Program

Helping to make every sporting event a special one

Team Bona's does everything for sporting events. Run and organized by Promotions Coordinator Casey Weishan, this program is designed to give students a hands-on approach to the world of sports marketing. Responsible for numerous activities, Team Bona's works directly with the Atlantic 10 Conference in setting up different promotions. The Atlantic 10 shootout is one example, and had a very successful turnout. Although Bonaventure is rated one of the most spirited schools, it is because of the success of Team Bona's for getting the students and the Bonaventure community so involved.

Above and below, Team Bona's urges Bona fans to root on their teams by providing foam fingers and balloons to show their Bona pride and prove that the RC isn't an easy arena for visitors to play in.

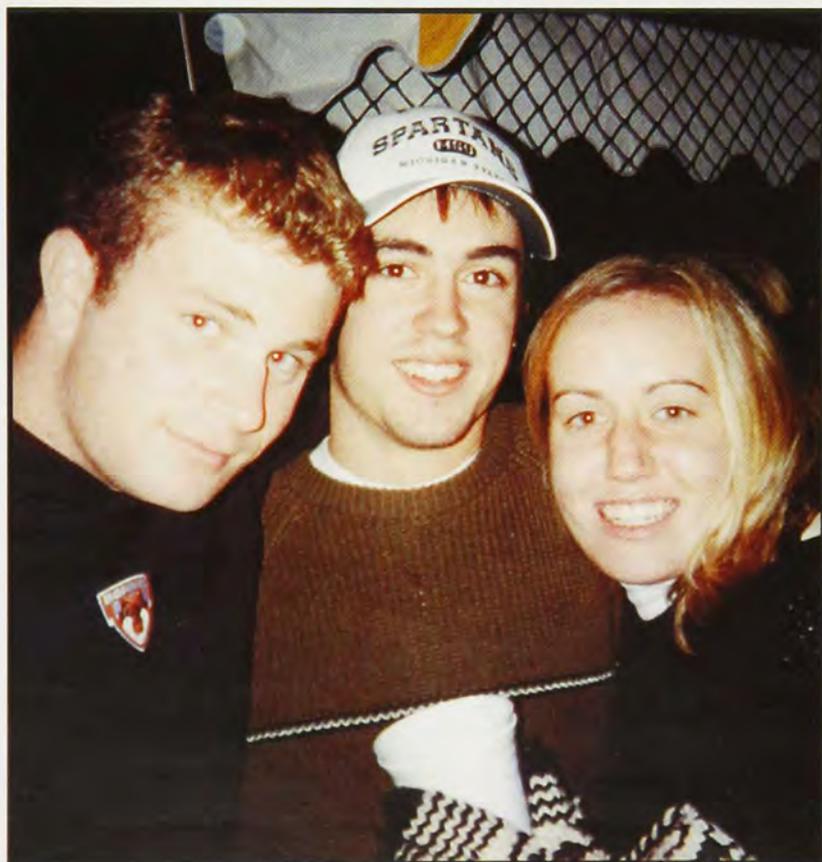

Student Life

Spring Weekend here we come!! Everyone at Bona's loves the softball games!

Three students try to get warm on a cold night.

What would student life do without a few toga parties right guys?! Below, Tim Burris and Dustin Wehler.

Did you know...?

The Princeton Review rated St. Bonaventure the following:

#5-Students (almost) never study

#5-Happy Students

#7-Party School

#19-Election? What election?

#1-Is It Food?

Matt Stevens and Eric Bach just can't wait for 80s night!!

St. Bonaventure students know there's nothing like St. Patrick's Day! Above, students gather before the night life.

"Let's Go Bona's...!!!"

Is there anything else like the Bonnies Spirit?

Probably not. It's no secret that Bonaventure's Alumni are some of the most dedicated people a university can have. And this is where it all starts. The love of St. Bonaventure begins early in the freshman year and just doesn't stop growing. From Welcome Days to the basketball season, on through Prom and Spring Weekend, students just keep loving Bona's! So how much spirit do the students actually have? Too much to even measure. And that's not all. It's even amazing how much the Bonaventure community loves their Bonnies. From the on-campus staff, to the professors, alumni and surrounding community, this school's spirit just can't be beat!

