Nicole Severino

For nearly three years, Nicole single-handedly designed and published the Bonadieu. Nicole is synonymous with dedication and leadership to the University community. Nicole follows in the footsteps of the many outstanding women alumnae who fostered the Bonaventure spirit as students and who continue to guide and support St. Bonaventure University. We are grateful for Nicole's dedication and leadership as a student. In the years to come it would not surprise me to see that Nicole has been named as a member of the National Alumni Board or the Board of Trustees.

*George Solan
Vice President for Student Life*

Thank you!

If I could use one word to describe Nicole Severino, it would be ambitious. From the moment I met her I was impressed by her never-ending drive to achieve. Her enthusiasm to revive the Bonadieu was amazing. I really feel that without her nurturing and true dedication to the process, the Bonadieu would be extinct. It has been my pleasure working with Nicole and getting to know her as an individual. I wish her every success.

Ann Hurlburt
Exec. Adm. Asst. to the Vice President for Student Life

Serving as an adviser to the Bonadieu yearbook staff, I am fortunate to work with some of the "creme of the crop" students at Bona's. This was the case when the yearbook was several years behind. Out of the blue came an outstanding leader; Nicole Severino. She has served as the editor and pulled the book back to where we needed it to be. It took Nicole's outstanding leadership skills to make the Bonadieu the great club it is now. She not only was a great leader for the yearbook but has served many clubs and organizations in the same manner with great care and pride. She has been a perfectionist with any job she has encountered. Nicole was a great joy to work with and to know. Thanks, Nicole, for being Nicole. I am proud to say that I know you. Congratulations on graduation and a job well done!

Fondly,
Carol Higley

St. Bonaventure

We have formed a bond like no other - years of Franciscan traditions blended with a fresh look of today.

The old songs echo down the years,
The students pause to joke,
Tradition stubs her toe,
(Upon a "frosh" at that),
And from a thousand yesterdays
To a million tomorrows
And back again we come.

Our Lady of the Campus
Smiles upon us with her understanding

As we pass on down from school.

A glance up through the birches
Brings a hundred days to mind.

From an office a business man is thinking,
"Now the hills are hazy and
The sky smiles as the brown-robed Franciscans
Say their office strolling down the walks."

A teacher recalls the crib at Christmas,
The farm and De la Roche.

Somewhere someone says a Rosary

And is once more in the chapel,
While woods glisten with snow,

Echoing to the skaters on the fish pond.

Life goes on at "Bona's."
"Griff" and Andy greet one and all,

Profs and students gather
In the "cafe" for coffee,
The library is still crowded,
(Jus before exams, of course.)
And the arch and statue at Devereux
Are the same.

The grotto will have tulips,
And the golf course will be green,
But dotted with College men,
When spring comes 'round.

Band music floats out from Alumni,
Upperclassmen jostle on the center path,
And hurry after a glance at the clock.
Students, "sems" and "profs" welcome "Pete,"
As he takes English 301 the third time.

Life goes on at "Bona's."
Summer, autumn, winter, spring,
Around they go,
Ever the same, ever changing,
The old songs echo down the years,
The students pause to joke,
And tradition stubs her toe,
Again.

"And today we celebrate. We can stand proud to be called daughters and sons of St. Bonaventure University. "We are part of a very special family!" Dan Horan, student speaker, said. "We will carry with us the values learned and the memories shared wherever we go. And "OH, THE PLACES WE'LL GO!"

"To love what is mortal, to hold it against your bones knowing your own life depends upon it, and when it comes time to let it go, let it go."

Commencement

ST. BONAVENTURE, N.Y.,
May 15, 2005

Dr. Kathryn Sullivan, first American woman to walk in space and a shuttle astronaut, urged the members of St. Bonaventure University's Class of 2005 to cherish the value of conversation, "a core competency for success in our turbulent, changing world."

"The solutions to today's biggest problems will not come from big organizations or big government," Sullivan said. "They will come from individuals talking to one another about things that matter."

Always keep St. Bonaventure University in your heart," she concluded. "This splendid institution has propelled you through the rarefied air of intellectual inquiry and is launching you to the stars. "I give you in closing the most exciting words I have ever heard: You are go for launch!"

"If your success is not on your own terms, it looks good to the world but does not feel good in your heart, it is not success at all." Anna Quindlen

I know that Bonaventure has prepared you to seek what is meaningful in your life and share it with the world. This institution has provided us with much more than grammar and formulas, but knowledge that has been gained through the guidance of friends, colleagues and professors. Everyone has gained a little something from each person they have interacted with in these four years, thus making us better people because of it. Value the relationships gained within the short time spent here and never hesitate to contact a friend in a time of rejoicing, sadness, or reflection. As we prepare to enter the unknown, understand that small hurdles that may seem impossible to overcome are just steps towards your success. Never let failure keep you from success, always trust in love and continue on the Good Journey. Take time to savor the memories, but never let the past hold you back from the future.

Public Relations Society

PRS

The public relations society organizes trips to public relations, marketing and advertising firms throughout the year to keep on top of job opportunities within the market and learn more about public relations as a whole. This year the group went to Boston.

PRS also arranges speakers to come and speak to the Bonaventure community about public relations. Speakers keep students aware of the difficulties, opportunities and options within the field.

Students in Free Enterprise

SEE

Students in Free Enterprise went to the Bahamas in January 2005 for a service trip. While they were there they made repairs to houses, taught children and brought a little bit of Bonaventure to the Bahama community.

In the spring the students presented their service project to a group of judges in New York City in a competition against several other schools. They won and attended the national competition, where they ranked in the top 40.

Student Ambassadors

Student Ambassadors is a group of student volunteers who help the Office of Admissions recruit incoming students for the University. The group is currently more than 150 students strong.

These volunteers don't just give parents and students tours of the school, but they also work on building relationships with future classmates as well as answer questions and provide information to the future students and their parents.

Orientation Team

The Orientation Team helps make the transition from high school to college easy for incoming freshmen. They befriend the incoming freshmen during several orientation sessions during the summer. And once those freshmen arrive on campus they feel that much more comfortable with these familiar faces.

American Marketing Association

AMA

The American Marketing Association fundraises for multiple trips throughout the school year. This year they toured the Wilcox Winery and found out how the wine, accessories and glasses are manufactured, distributed and marketed.

AMA also went to Washington, D.C. to visit and tour the worksites of SBU alumni where they discovered how a degree in marketing pays off.

Student Government Association

SGA

The SGA is an organization of student leaders who work together to help make the university a safe and happy place. The SGA is made up of an executive board as well as a student senate, which has a representative of each organization on campus.

The student senate meets with the executive board every other week to discuss issues that are affecting Bonaventure students. SGA is the students' voice.

The Step Team

The Step Team was an addition to St. Bonaventure this year. They entertained the audience at basketball games and performed at such events as the Black History Celebration.

This year the team was made up of Chelsey Jacobs, Tenisha Davis, Dan Grosser, Marie Harris, Liza Sencion, Candace Churchill, Tamica Barnett, Nikki Della Penta, Emily Tanski and Dessire Roldan.

University Ministries

University Ministries works within the St. Bonaventure campus, reaches out to its community and connects with those beyond the community. It is a family that celebrates life together and serves others.

It's programs include Bona Buddies, Senior Bona Buddies, Service Learning Trips, Collegiate Peer Ministry, Mt. Irenaeus and Students for the Mountain, Franciscan Center for Social Concern and the Warming House.

Vocallusion

Vocallusion is St. Bonaventure's female accapella group. The original group started by singing in the laundry room of the dorms. Now they are filling the chapel with cheering crowds.

Their performances have included local competitions, Transitus, Christmas Caroling at the Warming House, and even Sunday Mass.

This year's group broke the mold with its outgoing personality! Vocallusion members never have a dull moment from practice to performances!

Business Information Systems

Musical Theater Company

MTC

The Musical Theater Company puts on great performances throughout the year. This year many people gathered to experience a “Night with the Masters.”

These performers don’t just sing; they give you the whole theater experience!

American Advertising Federation

AAAF

The American Advertising Federation is a real-life advertising experience. Each year the group is given a client and a target market. The group then comes up with an integrated marketing-communications campaign.

This year the client was Yahoo! and the target market was teens. The group then presented their campaign in New York City during the spring in front of a group of judges and a room full of spectators and recruiters. SBU came home with an award for "Best Presentation."

This past year at the Akron Invite the team fought back from a 70-point deficit in the last day to overtake Ball State for the Team Title due much to the resilience and guidance of the seniors we graduate this year.

It was another great year for the SBU women's swim team. With the leadership of our 6 seniors, Lisa Vilarado, Amie Gingras, Kate Urquhart, Rachel Bubb, Kristy Michalek and Cindy deVries our team finished second at the Atlantic 10 Conference Meet. The team went 6-5 with two top 20 teams in the nation on our schedule. The seniors' dedication and desire to leave a legacy for others to follow shined through. The team was close and worked hard every day to achieve what they wanted to achieve. The year was capped off by a senior suggested team fishing trip while in Florida. After 90% of the team was sea sick, we decided that if we could get through those four hours while leaning overboard, we could accomplish anything. It was a great year and I hope that teams to come will follow in their footsteps. This year's team and seniors will be deeply missed.