The Reilly Center is now history as well. Rated #5 most hostile place to play by ESPN, the RC is where a lot of the action happens.

The Princeton Review ranked Bonas 5th in the nation for happy students, as well as high rankings in other categories as well! Although Top 10 is great, we know that

The Bona wolf reminds another mascot where he is. In the Reilly Center, the wolf will always be a fan favorite.

To the left, freshmen proudly wear their Bonaventure colors...on their faces! Student support and spirit is what it's all about.

Without the leadership of the Pep Band, the cheering wouldn't be what it is today. With a variety of songs, the band keeps the crowd going.

Everone on your feet! At right, students cheer on the Bonnies while distracting the opposing team at the same time.

From Students to Faculty and Friends, we just can't get enough of Bona's!

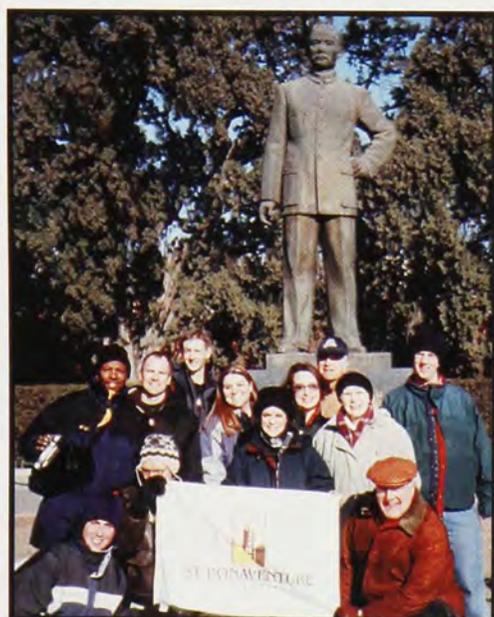

These girls just can't get enough of thier Bonnies! Strutting their stuff with face paint and the famous Wolfpack Tees, they cheer on their guys!

It's no surprise to see Father Jud at the home games accompanied by his great signs. This one pokes fun at John Chaney, head coach of Temple.

Students gain international insight during trip to China

Ten St. Bonaventure University students earned three academic credits while experiencing foreign business practices and culture during a two-week trip to China.

Bonaventure business law professor

Donald J. Swanz directed this invaluable learning experience. Katie Webster, an MBA student from North East, Pa., said the trip influenced her perspective of business. "It is essential to learn those cultural differences, and then you can do business anywhere."

While in China, the travelers saw many of the country's most historic and unique sites. Along with visits to Beijing, Tiananmen Square and The Great Wall, the students experienced what some refer to as "the Eighth Wonder of the World," the terra cotta soldiers located in Xian.

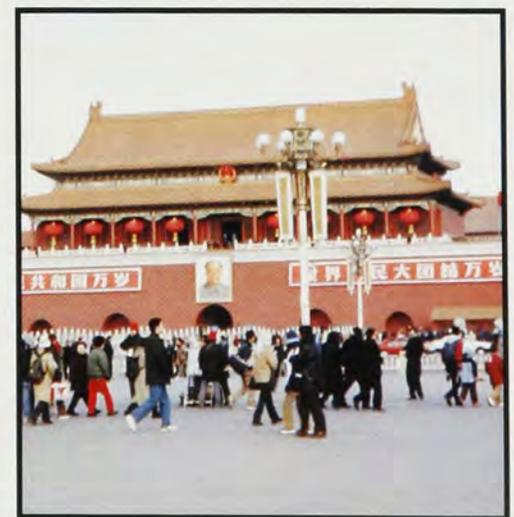

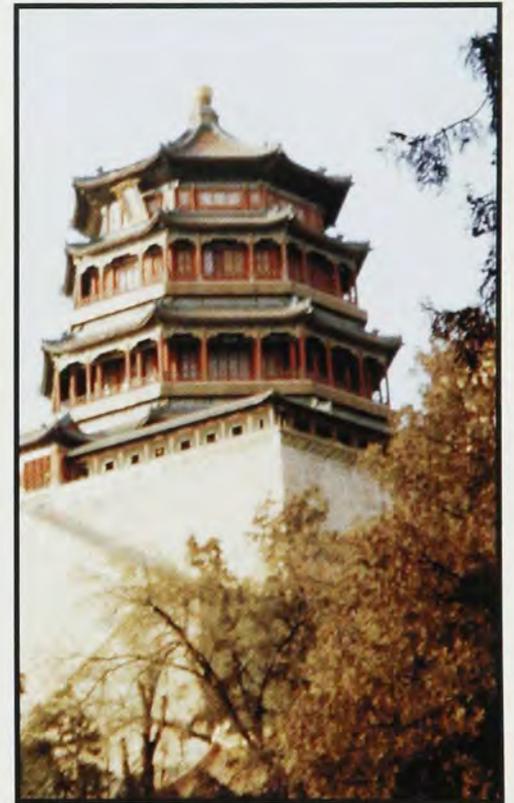

Along with trips to the U.S. embassy, the students also attended academic lectures given by six English-speaking Chinese professors on subjects such as culture, history, politics, business practices and language.

Attending the trip with Swanz and his wife, Mary, were leadership students John Carver, Joseph Ebert, Kevin McNamara and Michael Wilson. MBA students included Michelle Petrino, Kara Swanson, James Tomlinson and Katie Webster. Undergraduates attending were seniors Jason Rhodes and Thomas Griffin.

Renaissance Faire 2001

Above, kids of all ages enjoying the festive weekend.

On September 23 and 24, 2001, St. Bonaventure celebrated its 2nd annual Renaissance Faire. Located behind Francis Hall, the Renaissance Faire was an incredible weekend event.

The weekend was a creation of the era when Henry VII ruled England, back in the 1500s. Having a variety of activities for all ages, everyone who attended was guaranteed entertainment and a wonderful experience.

The Faire had some main exhibits, of which included Celtic Spirit, Heirloom, SBU music ensembles, a juggler and storyteller. Besides the festivities, there was also a wide array of delicious food and drinks available to the spectators.

From the entertainment to food, the lavish costumes and lively music, smiling faces were all that encompassed this year's Renaissance Faire!

March for Life 2002 & Black Voices for Peace Washington, D.C.

St. Bonaventure students and friars went to Washington, D.C. January 19-22 for their annual trip to March for Life. New this year was an optional event, "Pledge for Peace 2002," sponsored by Black Voices for Peace and televised on C-Span. The Bona women stayed at St. Camillus friary, while the men stayed at Holy Name College. Besides the March and Pledge, students also were able to enjoy other areas of the Washington D.C.

The group attended the vigil Mass at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception on Monday night, and celebrated Eucharist with Buffalo's Bishop Henry Mansell and the Western New York Contingent on Tuesday morning before heading to the March.

It was an excellent bonding weekend for everyone who went. "We all managed to grow closer and learned new things about each other, and the best part was that we did it for a great cause," commented freshman Steve O'Brien. "We all definitely had a great time."

Junior Prom

April 5, 6, & 7th, 2001

The St. Bonaventure Junior Prom held April 5, 6, & 7th 2001 had been an anticipated event for three years. It turned out to be a very big success and an incredible amount of fun.

The first of the three-night celebration was a Hawaiian Luau held at the Hickey Dining Hall. Juniors and their dates came dressed from head-to-toe in beachwear and flowers.

The Luau was followed by a Toga Party Friday night at the Olean Armory. Clothes were dropped and students sported their favorite linens, ranging from cartoon character prints to hot patterns and sequins.

The final night of the Junior Prom was a semi-formal held at the Old Library Restaurant. It was a fancy setting; very nice for the event. The guys looked great in their tuxedos and the girls were all dolled up in their dresses and heels.

The prom was very successful. Everyone had a great time dressing up and dancing the nights away. It was an event of laughs and lasting memories.

Buffalo News Kids Day

Living the Franciscan Life

Every year, The Buffalo News sets one day aside when all of their profits go towards one beneficial cause: helping kids. Donating their sales of their newspapers, all proceeds went to the Buffalo Childrens Hospital.