Arts & Sciences is the largest of the four schools with almost half of Bona's students majoring in at least one of our programs. Moreover, Arts & Sciences faculty teach the vast majority of the courses that comprise the Clare College core curriculum, which is our innovative, interdisciplinary approach to the liberal arts education, and the offerings for the Honors Program, also designed from an interdisciplinary perspective.

The school is diverse, with 15 departments covering the arts and humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences. Additionally, there are a number of inter- and multi-disciplinary programs whose home is in A&S, and students hoping to teach at the secondary level major in an A&S discipline. All of our students are required to complete a senior capstone experience in their major, and there are several programs to support students' learning by doing scholarship in their major field of study. One differentiating aspect of Arts & Sciences at Bona's is that we also seek to have these projects provide a service to our community—we view this as the logical academic initiative for a Franciscan institution.

St. Bonaventure University is a university in the Franciscan, Catholic tradition. Its core curriculum should reflect this tradition and retain the roots of the traditional liberal arts and sciences. Our students should undertake an intellectual journey that prepares them to use their gifts in the context of a profession and/or the community. The core courses should broaden their understanding and appreciation of history and culture, their own and those of other traditions, and of the natural world. Further, their course work should develop their ability to critically examine their own beliefs, assumptions, and their stage of intellectual development.

School of Journalism and Mass
Communication

The Russell J. Jandoli School of Journalism and Mass Communication encompasses the study of print (newspapers and magazines) and broadcast (radio and television) media. Students also study the fields of public relations, sports communication, advertising, photography and graphics. Five St. Bonaventure graduates have received journalism's top honor, the Pulitzer Prize, and many Jandoli School graduates have gone on to successful careers in public relations, advertising and marketing.

Named a school in 1995, the program is committed to continuing the principles established by Russell J. Jandoli - that is, a values-based tradition of excellence, of accomplishment and of providing the very best education in journalism and mass communication available anywhere.

- Valuing Knowledge, and

The University is the home of the Franciscan Institute, which is the center for research in the history, philosophy, and accomplishments of a remarkable group of men and women, who for 800 years have dedicated themselves to peace, justice, social equality and alleviation of suffering of everyone in the human family. We believe in the universality of these Franciscan values.

Founded in 1858, St. Bonaventure is a Catholic university dedicated to educational excellence in the Franciscan tradition. We are committed to the constant pursuit of distinction in our undergraduate and graduate programs, our innovative liberal arts core and all of our courses of study. At St. Bonaventure University, we come to know our students on an individual basis and become their mentors. We strive to bring out the best in every individual. As an academic and spiritual community, we endeavor to prepare our students for the challenges they will face in their professional careers as well as in their personal lives. True to our Franciscan heritage, we encourage students to manifest our values through lives of citizenship and service.

-St. Bonaventure

At the heart of St. Bonaventure University is the Franciscan affirmation of the dignity and worth of the entire created order. Fundamental to this vision is an awareness that it is within relationships and community that individuals discover and develop their potential. A key goal of a Franciscan education is to help students imagine and embrace a pattern of living in which their time and talents are devoted to the service of others.

The Front Entrance Ceremony

The addition to the campus was celebrated on October 1, 2004

In its early years, the main entrance to campus used to be a metal sign over the roadway near Devereux Hall. The 60-foot steel cross was designed in 1964. On October 1, 2004 the University dedicated two walls on either side of the cross. The left tower bears the seal of the province of the Most Holy Name of Jesus, and the right tower bears the seal of the Province of the Immaculate Conception. Both seals relate to the early history of the university.

The new entrance walls were donated by the class of 1953 in memory of Brother Ferdinand Woerle, O.F.M, a groundskeeper at St. Bonaventure for 60 years. Brother Ferdinand had a respiratory condition, and due to this preferred working outside in the fresh air. A plaque dedicated to his memory is located on the right wall facing the entrance roadway. It reads, "In Gratitude, The Class of 1953 dedicates this entrance in loving memory of Br. Ferdinand Woerle, O.F.M, who for nearly 60 years showed his love for St. Bonaventure University by helping to make this campus a more beautiful and welcome place."

Last Glance

"As I look back on all that's happened..growing up, growing together, changing you, changing me -- there were times when we dreamed together, when we laughed and cried together. As I look back on those days, I realize how much I truly miss you and how much I truly love you. The past may be gone forever..and whatever the future holds, our todays make the memories of tomorrow. So, my lifetime friend, it is with all my heart that I send you my love, hoping that you'll always carry my smile with you, for all we have meant to each other and for whatever the future may hold."

Jess,

Dream and Believe.

Trust your instincts. Laugh often.

Smile. Read. Breathe deeply. Share with those in need.

Remember your roots.

Count your blessings everyday.

Search for the seed of good in every adversity,

And when it seems dark, look for the stars.