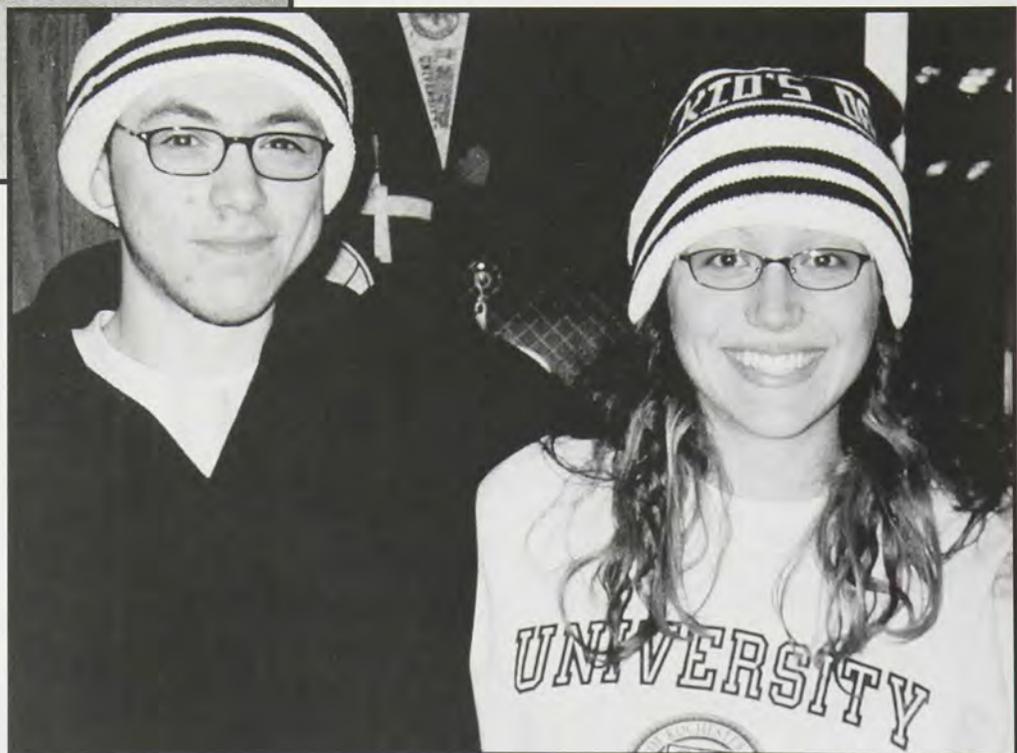

Trying to live the Franciscan lifestyle, under the leadership of Nichole Gonzalez and Heather Kurtzwort, Bonaventure students donated their time to sell the papers all over Olean and Allegany. Waving newspapers and flagging cars down at 6 am for the cause seems like one of the best ways to help out the community. Coordinated under the leadership of , the Buffalo News Kids Day was successful again this year. Thanks to all who participated in making it so great!

Clockwise, top, students sign in and receive their post assignments first thing.

After 80 amazing years, Leo E. Keenan continued his journey with Christ. On January 27, 2002, the beloved English professor died following a brief illness.

He was born July 20, 1921, in Olean, a son of Leo and Ellen Keenan. On Aug. 21, 1948, at St. Mary of the Angels Church in Olean, he married Ann Finlay, who survives. Professor Keenan received a bachelor of arts degree in English from St. Bonaventure University in 1947, and a master of arts degree from Cornell University the following year. After a brief teaching stint at Niagara University, he returned in 1949 to his alma mater, where he taught for more than 50 years.

In October 1999, Leslie C. Quick III, chair of the Board of Trustees, donated $2 million for two faculty development endowments at St. Bonaventure, naming one after Professor Keenan. The Leo Keenan Faculty Development Endowment for the Improvement of Teaching and Learning now provides funds to faculty engaged in activities designed to improve the quality of the teaching and learning process at St. Bonaventure. In making the gift, Quick said he hoped to encourage others to imitate Keenan's "selfless dedication" to the profession.

A professor of English, he taught popular public speaking classes. Outside the University, he was in great demand as a public speaker and master of ceremonies, leading one colleague to crown him "Toastmaster General of the Southern Tier."