We are so proud of you!

Continue to follow your dreams and stay as sweet as you are!

Loving you now and forever,

Mom, Dad, Jared and Brad

Erin,

As quoted from your Instant Messenger:

"My greatest hope is to laugh as much as I cry; to get my work done, try to love somebody, and have the courage to accept the love in return."

Maya Angelou

The college road has brought much laughter and some tears along the way. You have done well to complete your work, while doing your job as an RA and computer assistant. We are glad to see the good friends you have made at St. Bonaventure.

You are truly loved by all of us! Congratulations Erin!

*Love,
Mom, Dad, Meghan & Keith*

Steven Patrick,
We are so proud of you and your accomplishments. Now your journey begins, experience everything. God bless you always.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Kristopher and Kevin

Congratulations Tracy! We are so proud of the fine young woman you have become.

*Love,
Mom and Jay*

Ryan,

Be proud of the goals you have achieved dear son. Embrace the future at hand.

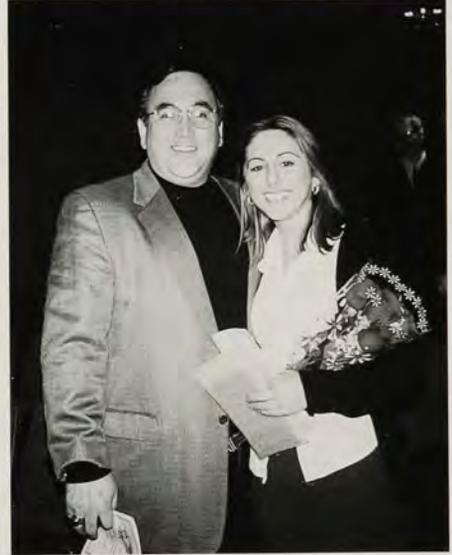

You went away as a boy just yesterday, and return to us a man.

All our love,

Things worth doing seldom come easy.
With determination and the right tools you already did great things.

Congratulations!!!

We want you to know that it has been a great joy having a daughter/sister like you. We are very proud and happy for the special person you are.

Now a new journey starts, using the gifts God gave you, go and turn your dreams into reality, the world is waiting for you...

With love today and always,

Dear Bri (Breezy),

True to its name, Bonaventure University has provided you with "a good journey"...not just through books and in classrooms, but in rich experiences which pushed you to challenge, question and find yourself. You have embraced it all! We know how bitter sweet it is as this part of your journey is winding down, but a new one is just beginning. We are all so happy for you and proud of you!

Dear Maureen,

Congratulations on your wonderful accomplishments at St. Bonaventure! We are very proud and happy for you.

With love,
Mom, Dad and Patricia

Congratulations
Bridget!

The difference between success and failure is having enough faith in your abilities to get the job started and enough stubbornness to see it through. You have proven that you are ready to be successful. Trust yourself and go and enjoy life!

Love you,
your proud Dad

Congratulations
Rachel!

You kept your eyes
on the prize!

We are so proud!

Dad, Mom, Jason

May the good Lord be with you
 Down every road you roam
 And may sunshine and happiness
 surround you when you're far from home
 And may you grow to be proud
 Dignified and true
 And do unto others
 As you'd have done to you

Be courageous and be brave
 And in my heart you'll always stay
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young

May good fortune be with you
 May your guiding light be strong
 Build a stairway to heaven
 with a prince or a vagabond

And may you never love in vain
 and in my heart you will remain
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young

And when you finally fly away
 I'll be hoping I served you well
 For all the wisdom of a lifetime
 No one can ever tell

But whatever road you choose
 I'm right behind you, win or lose
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young
 Forever Young, Forever Young

An old man, going a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm, vast and deep and wide,
Through which was flowing a sullen tide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim —
That sullen stream had no fears for him;
But he turned, when he reached the other side,
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength in building here.
Your journey will end with the ending day;
You never again must pass this way.
You have crossed the chasm, deep and wide,
Why build you the bridge at the eventide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head,
"Good friend, in the path I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me today
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This chasm that has been naught to me
To that fair-haired youth may a pitfall be.
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim;
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him."

With myrtle wreath we'll deck thy brow,
Bona's, old St. Bona's.
The verdant leaves our love avow,
Bona's, old St. Bona's.
Thy name was ever fair and bright,
We'll keep it thus with memory's light,
And laud thy glorious brown and white,
Bona's, old St. Bona's.

Our hearts shall ever be thy shrine,
Bona's, old St. Bona's.
Around thy name shall honor twine
Bona's, old St. Bona's.
E'er hallowed shall thy memory grow,
Through years have fled and years
shall flow,
Within our souls thy love shall glow,
Bona's, old St. Bona's.