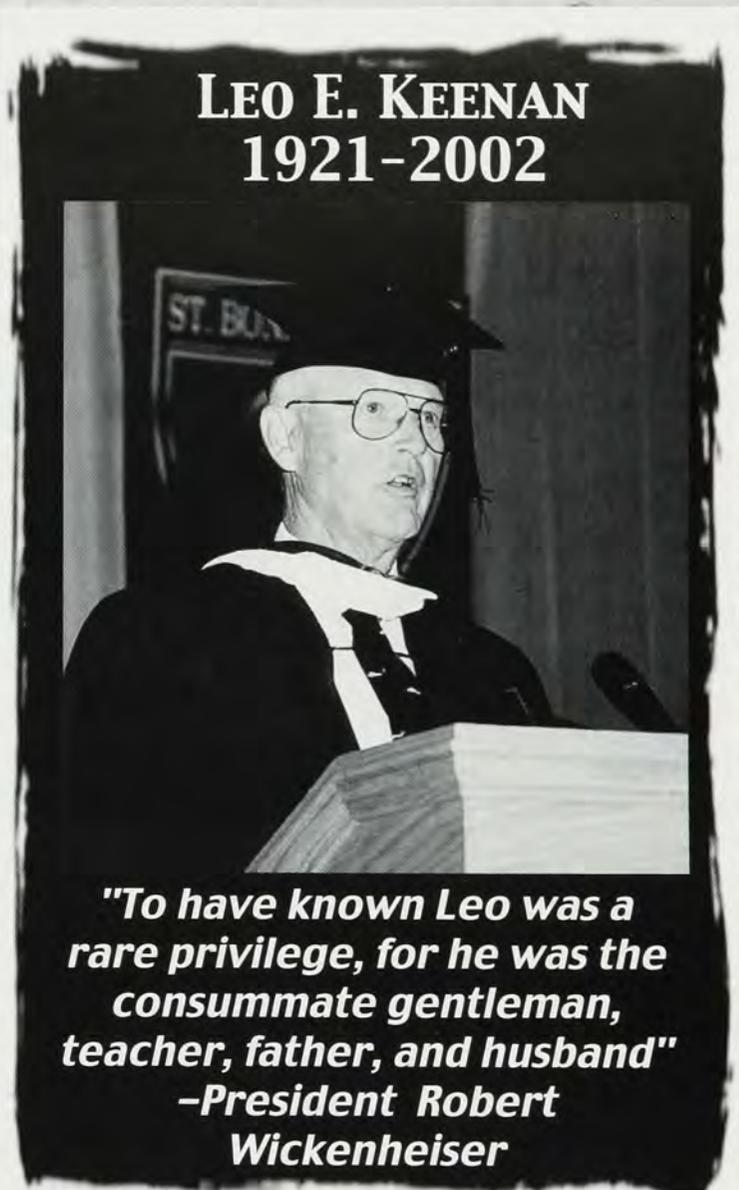

Professor Keenan also served as director of the summer, evening and extension programs from 1963 to 1972, and as director of continuing education from 1972 to 1975. He received the Faculty Recognition Award for Special Services in 1991.

He coached the University's golf team from 1967 to 1987, compiling a final record of 172-90-10 including three unbeaten squads. St. Bonaventure's annual fall golf invitational was renamed for Professor Keenan in 1994. Every year, between 15-20 NCAA Division I teams compete for the title of the Leo Keenan Collegiate Invitational at Bartlett Country Club in Olean, N.Y. Perhaps fittingly, St. Bonaventure won the team championship this past October, its first title since 1997.

Professor Keenan was inducted into the University's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1993, and continued to serve on the Athletic Hall of Fame Committee. He was named Alumnus of the Year in 1987, the 40th anniversary of his graduation, and was inducted into the Seneca Battalion ROTC Hall of Fame in fall 1999, the only person to have been inducted into all three of the University's Halls of Fame.

St. Bonaventure awarded him an honorary doctorate during Commencement 2000.

"To have known Leo was a rare privilege, for he was the consummate gentleman, teacher, father, and husband," said University president Dr. Robert J. Wickenheiser. "He was one of the best reflections of what Bonaventure is all about, and in losing him, as in losing Fr. Gervase White just two short weeks ago, we have lost another of Bonaventure's giants as well as a great deal of its history over the past 50-plus years. In the minds and hearts of all of us Leo will forever remain 'Prof 1.'"

“Journalism is about everybody and everything, and it has to be the most exciting profession of them all.”

- Dr. Russell J. Jandoli

For more than 50 years, a continuing commitment to ethical journalism and communication. St. Bonaventure's Jandoli School of Journalism and Mass Communication prides itself on giving our students the practical and ethical skills they need for today's communication fields. The faculty have years of experience as professional journalists and communicators.

Education

Dedicated to lifelong learning

The School of Education is dedicated to furthering the mission of the University and to incorporating Franciscan heritage, ideals, and values into the preparation of educators for the 21st century. It provides a deep, broad, and inclusive professional preparation within a strong academic core. The School seeks to prepare educators

Business

Leadership is the Top Priority

The School of Business offers undergraduate majors in Accounting, Business Information Systems, Finance, Management, and Marketing, an integrated 5-year program in Accounting, an MBA program that is available on both the University's Main and Buffalo Center campuses, and a M.S. in Professional Leadership program at the University's Buffalo Center.

Educating

students to meet the challenges of management and leadership is the top priority of our School. Students in the St. Bonaventure University School of Business benefit from small class sizes and abundant opportunities to interact with a faculty who have a rich variety of professional and academic experiences.

Clare College & Arts and Sciences

A Complete Academic Foundation

Clare College is the academic unit of St. Bonaventure University that administers the core curriculum for all its students. The faculty of Clare is drawn from all schools of the university, and its courses are not restricted to traditional disciplinary or departmental boundaries.

Clare College reflects our

commitment to the Catholic and Franciscan tradition, and our identity as a liberal arts based university.

Students in Clare College learn an appreciation of their history, culture, religion, and science, and they develop an awareness of other cultures and traditions.

Having completed this curriculum, students will be better prepared to be intelligent and moral citizens of the emerging global community of the new century.

Lindsay Sheg

Linz,

It seems like yesterday I was writing a goodbye in your Nazareth yearbook...now you have taken the next step in your life and are not only graduating from Bonaventure...but graduating on the Dean's List!! Our hearts are bursting with pride. As you begin your new journey into the next stages of your life...here are a few things we'd like you to keep in mind.

- 1) Trust your instincts: If it doesn't feel right, it probably isn't.
- 2) Never let possessions "own" you: It's just stuff!! The most valuable things in life--family, friends, respect, love, knowledge- don't cost money.
- 3) Nurture your friendships: The investment you make in true friends will pay huge dividends all your life--remember, you can't make an old friend.
- 4) Believe in yourself: You happen to be the only YOU in existence, and you're also the only person in the world who can truly hold you back in life...think about it.
- 5) Be Grateful: Don't waste all your todays in anticipation of some grand tomorrow. Now is all we've got. Live in it!!
- 6) Always keep playing: Who says adults have to give up toys? Keep the little kid inside you alive (Peter Pan)...it keeps your imagination primed. Silly is good!!
- 7) No matter what...you will always be LOVED: You don't have to test this one...just carry it around in your back pocket, and know that, no matter what, you can always come home. If you can only remember one---REMEMBER YOU ARE LOVED.

Look out world...here comes Lindsay!! Go get'em!!!!

Our love always,
Mom and Dad

Class of 2002

Senior Addresses

To the Class of 2002:

It is with much pride that we present to you the 2002 Bonadieu Yearbook. Much time and effort went into making this book something you will hopefully cherish. I am sorry to say that due to our limited staff, we could not cover nearly as many events as we would like to have. However, I do hope that you look back on these memories with fondness. Bonaventure is an amazing place, and by looking at these pictures, it seems safe to say that you know that it is the people who make Bonas #1. You are all truly amazing men and women. St. Bonaventure's campus will miss your presence next year. It is your hard work, spirit, and love for the school and each other that make Bonas such a wonderful place. You have inspired many students this year, and we are lucky to have you going forth into the world representing St. Bonaventure University. I look forward to seeing you when you come visit your alma mater! Best of luck in the future, and God bless.

Nicole Severino
Editor-in-Chief
